THE BLUE TRIANGLE

The Y. W. C. A. of Newton Begins Its Season With An Interesting Conference

With two new Secretaries added to o popular former assistant secretar- of earlier years, with visions of rl Reserve Groups, groups of Busi- ss Girls, or groups of Young Mar- d Women meeting weekly in each the Newtons, the Newton Y. W. C. started its year last Friday after- on with a Conference held by Miss ia L. Capen of New York City, from e National Board. Miss Capen is airman of New England. She gave the meeting the national slogans: reak Down Barriers," "Deepen Our inking," "Widen Our Outlook." ith a brief historical sketch of Why ere is a Y. W. C. A. Miss Capen gave se present the feeling that our wton Y. W. C. A. is a Centre of iendliness for Girls and Young Wo- n.

This note of friendliness was fur- er emphasized by the new General cretary, Miss Anne L. Leathers, last year one of the secretaries of the Washington, D. C., Y. W. C. A.

"The particular aim of the Newton Y. W. C. A. for the coming year," said Miss Leathers, "is to furnish Leadership in every Newton, to meet the particular desire and need of the groups of girls and young women in each locality, to increase our membership in all directions." Our new Girl Reserve Secretary, Miss Anna Martin, from New York State, will organize groups of girls to meet weekly in each village where there is a demand. She will help the girls carry out a program for good times, for worthwhile development in any field desired."

"The Blue Triangle Club for Business and Professional Women looks forward to thirty weekly suppers—Monday nights—at our central rooms in Newton Square, 518 Washington street, where you see our lighted let-

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club was held Monday in the new building of the Newton Motor Sales Company in Newtonville, where the members were guests of Pres. Ira Roe. One of the largest attendances of the Newton club gathered to congratulate Mr. Roe on his business success and expansion. The speakers included Mr. Charles Allison, New England manager for the Ford interests, Frank L. Richardson, vice-president of the Newton Trust Company, Thomas White, president of the Board of Aldermen and chairman of the State Finance committee, Mr. Francis Allen Wheeler, music specialist of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, and Howard M. North and "Bucky" Chandler of Waban.

The Rotarians showed much interest in the latest and most modern Ford agency in the vicinity of Boston and listened with interested to the

SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR

A most successful bazaar was held Friday and Saturday, September 25th and 26th at the Auburndale Club House.

The bazaar opened on Friday at 7.30 P. M. and closed Saturday at 11.30 P. M.

The grounds were beautifully lighted on both evenings.

The Lounge which has been redecorated and furnished was open for inspection.

There was a fine automobile show, a Punch and Judy show and the usual slight of hand and magic man.

The many booths were most attractively decorated and were presided over by the ladies of the club.

Miss Ruth Ufford had charge of the candy booth.

Hot coffee and doughnuts were dispensed by Mrs. M. C. Hutchins and an able corps of helpers.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT

The Norumbega District School of Religious Education opens its Fifth Season on Monday evening, October 12, at 7.30 P. M., in the First Methodist Church at Newtonville. This School furnishes an opportunity for Church School teachers to better prepare themselves for their important share of the church work. It is a high grade evening school, continuing for ten consecutive Monday evenings, with two class periods each evening and nine classes conducted in these two periods.

In the first period come the following courses:—Life of Christ, Professor Berkeley; The Story of Religion, Dr. Brightman; Story Telling, Mrs. Freeman, Intermediate Department Materials and Methods, Mr. Settle; Handwork in Religious Education, Miss Barker.

In the second period come the following courses:—Principles of Teaching, Professor Berkeley; Old Testament History, Dr. Brightman; Primary Materials and Methods, Mrs. Freeman; and Young People's Department, Mr. Settle.

The Community School committee, with Mr. Nathan Heard as chairman, feels very fortunate in securing Dr. Brightman of Newton Centre as an instructor. He has a national reputation in his field, and is Professor of Philosophy in the Graduate School of Boston University, having several courses in the School of Theology. He has written several books, among them being "Sources of the Hexateuch" and "Introduction to Philosophy." Dr. Brightman is also an interesting teacher as well as writer.

The course called "The Story of Religion" is a new one for this School. It will give the origins, early growth and maturity of religion, with special attention to the beliefs and practices of the great religions of the world at the present time, and the present outlook for Christianity.

One of the instructors, Mrs. Annie G. Freeman, is new to the School here, but well known to many who have enjoyed her classes at the Ocean Park Summer School. She is a practical Primary department worker, with study and experience in this field.

This school is for teachers and others interested, in churches of Newton, Watertown and Waltham, and is supported by the churches and by interested individuals. Prof. James P. Berkeley of Newton Centre is the Dean. Miss Luliona Barker is the Registrar.

BOY SCOUTS

The first officers' council of the season will be held at Hubbards woods, Weston, Saturday the third, commencing at 10.00 A. M. Mr. E. J. Ovington will be in charge of the scout demonstrations of firemaking, cooking, etc., which will begin at 2.00 P. M. A camp fire will be held in the evening with some stories, inspiratioinal speaking and singing. This meet is for commissioned officers and prospective commissioned officers. Troop Committee members are urged to get prospective officers to this meeting.

Troop 11 of Newton will dedicate their cabin at the Ohio October 12th, Columbus Day. Parents of scouts and their friends are invited to attend the ceremony, and take this opportunity of visiting this fine camp.

Portmaster Brown of the Seascout Division, has obtained desk room at the headquarters of troop 3, the old firehouse, West Newton. This building has been greatly improved by the troop and the good work is still going on. Paint has been applied to both the interior and exterior, windows repaired and other repairs made.

Troop 15 of the Congregational Church, Auburndale, has been registered with 11 scouts and two officers. Mr. Harold O. Cook is Scoutmaster and Mr. Donald MacLellan Assistant. The installation of the troop will probably be held the evening of October 13th.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Fraternity lodge of Masons of Newton will observe the 50th anniversary of its organization with special exercises this evening and Sunday. Tonight has been designated "Old Home Night," and the program includes a supper and entertainment for members of the lodge. Sunday evening at 7.15 o'clock there will be a special program in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, with an address by the Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D. D. The committee in charge is composed of Dr. William O. Hunt, Charles S. Ensign, Jr., and Harry E. Bryant.

CITY HALL

Public Buildings Commissioner Chadwick reports nearly a million dollars' worth of building permits issued during September, the actual figures being $830,041. This includes 42 single dwellings valued at $405,000.15 and double dwellings, $185,000. Comparisons with 1924 shows 1371 permits valued at $9,620,178 in 1925 and 1045 permits valued at $4,968,355 in 1924.

CAMP MARY DAY

Newton Troops of Girl Scouts Have Enjoyed A Most Interesting Season at Natick

How'd you like to pack a great big suitcase?
How'd you like to pack yourself up too?
How'd you like to travel in an auto
Up South Avenue?
How'd you like to meet our Mother Carey
And all the girls who come to work and play?
How'd you like to have the time of your life?
THEN COME WITH US TO CAMP MARY DAY.

This song was written by the Orioles during the first week of the summer season at Camp Mary Day and was sung all summer by the enthusiastic scouts who were fortunate enough to get to camp.

After a number of "week-ends" enjoyed by the different troops during May and June, Camp opened on July 6 for its "long-time" camp of ten weeks. One hundred and five girls were accommodated during the summer for a period of two weeks each and the visits were all too short.

The "tents on the hilltop" welcomed back many of the girls who were in camp last year but a large number of scouts who were housed in these tents were having their first experience in camping. All the campers enjoyed the healthy, happy outdoor life and the only hard times during the summer were the partings at the end of the happy visits.

The days were full from reveille at seven in the morning until nine at night when taps was played and from 'morning jerks" until after Camp Fire the days flew by all too quickly and-

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

A MODERN ATHLETIC FIELD

The development of Claflin Field into a modern athletic field took on a most promising outlook Monday evening at the September meeting of the Newton Athletic Association which was held at the Newton Club. Alderman Harry Fitts, a member of the association, was present and said that at City Hall, it was common knowledge that a plan was in the wind in regard to the laying out of an enlarged athletic field, but the aldermen had nothing definite to rely on. As the 1926 budget is now being formulated Mr. Fitts urged the association to take action so that the Finance committee would know where they stood. It was then voted by the members present to approve a plan showing the layout of a modern field as recommended by Mr. Enright, the architect who laid out Soldiers Field in Cambridge, and who had been employed by the now defunct athletic committee at the high school a few years ago. This plan will be presented to the board of aldermen as a basis for them to work on. From this plan it will be possible to determine what the cost of the project will be and whether it will be most advisable to spread the work over a number of years. Mr. Fitts also said that a girls' play field will be laid out on the land south of the new building and as far back as the hill at the south of the technical building, in connection with the work on the new school. The new gymnasium, which will be in that part of the new building nearest the technical school will be ready for use about the first of the year, Mr. Fitts said.

The association voted to appropriate a sum of money to cover the cost of cups and medals for prizes in fall track athletics. Coach Dickinson said that a freshman-sophomore meet was being planned for this fall, and that a pentathlon would also be held. Clarence Moore, in behalf of the Y. M. C. A., tendered the fall outdoor track team an invitation to practice on its track.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, October 26th at the Newton Club.

PROVIDENCE 7—NEWTON 0

Providence Technical school upset the Newton eleven 7-0 on Claflin Field last Saturday afternoon. Newton completely outplayed its opponents in the first half and was within scoring distance three times but lacked the necessary punch to score. At the opening of the second half Providence received the kick-off and carried the ball more than half the field on successive line plunges, making four first downs. Quarterback Newton of Providence, called in turn on Brown, Gifford, and Rotelli who ripped the Newton line wide open. Five yards from the goal line Brown started around right end but tucked the ball under Gifford's arm, who, with the entire local team drawn out of the play jogged around left end for the score. Brown kicked the goal.

In the first quarter Newton had the ball in their opponents' territory by an exchange of punts which netted the local boys 25 yards. A drive for the goal line carried them within six inches of a score when, on the last down, Providence broke through the Newton line and threw the runner for a loss. Providence kicked out of danger. Later Frank Spain attempted two field goals, both of which failed. Spain outpointed Gifford of Providence on nearly every exchange of kicks. The summary:

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

The semi-final rounds of the men's doubles and the mixed doubles of the Fall tournaments of the Burr Tennis Association will be played Saturday afternoon at the Burr playground as follows:

Men's doubles—Tuthill and Davidson vs. Broughton and Warren. Gibbs and Trowbridge vs. Gotshall and Briggs.

Mixed doubles—Miss Sprague and Broughton vs. Miss Sutcliffe and Gotshall. Miss Fisher and Trowbridge vs. Miss Barba and Sylvester.

Sunday at 3 P. M. the final round of the men's single tournament will be played. Broughton vs. Gotshall. Mr. Briggs will referee.

SPORT NOTES

Clem Coady will be relied upon to do the kicking for Harvard in its opening game tomorrow against Rennsalaer Polytech.

The Newton boys are not one bit discouraged over the defeat at the hands of the Providence boys Saturday. Mistakes were made which the local lads will not make again and a much improved team should take the field tomorrow against the strong Deering High eleven, of Deering, Maine, at Claflin field. Deering was defeated last week by Portland High, 12-0.

McCullough was wide awake in the second period of the game against Providence when he fell on the ball less than a foot from the goal line after Spain's attempted field goal. If the ball had crossed the line Providence would have put the ball in play on the 20 yd. line. McCulough will enter Dartmouth next year.

The high school freshmen organized a team this week so that Coach Dickinson and his assistants now have four teams under their direction. The teams are the varsity, intermediate and junior varsities and the freshmen. Each team has a faculty coach, while Dickinson has direction of all.

Mike Gulian, star tackle and Brown captain in 1922, saw his first college game in two years Saturday when Brown opened its new stadium. He played last year with the Frankford Yellowjacket team but probably will not play at all this year.

Win Robinson, who is fighting for the regular berth at left half on the Dartmouth varsity, started the game against Norwich Saturday. He scored two of the nine touchdowns and got off several nice kicks, one for 55 yds.

Joe Kohler of Bowdoin played part of the game at right halfback in the Maine college's opening game against St. Stephen's Saturday.

Waltham High, which entertains Newton at Waltham, Oct. 4th, showed great strength in its opening game last Saturday against Concord High. The Watch City has one of the lightest teams it ever had but rolled up 24 points against its opponents.

Leo E. Bova of Newtonville, Chester Scott of Waban, Harold G. Thompson of West Newton and Joseph Saunders of Newtonville are members of the sophomore committee at B. U., which has charge of the freshman events on the freshman-sophomore field day which takes place early this month.

Joe Cormier of Newtonville is an assistant coach of the second team at M. A. C.

Tom Clausen, former Newton High track star, is enrolled at Holy Cross this Fall.

Eddie Kevorkian, who played guard for Newton two years ago is out for the Brown freshman team. He is expected to develop into another Gulian.

Everett High, which comes to Claflin field Oct. 12th, has a line which averages over two hundred pounds. Newton will feel as though it were facing a college line in this game.

Fall track athletes at the high school were given added incentive Monday evening when the N. A. A. voted to offer cups and medals for prizes for the freshmen-sophomores meet and the pentathlon events.

Miss Harriet Ellison, who was entered in the 29th Women's national golf championship tourney at St. Louis, failed to qualify Monday.

William Seeley, Jr., of Newtonville was an entrant in the 10-mile run at the Brockton Fair yesterday.

Ned Dewing, Newton high and Exeter tackle is an aspirant for a tackle position on the Harvard freshman team this fall. His teammate, Crosby, is trying for a position in the backfield.

"Frenchy" Gilligan, brother of the Newton high captain, is out for a position in the line on the Exeter Academy eleven.

"Dotty" Wright, the ex scholastic Newton High quarterback, is at Dean Academy, and played part of the game at quarterback for the Franklin eleven Saturday, when it beat the Fitchburg Norman School team.

NEW BOYS' WORKER AT Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Roland F. Thompson of Melrose has accepted the position of Assistant Boys' Work Secretary at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Thompson was born at Revere, Massachusetts, took his high school course at Colby Academy, New Hampshire, and graduated from Oberlin College in 1924.

In the world war Mr. Thompson served with the 26th Division. He was wounded three times at Belleau Woods. Last year he taught at the High school at New Waterford, Ohio. He has been interested in Y. M. C. A. work for some time and when in service was selected on "Y" detail on several different parts of the front. He has had considerable experience in boys' work in school, Church, and in club.

Mr. Thompson is a member of the Baptist Church, is married, and will reside in Newton He began his work at the Y. M. C. A. on September 24th.

Y. M. C. A.

The Candle Pin Tournament will start Monday evening, October 5th. Matches this year will begin at 7.45.

The Board meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, October 6th.

On October 12th the Middlesex County Kennel Club will hold a Dog Show on the grounds of the Y M C. A.

Many are looking forward to the opening of the Physical Department on Monday, October 5th. Mr. Richard B. Simmons, the new Physical Director, will lead the opening classes. As usual there will be classes for boys from 10 to 18 and for men from 18 up. The gymnasium looks spic and span for the opening having been thoroughly cleaned and all apparatus and floors painted and put in first class shape. Wise men who have revitalized their bodies with sunshine, fresh air, rest, and recreation will want to keep fit during the fall and winter months by taking proper exercise either out of doors or in the gymnasium. The cheeks may lose their tan, but the glow of health continues if the proper exercise is kept up.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

The trustees of the Newton Hospital are to ask the people of Newton for one million dollars as the minimum amount needed at present for necessary new buildings and enlargements. Their decision was reached at their annual meeting this week after listening to the report of the special building committee which was made by Mr. J. H. Sellman. Mr. Sellman reported that the committee had been at work for many months and that in studying the needs of the hospital it has had the assistance of Messrs. Densmore, LeClear & Robbins, architects. As a result of its studies the committee was convinced that at present the hospital is unable to provide shelter and care to many who ask it, that the hospital needs rooms for the sick, housing facilities for nurses, service departments, power, operating rooms and many other things incidental to necessary enlargement. The committee also found that no new hospital buildings have been built for fifteen years, and that practically all the present buildings are gifts from individuals or families and none from general contributions. As a result of its survey the committee recommended that the trustees vote to put into effect at once a campaign for one million dollars, and that the president be authorized to appoint committees and to take other necessary steps.

Dr. George L. West in his report to the trustees for the medical directors stated that the number of patients admitted for the hospital year was 3,452, or only eight more than in the previous year, although the annual rate of increase in patients admitted for the last ten years has been 145. A hospital is running at full capacity when its beds are used 80 per cent of the time. Last year the Newton Hospital beds were used 83 per cent of the time, and the private beds 94 per cent of the time, records which were made possible only by pressing into service rooms that were never intended for patients and even the corridors. The fact is the hospital, remaining physically where it has been for years, has reached the present limit of its service. A fast growing city enlarges the field of possible service but the hospital to give this service must have more rooms and better equipment. During the year its daily average number of patients was 113.71, an increase of 3 over the previous year and the hospital death rate for the year was 3.57 per cent, the lowest so far recorded. The operating rooms were built in 1898 when the daily average number of patients at the hospital ws 34, now it is three times larger and the demand upon the operating suite correspondingly greater. At times when several emergency cases have to be cared for at once the strain on the facilities available is almost at the breaking point and operators, nurses and patients put to severe tax. During the last year 2,342 patients were cared for in the operating rooms and of these 562 were emergency cases. Of the 55 rooms available for private patients 11 are in close contact with the wards and were intended for use by ward patients, and the commandeering of them as private rooms is unfair to the ward patients. During the year 518 babies were born, or one less than last year. The roengenological department admitted 1730 patients, 1196 being new patients, an increase of 383 over 1924. More than a thousand were sent in for the use of the x-ray alone, and there were 20 cases where the x-ray was used for treatment and not for diagnosis. The total number of out patient cases was 4763 as against 5182 in 1924. r. David E. Baker, who has given freely of his time as an out patient physician, has resigned. The hospital laboratory under the direction of Dr. S. C. Davenport, made 10,503 examinations or 1000 more than last year.

Miss Allen, the superintendent, in her report reviewed the work done during the past year, the changes in personnel and stated that from her viewpoint the crying need of the hospital is better housing accommodations for the nurses.

The treasurer in his report showed that last year the expenditures by the hospital were a little over $4,000 in excess of the receipts from patients, income of endowments and investments, and $30,000 in donations by friends. The excess in expenditures was due to painting and similar work. The treasurer also reported that while the amount of yearly donations remains at about the same as previously the number of those contributing is falling off.

In the election of officers Mr. C. P. Hutchins of Newton was added to the Board of trustees, the other officers remaining as last year. Mr. W. F. Chase and Mr. L. B. Rogers asked to be relieved fro mmembership on the executive committee, and Mr. E. J. Frost and Mr. M. L. Madden were appointed in their stead.

Hospital notes:

Week ending September 26: Patients in hospital 128, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 55, patients paying less than cost of care 44, free patients, including babies 29, babies born 9, 6 boys and 3 girls, patients treated by the out-patient department 62, patients treated by eye clinic 8, accident cases 13, operating room cases 62, social service cases at hospital 15, at homes 6, patients transferred by social service car 5.

The eye clinic opened Sept. 22 after being closed for the summer months.

The fall months at the hospital are usually light but this week it will be noticed that the total number of patients is very high.

NEWTON'S HEAT FOLKS

HERE'S an outfit that will jazz-up any heating plant. The Heat Folks put a smile on the furnace that won't come off. They just play away to ashes. From top to toe your home radiates heat and happiness. You'll find no discord in the cellar—blue notes are unknown to this coal. And the tune they play is sweet music to your pocketbook—for they play long and faithfully.

DEATH OF MYRON W. RICHARDSON

Myron W. Richardson, headmaster of the Girls' High School at Boston and well known as an educator, died suddenly Monday morning after being stricken on a Boston and Albany train on which he was riding from Newtonville to Boston. He was taken from the train at the Newton station but succumbed to heart trouble before he could be taken to a hospital.

Mr. Richardson, who was 63 years old, was a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1886 and lived at 63 Otis street, Newtonville. He was at one time superintendent of schools at Milton, had served as principal of various public schools in Greater Boston and had been headmaster of the Girls' High School for fourteen years.

Following his regular course at Harvard, Mr. Richardson took a post-graduate course and his first teaching experience was had at Omaha, Neb., where he was on the faculty of the high school. From 1892-94 he was principal of the high school at Lincoln, Neb., and later for 5 years he was superintendent of schools at Newton. Before becoming headmaster of the Girls' High School in Boston in 1911, he was head of a department at the Roxbury High School and also principal of the Central Evening High School.

He is survived by his widow, who was Helen H. Hall; two daughters, Mrs. Norman Southworth of Newtonville and Mrs. W. B. Brown of Irwin, Pa.

The Girls' High School was dismissed early Wednesday afternoon to permit the teachers in a body and fifty pupils representing every class to attend the funeral services at the Faneuil Congregational Church, Brighton. Rev. Andrew H. Mulnix, pastor of the church, officiated. The pall bearers were Walter F. Downey, principal of the English High School; Charles L. Reed of Mechanics Arts High School; Francis A. Smith, C. Ross Appler, Herbert B. Cole, teachers at the Girls' High School, and Frank A. Kennedy, acting headmaster. The Weber Quartette sang. The body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

Other features, outdoor entertainments for children, weather permitting.

Mason School

The total enrollment for the first two weeks of this school year in the Mason school, is seven hundred and twelve.

Grades 6 and 7 average about 45 to a room, and the eighth grade has 39 in one room, 38 in a second, and 37 in a third, larger than in other years.

The Savings Bank Machine, on the first floor, proves very attractive this fall, especially to the smaller boys and girls.

Last year the aggregate savings in the Mason alone were twenty-three hundred dollars.

Mr. Person is now teaching science and French in the High School at Hyannis, and his place is taken by Mr. J. R. Heavens.

Our new building assistant is Miss May, Miss Van Ummerson having resigned, to be married this fall.

All Newton Music School

A large registration was held last week for enrollment in the West Newton Music School, at both the Claflin school in Newtonville and the Peirce school in West Newton. The school term began on Thursday, October 1st, and applications may be made at the Claflin and Peirce schools, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and Saturday mornings. Theory classes are available for all music students outside the Music School. Information with regard to courses, et cetera, may be obtained from: Mrs. Alice W. Hay, Assistant director, 102 Charlesbank road, Newton, telephone 3418-N. N., or Miss Marion Chidsey, Sec'y, 130 Warren street, Newton Centre, telephone Centre Newton 0318-M.

RADIO ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PUBLIC

IT has come to the attention of the undersigned companies that a considerable number of persons are using poles carrying their current for the support of radio antennae.

The public undoubtedly do not realize the hazards of this practice due to the danger of the antennae carrying currents of electricity to the persons making such attachments, to passersby on the streets and also into homes. The practice is condemned by the National Electrical Safety Code Committee and by the authorities having supervision of wires in cities and towns.

The companies, therefore, have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the practice must be stopped and desire to give notice that all such attachments must be removed within ten days.

This rule is promulgated only in the interest of safety and we trust that the public will appreciate its reasonableness and cooperate in its enforcement.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

The Newton schools are finishing their third week of the new year, and though the activities that usually crowd the days of the fall and winter have not actually begun, plans for them are nearing completion and ideas stimulated by a restful summer are coming to the fore, promising one of the finest years on record. The rather difficult period of settling back into routine is about over, teachers are acquainted with their new classes, and new classmates. In fact—the preliminaries are over—School has begun in earnest!

The school committee and the special committee of the Board of Aldermen are still working over the very vital problem of transportation of pupils to and from school. It is hoped that a bus system providing quick and adequate accommodation for the great number of school members who live at a distance from their particular schools may be the solution, but the issue is one which requires much discussion and careful planning. For this purpose the committees have been meeting frequently and a decision is near at hand.

One of the most interesting features of the new year, at least one that interests the greatest number of people, is the proposed opening of the spacious hall in the new Underwood building, which takes place in early fall. Every one who has been privileged to inspect the interior has been most agreeably surprised at the large seating capacity and the splendid acoustic properties. The hall is one of which all Newton has great reason to be proud, and the official opening will certainly occasion a vast amount of interest as the progress of its building has been watched very closely. The well known Read Fund lectures are to be held there during the winter as well as meetings of the Community Club and any other events which the school authorities consider advantageous to the community. It is within their power to rent the hall or not, and the public may rightfully feel genuinely comfortable in knowing that such a beautiful hall in such a central location will be used only for occasions fitting its educational surroundings. It is quite in keeping with the high standards of Newton that it should have and maintain a place in which to further the best qualities of entertainment, social, dramatic, or otherwise.

In Memoriam

The greatest change that the summer brought is the loss of a spirit that the Underwood school has known and loved for thirty years, Miss Louise Pray, who rounded out her thirtieth year, most gloriously, in 1924-25, whose name is known to countless hundreds, whose enthusiasm and love of life,—whose jolly sense of humor and delight in laughter meant joy to all she met, whose gentle love and understanding of little children was never known to have an "off day," is there no longer. She left the service as she always wished to do, at her very best, but the void she left behind is one so deep that even after many years have passed, it will still be very great. Never a cross word, never a grumble over hardships, always a ready smile, always that word of encouragement, always sincere—how many can answer to a record like that?

F. A. Day Junior High School

We are happy to welcome a new member of the teaching corps—Miss Frances Blake in the library. Miss Blake, who is a literary contributor to periodicals, is a graduate of Wheaton College. In addition to her duties as librarian, Miss Blake will help pupils who need special assistance during school hours.

The school is almost 100 per cent as contributors to the Junior Red Cross. Among the benefits derived as a consequence to our membership, we are receiving each month not only the regular Junior Red Cross Magazine but also the French one which is published in Belgium.

On Tuesday afternoon several of the F. A. Day Junior High School teachers attended the Fall outing and supper given by the Woman's Club of High School Teachers at Hartwell's Farm in Lincoln.

The Underwood School

The new Underwood building has begun its second season with a much larger enrollment than the school has ever known. Its large, attractive rooms are filled to capacity with Newton's small representatives ranging in age from those of the kindergarten, up through the fifth grades. The few changes in the teaching staff have already been mentioned.—Miss Clough having been transferred to the Bigelow and Miss Elson from the Bigelow to the Underwood. Miss Florence Manning and Miss Grace Darling—both kindergartners of long standing, are in charge of the kindergarten.

The Lincoln School

The old Lincoln school is beginning its year in new and gala array—for not only has it been thoroughly redecorated and renovated but electric lights, for which the staff have been waiting patiently for many years, have been installed, adding greatly to the comfort and efficiency of all concerned.

The Allen School

The Misses Allen School began on Thursday of this week with every seat filled—a decidedly encouraging beginning.

Four of the faculty have spent the summer abroad, returning with added zest to their work and bringing a large store of interesting and stimulating information.

Lasell Seminary

President, Mollie Witschief, Newburgh, N. Y.; Vice President, Virginia Amos, Warminster, Pa.; Secretary, Mabel Matthews, Summit, N. J.; Treasurer, Mary Freeman, New Orleans, La.; Song Leader, Dorothy Denney, South Orange, N. J.; Cheer Leader, Margaret Anderson, Kankakee, Ill.

The Athletic Association has chosen the following officers for the coming year:

President, Dorothy Denney, South Orange, N. J.; Vice President, Elizabeth Van Cleve, Morristown, N. J.; Secretary and Treasurer, Barbara Winslow, Hyde Park, Mass.

A successful drive is being carried on for membership in this popular school activity.

Tuesday afternoon of this week the annual trip to Lexington and Concord was made by motor bus, about fifty girls availing themselves of this opportunity.

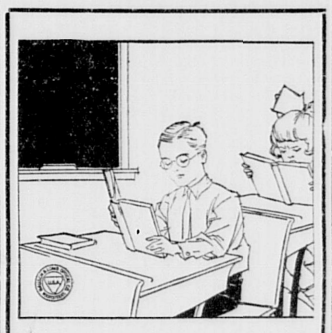

Friday afternoon, the usual lecture hour will be devoted to a talk on "Health" by Dr. H. F. Keever, of Auburndale, Mass.

Sunday evening Vespers will be held at the usual hour, Dr. Seeley Tompkins of the Central Congregational Church of Boston, being the speaker.

Tuesday evening, October 6, there will be a lecture at the Auburndale Club House under the auspices of Lasell Seminary. This will consist of an exhibition and talk on the art of Glass making and promises to be both entertaining and instructive. The public is cordially invited.

Stearns School

The Stearns school kindergarten, which is always one of the largest in the city enrolled this year more than 70 pupils, the general caliber of whom seems to be considerably higher than ever before. Miss Lilian Peirce, who acted last year in the capacity of special assistant, is this year a very able regular assistant, and is well known to Newton residents, who will be glad of her appointment.

If your boy or girl has trouble with school work, if they have any symptom whatever of defective vision, bring them to us for an examination.

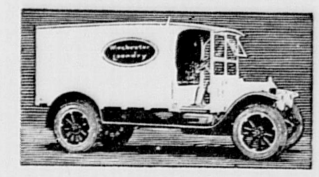

We advise the parents the conditions exactly as we find them.

LOOKING THE BUDGET SYSTEM IN THE EYE

In these days when money comes hard, every family should have a budget based on their individual requirements and should count their pennies. That is why the Winchester Laundries do not recommend merely one service, but have enough different classes of services at varying prices to conform to any budget.

EDITORIAL

—o—

We have just returned from an enjoyable week end in northern New Hampshire and are still under the spell created by the majesty of the mountains and the glory of the changing foliage. The clear cut mountains in the cool air, the gorgeous coloring in the bright scarlet, and the deep crimson of the maples, the green of the pines and spruces cause one to be glad to be alive and to witness the wonders of Nature and of that power in the world, which Herbert Spencer says, works for righteousness, and which we common folks say, is God.

—o—

Senator Rice suggests that we may have given a wrong impression of his remarks last week at the Rotary Club in regard to the cathedral at Rheims. What he said and what we meant to say he said was that the cathedral was not injured anything like what it might have been had the Germans intended to destroy it during the four years' storming of the city.

—o—

Mr. Bentley makes an excellent suggestion this week that the various city departments hold a "come and see" day for the tax payers of Newton. From many years' experience at City Hall, we feel sure that much valuable information could be secured from the heads of the various city departments if an open forum could be arranged.

—o—

Last week in an article about the gift of a gold medal to Assistant Fire Chief George K. Stacy we inadvertently stated that he had retired from active service on account of the age limit. We are glad to say now that Mr. Stacy has not retired and will continue to give the city efficient service for some years to come.

The news item this week regarding the 82nd birthday of the Rev. Dr. Edward A. Horton recalls the inspiring prayers which the doctor has given for some years at the daily sessions of the Massachusetts Senate. He has the rare faculty of putting a large amount of meaning in a few comprehensive words.

The Girl Scouts should have the ample financial support of the people of this city. They are doing a splendid work for the future citizens of this community.

BRAY—HOOD

The wedding is announced of Miss Pauline Hood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hood of Cedar street, Newton Centre, and Mr. Robert Claxton Bray of Institution avenue, Newton Centre. The ceremony took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Samuel McC. Lindsey, pastor of the Baptist Church at Coolidge Corner, Brookline. There were no bridal attendants.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Guild and Miss Evans' school in Boston, and also of Briarcliff, at Briarcliff, N. Y. She has been a pupil of Heinrich Gebhard, the noted pianist, and has been active as a volunteer worker for the Boston Dispensary as well as of the Red Cross.

Mr. Bray is the son of Mrs. M. T. Bray of Newton Centre and the late William C. Bray. Following his graduation from the Volkman School, he entered business life. In the World War he went overseas, where he was with the American Field Service in the French Army and later was in the service of the United States. He is a member of the Longwood Cricket Club, also of the Newton Centre Squash and Tennis Club.

Mr. Bray and his bride have gone to Cape Cod, for their wedding journey.

CAMP MARY DAY

the girls were not able to do all they wished to.

Camp was run on the Patrol system as it was last year and the scouts did all of the work, supervised by the councillors, with the exception of the cooking which was done by two girls from the Junior Class of the Newton Vocational High School. Ruth Whitehouse and Ruth Houghton. These two girls did all of the cooking, helped in planning the menus and judging by the food consumed by the camp family of 32, everything that they cooked was a great success. The rest of the work was divided so that each patrol has its own work each day changing each day so that it did not get tiresome. There were the Housekeepers, the Table Grils, the Dish Washers, the Wood and Water patrol, and the girls on Garden and Ground duty.

All the girls entered into the work with the same fine spirit that they showed in the play and good times and during the busy hours of "fatigue" the camp rang with songs and laughter.

A new raft, for which Troop VII (Upper Falls) gave quite a large sum, made the bathing more enjoyable and the camp swimming chart shows many tests passed. Almost all of the girls earned their swimming emblem, a small fish, and quite a number were able to sew it onto their bathing suits swimming towards the third grade of the test or diving towards the fourth. Regular instruction was given in swimming and Red Cross Life Saving and a number of girls passed the Swimming Merit Badge test. The Sailor Merit Badge was also given and the scouts who took that course spent many happy hours on the pond, learning how to paddle a canoe and how to handle it. The camp has been presented with a new canoe by Troop 11 (the Newton Highlands troop) and a small row boat was given by Barbara Livermore of the West Newton Troop. These together with the row boat and canoe already at camp made quite an imposing appearance at the little dock and gave the girls more of an opportunity for water sports. The camp rules are very strict about going on the water. Only those girls who have passed certain swimming tests are allowed to go out on the pond and then only with written permission from the parents.

Other outdoor Merit Badges taken up were the Pioneer and the Flowerfinder. Nature study in the Second Class test was also stressed. Courses in First Aid were given to every group coming to camp, one course in the Home-Nurse was given, First Class signalling and the Signalling Merit Badge were passed by a number of the girls and practically all the Second Class scout work was taught.

This scout instruction together with fatigue duty, Court of Honor, Assembly swimming, rest hour, games, hikes and rehearsals for the play which was given at the end of each encampment filled the days pretty full. A library of 100 books loaned to camp by the Newton Library for the summer was very much appreciated by the girls and officers and all wished that they could spare more time for reading. Evenings were spent playing games, singing and talking around a camp fire or having special festivities such as a charade evening, a costume ball, a song contest between tents, and stunts. On the last evening of each encampment the girls and officers voted for the girl who had shown the best camp spirit during that encampment. The Scouts who were awarded the Camp Spirit emblem were:

First Encampment, Betty Marshall, Newtonville; Second Encampment, Ruth Williams, West Newton; Third Encampment, Betty Walworth, Newton Centre; Fourth Encampment, Betty Skelton, Newton Highlands, Fifth Encampment; Shirley Eddy, West Newton. These girls also received Camp Letters. Three other girls in each camp were chosen by the officers to receive Camp Letters. They were: First Encampment, Virginia Randall, Newton Centre; Dorothy Tylee, Newtonville; Ethel Medbury, Newtonville. Second Encampment: Alice Batson, West Newton; Naida Panin, Newtonville; Jane Hermann, Newton Centre. Third Encampment: Mary Stephen, Waban; Mary Alice Eaton, West Newton; Suzanne Slocum, Newtonville. Fourth Encampment: Mary Carrick, Newton Highlands; Ruth Larnard, West Newton; Elizabeth Clark, Newtonville. Fifth Encampment: Eleanor Magrane, Auburndale; Dorothy True, Newton Highlands; Eloise Andrews.

The last two weeks of camp from August 29 to September 12 was run as a training camp for Junior Officers and Senior Scouts and proved to be a most interesting encampment. The first week was devoted to the Brownie program and the Big Brown Owl with her two helpers, Tawny Owl and Pack Leader led the girls each day in the Brownie Law. The little woodland theatre made an entrancing place to have the fairy ring but when the days were stormy by "Magicing" the big living room of the camp house the Brownies learned their lessons and played their games by the sea shore, on the top of a mountain or in the woods. Many Brownie Packs will probably be the outcome of this enthusiastic Leaders Pack.

Miss Edith Conant, the New England Regional Director, was loaned to Camp Mary Day by National Headquarters in New York for three days during the second week of this encampment, and she gave the leaders a splendid and most inspiring course in Troop Management. She also passed three girls in the Red Cross Life Saving test. Shirley Eddy and Barbara Jack of West Newton passed the Senior test and Dorothy True of Newton Highlands the Junior test.

This is the third "long-time" camp which has been held at Camp Mary Day. In 1923 the camp was open for a six-week encampment, in 1924 for 9 weeks and this summer the camp was open for 10 weeks. Girls and officers are most enthusiastic about their visits and all have shown a wonderful spirit which has done much toward making the summer such a happy and a successful one. "Fairyland" the camp infirmary has been the only vacant tent this summer. There have been no accidents or mishaps to mar the summer's pleasure and Miss Freeman, the Director, feels assured that the season has been a splendid one. Her only regret is that more girls could not have had the privilege and pleasure of being at camp and that those who were there had to make their visits such short ones.

The Councillors who added so much to the effectiveness of the camp and to the splendid spirit which was felt alike by both all the campers and their visitors were: Miss Doris Lovell of West Newton, Assistant Director, Miss Dorothy Fairbrother of West Newton, Camp Nurse, Miss Dorothy Colby of Newton Upper Falls, Miss Margaret Arnold of Brookline, Miss Elizabeth Plimpton of Newton Centre, Miss Marion Clapp of Brookline, Miss Lisbeth Leighton, Miss Irma Bartholomew, Miss Barbara Cook and Miss Marjorie Newell of West Newton, Miss Elsie Jennison of Wellesley, Miss Marjorie Tucker of Newtonville and Miss Isabell Skipwith of West Newton and Miss Barbara Partridge of Newton.

ters, flashing Y. W. C. A., a welcome to you. They plan these weekly suppers and social evenings of recreation, some with talks on International Affairs, on Music, Art, and Poetry. Several new members have joined this month and a real welcome is extended to all professional and business girls. Come next Monday night."

"Newton seems to lack one type of membership, that of home women. Of the mothers of the girls who already belong to our groups and if all women interested in girls in the many centres of Newton would join it would give us a wonderful backing."

"It is our hope that all such women will come to our big Membership Meeting, Monday, October 26. We plan for afternoon meetings in some of the Newtons for home women, perhaps once a month with speakers or music. We expect to have occasional Teas in different homes. In all these ways we plan to increase interest in our work. We stand ready to meet any need of any group of girls or of home women in any of the Newtons."

Mrs. Louis S. Drake, the President, graciously welcomed the members present of the Board, committees and invited guests. She asked all to meet the new Secretaries and continue our discussion over a cup of tea.

All the guests enjoyed meeting Miss Capen, who left just after the meeting for a Conference in Connecticut. Friendly discussion of future plans took place in little groups here and there through the parlors. Miss Elsie Bennett, our popular gym instructor from Watertown, was delightedly welcomed. She has classes Tuesday evenings at 7.10 for older girls and adults. The other Miss Martin (Miss Esther Martin), our office secretary, has charge of the little girls' afternoon classes in the gymnasium. Miss Bennett will organize Basket Ball for the older girls the second half of Tuesday evenings.

One of our Newton ladies is planning a Tea in Miss Leather's honor soon. At the October sewing meeting of the Interchurch Woman's Alliance it is hoped Miss Leathers will speak of the Y. W. plans for this year.

Miss Leathers taught for two years in the Biblical History Department of Wellesley College before going to the Washington, D. C., Y. W. C. A. She is a graduate of Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, and of Hartford Theological Seminary, so she has had wide experience in many directions.

Miss Anna L. Martin, our new Girl Reserve Secretary, is a graduate of Alfred University of New York State, and taught in Junior High School in Bellport, New York. She had her "Y" training at the National Summer Training School in New York City.

SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR

Mrs. A. C. Furbish had charge of the hot dog stand and was busy every minute. There were grabs and balloons, and dancing was enjoyed on both evenings.

Altogether it was a most successful affair, both socially and financially and great credit is due Mr. Henry L. Goodman the chairman and Mrs. Raymond Perkins, vice chairman.

WORLD'S RECORD

Robert R. Pyle, salesmanager for Elizabeth Manor, Inc., the new restricted subdivision property near Babson Park owned by P. F. Bryant of Boston, Mass., lays claims to a new world's record.

The 200 lots in the first unit of Elizabeth Manor were all sold in 15 days actual selling time.

Among these who will build during the coming season are P. F. Bryant, of Babson Park, Florida and Massachusetts; Frederick Robinson of Newton, Mass.; R. R. Pyle of Lake Wales; Dr. W. T. Davis of Canton, Penn., who will build one for himself and one to rent or sell; William L. Wilson of Wellesley, Mass.; Mrs. James H. Vahey of Watertown, Mass., who bought eight lots and has let a contract to Fred Robinson for the first of her houses, and H. S. Turner of Lake Wales, the poet laureate of the Pyle Sales Organization, and Dr. E. D. McNair of Jacksonville.

Officers of Elizabeth Manor, Inc., are P. F. Bryant of Babson Park, President; F. C. Hopewell of Boston, Mass., vice-president; B. O. Gerrish of Boston, Mass., treasurer and T. W. Mustard of Boston, Mass., secretary.

COAST TO COAST TRIP

Last Friday, the 25th, Dr. Fred M. Lowe of West Newton, City Physician, a well-known sportsman and no mean cook; Ernest H. Harvey of Auburndale, designing engineer and a member of the engineering department for the past thirty-five years, and Fred F. Dudley of Rockland, an automobile dealer, and a real good scout, left West Newton at 3 o'clock for an auto camping trip from Coast to Coast. They are to visit all interesting points along the route, including Hollywood, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Their outfit consists of a body 11 x 6 mounted on a Ford ton chassis and containing a sleeping outfit for three, A gasoline stove pots and pans, a fireless cooker, fishing-rods and hunting paraphernalia. Even "Rags" the dog, is promised a swim in the Pacific.

The trip as outlined bids fair to furnish a well-earned vacation for three men, who have been faithful to their several callings for many years.

SOMERSET FARMS CREAM

Somerset Farms Cream, on sale everywhere, still keeps up a high rating, with the Boston Health Dept. Mr. Turgeon, the manager, is a man who is out first of all for the endorsement of the authorities, as shown in the monthly tables for fats, proteins and bacteria count, that they issue, based on examination an analysis of product. Month after month, year after year, Somerset Farms Cream stands the gaff and heads, or pretty nearly heads, the list on some 150 ratings of different concerns made monthly by the Boston Health Dept. as tabulated in its publication. The proof of the pudding is in the eating and the proof of the superiority of Somerset Farms Cream over all others, is the monthly report of the Boston Health Department.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. George Henry Bond, who died last week Thursday at his home in Englewood avene, Brookline, was for many years a resident of Otis street, West Newton. He was born in Saxonville on January 31, 1840, the son of the late Phineas and Mary Chickering Bond.

Mr. Bond was educated in the schools of his native town and was employed there for some years by the late Luther F. Fuller of that place. In 1866 he came to Boston and formed a partnership in the grocery business with George F. Winch, with their place of business located on Broadway, South Boston. This affiliation continued successfully for ten years, at the end of which time Mr. Bond bought out his partner and ran the business himself until 1904. When he retired at that time he had three stores in South Boston, one in Boston and one in Newtonville. For four years he was president of the Boston Retail Grocers' Association and was general manager of the first three food fairs which were ever held in Boston.

Mr. Bond was a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and of the Brae Burn Country Club. He was elected trustee of the South Boston Savings Bank in 1875 and was on the board of investments for fifty years. He was the oldest member of that institution at the time of his death. He was well informed on real estate matters and served for three years in the Massachusetts Legislature. He was a member of the City Council under Mayor Prince, and represented the people of South Boston in the Legislature, where he remained for three years. He was instrumental in placing the first electric light in South Boston and was the first to use the telephone in that district. He was a member of St. Paul's Lodge and St. Omas Commandery of Masons.

Mr. Bond moved to Brookline in 1881 and was at that time married to Henrietta F. Parker of Oakland, Cal. He built a home in West Newton in 1896, where he lived until 1923. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Miss Annie M. Bond.

SURPRISE SHOWER

Miss Mary Cahill of Lexington street, West Newton, whose marriage to Dr. Arthur G. Lanagan of Waltham, will take place at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, on October 20th, was tendered a surprise shower Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lanagan on Weston street, Waltham.

The gifts were arranged under a pink and white floral bell in the reception hall and included miscellaneous articles, both beautiful and useful. The rooms were decorated attractively in a color scheme of pink and white. During the evening vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed, different guests contributing to the informal program.

When the collation was served each of the fifty guests was presented with an old fashioned nosegay souvenir.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The Highland Glee Club of 40 voices, under the direction of D. Ralph Maclean, will sing at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, next Sunday Evening at 7.15, at the first of the Evening Services this autumn. They will sing Schubert's "Great is Jehovah"; the chorale, "To God on High be Thanks and Praise"; and the "Prayer of Thanksgiving," (Netherland Folk Song). In the Schubert Chorus the soloist will be Paul Thayer of St. Paul's Cathedral Choir. Trinity Choir will sing "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place," from Brahms' "Requiem."

A delegation of Fraternity Lodge of Masons will attend the Service, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the granting of their charter. The rector, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D. D., will be the preacher.

TURN TO THE RIGHT

And turn not back when the Right is straight ahead.
Falter not in the way of the waverers.
Neither take a blind chance: it is a short-cut to remorse.
Speed gamblers land on the rocks, for character always arrives where it drives.
Seek and ye shall find the King's High Way.
Enter ye in at His gate.

—An unusually enjoyable program was given Monday evening at the entertainment of the Sons of St. George. It included a comedy magician, a splendid vaudeville and solos, duets and instrumental music.

—Next Sunday will be observed as Rally Day at the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Rev. J. M. Shepler, D. D. will preach at 10.45. At seven o'clock there will be a mass meeting. Dr. Shaw will give a Story Sermon to the children and special music is being arranged by Miss Wallace.

—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church opened their yearly program with an English tea, auction, and entertainment, held at Parish Hall last Wednesday evening. Over 150 attended the deliciously prepared and daintily served meal, where viands that have made the English cooks famous, were served. After the meal, Mr. E. B. Wildman acted as auctioneer, and with witty remarks and enthusiastic manner, he soon disposed of the useful and pretty articles up for auction. Then Miss Dorothy Colter of Needham Heights pleased the audience with several clover reading selections. "Angela's Missionary Box" and "Phenomenon" were delivered in such a quaint droll manner that the little miss quite carried her audience by storm. Members of the Ladies' Aid, and their friends, are starting rehearsals on "The District School" to be given the latter part of this month.

—Miss Johnson has taken the place of Miss Flanders as gymnastic teacher in the Newton Grammar School this fall. Miss Flanders' engagement has recently been announced.

—Mrs. Mary Lowe, for many years a resident here, died at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Seward Johnson of Wellesley Hills, last week at the advanced age of 92 years.

—The Church School of St. Paul's Parish will open next Sunday at 9.30 A. M. in the Parish House. While the alterations in the Crypt are not yet completed the main room is prepared for the children and the initial enrollment and the assigning of classes will be carried out. Within a few weeks the whole plant will be in readiness and the Church is in the unique position of offering to the children of the parish a thoroughly equipped and modernized Church School.

MAY SETTLE BUS QUESTION

The bus question will probably be cleared up at the board of aldermen meeting Monday which is scheduled to start at 5 o'clock. One of the longest dockets of the year will confront the board when it comes to order. The bus regulations having been passed at the last meeting and with nearly a dozen petitions for bus line permits awaiting action since early in the summer the discussion on this matter is expected to consume a greater part of the evening.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Madame President and Madame Club Member: Your Club Notes Editor once more has the floor, and she greets you one and all right cordially! Her hope is that in the chronicles of our year to come, you may find much of interest, of pleasure, of entertainment, and of consideration for your pondering. With your friendly, helpful co-operation this is possible, in so far as in her lies.

Material received from the State Press Chairman gives us cause for pride, as we are listed as one of the forty-eight official club papers of Massachusetts, and rank among only twenty-eight cities that are so listed. Newton, therefore, takes her place among recognized club organs of cities of much larger size. Let us appreciate it that the Editor of the Newton Graphic pays respect to the status and power of club women, in his giving to us gladly and courteously opportunity for publicity. This makes, more than many of us in Newton have realized perhaps, for spreading of our influence and news of activities so that all may not only enjoy knowledge of events, but gain new ideas and, better yet, inspiration.

With an official source for exchange of notes, it therefore behooves all clubwomen and there are about four thousand in Newton—to look to this source for information and aid. A Home Newspaper not only brings its readers of a given locality into better understanding, it not only affords local interests, but it brings events from the great outside, and we, in turn, have our offering to contribute to the nation—an offering whose far-reaching influence may amaze us some day! We receive and give inspiration. Of such is the law of progress and achievement!

As an example, our column not only satisfies for the moment the local club women of doings in her own village and throughout the city, but it finds its way each week to the State Federation Scrap Book, and there comes a day, when the club year ends, when it starts with its sisters, who have honored places therein, to various national meetings. We not only journeyed last May to Swampscott where many women from all over the State viewed and read, but we journeyed much farther—to West Baden, Indiana—and there were eyes that lingered on arresting bits that we do not dream of.

So, Press Chairmen and Correspondents, in making their weekly contributions to your editor, may enjoy the thought that their efforts to bring interesting, inspiring, entertaining bits of home town news, are not without real avail, for they become permanent records, whose aid and cleverness serve some purpose we may little guess.

Our opportunity in a smaller city is especially promising, for we may indulge in personal touches, in more prolonged descriptions, than can the big Boston papers, who have to deal in the more bare—and more uninteresting—statements of cold fact. They have to be almost heartlessly impersonal, however much their editors might enjoy printing some of the intimate delightful "small town" accounts. Their rule is six aids—no more—beyond which the blue pencil ruthlessly cuts — WHAT, WHERE, WHEN, HOW, WHY and WHO. Observe, then, the joy we have in telling you what is whatest, how and why the where and when is the very best, and every one of the whos that are who!

Your editor hopes to have all club Year Books, and will welcome eagerly not only all notices from press correspondents of regular meetings and special functions, but she desires also all activities and plans of the chairman. The bright ideas and clever doings of these leading ladies serve to bring new thoughts to other club officers, so spreading good tidings and letting others enjoy good things, while putting that individual club most decidedly on the map as having "pep" and keen wits in their personnel. Be advised, therefore, my club friends, and send your choice offerings—if possible by Monday of the week in which you wish the item to appear—to your club editor, at her home, 4 PEMBROKE STREET, NEWTON.

Please do not send club news to the news office, as your editor is not located there to receive it, and it is not always wise to trust to telephone messages, as names are hard to "catch" over the wire, to print correctly—and we all know how dreadful it is to find one's self misspelt!—and, moreover, (let us whisper it)—your editor has many interesting things to take her from home—some of them in your good work—and she just can't be there to wait for the telephone tinkle! Be advised, then, and write it—not on the telephone wire—but with a good fountain pen!

The General Federation, as those of you who take the "News" know, is planning a most ambitious year—of which more for your knowledge next week. This means the endless chain that will bring accomplishment, for based upon what they sanction is the program of our State Federation, and then of each federated club.

Speaking of ambitions, the Graphic Editor in his editorial of last week—the 25th of September—may have set the bee buzzing in some woman's political bonnet! He, being a very wise man in knowledge of women's ability, and preparedness, as his having a Woman's Club column (already noted) proves, has raised the perfectly natural question as to having a woman represent us in the aldermanic councils. The suggestion is well worth considering! And while considering it, why not a club woman? Surely her experience in parliamentary law, in presiding over committee meetings and club meetings, and her training to stand upon her feet and express herself fluently and assuredly, makes her a most logical person for such civic duty. She would not only be able to bring a new viewpoint into these councils, and represent the women's point of view,—which is sadly misunderstood in many cases—but she might surprise some of the masculine lords of political knowledge in her very real knowledge of parliamentary procedure, brevity, and business methods! The masculine mind has for so long dwelt in fond delusion upon his especial fitness, training, and experience, that it might suffer quite a shock upon discovering that the approved free and easy presiding and lack of parliamentary conducing in which he has so smugly revelled weren't correct at all! Your editor speaks with a hidden chuckle over memories of presiding among men's organizations by quite satisfied gentlemen whose methods were not only obsolete, but absolutely unbased upon any known printed or instructed procedure!

While the women's clubs were not founded for dabbling in politics, or even for teaching women in the ways they should go as to civic duties and citizenship and voting — although it sometimes seems as though some women have thought so—there is no reason why we should not ponder over the possibility of having one of our many capable, efficient, and trained club women go to City Hall, and show them something as to what women are, and what they can do!

Why let the men continue to have the monopoly in representing, or misrepresenting, Newton!

New England Conference

September 21, 22, and 23 were three well-filled and interesting days at Poland Springs, Maine, a state of affairs that always prevails when we club women get together and discuss what should be done, then set forth valiantly with our shields of faith and courage to show what can be done!

Club women from six States gathered to discuss means of making the rural clubs more effective and to improve farm and small community conditions. The betterment of the rural school, the freer circulation of books, and other literature, for the broadening of the mental horizon of women cut off from community centres, the lightening of labor of the farm home, the effective way of crossing the barrier mountains of New Hampshire, Vermont, and Maine, to these women isolated as we of Massachusetts with our 362 clubs organized from the Cape to the western country boundaries can not realize, were the problems brought forward for women's solving in aid of her less fortunate sister.

The conference opened at 2.30 of the afternoon of the 21st with the usual greetings and preliminary greetings. In the evening there was a reception, and there were addresses by Mr. A. L. T. Cummings of Portland, and by Mrs. John D. Sherman, the President of the General Federation. Mrs. Sherman stressed the value of right home responsibility, and right home life. If youth is taxed for laxity, she said, the offense of the older generation needs study; and the fault must lie in the American home.

In the Round Table Discussion of the morning of the 22nd, Presidents of five State Federations took part. Mrs. Florence Waugh Danforth spoke for Maine, on the theme of "Prison Reform." She complimented the work being done at Thomaston State Prison, which she visits often, with the endeavor of keeping in close touch with prison conditions, and she complimented also the Maine State Federation in sending some 600 good books for the prison library.

Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith from Massachusetts gave the first half of the report on the results of the General Federation Forum at West Baden, and Miss Ada L. Sawyer from Rhode Island concluded this particular report. Mrs. Smith brought out seven important points: New blood, referring to junior clubs in our organization; club programs and what should comprise them; club finances and how bills should be cared for; publicity in press and bulletins; politics, which should be kept out, except for educational work; and endorsing policies rather than candidates; how to keep out of commercialism in clubs; and club business methods.

Mrs. Guy E. Speare of New Hampshire spoke of "The Rural Woman and the Club," and of the channel of the granges being theirs chiefly, channels somewhat removed in interests from our other club organizations. To bridge this chasm is the problem we must solve.

Mrs. O. H. Coolidge of Vermont told of Library Extension Work and "Our Book Wagon," from the viewpoint of the Vermont State Federation, whose outstanding service is in the rural schools. Each federated club is asked to "adopt" a rural school, offering friendly advice and interest and such material aid as is acceptable.

Connecticut's topic was the all-absorbing one of the American Home, a topic which will be brought out in many interesting and inspiring plans during our coming club year, since it is a new department of the federations.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. L. Lawton, national Chairman of Billboard Restriction, gave a most interesting talk on "Conservation of Roadside Beauty."

The most pleasurable social event of the meeting was a ten-mile motor drive to Lewiston, where the Literary Union of Androscoggin County entertained, in Chase Hall at Bates College. Greetings, flowers, and refreshments made a happy occasion.

In the evening Dr. Morris B. Turk, pastor of the Williston Church in Portland, gave the address: "As a Nation Thinks."

Wednesday morning, the 23rd, saw the completion of club business and election of officers, when Mrs. Harry H. Burnham of Biddeford was honored by election to the Chairmanship of the Conference for the next year. (This seems to be a fortunate name, spelling leadership.) The conference endorsed the candidacy of our own Mrs. Poole as Secretary for the General Federation, and Mrs. Sherman spoke a word of praise for her—of which Massachusetts may be proud.

Three suggestions which met with the approval of the conference are worthy of repetition. First, a plan for some blanket price on the Year Books of the six States, so that an appeal may be made to big national advertisers for patronage and support, instead of to local advertisers only, by which the cost of books may be paid. Second, that votes on questions should not be taken until the matter had been thoroughly discussed and considered, and then the vote registered, so that the woman who is on the side of the minority may feel freer to continue her activities for the side she favors, despite club action by vote of the majority. This is especially of interest as one bill endorsed last year would not have carried, in all likelihood, had full discussion been possible in the allotted time period. We wonder if that episode may not account for this viewpoint of the Conference! The third and last suggestion, which was heartily approved, was the hope that club women would write to magazine publishers in protest of stories of suggestive appeal that may appear in their periodicals—a practice all too frequent, alas, in the modern magazines!

Newton—and of course Massachusetts—were well represented at the conference, for our own Mrs. J. G. Godding, Mrs. Corabelle Francis, and Mrs. Clarence Glazier — clubwomen whose wisdom and knowledge of conditions are of long standing—were in attendance.

Coming Events

The Christian Era Study Club

The President of this most interesting study club is to entertain the members for a splendid start off of the season, at her old home, 15 Vista avenue, Auburndale, on October 5th. Miss Smith has spent the past year residing in Boston, and will be welcomed back to her home town. Mrs. Dike and Mrs. Perkins have charge of the program, two papers on History in the Eighteenth Century,—the subject for the year—one an account of George the first, 1714-1727, and the other on Sir Robert Walpole.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

In the evening of this same date—October 5th—Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, the new President, will be in charge of the evening, the meeting being in the club rooms of the Emerson School, beginning at 7.30 P. M. The State Federation report will be given by Mrs. C. Fred Rogers, and there will be for entertainment, other than instruction, readings by Miss Adele Dowling of the Emerson School of Oratory.

This club is always most hospitable and gives great pleasure to leaders in club life, whom she delights to honor—and does it most acceptably, too, as an editorial aside—and they start in right off by having as their special guests the past District Director, Mrs. William H. White, and

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

About a year ago there was held in this city a successful demonstration of the work of many of the welfare societies. As we recall there were displays in Players Hall, together with exhibitions in other parts of the city that comprised a feature known as "come and see" tours. We heard a lot of favorable comment and there was no doubt of the popularity of the idea. We believe that much was accomplished. Certainly many people learned a lot about the welfare work that is carried on in this city and how wisely their subscriptions and donations were used. Now then, what is the reason the city itself cannot do something of this kind? Here are tax-bills on the way, with certainty of some grumbling, whether justified or not. No matter how fairly they have been dealt with by the assessors some people are bound to say, "What have I to show for this?" Doesn't it seem as if the city might itself engage in salesmanship, or at least in demonstrating? We would not for a minute suggest a gathering of self-styled "boosters," wearing badges and running around in committees and circles. That has become "old stuff" and belongs in communities where nobody wants to live and where the people try to convince each other the place is not as unattractive as they know it to be. We are not in favor of seeking to drag strangers into our midst with promises of untold wealth in real estate deals or pointing out Newton as the only place to live and enjoy one's existence. The idea we have in mind is based on the belief that our citizens would really like to get a close-up of the workings of city departments. The editor of the Graphic has done much in this direction by a careful description printed in these columns of the functions of each branch of municipal activity. We know this series of articles was widely read and appreciated. It seems to us that the next step might well be a demonstration. If citizens knew that they would be welcomed in the different buildings maintained by the city and that on a certain day or during a certain week all the workings of the place woul be shown them, they would, in our opinion gladly drop in for an inspection. We know—everybody knows—that private business enterprises seek to build up trade by having patrons inspect their places. Laundries, milk concerns, the telephone company and numerous firms invite visitors to "come and see' for themselves. Is there any reason the city couldn't conduct some such demonstration in a way that would be both dignified and effective? About all the average taxpayer knows now is that there is a City Hall where there is held on Monday nights considerable discussion of what shall be done with the money that is taken in over the counter in the City Collector's office. Would not the taxpayers like to see just where that money is used? We believe there would be a great deal less criticism if they could be shown by an inspection of the numerous city departments.

We have an idea that some readers haven't heard just what the fireman have done for themselves the past Summer. Great industrial enterprises make a big point of the welfare work, but few if any municipalities give heed to the subject. There is no reason, as far as we have been able to observe, why the employes of a city are not entitled to consideration on these lines fully as much as the men and women who labor in a large manufacturing plant or department store. A suggestion that Newton city employes need to have anything done for them would be laughed at. As we do not intend wittingly to make ourselves the object of derision we shall not have much to say in that connection. It is true, however, that a city employe has as much loyalty, and sometimes more, than those who work for private individuals. Newton firemen showed a splendid spirit, we believe, when they organized a baseball team a year ago. They did so well in fact they were invited this year to join the Eastern Massachusetts League of Firemen. They did join and what is more they put up such a good game, consistently and regularly engaging in practice, that they have finished in second place. Not so bad, and certainly worthy of commendation! Of course there had to be funds with which to purchase uniforms, balls, bats, etc. This came from the men themselves. In our opinion there is no reason the city should not have made an allowance in its budget for this trifling sum. No doubt we will be told that it would be unconstitutional, unprecedented and unwarranted. Still, Newton isn't so flat broke that it cannot take these and other matters into consideration and make provision through its playground fund. There is entirely too much feeling on the part of some city fathers that city employes are devoting all their time to wresting unearned money from the taxpayers. The sooner there is a more cordial relationship between "the boss", as exemplified by the city, and "the help," as municipal employes might be called, the better it will be for all concerned.

Far be it from us to suggest that Newton follow the lead of Boston in matters political. Yet there is such a thing as passing along a bit of information with or without prejudice. It seems that not so very many years back a group of Boston voters had an idea that another group was getting too close a hold on matters at City Hall; that they were having too much to say about who should be Mayor. Then, too, it was apparent that if a man were elected Mayor he might, through resourcefulness, organization, scheming, malice aforethought and everything else, fix it so he could hold the office for an indefinite period. The first group that didn't like the looks of such a prospect decided to alter matters. They found they could not do it by votes as the candidate of the other side was a great "vote-getter," knew how to arouse the earnest sympathy of his friends and mix with the plain people as well as mix the plain people. By the latter we mean he had the happy knack of crarying along a good many of the simple-minded who said, "I've known him ever since he was a boy and I think he is a very nice young man". That element is a wonderful asset when combined with the rough and tumble crowd who will sit up all night for the sake of dragging out all the "six o'clock voters" at daybreak Election Day. Well, as we have said, the Boston group who found themselves on the outside looking in sat down and did a lot of thinking. The result was that instead of opening a campaign to drive the other side completely off the map they quietly slipped up to Beacon Hill and had the Legislature make them a nice new city charter. This wonderful instrument was so worded that no Mayor could serve longer than one term. Under no circumstances would he be allowed to succeed himself. That was the law. We did not say, mark you, that it was an unfair law or that it was a good law. We just said it was some law. Since then a Mayor of Boston is limited to one term. What has that got to do with Newton, you ask. Would you advise changing our city charter? Our reply is that we trust that this threat of an unusually severe Winter will be a myth.

We were glad to see Newton schools held up as an example to those of other cities and towns in the matter of furnishing hot lunches during school hours. We happen to know Dr. Merrill Champion, the author of the article on the proper feeding of school pupils and believe him a sound thinker. We must say that it sort of hurt our feelings to have him take such a hard crack at pickles. No doubt but what pickles are bad for us — if Dr. Champion says so, but how good they do taste! Reading what he had to say on the subject brought to mind something we thought had sort of passed out of fashion—the eating of pickles and pickled limes by school children. Apparently the new order of things in the juvenile world still includes this fine old but much-to-be-discouraged practice. Just how many are there who will join us in a mental picture that somehow years, troubles, etc. cannot efface. That picture is the great bowl of pickles on the counter of the little old store where candy for children was the principal stock in trade. There were two bowls, if our memory serves us, one of pickled cucumbers and one of pickled limes. They always seemed deliciously tempting and never more so than when we without the requisite funds with which to invest in them. We must say that pickles as the cucumbers were called, were more to our liking than the limes. It didn't disturb us in the least if when we took a bite a great quantity of the brine squirted over our cheeks and hands and even our clothing. If we must tell everything we cannot withhold the fact that there were instances, not so very remote at that, when more than one child took a bite from the very same pickle. Horrible and unhygienic as it was there was nothing to stop it. What mischief it may have caused i nthe exchange of germs was probably offset when the danger of overeating was reduced. Somehow a large number of pickles was consumed and, as far as we can remember, there was no marked increase in the mortality figures as a result. Of course we are ready to frown upon the consumption of pickles by the young folks of today but at the same time we are just a bit sorry for them.

Like everybody else we have heard a lot of stories concerning the great fortunes made in Florida through speculation in real estate. They were more interesting when first we heard them but now there appears to be a similarity in the circumstances. The only variation is that of the amount. One man took land in payment of a $500 debt and thought he had been stuck, but just when he was sure it wasn't worth anything he was offered and obtained $500,000 for it. That seems one of the favorite tales, with, as we have said, changes in the figures to heighten the interest. The other story is of the man who was offered a certain street corner in Miami twelve years ago for $10,000 and turned up his nose at it, only to return this year and find the same corner assessed for $1,000,000 or more. Until we have been assured that we shall not have to listen to these two forms of Floridian narrative we must decline to be drawn into any talk on the subject. We did however, hear what we thought a good line pulled by an earnest developer of Florida land. After we had convinced him that we weren't interested in word pictures of possible investments but wanted to know the actual facts, He said, "Did you ask me if money was easy down there? Let me illustrate. You know, up here in the North that if you go into a man's office and in a nice, polite and civil way try to borrow money you will get a throw down and a hard one. But if you meet that same man at a horse race or a football game and ask him to lend you $10 he will promptly hand it over and no questions asked. Well, it is this latter spirit they have in Florida". (Business of consulting a timetable of the Southern Railway).

BARKER LUMBER CO. SOLD

Purchase of the George J. Barker Lumber Company of Waltham by Fred R. Basley and W. Royce Taylor was completed last week. The Barker Lumber Company, for thirty-seven years one of the best known concerns of its kind in the state, will retain its name under the new ownership.

The officers of the company newly elected are Fred R. Basley, President; W. Royce Taylor, Treasurer and Clerk. George J. Barker will act on the Board of Directors with Mr. Basley and Mr. Taylor.

Both of the new owners have had a wide experience in the lumber business. Mr. Basley having conducted one of the most successful lumber concerns in Newton, while Mr. Taylor has for a number of years been with the George J. Barker Company. He was previously with the Buttrick Lumber Company.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers are turning out in goodly numbers on Saturday afternoons at the archery range of the Newton Centre playground. Archers are now practising for the annual fall tournament to be held October 10th and 12th.

This is a good time for new archers to join. Two men have recently been coached for the first time, and are showing much progress.

Miss Eleanor True, a Newton Archer from Waban, has left for her second year at Smith College. She hopes to continue her archery there. Archery, as Miss True demonstrates it, is placed in the ranks with sports that require a maximum of skill and strength. An archer from such a club as we have in Newton is a great addition to any college.

ANNUAL DOG SHOW

Yielding to the oft repeated requests of the many fanciers of this and surrounding cities and towns throughout New England, the Middlesex County Kennel Club has decided to again hold a Fall All Breed Dog Show on the splendid grounds of the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Church street, Newton, on Columbus Day, October 12th. This club has already held three such shows, and it has been the consensus of opinion of all who attended them that they have been the most attractive of any out door shows held through the year in this section of the state. The large and most varied entries, ranging from the massive Great Dane to the tiny Chihuahua and the clean sportsmanlike spirit shown by the exhibitors at these shows have been the subject of appreciative comment, so that this year, given fine weather and without the competition of another show in close proximity, it is hoped that the entry and attendance will exceed all previous records.

Entries are already coming in rapidly, and ample variety is assured, with all the popular breeds well represented. Two little creatures are even now traveling, we understand, across the Atlantic to be shown for the first time on American soil at this event. They are Papillons, or Butterfly Spaniels, dainty little bits of dog flesh, which have not been seen around here for a number of years, so are expected to create a new vogue in the minds of the Toy Breed Fanciers. The list of judges is a long one, and the breeds they will handle several times longer, but as the final closing of entries occurs on October 3rd, we would advise all dog lovers and intending exhibitors to get in touch at once with the Superintendent, Mr. T. E. L. Kemp, Phone Bridgewater 77-3, or Mr. Eskrigge, an officer of the club, at 32 Paul Street, Newton Centre, Phone 1032-J, Centre Newton, or at Main 0799. The Mailing address is P. O. Box 3203, Boston. The Special Prizes offered in the premium list, already published, are very liberal and well worth study by intending exhibitors.

It should be noted that dogs do not have to be possessed of a pedigree or be registered in order to be shown at these shows. The American Kennel Club, under whose rules this show is given, only require that the dogs shall belong to certain recognized breeds, and the rules printed on the back of the entry blanks state clearly all the conditions under which entries can be made.

Lastly, but not least, the Y. M. C. A. benefits directly through the success of this show, and as this institution has already for a number of years proven its value in our community we cannot suggest a better method of spending the holiday, Columbus Day, than by attending this show—as an exhibitor if possible,—but in any event as a spectator, for "Going to the Dogs" in this case means getting into closer touch with and acquiring a better appreciation of "Man's Best Friend in the Animal Kingdom," the most unselfishly loving and intelligent of the Almighty's creations. As the show lasts only from 9.00 A. M. to 6 P. M. surely no hardship would be felt in thus spending the day.

BACHE—BOND

Miss Elizabeth Chapman Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis Bond of Waban was married last Saturday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock to Mr. Philip William Bache, also of Waban, the ceremony taking place at the home of her parents, 1445 Beacon street, Rev. William L. Wood of the Church of the Good Shepherd officiating.

The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Lane of Waban and the bridesmaids were Miss Harriet Eleanor Bond sister of the bride and Miss Phyllis Bache, sister of the groom. The best man was Mr. Lowell Bond of Winchester, and the ushers were Messrs. James D. Seaver and George Mandell of Waban, Frederick Howell and Harold Bond of Newtonville.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin with court train and her veil was caught up by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids, gardenias and roses. The with hats to match and carried bouattendants wore beige satin-back crepe quets of gladioli and zinnias in Fall colors.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The home was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and flowers of fall coloring.

After November first Mr. and Mrs. Bach will make their home on Draper road, Weston.

"THE FOOL"

Channing Pollock's much-talked of and most successful stage play opens at the Community Theatre Sunday evening, October 4. It is directed by Harry Millard who made "Over the Hill" and stars Edmund Lowe. It is acclaimed by all New York critics as one of the most perfect pieces of acting seen in months.

The companion picture, "Rugged Water," is one of the famous Cape Cod stories by Joseph C. Lincoln, starring Roy Wilson and Warner Baxter. It has for its setting the United States Life Saving Station, the action taking place at one of the most dangerous points on the Atlantic coast line, bringing in some storm and shipwreck scenes that are most realistic.

The change of program on Thursday brings Constance Talmadge and Ronald Coleman in "Her Sister from Paris," showing Connie at her very best. The story is full of comedy and the scenes laid largely in the smart sections of Vienna and Paris.

"The Woman Hater" features Helene Chadwick. It is a powerful story of the age-old and ever-new game of love as played in the atmosphere of "back stage."

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton. Player's Hall, Washington Street, West Newton. Sunday service 10.45 A. M. Subject of Lesson-Sermon: "Unreality." Sunday School 10.45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M.

RICE—WILSON

On last Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Miss Beatrice H. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Wilson of Arbor Knoll, Sharon, became the bride of Oscar R. Rice, Jr. of 206 Waban avenue, Waban. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Lyman. Miss Grace Hartnett of Jamaica Plain was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were the two sisters of the bride, Miss Sylvia Wilson and Mrs. Frederick Hunt. The best man was Mr. Esmond S. Rice of Waban. Mr. Nelson P. Trickey and Mr. P. F. Ayer, both of Waban were ushers. The flower girl was Miss Ida Leona Rice, also of Waban.

The bride was gowned in Ivory satin trimmed with Duchess lace and her bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor's ress was lace over pale apricot shade and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and blue larkspur. The bridesmaids wore deep colored apricot chiffon and carried bouquets of gladioli.

A reception was held at the home of the bride from 3.30 to 4.30. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Rice and the members of the bridal party. The home was very prettily decorated with gladioli, asparagus fern, pine and hydrangeas. Mr. Robert E. Wells of Waban sang and Miss Hare of Sharon assisted at the piano.

After a wedding trip to Maine Mr. and Mrs. Rice will make their home at Wollaston, Mass. November first.

The groom is a graduate of Dartouth college.

In building Neighborhood Toll Service, that was one of the toughest nuts we had to crack. Here's the kernel.

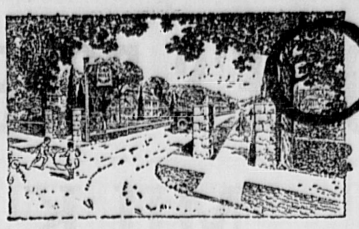

If the number you want is outside the area covered by your own telephone directory, ask your local Information Operator to supply it.

Call her to learn a distant number, just as you would for the number of a new telephone in your own exchange.

Make a note of it for future use. You may wish to repeat the same call. Most toll users do, and there are advantages in building up a list.

If you wish it, your local manager will make up for you a list of distant numbers you frequently call.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

the new Director, Mrs. Joseph Congdon. Refreshments and a social hour will follow, which will not be the least of their pleasant evening, by any means!

The Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Newton Highlands Woman's Club, will hold its first meeting of the fall, on Tuesday, October 6th, when Miss Eunice H. Avery will speak on Current Events before the members, for the third consecutive season. According to her usual custom, Miss Avery spent the summer in foreign travel, gathering information at first hand on the European political situation, and comes to her audience filled with enthusiasm from what she has seen and heard. At this meeting, Mrs. W. G. Webber will report on the annual meeting of the State Federation in Swampscott last May.

Owing to reconstruction work on the Congregational Parish House, all meetings of the Club for the present, will be held in Lincoln Hall.

Many classes are being arranged for the Fall and Winter, but the only ones announced for October are those for the painting and decorating of furniture under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Caldwell of Waban. This course will be in the Barn Studio on Hartford street, Friday mornings through October. Owing to the use of the Studio for this purpose, the customary tea and exhibition will be omitted by the Art Committee this month.

The "hikes," which have been such a popular feature of the Health Committee's program in past seasons, are to be continued this year and will be twelve in number, the first coming on October 7th, when Mrs. Joseph C. Allen will lead the members. The destination will be the Wellesley Hills Country Club and the route taken, along the Wellesley aqueduct. Other healthful diversions planned are the swimming lessons, horseback riding and golf at the Wayland Golf Club.

The more serious work, planned by the Education and Dramatic Committees, will include a French Reading Circle for advanced work, as well as beginners' classes for adults and children; Literature classes, planned by the committee, under the direction of Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, and by the Dramatic Committee, as usual, a fascinating Drama Class.

The Women's Chorus, under the direction of the Music Committee, will resume rehearsals soon, and Home Economics is arranging for the accustomed classes in Dressmaking and Millinery.

Auburndale Review Club

New Hampshire and Vermont hold the field of attractive accounts for the opening meeting on October 6th. Miss Haskell will give Chronicles of the White Mountains. Mrs. Pickard will tell Stories of a New England Farm, and Mrs. W. H. Blood will give an account of Vermont. With vacation days in these two wonderful spots of New England so close to the memories of many, such a program will not only be timely but extremely interesting, for "personal" experiences are bound to find their way into the "tales." Mrs. George St. Amant is to be the hostess at her home, 24 Hawthorne avenue, where a luncheon will follow the meeting.

The Community Service Club

The Community Service Club resumes its activities on Wednesday, October 7th, at the Parish House of the Unitarian hCurch, at 2.30 P. M. This season the meetings will be held in this auditorium regularly on the first Wednesday of each month, and any extra or sewing meetings will be held here on the third Wednesday. An interesting program for the year has been arranged by Mrs. Quincy Wales, with what are promised as several unique features. A Musicale will be the entertainment for the opening meeting.

October is to be a very busy month for this club, with "Library Week," coming on the 24th, from which so much is expected, for upon its success means the start on the splendid project of the new Library Building. On that day, a children's entertainment arranged by the Girl Scouts will be given in Player's Hall, and in the evening a dance will be given in the Armory, with all floor space available for dancing, as there will be no other entertainment. Mrs. Louis Bell plans another of her wonderfully successful Book Shops to be open every day of Library Week, where "best sellers" and worthwhile books of fiction for adults and children will be on inspection and may be ordered or purchased then. This offers an excellent opportunity to do Christmas buying, and has the double joy of aiding an appropriately "booky" cause. There will also be second hand books obtainable, and for those who would like to read some of the modern fiction without paying the price that ought—but sometimes, alas, so frequently these days isn't—to be attached only to worthwhile reading, here is a chance to become informed on some of these creations, without too painful a financial punishment!

The following week, food sales will be held three afternoons in the same Parish House, with the Mother's Club in charge, and the Educational Club will simultaneously have a table of beckoning domestic articles for sale. A Musical Review and a Supper are also promised in these alluring activities. An entertainment by a group of colored women, under Miss Austin, will also be given for the benefit of the Library Fund.

With such plans shrewdly and enticingly made, any one can see that it won't be long before the wonderful new building is a materialized fact!

Current Events for the Club this year will again be in the capable hands of Mrs. Claude Gilson. She has spent three months in Europe recently, studying the problems of vital interest at close range, and her talks should, therefore, be profitable and entertaining. The October dates are the 9th and 23rd, and there will follow eight more, two in each of the four months: November, December, January and February. The price of the tickets for the series is only three dollars.

With such an array of activities, take your choice, or better yet, indulge in them all!

Newton Community Club

The first meting of the season will be held on Thursday, October 8th, at two-thirty o'clock in the Underwood School Hall, with the new President, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, presiding. The Program Committee, Miss Helen Hull, Chairman, has arranged an interesting musical program for the afternoon. Mr. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale will give an address entitled: "Thou Shalt Sing." This is to be followed by a demonstration. There will also be a piano recital of modern music by Mr. Denoe Leedy. Tea and a social hour will follow.

How much of happiness can be crowded into a few sentences, and how a long-cherished hope can finally be stated in a most calm manner! So the long-cherished hope that our Community Club would have the new Underwood School Auditorium for its meetings is made known to delighted club members in such a simple announcement. No more climbing of three horrible flights of winding, dark, steep stairs! And we shall see in our midst, no doubt, many women who—eager to come to our attractive programs and to meet their friends—had to forego the pleasure because the stairs were too tiring and too dangerous.

And that promise—or is it threat?—of a demonstration, as to singing! Now just what does that mean, and how far does the compulsion: "Thou Shalt Sing" extend on that October afternoon? The best way to satisfy curiosity, and to see the result of the demonstration, is, naturalyl, to attend the meeting.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Just as a practical example of what splendid plans women can concoct for their improvement, culture, and entertainment, look upon the splendid outline of the year's work as sent in by the Newtonville Woman's Club.

The President of this Club, Mrs. A. H. Decatur, will leave this fall for several months of travel in the Orient, and, while we wish her happiness in her trip and are glad for her pleasure, we shall miss her gracious presence, and graceful presiding. And this is not to say that during her absence the office will not be most excellently filled by the capable Vice-Presidents: Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, Mrs. Edward P. Crawe, and Mrs. Harry A. Burnham. Mrs. Norman Southworth has resigned as Chairman of Dramatics, and Mrs. Sidney Sholley has been appointed in her place.

Mrs. George E. Eames, Chairman of the American Homes Committee (formerly Home Economics) is organizing a Fall class in millinery with Miss Alice Alden as instructor. Further information on this timely subject may be obtained by telephoning to Mrs. Eames. The opportunity to fuss over and to manufacture a Winter hat that may be a pride and joy and object of envy for those who neglect to join such a class is always alluring, and especially so to your editor, who sees in such a Fall pastime no danger of having wits masculine harp upon the vanity of women in striving for an Easter display. It is so refreshing to think there is a chance of being wise, economical, and at the same time having enjoyment, without the ancient penalty of this hoary joke at women's expense!

Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick, Chairman of the Music Committee, announces that the Glee Club will be continued under the professional leadership of Mrs. Julia McCormick of Taunton.

There is increasing interest in the scholarship fund and a bridge party benefit will be given in November by the Education Committee, Mrs. J. Mace Andress, Chairman. A tea and apron sale will be held this fall at the home of Mrs. Albert Lyon, Chairman of the Housing Committee. The proceeds will go towards the purchase of china to be used for club purposes.

The hour of meeting, it should be noted, has been changed to 2.30 P. M. The program for the year is as follows:

October 27, Reception at the home of Mrs. W. H. Allen, 99 Kirkstall road; November 3, "Cultural Problem of Work," Dean Willard L. Sperry; November 17, "The Enemy," Reading by Mrs. Maud Huntington Benjamin; December 1, Newton and its Neighbors; December 15, Children's Christmas Party; January 5, Cantata by Music Committee; January 19, Home Talent Day; February 2, "The Scarlet Letter," Lecture by Dr. Henry Crane of Malden; February 16, "Life Secrets of Wild Flowers and Animals," a moving picture and lecture by Arthur C. Pillsbury; March 2, Demonstration Tea, by Miss Margaret Weimer; March 16, Musicale; April 6, Book Review by Miss Heloise E. Hersey; April 20, Annual Meeting and Luncheon, and May 4, Art Exhibit. Mrs. Hubert G. Ripley, Director.

TREFREY—PIERCE

St. John's Church, Newtonville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on last Tuesday evening when Miss Ruth E. Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert W. Pierce of 575 Watertown street, Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Charles Signor Trefrey of Nehoiden road, Waban. The cermony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Richard T. Loring, the pastor.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Earle H. Pierce of St. Louis, Missouri, and the bride's attendants the Misses Beatrice R. Walker of Fitchburg, Mass., Mrs. Russell Maintain of Montclair, New Jersey, Mrs. William Welch and Mrs. Willard Vaughan, both of Newton Centre. The best man was Mr. J. Theodore Trefrey of Waban, and the ushers Mr. Earle H. Pierce of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. Jackson Keith of Newton, J. Perry Smith, Jr., of Newtonville, and Mr. Kenneth M. Bouve of Newton Highlands.

The bride's dress was of shimmering Duchess satin with train of real point lace, and her veil of tulle with old lace and orange blossoms. Her shower boquet was of bride's roses, valley lillies and orchids. The matron of honor's dress was of sunset yellow georgette and she carried a boquet of Coolidge roses. Rainbow colors were carried out in the attendants' gowns of georgette, and they carried boquets of butterfly roses.

A reception was held at the home of the bride from 8.30 to 10.30. In the receiving party besides the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert W. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Trefrey and the attendants.

The decorations at the home were carried out in rainbow colors with gladioli, asters, cosmos and laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. Trefrey will make their home in Newton Highlands after November first.

MISS DOROTHY F. HOOPER ENGAGED

Announcement was made Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hooper of 507 Ward street, Newton Centre, and who have a summer home at Scituate, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Hooper to H. Kingsley Durant of Cambridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Durant of that city.

Miss Hooper attended the Southfield Point School at Stamford, Conn., and afterward became a student at Miss Amy Locker's Art School in Boston. Mr. Durant's preparatory school was Brown and Nichols and from there he entered Tufts College as a member of the class of 1922.

In honor of the engagement, Miss Hooper arranged a bridge party, followed by tea, at her home Wednesday afternoon, the guests including her more intimate friends, making this an opportunity for disclosing the news of her engagement. Her marriage to Mr. Durant is to take place on Saturday, October 17. The ceremony will be in the evening and is to take place in Trinity Church, Newton Centre. It will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

POLICE COURT

Edgar B. Dolbier of 99 Boyd street, Watertown, was in Court Saturday morning, charged with an illegal sale of liquor and with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. He was arrested by patrolmen Frank Feeley and Matt Phillips and his home was later raided by the police and two pints of whisky seized. The case was continued to next Saturday and Dolbier was held in bonds of $600.

Ernest Beckman of Granville Centre was in Court Monday morning, charged with being drunk, operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and with operating an automobile without a license. The first charge was filed. He was fined $100 for operating while under the influence of liquor and fined $10 for driving after his license had expired. He was arrested by motorcycle officer Larry O'Donnell and patrolman Charles Jenkins.

Two automobiles reported as stolen over the week-end were recovered Monday. A car owned by Daniel Sheehan of 6 Selden street, Newton, reported stolen on Sunday, was found by patrolman W. Jenkins, abandoned on Church street, Newton Corner. A car owned by J. V. Monaghan & Sons of 5 Auburn street, West Newton, was taken on Saturday and found Monday on Jackson road near Pearl street, by the owner. When found the cars bore a registration stolen in Brighton on Sept. 17.

Fred Sullo alias John Fenno of 78 Prince street, Brighton, was in Court Tuesday morning charged with operating an automobile at an unreasonable speed, operating without license and registration in his possession and giving a false name and address. He was arrested Monday afternoon by motorcycle officer Dowling and patrolman T. Riley. He was found guilty on all three charges, fined $15 for speeding, $25 for operating without license or registration and $50 for giving a false name. He appealed and was held in $900 bonds.

Roland E. Ellis of 12 Lunda street, Waltham, was in Court Tuesday morning charged with speeding and with refusing to stop his car when signaled to do so by an officer. He was arrested by patrolman A. Foley. Lunda was fined $15 for speeding and $25 for failing to stop.

Wallace Sampson of 33 Cook street, Nonantum, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon, in Court yesterday, after pleading guilty to keeping and exposing intoxicating liquors for sale. The sentence was suspended for six months. Sampson was found guilty of making an illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, was fined $150 and appealed.

Sampson's home was visited last week by the police and 96 gallons of wine were seized. The raid was made by Sergt. Moran, patrolmen Frank Feeley, Charles Walker, Joseph Kelly and Regan.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Last Friday evening Harold Holmes of Somerset road, West Newton, operating a Paige sedan owned by Walton S. Bedfield of the same address, struck and injured Charles Wilkins, aged 66, of Avon place, on Washington street, Newton. Wilkins was removed to the hospital by Holmes, where it was found he had sustained a fractured leg.

Two Ford cars, one owned by Frank Ciccone of Beacon street, Newton Highlands, and operated by Eldridge Ciccone of the same address and the other owned by Edward T. Madden and operated by Leo J. Madden, both of Wellesley, were in collision at the junction of Woodward street and Allen avenue, Waban, early Monday. Both machines were considerably damaged and Madden received a slight injury to his right knee. He was attended by Dr. McPhee of Wellesley.

About eight o'clock Sunday evening John J. Rogers of Needham, while operating an Oldsmobile coach on Eliott street, near Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, struck and injured Grace Walker, 5, of Eliott street, when she ran from behind a car parked at the curb near Ryan's store, into the street. Dr. McOwen attended the girl and took her to the hospital. She sustained cuts about her head and knees.

DEATH OF MRS. WEST

Mrs. Elizabeth A. West, widow of Charles L. West, who was long in the paper ruling business in Boston, died at 338 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, in which city she had lived since 1876. Mrs. West was a native of Boston, having been born in the Forest Hills section of the city. Her maiden name was Elizabeth A. Buckley. She was a charter member of the Newtonville Women's Club. She is survived by three children, Chas. W. West of Boston, Mrs. Ferdinand T. Blanchard of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Eleanor West of Newtonville.

DANCE IN AUBURNDALE

A large whist party and dance will be held on next Friday evening, October 9, at Norumbega Hall, Taylor Block, Auburndale, by the young ladies' table working for the Parish Reunion of Corpus Christi Parish which occurs October 12th and 13th.

The affair is in charge of Miss Edna Moir, chairman of the table, assisted by an active committee of twenty-five young ladies of the parish. Many attractive whist prizes will be offered and special features, including an entertainment and a beauty contest for the selection of Mr. and Miss Auburndale, are planned by the committee.

CLAFLIN GUARD VETERANS

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Claflin Guard Veteran Association, will take place next Wednesday evening at the Brae Burn Club. Hon. Charles E. Hatfield will preside and Hon. Samuel L. Powers will serve as toastmaster. The speakers include Brig. Gen. John D. Barrette, General Mark L. Hersey, Major Ira Loganecker, Lieut. Robert J. Brown, Jr., Speaker John C. Hull of the Massachusetts House, former Speaker B. Loring Young and Mayor Edwin O. Childs.

MAY—ARNOLD

The marriage of Miss Winifred Arnold of Wyoming to Doctor George Elisha May of Newton Centre, Mass., took place at the bride's old family home, on Thursday, September 24, at high noon, the event being solemnized by the Rev. Stanley U. Mock of Warsaw in the presence of some fifty relatives and friends.

Mrs. May is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Osman L. Arnold of Wyoming, a graduate of Vassar, and, until recently, teacher of English at Mrs. Dow's School at Briarcliff Manor. She is the author of several novels.

Dr. May is a Boston surgeon, of New England ancestry and, besides various Medical Society affiliations, is a Congregationalist and a member of the Boston Masonic and the Charles River Country Club.

The bride wore a gown of French blue brocaded georgette, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley; the house decorations being of autumn wild flowers in great profusion lighted by candles.

Following a reception and wedding breakfast Dr. and Mrs. May left on a motor trip to include Pennsylvania and New York towns, the Catskills and New England states. They will reside at 348 Ward Street, Newton Centre, Mass., where they will be at home Tuesdays in November.

Among those present from out of town were, besides many from New York City, Buffalo and Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cyrus May of Newton Centre, who motored on for the happy occasion.

NEWTONVILLE M. E. CHURCH

On next Tuesday afternoon the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church will begin their program of week day religious instruction for the Primary and Junior Departments of the Church School which comprise the first six grades of public school approximately. The program for the day will consist of singing, story telling, handwork and instruction, in subjects suitable for meeting the religious needs of the boys and girls. The instruction will be co-related with the work given on Sunday morning with additional material following text books prepared for each grade.

Each grade will be in charge of competent teachers who will work under the direction of Mr. Stright, Director of Religious Education of the church. The teachers selected for the work are—First grade, Agnes Paul; second grade, Miss Ruth Doggett; third grade, Mrs. Robert MacGregor; fourth grade, Mrs. Herbert Blair; fifth grade, Miss Marian Lantz and sixth grade, Miss Dorothy Bellamy.

The school has been launched by action of the Committee on Religious Education of the Church of which Prof. W. H. Timbie is chairman, in order to meet the need for more adequate time for the religious training of the boys and girls.

DEATH OF MR. WILSON

Mr. Edward A. Wilson, a lifelong resident of Watertown and for many years an active member of the firm of G. O. & B. E. Wilson, wholesale and manufacturing druggists of Cambridge street, Boston, died suddenly Tuesday at his home, 19 Morse street, Watertown.

Mr. Wilson was born in Watertown 60 years ago. As a young man he entered the business which had been established by his grandfather, and continued to be associated with his brothers in this enterprise until his death. He was unmarried. He was a member of the Boston Rotary Club, the Boston City Club and the Channing Unitarian Church of Newton.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 P. M. in the Channing church.

LODGES

On Wednesday evening, September 29, Waban Lodge, I. O. O. F. elected the following officers:

N. G., E. Harold Robinson; V. G., Howard C. Henderson; Recording Secretary, Charles F. Dow; Financial Secretary, A. F. A. G. Libby; Treasurer, Alfred Hastie; Trustee, 3 years, Fred E. Perkins.

These officers will be installed on Wednesday, October 14th at a public installation in Odd Fellows Hall, Northgate Park.

Garden City Encampment will have a semi-public installation on Monday evening, October 5th. A turkey supper will be served at 6.30 P. M. Odd Fellows Hall, Northgate Park. Old Black Joe and his Gang will furnish entertainment after installation.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

The Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association will celebrate its 25th Anniversary on Wednesday evening, October 14th, at 8 o'clock in the Emerson School hall.

A concert will be given by a group from the Italian Symphony Orchestra, Signor Raffale Martino, director. He will be assisted by a vocal soloist.

Aside from the concert it is hoped to make the occasion a real "get-together" of home folks. During intermission there will be a short address by the guest of the evening, Hon. Edwin O. Childs.

NO ACTION ON NEW SIGNAL SYSTEMS

Aldermen Uphold Report of Committee That No Immediate Action is Necessary

The Board of Aldermen voted Monday evening to approve the report of the select committee on new fire and police signal systems. The greater part of the evening was devoted to a discussion of the report which was presented by Alderman Baker. The committee made the following recommendations:

1. No action at present on the installation of a new fire alarm system and new police signal system.
2. The removal of the Willow street stable and yard to some other location at once.
3. The installation of a new auxiliary generator and appliances at the Central Station (approximate cost $1,000.)
4. The installation at the Central Station of a new telephone switch board of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Company, with at least three trunk lines and private lines to each fire station. (Approximate annual service charge $1,200.)
5. The employment of two additional men at the Central Station making three men in all so that a fire alarm operator shall be on duty at all times. Approximate annual cost $3,200—$4,000.)
6. Alterations in Central Station which will reduce fire hazards.
7. Changing the names of several streets, avenues, terrace, and courts to avoid duplication of names.
8. The removal of fire alarm boxes from the inside to the outside of school houses. The redistribution of boxes in a few localities where they are too near together and the establishment of a few "phantom" boxes in some districts where boxes are at considerable distance from houses.
9. That the water distribution system be strengthened as rapidly as possible by installing new mains essentially as recommended in the report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters made in August 1923.
10. That at least 50 new hydrants be installed in each of the years 1925, 1926, and 1927 in the locations recommended by the Chief of the Fire Department.

Alderman Baker stated that the committee had looked into the matter very thoroughly and had been aided materially by the Gamewell Company. This concern at the request of the committee submitted a report and survey free. This report estimated the cost of the project as follows: Central Station apparatus, $75,000; Cable work, $105,000; New police signal system, $35,000; New central station, $40,000; a total cost of $255,000. The committee showed one way by which the work could be spread over a five-year period. Going into the reasons why a new system was declared necessary Mr. Baker, who read the entire report as printed in a recent issue of the Graphic, said that a new system would relieve the overcrowded conditions at presnt. The National Board of Fire Underwriters hold that more than 20 boxes on one circuit is overcrowding. Newtonville and West Newton circuits have 31 and 32 boxes on their respective circuits. This is considered dangerous as there are instances where the circuits have been out of order for some time. In 1923 and 1924 nine circuits were out of order in each year from periods ranging from two minutes to a half hour. However, in but one instance in the memory of the present fire chief has a box failed to work when pulled. In 1897 when the present system was installed 87 alarms were rung in on 125 boxes. Last year 231 alarms were rung in on 220 boxes. The committee disagreed with the fire chief and found that overcrowding was not properly described as dangerous. Secondly, a new system with 600 boxes would permit additional fire protection and provide for the growth of the city. The committee was then confronted with the question as to what constituted adequate fire protection. Newton, covering 18 square miles of territory, has 12 boxes per square mile. Seven cities of approximate population in the state have more and 13 have less boxes per square mile than Newton. Newton has 4.1 boxes per 1000 inhabitants whereas 3 equally large cities have more and 13 less. Neither of these methods are, however, considered accurate. The only satisfactory way is to analyse prevailing conditions. A map, prepared by the Gamewell Company, shows that boxes in the mercantile and older residential districts were well spread, the newer residential districts lacked protection. In 1897 there were 1500 telephones in the city and last year there were 15,000 and practically every new house being built or recently completed will have a phone installed. The fire chief preferred to have calls come from a box, owing to the fact that wrong addresses or confused addresses are given over the telephone. Parts of Watertown and Brookline being on the Newton exchanges added to the confusion. The committee felt however that the telephone is fast replacing the box alarm but thought that 21 new boxes might safely be installed in unprotected districts on four different circuits as recommended by the Fire chief and the Gamewell Company. The four circuits under question would then carry the following number of boxes, 27, 24, 20, 14. The removal of boxes now inside of school buildings to points on the sidewalks near the building would also increase the number of boxes as available as these boxes cannot be reached the greater part of the year. The third reason for a new system, the danger of a fire in the central station at Newton Centre was great and the present system might easily be put out of order by a fire. The removal of the city stable and yard on Willow street and the alterations to the present building so as to reduce fire hazards seemed sufficient to answer the city's needs. The fourth reason dealt with the increased speed in reaching a fire. The manual system would allow the firemen at the different stations to know the location of the box at once instead of forcing them to wait until the tower bell struck the first round. These bells would be eliminated except for second and general alarms. Disorders in the various circuits could be traced more rapidly in a new system than in the present one. The establishment of a few "phantom" boxes would lessen this difficulty and increase the efficiency of the department. The fifth reason for a new system is to obtain a lower insurance rate. Mr. Baker stated that no one could estimate the exact saving

LUNCHEON CONFERENCE

A delightful luncheon was served on Monday, October 5th, by the West Newton Community Centre to the Committee on Social Welfare Problems, which is one of the committees formed and carried on by the Newton Central Council under the leadership of Mrs. Irving Palmer, Chairman of the welfare division of the Central. The luncheon was served in one of the assembly rooms of the portable building back of the Davis School in West Newton. The hostesses were Mrs. Irving Fisher and Miss Hattiemae Austin. One of the children's clubs of the Centre acted as waitresses. Some of the older women assisted in the serving. There were twenty-nine guests, all representatives of the various welfare organizations of Newton.

After the luncheon the regular work of the committee was conducted. Mrs. Palmer introduced Mrs. Fisher, who told of the work of the Community Centre. The object of the committee was discussed in relation to the various social agencies in Newton, and it was decided for the present at least, that the monthly meetings would be held at the various social centres, such as the Hospital, Stearns School and others.

Mrs. Cecil Clark, chairman of social research work, introduced one of the subjects of the meeting, which was to consider how best to plan for transportation of those needing it to and from the Hospital clinics.

Dr. Curtis, of the Department of Health, spoke of the large number of children in the schools that needed corrective work done. Miss McPherson, one of the school nurses, told how difficult this problem was for the school nurse.

After a good deal of this discussion a committee was appointed to look into the matter and report later.

Mrs. Wellman, probation officer, spoke of the splendid cooperation by the Hospital and their workers, and its beneficial effect on everyone concerned.

All the members of the Boards of Directors and the social workers present expressed themselves as being very much in favor of the present method of gettting together and feel that the monthly meetings are of great value to all.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Dr. J. P. Berkeley of Newton Centre, is the dean of the Community School of Religious Education which begins next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Professor Berkeley is to give two courses , one on the life of Christ, a study of the great epochs in the life of Jesus, with special reference to the crises which bring out the character, purpose and service of the Master. His other course is on the The Principles of Teaching, and its aim will be a clear understanding of the teaching process by means of a better appreciation of the learning process.

Rev. Myron C. Settle, Director of Religious Education in the Congregational Church at Newton Centre, will be the instructor in two of the practical methods courses. One of h's courses will be for the Sunday School teachers of boys and girls from 12 to 14 years of age, and the other for Sunday School workers with young people.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The Claflin Guard Veterans' Association observed its thirtieth anniversary on Wednesday evening by holding a banquet at the Brae Burn Country Club.

At the annual meeting which preceded the dinner, Richard Cunningham was elected president, Bernard Early, senior vice president, Sinclair Weeks, junior vice president, Dr. Allan R. Barrow, secretary, and F. G. L. Henderson, treasurer.

Hon. Charles E. Hatfield presided at the banquet and seated with him at the head table were Hon. Samuel L. Powers, the toastmaster, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Speaker John S. Hull of the House of Representatives, former Speaker, B. Loring Young, Brig. General John L. Barrette of the Coast Defence, New England, Major Ira Loganecker, Corps Area Air Officer, and Lieut. Robert J. Brown, Jr., commanding officer Boston Air Port.

Mr. Powers fully maintained his reputation as a toastmaster par excellence. He said he was glad to appear as toastmaster nowadays just to show people that he was not a dead one. He said that when he entered the practice of law in Boston fifty years ago there were 1148 lawyers in the city, of whom 33 were still living. He told those present that the first 70 years of life were the hardest, after that it was comparatively easy if you didn't work too hard on your income tax return. During the past 25 years he said he had acted many times as toastmaster and had introduced over 2000 speakers.

In introducing Mayor Childs, Mr. Powers said that years ago he had run for that office and had been defeated: that it was a great disappointment to him which he still kept in mind, and he then facetiously announced his candidacy for mayor at the coming election.

Mayor Childs welcomed the distinguished guests to Newton, and then paid a high tribute to the members of Company C, past and present, who had contributed so much to the welfare of the city and of its citizens.

After taps had been sounded in memory of two members who had died during the year, Mr. Powers introduced General Barrette as the next speaker. General Barrette emphasized the influence exerted by organizations like this Association in educating the people to a measure of readiness. He told of the efficiency displayed the past summer by the two units of the National Guard, the two units of the reserves and the two units of the C. M. T. C. which were in his district.

In presenting Speaker Hull, Mr. Powers made some suggestions for new legislation, and advocated the prohibition of the automatic piston and the removal of all automobiles from the streets. He stressed the latter as being a means of increasing the revenue of the Boston Elevated of which he was a trustee.

Mr. Hull paid a high tribute to the men Newton had always sent to Beacon hill, and gave a summary of legislative matters, which would shortly be brought before the voters under the Initiative and Referendum.

Major Loganecker said that there were three squadrons of air force in this area, all at reduced strength, with 30 planes in commission. He declared that no war could be started until a nation had an adequate air

GIRL SCOUTS

This is Girl Scout Week in Newton. The week in which the citizens of our city are asked to show their belief and their interest in the organization by giving their financial support to it.

There are nearly 600 Girl Scouts in our city, almost double what we had three years ago. They are directed and led by more than 50 leaders, enthusiastic young women who are giving much of their time, strength and interest to the work, in their troops and in the individual girls. Every village with the exception of Lower Falls has a well established troop and in most of the villages there is more than one troop.

Newtonville has two troops. Troop 1, the first troop of Girl Scouts to start in Newton, which is now made up of Grammar School girls and Troop 10 whose membership consists of High School girls. Miss Inez Larcome of West Newton is captain of both of these troops.

Newton also has two troops. Troop 11 for the younger girls of which Mrs. Eaton, a former leader in Chicago, is to be Captain, and Troop XX for the older girls with Miss Polly Converse as Captain.

Newton Centre has four troops within its bounds. Troop III, the first troop in that village, which is the Junior troop now and captained by Miss Priscilla Ordway. Troop XIII for the High School girls, which for some years was known as Troop III Seniors and the first troop in the city for High School girls, with Miss Isabel Skipwith of West Newton as Captain. A small troop in Thompsonville with Miss Virginia Gray as acting Captain, Troop IX and Troop XII at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children with Miss Caroline Freeman as Captain are those taken care of by the Newton Centre Committee.

Waban has two troops. Troop IV for the younger girls of which Mrs. Gifford LeClear has been Captain for three years and Troop XIV which was started last year for the older girls with Mrs. Leslie Warren as Captain. Waban also has two very successful Brownie packs which are being run by some of the girls in Troop XIV.

Troops V and XV are the West Newton troops, both under the leadership of Captain Freeman. These troops are ging up their scout work for this month to rehearse for a play which the members of both troops are giving for the Library Memorial Fund on October 24.

Troop VI is in Nonantum and meets in the Stearns School with Miss Mary Sprague of West Newton as Captain. Troop VI has no senior division and grammar and high school girls meet together.

Until this fall Upper Falls has had but one troop. At the first meeting of Troop VI the girls voted to divide the troop, Troop VII remaining the Junior Troop under Miss Doris Lovell of West Newton who has been Captain of that troop for a number of years and the older girls organizing Troop XVII with Miss Margaret Gould of Upper Falls as Captain.

The troop in Auburndale is also dividing into two groups. Troops VIII and XVIII and both will be Captained by Miss Hope St. Amant who has been the Captain of Troop VIII for about a year.

Troop XI, the troop in Newton Highlands, has organized a Senior Troop this year, Troop XXI. Mrs. Lilian J. Collins who is Captain of Troop XI, will also be Captain of the new troop.

This gives Newton 10 troops. The Senior Troops with a registration from 15 to 35 and the Junior Troops in most cases much larger having a membership from 30 to 65. More troops are needed to take care of the girls who are unable to join because of the large size of the Junior troops. There must be young women in Newton who would enjoy the work if they only knew more about it. A leader course will be started for new leaders in November and Miss Freeman, the Director for the Newton Girl Scouts, would be glad to talk with anyone who is interested in this type of leadership.

DEATH OF MRS. L'AFRICAIN

Mrs. Ella Goring L'Africain, widow of Edward N. L'Africain, who was widely known in the musical world as a bandmaster, and was head of the 101st United States Army band during the late war, died Sunday at her home, 233 Grove street, Auburndale. Mrs. L'Africain was a native of Boston, the daughter of Louis Robert and Catherine Goring. She was married in 1908 and had been a widow for five years. She is survived by her mother, two brothers, Charles and Edwin Goring, and one sister, Alice M. Gammons of Auburndale.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Edward Payson Drew officiating and the burial was in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Boston.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The season at the Hunnewell Club will begin next Tuesday evening with a smoker, at which Dick Cartwright the magician will give an entertainment.

MOST SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR

Newton Odd Fellows Add to Building Fund Notwithstanding Rainy Weather

The Odd Fellows of the city held a most successful bazaar on Friday and Saturday of last week, notwithstanding the down pour of rain on Saturday.

The Odd Fellows building and grounds on Waltham street, West Newton, were most attractively decorated for the occasion, the wiring being the contribution of Mr. Charles H. Delaney.

A midway of booths and tents was constructed on the lawn in the rear of the building, and housed an interesting exhibit of automobiles, including the Buick coach which was to be given away.

Saturday was the red letter day in the Bazaar, the doll carriage parade and the baby show taking place in the afternoon.

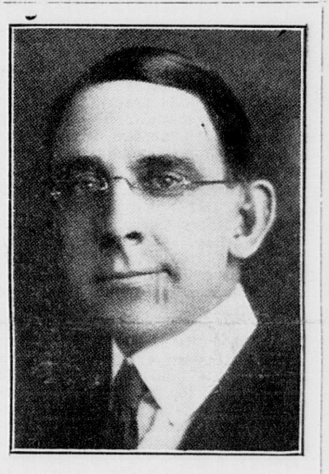

The baby show attracted a large amount of attention with 30 babies entered, in two classes, according to age. The judges, Dr. W. W. Marston and Dr. George F. H. Bowers declared they had never seen a better class of babies. They awarded first place in Class A Donald George McCormick, aged ten months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter George McCormick of 49 Prairie avenue, Auburndale, and first place in Class B to Nancy Elizabeth McGill, aged two years, two months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Perry McGill of 15 Eliot avenue. These prizes were silver cups, appropriately inscribed. A special prize was also awarded for twins and was won by Mignon Ann Turner and Avis Mary Turner, aged 3 months, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Turner of 836 Walnut street, Newton Centre.

In addition to these prizes every baby entered received a silver baby spoon.

There were 18 entrants in the doll carriage parade, which, on account of the weather was held in the club house. All of the decorations were attractive but the judges awarded first place to a carriage covered with red rose petals owned by Helen Robinson of Highland Park and second prize to Nathalie Buck of Eddy street, whose carriage looked like one big pink rose.

One of the big events of the Bazaar was the gift of a Buick Sedan which was awarded to Mrs. Nancie Rand, the wife of Mr. Claude L. Rand of Jewett street, Newton. Second in interest was the award of a beautiful Hope Chest to Miss Margaret McLeod of Auburndale. An electric floor lamp presented to the Bazaar through the good efforts of Mr. A. G. Dinsmore, was given to Mr. O. D. Purdy of Millis, a radio set was given to Mr. John L. Wyman, a ton of coal contributed by the B. S. Hatch Company was awarded to Mr. George E. Keyes of Auburndale, a desk lamp to Mr. Batchelder and a boudoir lamp to Mrs. George Gibson.

The success of the Bazaar was largely due to an efficient committee of which Mr. Edgar A. Locke was chairman, Mr. Arthur C. Smith, treasurer, and Charles W. Fewkes, Burt M. Rich, Ralph L. Fox, Leonard B. Barry and Fred E. Perkins. Mrs. A. G. Dinsmore was in charge of the Baby Show, Mrs. Leon M. Bull of the Hope Chest and Miss Marjorie Perkins of the Doll Carriage Parade.

FIRE HAZARD

A partly burned match, a reckless cigarette butt, or an imperfectly quenched camp fire, and you get a conflagation which may mean the loss of thousands or millions of dollars' worth of property, besides all the personal treasures endeared by association or possessions valuable for their intrinsic worth, which money cannot replace.

Then there are other fields wherein by our criminal carelessness we endanger the lives of ourselves and our children, and destroy the fruits of years of toil and sacrifice, homes, churches, and schools. THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON 46-DEERING 0

In a field of mud Newton's light team scored almost at will last Saturday when it piled up a 46 to 0 score against the Deering high team of Deering, Maine. Newton was superior to its opponents in every department of the game and showed much greater power than in its two preceding contests. The heavy rain made conditions bad for both outfits and many fumbles resulted. Newton profited more by recovered fumbles than did the "Pine Tree" state eleven. Three of the local team's touchdowns in the first period came as a direct result of Deering high fumbles which alert Newton forwards recovered. Newton had all the breaks and the first score, seemed to take all the nerve out of the "down-easters" who were represented by an inexperienced team. Captain Tom Gilligan scored three times and Hemeon, McCullough, Hayes and Bennett, one each. Spain negotiated two of the points after touchdowns and McCarthy, of Deering, was forced to fall on the ball behind his goal line for a safety which gave Newton the final two points.

Captain Gilligan, Proctor, Hall, Holbrook Hemeon, McCullough, Andres, and Littlefield played best for the home team while Everett, Chapman and McDuffie were the outstanding players for the visitors. The summary:

Newton H. S.—McCullough Murphy, le; Hapgood, Pratt, lt; Stubbs, Porter, lg; Andres, Brown, c; Johnson, Hayes, Ames, rg; Littlefield, rt; Hemeon, Bennett, re; Spain, Clarke, Adams, qb; Gilligan, Ramsden, Macy, lhb; Hall, Holbrook, rhb; Gilligan, W. Proctor, Lyons, Buxbaum, fb.

Deering H. S.—McCarthy, re; Boyce, rt; Hawkes, rg; Frost, c; Wilson, lg; McDuffie, lt; Lopez, le; Riley, Marshall, qb; Chapman, rhb; Blochinger, lhb; Everett, fb.

Score by periods	1	2	3	4	Total
Newton H. S.	26	6	6	8	46

Touchdowns, made by Gilligan 3, Hemeon, McCullough, Hayes, Bennett. Points by rush or pass after touchdown, made by Spain 2. Safety, made by McCarthy. Referee, Babcock. Umpire, Woodlock. Linesman, Frolio. Time, two 10m. and two 6m. periods.

NEWTON PALS WIN 7 TO 0

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4th, at the Dorchester Town Field, the Newton Pals scored an impressive victory over the strong St. Ambrose C. C. of Dorchester, defeating them by the score of 7 to 0. It was a hard, bitterly fought game from start to finish, and was marked by the clean playing of both teams.

The Pals scored early in the game when a blocked punt, which was recovered by McArdle, gave them first down on the St. Ambrose 4-yard line and when three thrusts at the line proved futile a forward pass from Lyman to Aucoin was knocked down by a St. Ambrose man into the waiting hands of McArdle, Pals left-tackle, who had crossed the goal line on the play. The point after was kicked by Aucoin. The work of the Pals line was very encouraging as time after time they threw the St. Ambrose backs for losses. Joe Morse, diminuitive quarterback, played a whale of a game for the home team and certainly lived up to all the fine things that has been said about him.

The all-around playing of Campbell, Dargon, Lyman, Geagan, and McLean was one of the features of the game. The skilled toe of Capt. Aucoin was much in evidence, as time after time he punted the Pals out of danger, one of his kicks from behind his own goal line going 50 yards.

COUNTRY DAY LOSES 7-6

Johnson High School of North Andover defeated the Country Day School eleven on the Country Day field Saturday 7-6 when Wooley, of Johnson, scored the point after touchdown. Country Day scored first on a fumble which Howe recovered and threw himself across the goal line. The tying score came after the next kick-off, the visitors marching straight down the field, Armstrong going over.

ALLEN CHALMERS WINS

The Allen Chalmers school of West Newton defeated Concord High 7-0 at Concord last Saturday. In the first quarter Fullback Wallace went through the Concord line, threw off three tacklers, and ran fifteen yards for the score. Nute made the extra point.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

In the semi-finals of the Women's Singles, Grace Sutcliffe beat Agnes Leonard 6-3, 6-1. In the Mixed Doubles semi-finals, Miss Barba and Sylvester beat Miss Fisher and Trowbridge 1-6, 10-8, 9-7.

Abbott Gotshall beat Francis Broughton in the finals of the Men's Singles. The scores were 6-3, 2-6, 13-11, 7-5.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2.30, Grace Sutcliffe will play Doris Moore in the finals of the Women's Singles. Mr. Briggs will referee the match.

The following semi-final matches will also be played tomorrow afternoon:—

Men's Doubles—Broughton & Warren vs. Tuthill & Davidson, and Briggs & Gotshall vs. Gibbs and Trowbridge.

Mixed Doubles—Miss Sutcliffe & Gotshall vs. Miss Sprague and Broughton.

SPORT NOTES

Newton will meet Everett Monday morning at 10.30 in the opening game of the Suburban league schedule on Claflin field. A large attendance is expected as the game should prove to be a real battle. Newton's line, which appeared weak in its first two games, has been given considerable attention the past two weeks and is all primed for the tilt. Whether teh rushes of Captain Gilligan and his teammate Proctor, who has shown real football ability to carry the ball, can penetrate the heavy Everett line, which averages over two hundred pounds per man on the field is a question which will be decided on the holiday. If the visitors' line proves impregnable the local boys have a well developed forward passing game which ought to place the team in position to score. We look for Spain and Holbrook, both of whom have been getting off excellent punts, to outpunt their opponent. Everett, in spite of its heavy team, could do nothing against Arlington on a muddy field last Saturday, the game ending with neither side scoring.

Agitation for postponement of football games when conditions are similar to those of Saturday is being made by Suburban League officials. A measure to govern such matters will no doubt be presented at the next meeting of the league. There is much that may be said on both sides but with the chances of injuries on a wet field greatly increased and interest in games in wet weather decreased a postponement would be the wise thing. Another argument in favor of calling off games in wet weather is the fact that not all schools have accommodations to allow the players to change their clothes and take a warm bath—these schools at present are but few. On the other side, where teams come from a considerable distance, which necessitates added expense, on a day such as Saturday when clouds broke and it was apparently going to clear up about noon, a postponement might prove unprofitable. Regarding the statement that postponement of games in wet weather smacks of "softness" nearly every football fan and player will reply that football is a hard enough game on a dry field.

The Boston Herald has the following to say of Jake Stafford, who got into Saturday's game between Harvard and Rensselaer and scored one of his team's three touchdowns:—

If Maj. Daley figured Jake Stafford a quarterback of the old Harvard type he must have received a surprise Saturday. The Newton boy hasn't the physical advantages of Capt. Cheek, but he comes nearer the ideal type of all around quarterback than the crimson leader. He can mix up his plays, whereas the Californian shows best in the play which calls for direct passing. Stafford, a bit fine, has taken things easy lately but has both eyes on the quarterback job, and doesn't care whom he has to beat to get it. Jake ran just as skilfully in some of his formations Saturday as if the field was clean and dry.

There were some excellent "plungers" on Claflin field Saturday. Phil Perry, captain of the swimming team, will no doubt attempt to have these "swimmers" compete for places on the swimming team this winter.

The experiment of using Clem Coady in the backfield of the Harvard eleven was entirely successful Saturday. Coady's kicking under the poorest of conditions was excellent and, while he was not used to carry the ball, he provided excellent interference for the other backs.

The 46-0 score Saturday brings to mind the 1920 Somerville game which Newton won 41-0.

Ned Dewing suffered an injured shoulder in practice with the Harvard freshman team Tuesday and will probably be kept out of the first two games the Harvard cubs play.

Eddie Kevorkian played the entire game at right guard on the Brown freshman team in its opening tilt against Moses Brown school, Monday. With but ten days of practice the Brown cubs showed great strength in their 32-0 win.

"Shad" Osborne got into the Yale-Middlebury game Saturday at right end. He went in for Bradley who started the game and who is regarded as the best end at the Connecticut college.

Joe Koehler got into the game between Bowdoin and Williams Saturday. Bowdoin was outplayed but managed to hold the purple team to a 6-6 score.

"Frenchy" Gilligan, brother of our own Captain Tom, played the entire game at left end for Exeter against Cushing Saturday. Cushing sprung a surprise and upset the New Hampshire eleven 7-0.

"Dotty" Wright called the signals part of the time for the Dean Academy team which was defeated by Andover 3-0 Saturday.

Lane, who shone brilliantly for Dartmouth in its game Saturday against Hobart College now has the call over Win Robinson at left half.

Y. M. C. A.

The Board of Directors met on Tuesday evening with an attendance of 19 out of 24. Full reports from all departments indicated a most active season. The General Secretary, Mr. H. W. Bascom, gave a brief account of his trip in the West this summer stating that he had attended the General Secretaries Conference in Chicago, the Estes Park Assembly of Boys Workers, and the Silver Bay Summer School.

Directors were appointed by President Fuller to work on the following standing committees: Finance, Grosvenor Calkins, C. D. Kepner, H. T. Dougherty, J. W. Blaisdell, J. A. Stafford, F. W. Rust, C. W. Bond, H. P. Fuller and W. H. Rice. Camp Committee: C. D. Kepner, G. C. Colburn, L. Chase Kepner, H. T. Dougherty. Boys' Committee: L. Chase Kepner, E. O. Childs, A. N. Chandler. Membership Committee: C. G. Colburn, W. H. Abbott, Rev. A. A. Rideout. Social Committee, D. W. Anders. Religious Work Committee: J. M. Woodbridge, W. R. Ferry, Fred L. Smith, J. D. Coward. Physical Department Committee, C. V. Moore. Building Committee, W. H. Barker, S. T. Emery.

The Directors voted to accept the recommendation of the Finance Committee to seek to secure $12,000.00 for current expenses this year. A letter with a circular featuring the boys' work of the Association will be sent out the last of October.

Plans are underway for a thorough study of the needs of the Association and the remodeling of the building to commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the Association which will come in 1927.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. bowling tournament opened Monday, October 5th. Each week on Monday and Tuesday the bowling league will occupy the alleys.

The dormitory men have arraged for a bowling tournament among themselves and will bowl on Wednesday evenings, while a group of young ladies from the Newton Y. W. C. A. have engaged the alleys for Thursday evening.

Friday and Saturday evenings are open to Church groups and all others interested in bowling.

GYM CLASSES OPEN

All Y. M. C. A. gymnasium classes started Monday and Tuesday of this week with five boys' groups, a senior men's group, and a business men's group, each meeting three times a week.

The senior group, meeting Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings at eight o'clock, is the outstanding class in attendance. Forty-five men started the season's program of exercise and recreation. Business men meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at quarter past five for a short workout followed by volley ball.

Boys are grouped in classes according to age, height, weight, and general physical development. Special events such as leagues and athletic contests will be promoted. There are classes for Waltham and Watertown boys whose school hours prevent their attending early groups.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The installation of Troop No. 15 at the Auburndale Congregational Church will be held at 7.30 P. M., Tuesday, October 13th. There will be in attendance, besides the officers of this Troop and certain of those of the Council, a patrol and Scoutmaster from another Troop to conduct the installation ceremony. All are invited.

Troop 11, of Newton Corner will have the dedication of their Cabin in the Ohio on Monday, October 12th, at 2.30 P. M. Parents and friends of Scouts are invited and it is expected that a large representative from Newton will be present. The directions for reaching the camp may be obtained from any Scout.

Mr. Richards W. Cotton has been appointed an Assistant Deputy Commissioner in charge of various meets and the requirements therefor. In addition Mr. Cotton will act as Merit Badge examiner in Radio, Marksmanship and Signalling and will take charge of such requirements as pertain to the athletic part of Scout tests and contests.

The new Merit Badge book on Insect Life and the new pamphlet on Foundry Practice has been received and a copy placed in the Newton Library, which Scouts may obtain for study of these two interesting subjects. The Insect Life book is the only one of the series of Merit badge instruction pamphlets that costs over 20c, the matter for this being so great that it was necessary to make a book, which is sold at $1.50.

YOUNG PEOPLES' BANQUET

On Wednesday night seventy-five young people of Centenary M. E. Church, Auburndale, enjoyed a banquet at the church.

The banquet was served by the ladies of the Missionary Societies of the Church and was replete with good things from cocktail to demi-tasse.

Speeches were made by Mr. H. L. Hardy, superintendent of the Sunday School, Mrs. W. F. Hadlock, on behalf of the congregation, Miss Lillian Gerrold, president of the Methodist Young Woman's Club, Mr. Alexander Fraser, president of the Methodist Young Men's Club, and Mr. Edmund McDonald. Mr. Kenneth Bourne, president of the Epworth League, acted as toastmaster.

The principal address of the evening was on the subject "Can I Be A Leader," and was delivered by Mr. Sterling L. Williams, former director of the Young Peoples' Division of the Missouri Council of Religious Education, now director of young peoples' work in Brookline.

Music was furnished by members of the Lasell Seminary Mandolin Club and students of the conservatory at the seminary.

Under the leadership of Rev. Earl E. Harper, pastor, and Mr. Franklin M. Bass, newly elected Director of Young Peoples' Work, a standard, chartered Young Peoples' Department was organized which begins its official career next Sunday.

During the closing hour recreational games and pastimes under the direction of Mr. Bass were enjoyed in the parish house.

All agree that the banquet marks a new point in the young peoples' work of Centenary Church, and probably the beginning of a new epoch.

INSTALLATION

In Odd Fellows Hall, Northgate Park, on Monday evening, October 5, James Faulkner, D. D. G. P. and suite of Waltham installed at a public installation the officers of Garden City Encampment No. 62, I. O. O. F. The officers installed were:

Chief Patriarch, Howard C. Henderson; High Priest, W. R. Mason, P. C. P.; Senior Warden, Mathew W. Calhoun; Recording Scribe, Charles F. Dow, P. C. P.; Financial Scribe, Frank Stevens; Treasurer, A. F. A. G. Libby, P. C. P.; Junior Warden, Harold A. McAdoo; Guide, Frank M. Murphy; first Watchman, Gillis W. Stark, P. C. P.; second Watchman, George Sanderson; third Watchman, George Patterson; fourth Watchman, George Barkhouse; Inside Sentinel, Harold Temperly; Outside Sentinel, Charles H. Delaney; first Guard of Tent, Arthur Cox; second Guard of Tent, S. K. Billings.

Charles H. Delaney carried off the honors of having the "Banner Year" in new members, the largest number in the history of Garden City Encampment.

Over 100 sat down to a grand Turkey Supper at 6.30.

After the installation ceremonies were over Old Black Joe and his gang entertained the audience with one of their snappy programs. Old Black Jo, Charles F. Dow; the Gang, Frank Murphy, Charles W. Dow, Ernest Doyle, Raymond Drinkwater.

During the entertainment P. C. P. Charles H. Delaney was called to the stage where Old Black Joe, in a few well chosen remarks, presented him with a P. C. Patriarch's Collar. The P. C. P. responded with words of thanks and appreciation.

The entertainment proceeded but was interrupted by E. A. Dexter who said, "He wished to talk to Old Black Joe." He was assisted on to the stage and said many kind words after which he presented P. C. P. Charles F. Dow with the combination collar. Patriarch Dow is a Past Grand of Waban Lodge 156, Past Deputy G. P. and Past Deputy of the Subordinate Lodge, and Recording Scribe of Garden City Encampment for ten years. After the presentation the program was continued.

The whole affair from start to finish was most pleasant and all returned to their homes feeling that they had enjoyed the evening all the way through.

On Wednesday at 8 P. M. the officers of Waban Lodge 156, I. O. O. F. will be installed at a public installation at Odd Fellows' Hall, Northgate Park.

Tuesday, October 6th, Past State Councilor Charles F. Dow attended the 49th Annual Session of the State Council of Massachusetts at Haverhill.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Plaisted of Jefferson Highland, N.H., are visiting their many friends in the Newtons.

COSTUME PARTY

While the rain of last Saturday was a serious handicap to the festivities planned at the Charles River Country Club for that afternoon, about 75 members braved the elements and appeared in all kinds of costumes for a team match of golf between the Reds and the Blues. There were convicts and clowns, ballet girls and firemen, cowboys and sailors, a Mutt and Jeff and a Cream of Wheat, but the prize for the best costume was awarded to Mr. B. K. Stephenson who impersonated an Indian squaw.

Those in costumes paraded the grounds and then grouped around the first tee where they were photographed for the movies. Each man then drove one ball from the tee to the music of bag pipes and the shooting of revolvers. Only a few entered for the team match, which was won by the Reds, who then became the guests of the Blues at the stag dinner held that evening.

The dinner was a most enjoyable affair. Mr. Allen McLeod presided and the entertainment was both unique and good.

There was instrumental and vocal music, interspersed with a clever monologue on the Dough Boy by Dr. C. C. Clark, a most realistic scrap between Messrs. Tewksbury and Paul as to whom was the better golfer, ending with both leaving the hall to play nine holes at once, and a fake radio account was then received of the wonderful putting and driving of both. Tewksbury was said to collapse when finally beaten and the body was brought into the hall in a most unique manner.

The whole affair was most creditable to the committees on golf and entertainment, Messrs. J. K. Mason and Donald McKay.

Next Monday afternoon at four o'clock there will be a golfers' tea and the finals will be played in the club championship.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Sunday morning, shortly before eleven o'clock, Miss Catherine Cowley, employed as a maid in the home of Carl P. Wallinger, 100 Dudley road, Newton Centre, was struck by an automobile at the corner of Boylston street and Dudley road. Her right ankle was pinned beneath the machine which was owned by Mary A. Regan and operated by Daniel J. Regan, both of Overbrook Drive, Wellesley. The machine came down Dudley road at about 20 miles an hour when Miss Cowley started to cross the street, swerving to the left in order to avoid striking the woman, the right mudguard struck her and threw her beneath the rear wheel. Mr. John White, who was escorting Miss Cowley home from church and Roderick Blood, of Dudley road, who was passing at the time, with the driver's aid lifted the Ford from the woman's ankle. Mr. White and Mr. Blood took her to her home, where Dr. Hutchins attended her and ordered her sent to the hospital. The driver left without making himself known, but reported to Sergeant Mahoney at Station 1 that he struck a woman on Worcester street, Wellesley. No signs of liquor were noticed on the driver of the car which struck the woman, by the witnesses.

About a half hour before this accident Mary Gardner, age 4, the daughter of Martin Gardner of Dalby street, Nonantum, was struck by an automobile, owned by Levi Cooley of Prescott street, Newtonville and operated by George G. Manning of Boston on Watertown street, near Faxon street. The little girl received slight injuries to her hand and was taken to her home.

Sunday afternoon Dennis Marchant, 12 years old, while riding his coaster on Watertown street, was struck by an automobile, owned and operated by Edward J. Morrell. The lad was slightly bruised and went to his home, rear 92 Dalby street, unattended.

Monday evening Wesley T. Walter, operating an automobile westerly on Washington street, near Wales street, struck Ernest Reidy as he was crossing the street. Reidy received a slight cut in back of his right ear. A passing motorist took him to the hospital, where the wound was dressed.

DEATH OF DR. BANFIELD

Dr. Frederic E. Banfield, a dentist by profession and resident of this city for the past forty-five years, died suddenly last Friday morning at his home on Warren street, Newton Centre. Dr. Banfield was found in the bathroom by a nurse who was attending Mrs. Banfield.

Dr. Banfield was born in Bo... was 75 years of age. Besi... wife, he is survived by one son, Mr. Frederic E. Banfield, Jr., who is superintendent of the Saco-Lowell Mills at Biddeford, Maine, and who returned from Europe just before the funeral. Services were held from his late home on Tuesday, Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Church officiating and the burial was in Lindenwood Cemetery, Stoneham.

CONFESSIONS OF AN ACTOR BY John Barrymore

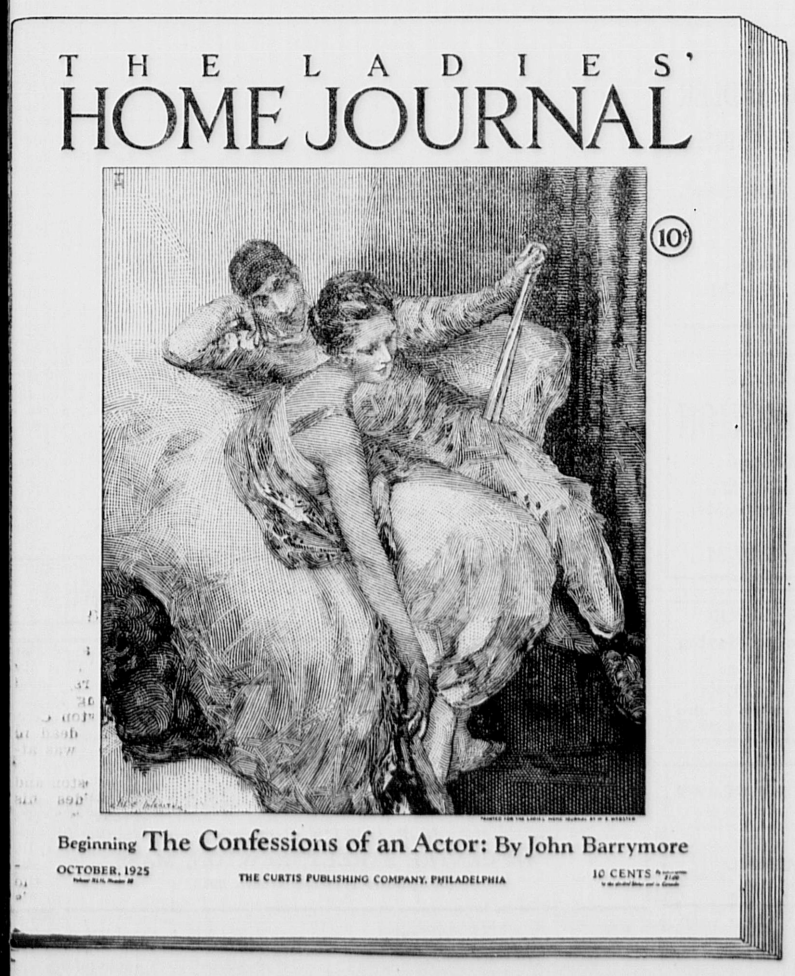

THE foremost actor of our day, born of a family of actors, he did not want to become an actor—but all his life he has yearned passionately to paint.

And now, in this audaciously frank autobiography, the most glamorous figure since Lord Byron shares with us his confessions and his memories.

Strange wastrel days .... tragic, cruel days when he struggled with a life that was bitter and raw. Flashes of long-gone frolics ..... of boyish insouciance ..... early failures in the theater ..... hungry days and bedless nights ..... and ever the brave lift of a spirit that struck strongest in the face of defeat .... a will that brooked no curbing .... fitful appearances in the theater to supply money to keep body and soul together while he carried on with his painting .... and then the almost accidental, and wholly unsought, arrival at the leadership of his profession in his triumphant Hamlet—surely, behind all this there lies something which one can name only by that tattered tag of "genius."

* * * * * *

These astounding confessions bid fair to prove the sensation of the literary year. Written with a frankness of self-revelation unmatched in the century-and-a-half since the famous Confessions of Jean Jacques Rousseau, it flames with the stark, blazing spirit of the artist who has become our greatest actor. In five parts, beginning in the October issue of The Ladies' Home Journal, out today, ten cents.

FIRE PREVENTION

Watch disposal of matches and lighted smoking materials; they are responsible for a heavier annual loss than any other known cause. Always keep matches out of the reach of small children.

Use proper fuses in electrical circuits; the fuse is the safety valve of the system and should not be tampered with.

Turn off electric flat irons and other electric devices while attending to something else.

Gasolene and other volatile liquids make dangerous cleaning fluids; many safe compounds are on the market, including carbon tetrachloride, which is obtainable at any drug store.

Defective chimneys and flues caused about $20,000,000 destruction last year in this country; keep them clean and in repair.

A gas leak should be hunted with a flashlight instead of with an open flame light; to the "suspected" part of the pipe apply soap suds which, in bubbling will reveal the leak.

Clean all smoke pipes before the winter comes on; clogged pipes overheat easily and may start fire when the furnace is operated.

Walls, ceilings and partitions should be shielded from the over-heating of stoves, furnaces, and connecting pipes.

Hot ashes belong in metal containers, not in wooden boxes and barrels.

Oil lamps or stoves are safely filled only by daylight.

Open fires always should be screened.

Chief of Department.

Explaining Ancient Lamps.

The wicks in the lamps of the Vestal virgins are now thought to have been made of asbestos, the mineral from which 1,000 asbestos theater curtains are manufactured every year in England and the United States.

FLOWER MISSION

This is an account of stewardship and a thank you for the services rendered to the Benevolent Fraternity Fruit and Flower Mission through this summer.

The flowers brought in to the North and South Stations have been given regularly to organizations, such as the Psychopathic and Massachusetts General Hospitals, the Elizabeth Peabody House and Boston Dispensary. The Army and Navy Club has taken the Tuesday flowers from the North Station to the Chelsea Naval Hospital. Thus twelve places have been supplied.

The Hamper Work has continued as formerly and at least twenty-two organizations in the neighborhoods of the four receiving stations, South Bay Union, Bulfinch Place Church, North End Union and Robert Gould Shaw House, have been spplied. Many individual bouquets have gone to the sick and shut-in.

The headquarters in Horticultural Hall has been the cement that has held the whole together. The office was opened June 1st, a telephone installed and a worker stationed there. This has meant straightening out arising difficulties in the above two methods of distribution.

Flowers have been received very regularly from some sincere friends and have been carefully distributed.

The gift, alone, of the flowers after the exhibitions of the Horticultural Society would have made the work worth while. Six such exhibitions have taken place and two more will occur this year. As a result, flowers have been given to twenty-one institutions in one day.

Nearly all the hospitals and welfare organizations send for the flowers and their acknowledgments express great appreciation. The Red Cross Volunteer Motor Corps has distributed to the hospitals unable to send and private automobiles have helped among other institutions.

The gifts from the Boston Flower Exchange have been liberal and timely, and have gladdened the hearts of many in the hospital wards. One day after a gift from them of many beautiful sweet peas, tied in bunches, just ready to send to the Boston Lying-in Hospital, this note was received, "They were very wonderful flowers and we were very happy to be remembered."

Vegetables and fruit are needed and may be sent in bags or cartons to either the North or South Stations free of charge or to Horticultural Hall. The receipt of these means a great deal in the drab lives of the mothers and children in the crowded parts of Boston for they will be distributed among the undernourished.

To the railroads of Massachusetts we are greatly indebted and have been for many years. The care and kindliness shown by every railroad man, who make the arrangements, or who handles the flowers in any way, is appreciated.

The Boston Flower Exchange will continue their gifts through the winter.

We need material for winter bouquets, bulbs, etc., so that they can be grown for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Surely if flowers are appreciated in summer, they will be doubly attractive in the short dark days of winter.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. Samuel W. Tucker, a resident of this city for over forty years, died last Sunday at his home on Church street, Newton, following a long period of failing health.

Mr. Tucker was born in Boston and was 73 years of age. For the past forty-one years he has been one of the deputy sheriffs in Middlesex county and had a wide circle of friends. He was a member of Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows and a member and past president of the State Association of Deputy Sheriffs.

He is survived by his widow, who was Harriet Morrill of Portland, Me., and a daugther, Mrs. Herbert Kenway of Beverly.

There was a large attendance of county officials and friends at the funeral services held on Tuesday afternoon at his late residence on Church street. Mr. Edward H. Keach, of the Newton Christian Science Church, was in charge and the following-named partners of Mr. Tucker, in the deputy sheriff's office were pallbearers: Henry L. Walker, Fred A. Beals, Herbert C. Blackmer, Arthur H. McLearn and J. Fiske Ford, deputy sheriffs, and Arthur Wiggin, a court officer in the Middlesex Superior Court. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

POLICE NOTES

An unusual method of obtaining a joy ride is being used in this city. An automobile will be taken and some hours later the police or the owner will receive a telephone stating where the car can be found.

Last Friday Mrs. Gertrude Daley of Brighton reported to the police that her touring car was stolen from the rear of 1355 Washington street, West Newton. A few minutes later Traffic Officer Frank O'Donnell found the car abandoned in a trench at Lowell avenue and Washington street. Mrs. Corine E. Lombardi of 11 Dalby street, Nonantum, reported her car stolen from her driveway, but a short time later she found the car abandoned near Green street.

City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett of 45 Ridge road, Waban, reported to the police last week that his car was stolen from Babson Park, Wellesley. George D. Sheehan of 36 Magnolia street, Arlington, reported to the police that his car was stolen from Allison park, Newton. The car was later found abandoned.

NEWTON BLUE BOOK

The Newton Blue Book will be delivered to subscribers very soon. The printers are now working on it. Those who are anxious for the book's appearance need not be anxious. There is not as much patronage on it as there should be but there is more than last year. The price of book is very low only $4.00 at publication or $3.50 if checks are sent in advance. Horace F. Jones, Publisher, Box 81, Newton, Mass. Advertisement.

POLICE BALL

The 11th grand ball of the Newton Police Benefit Association will take place on Thanksgiving evening, November 25, at the State Armory, West Newton, according to present plans. Thomas H. McCormick is president of the association this year, and will be floor director at the hall. John Monahan is secretary of the committee and Thomas F. Leehan, treasurer, assisted by the following: Edward Desmond, Walter F. Jenkins, John H. Sheridan, and George Kilmaine. Chief Bernard F. Burke will be floor marshal and Capt. James J. Mullen will head the reception committee. Guests will include members of the City Government, State and county officials and police heads from all parts of the State.

FOR SALE NEWTON

New England's Neighborhood Toll Service

Simple as A B C

Nowadays in New England, calling a distant telephone is as simple as calling a telephone across the street.

"Neighborhood Toll Service," in every detail, follows the familiar routine of a local call.

Signal your own operator.
Give her the number you want.
Hold the line for a completed connection or a report.

This is the fastest, simplest form of toll service known. Yet along both the highways and byways of speech, the miles must still be dealt with by men and women, and machines. You must not expect quite the speed of local calls.

With a few exceptions, we do not undertake at present to give this service to points beyond our own territory.

We do give it between more than a million telephones in five states. It is thoroughly practical, else it would not be offered.

If you don't know the number ask your local information operator

Easy Lessons in - AUCTION BRIDGE

New Series by WYNNE FERGUSON
Author of "Ferguson on Auction Bridge"

Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 1

Auction is a game of contrasts. One hand will play well and the next one badly; that is, on one hand you will get all the "breaks," and on the next, everything will go wrong. It is a game of such infinite variety that no player can ever hope to master all its quirks and turns. Even the best of players lose their judgment at times and allow their own hand to influence their bidding to their disadvantage when they should realize that their partner has an unusual or freak hand. The other night, the writer noticed two examples of this failure to be on the lookout for the unusual or freak type of hand.

The dealer with the following hand:

Hearts — A, 7
Clubs — A, 9, 4, 2
Diamonds — A, Q, J, 8
Spades — A, K, 4

bid one no trump. Second hand passed and the dealer's partner bid two hearts. Fourth hand passed and the dealer bid two no-trump. When his partner bid three hearts, the dealer failed to realize that if his partner had a justifiable three heart bid, they had a sure game in hearts, and bid three no-trump although there was no sure game in no-trump. The 100 aces were too much for his judgment and as a result he went down three tricks undoubled, a net loss of 50 points on a hand that would have scored game at hearts. His partner's hand was as follows:

Hearts — Q, J, 10, 9, 6, 4
Clubs — Q, 6, 3
Diamonds — 10, 9, 7
Spades — 5

Don't allow 100 aces to impair your judgment.

Hearts — A, Q, 10
Clubs — none
Diamonds — A, Q, 10, 9, 6
Spades — A, Q, 10, 4, 2

His partner dealt and passed, second hand passed and he bid one spade. When his partner overbid with two clubs, he correctly bid two diamonds. His partner bid three clubs and he bid three diamonds. This bid is doubtful but when his partner bid four clubs, he should certainly have passed. He never stopped to realize that such bidding by his partner indicated a most unusual hand, one of the freak type and that his high cards in three suits would be of great help to his partner and that his partner's clubs would be of little value to his own hand, if he should obtain the bid at diamonds or spades. In spite of all these cogent reasons, however, he bid four diamonds and all passed. His partner's hand was as follows:

Hearts — 8
Clubs — A, Q, J, 10, 9, 7, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds — 8, 7
Spades — 3

At clubs, they could have made five odd, losing only one club and one diamond trick; while at diamonds they went down two tricks. It is a fine example of what not to do with a big hand. Play for the game, first, last and all the time, whether the hand is played by yourself or your partner. Always be willing to concede the bid to your partner when the bidding indicates that he has a freak hand. In the hand just considered, the dealer could have saved a lot of trouble by making an original bid of five clubs. It is a perfect example of the preemptive or shut out bid. If the bid fails, it will certainly save game; so that, in either event, it is a winner.

As a contrast to his bad bidding, the player whose bids have just been criticized played the following hand very cleverly:

	Hearts — K, Q, 7, 6 Clubs — 10, 4, 2 Diamonds — K, 9, 3 Spades — A, 6, 4
Hearts — 5, 4, 3 Clubs — A, Q, 7, 5 Diamonds — 6, 4 Spades — 8, 7, 5, 2	Y A B Z	Hearts — 8, 2 Clubs — J, 9, 3 Diamonds — Q, J, 10, 7, 2 Spades — K, Q, 10
	Hearts — A, J, 10, 9 Clubs — K, 8, 6 Diamonds — A, 8, 5 Spades — J, 9, 3

Z, the player in question, dealt and bid no-trump. All passed and A opened the five of clubs. Z won the trick with the king and led four rounds of hearts. B discarded two diamonds on the last two rounds of hearts. Z was now in a position where he could make two odd but figured that if he could force B to make another discard, he might possibly make three odd by making three diamonds or two spades. At trick five, therefore, he led the ten of clubs, forcing A to win the trick, who thereupon led three rounds of clubs. B was now forced to make another discard. He could have discarded either a spade or diamond. If the former, Z would discard a diamond and make two spade tricks. If the latter, Z would discard a spade and make three diamond tricks. It is a perfect example of the "squeeze" play. Study the play of this hand carefully for it was cleverly thought out. It is very unusual to win a game by leading your opponents' suit.

Problem No. 1

	Hearts — none Clubs — 8, 5, 3 Diamonds — 6, 4 Spades — Q, 8, 6
Hearts — none Clubs — Q, 7, 2 Diamonds — 7, 3 Spades — J, 7, 4	Y A B Z	Hearts — K, 8 Clubs — J, 9 Diamonds — K Spades — 5, 3, 2
	Hearts — A, 10, 9 Clubs — K, 4 Diamonds — Q, J Spades — 9

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can YZ win six of the eight tricks against any defense? Solution in the next article.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION

A public installation of officers of the Order of De Molay, Newton Chapter, was held Wednesday evening in the Masonic building on Walnut street, Newtonville. The following Past Master Councilors acted as installing officers: Walter K. Ryall, installing officer; Ralph S. Brennan, marshal, and Robert M. Clark, orator. The following officers were installed: Master Councilor Lester E. Keene; Senior Councilor, David Clark; Junior Councilor, Ralph S. Richardson; Treasurer, Ralph A. Patterson; Scribe, Carlton McCullough; Senior Deacon, Orrin W. Duff; Junior Deacon, J. W. Black; Senior Steward, Howard S. Stoney; Junior Steward, Donald Hosmer; Chaplain, Paul R. Knight, Jr.; Marshal, Franck C. Hincks; Almoner, Charles R. Johnson; Standard Bearer, Allyn C. Woodward; Sentinel, George E. Eames, Jr.; Organist, Raymond Hill; Preceptors, John E. Buddington, Thomas E. Rushforth, Samuel T. Tuthill, Lawrence Clark, Theo. O. Bjornson, Harry W. Mercer, and Charles W. Smith.

About five hundred witnessed the ceremonies which were very impressive throughout. The Waltham Assembly of Rainbow Girls were guests of the evening.

After the installation dancing was enjoyed in the ball room.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Grace A. O'Donnell of 101 Pearl street, a graduate of Our Lady's Parochial High School, class of 1925, has been awarded the first national scholarship to Trinity College, Washington, D. C., given by the Ladies' National Auxiliary, A. O. H. The scholarship includes four years' board and tuition. She will specialize in Latin.

Miss O'Donnell was a member of the Marion Debating Society of the classical department of the High School. She was a member of Division 22, A. O. H.

Miss O'Donnell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Donnell, has received many honors throughout her High School course. She was awarded second prize in a literary contest eligible to students of Our Lady's High School who had attained an average of 80 percent in English during the year 1924, conducted by the Aquinas Alumni Association.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

It is always interesting to note that in spite of a summer's vacation, with days in the country and at the shore to strengthen them, the children begin to put on weight with the beginning of their school routine. This is partially due, of course, to the new regularity of their existence, but the opportunity for drinking an extra quantity of milk in the sociable, happy company of their classmates and under perfect sanitary conditions is no doubt largely responsible. While at the very beginning of the new year the weight records include a high percentage of pupils underweight, those who become normal or above are soon far in the lead, and at the end of the year the individual class records show no more than one or two subnormal children for every several rooms. Health is no longer an incidental—it is the most important subject in the educational curriculum. Let us be grateful that our Newton authorities stand so near the "top of the class" in their study of it. Better still—let us show our gratitude by cooperation!

The world has been many, many years realizing the full value of health, socially, economically and generally, but now even the children in the kindergarten chant its fundamentals as glibly and as interestedly as they do their most fascinating Mother Goose jingle.

The "Watch your Weight"—"Health First" slogans have come to stay. Who wishes to be left behind?

Bigelow School

The year has started with an enrolment of 246. Miss Clow, who was in the Underwood School last year, has charge of the Opportunity Class.

All the pupils in grades seven and eight are interested in some one of the various clubs: Latin, Good English, Science, Drawing, Dramatics.

At Assembly last Friday morning Miss Chase read to the children an original story in the form of an allegory entitled "The Egg-Shell Maiden."

The girls of the eighth grade have formed two captain ball teams and have chosen Bernice McDowell and Barbara Goodridge as captains.

Two football teams have been organized under Mr. Reade's direction and later there will be a soccer team.

Members of the Student Council organized last week. Marshall Nelson was elected president and Kate Black secretary. Ushers were appointed and are now on duty.

The F. A. Day Junior High School

The sense of responsibility underlying student government was well expressed in the talk given during our first assembly this week.

Donald Parker, President of the Student Council, in an introduction, spoke of the highest quality necessary to all work—loyalty. Richard Patey, Alice Amroziak, Melvin Rodney, Elinor Brown, Chester Cummings and Alice Collins then each gave their versions of the spirit governing the Student Council and Student Patrol.

Mr. Carr led the school in singing, following a brief summary of the salient points made by the speakers—loyalty, cooperation, and good sportsmanship. Mr. Holleran then started some cheering which resulted in much enthusiasm.

Stearns School

Several improvements have been made at the school during the summer, one of the most needed and appreciated being the installing of electric lights throughout the building. Since we no longer have a "no school" signal on dark days, lights are indispensable. Both teachers and children are using them with great satisfaction.

A new heating plant has been installed in the Elliot School.

A granolithic walk is being laid from Jasset street to the school.

All boys wishing to play football were asked to report at the Stearns playground on Saturday morning. Two teams were formed—one for boys under ten and one for boys between ten and thirteen and a half.

The classes meet in the school hall for their first assembly on Friday. A Columbus Day program will be given by the children of the lower grades.

Stearns stood second in the Newton group in banking last week, with $41 to its credit, second only to the Newton High School.

Last Saturday Dr. Guy M. Winslow and Mrs. Winslow attended the Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Connecticut Valley Lasell Club at Hartford, Connecticut.

On Sunday evening, October 11, Dr. Samuel McComb of Harvard University, will speak at Vespers.

There will be an annual trip to Plymouth on Tuesday, October 13. A special feature this year will be a picnic supper and clambake at Duxbury on the return trip.

Wednesday, October 14 will be open house day, when the seniors will entertain at the various houses in the afternoon.

The following class officers have recently been elected:

Junior Class—June Newbold of Washington, D. C., President; Mary Etta Williams of Orange, N. J., Vice-President; Helen B. Waltz of Detroit, Michigan, Secretary; Alice Crawford, of Waiton, N. Y., Treasurer; Sally Cox of Parkersburg, W. Va., Song Leader; Louise Hawkins of Buffalo, N. Y., Cheer Leader.

Sophomore Class — Helen Bliss of Malden, Mass., President; Helen Morrell of Montclair N. J., Vice-President; Adelaide Trafton of So. Hanover, Mass., Secretary and Treasurer; Julia Larrabee of Lawence, Mass., Song and Cheer Leader.

Freshman Class—Gertrude Mondelli of Jacksonville, Fla., President; Elizabeth Wells of Haverhill, Mass., Vice-President; Charlotte Oram of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., Secretary and Treasurer; Dorothy J. Smith of Clarksburg, W. Va., Song Leader; Margaret Basley of Waltham, Mass., Cheer Leader.

Plans are under way for a series of concerts to be given under the auspices of Lasell Seminary at the Auburndale Club House, by the Paul Shirley Symphony Players. The first concert is to be held October 20 at 3.30 P. M. These concerts will be open to the public at a small admission fee.

The DeWitt Clinton Hebberd School

The school plays St. Marks, Southborough the 7th, in football, the first game of the season. The curate of Grace Church, Newton, spoke Tuesday morning at the opening of school. The next speaker will be Mayor Childs who will take for his subject "True Citizenship." The speaker at assembly on October 28th will be the Rev. Stanley Ross Fisher, Pastor of the Wellesley Congregational Church. Mr. Fisher will talk on his recent trip to England.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Week Ending Oct. 3

Patients in the hospital 118, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 54, patients paying less than cost of care 34, free patients including babies 30, babies, born 9, 5 boys and 4 girls, patients treated by out-patient department 105, patients treated by eye clinic 3, accident cases 11, social service calls at hospital 12, at homes 2, patients transferred by social service car 3.

Figures for the month ending Sept. 30, patients admitted to the hospital 325, and 100 as out-patients and treated in the X-ray and operating room, patients dismissed 306, largest number of patients any twenty-four hours 128, smallest number 78, daily average 105.17, babies born 41, patients treated by out-patient department 321, accident cases 46, operating room cases, 241, X-ray cases 118, social service calls at hospital 37, at homes 19, patients transferred by social service car 13.

Those who worked at the hospital making surgical dressing in the past month were Miss Elder, West Newton, Miss Anne Spain, Waban, Miss Evelyn Miller, Waban, Mrs. W. F. Lamb, Waban, Miss Virginia Newhall, West Newton, Mrs. Susan F. Tutle, Auburndale, Mrs. T. F. Tatt, Wellesley Hills, Mrs. D. W. Norton, Wellesley Hills.

The eye clinic which has just started after being closed for the summer has demonstrated how great the need for such a clinic was in Newton. A dental clinic is very much needed in the out-patient department.

Miss Bertha M. Allen, Superintendent, and Miss Gertrude M. Herrick, social service worker attended a luncheon meeting of the Welfare Section, of the Central Council.

An Alumnae meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 7, Miss Marietta D. Barnaby will give a report of the International Nursing Convention in Finland. Miss Barnaby is Superintendent of the Henry Heyward Memorial Hospital in Gardner, Mass.

The hospital received one gift of apples, and one of pears, and a little girl in Newtonville made a picture book for the children's ward and it at once helped to pass the time for a small boy who is at the hospital with a broken leg.

COLUMBUS DAY PROGRAM

The Italian Benevolent Association of Newton Centre and Thompsonville has arranged a two-day program for Sunday and Columbus Day which is to include band concerts, dancing, parade, addresses and fireworks. Beginning Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Thompsonville Playground and continuing until 11 o'clock at night, there will be a band concert. On the holiday at 10 o'clock a parade in which most of the Italian residents of the city will participate, will start at the corner of Langley road and Boylston street, Thompsonville. The parade will go down Langley, Sumner to Commonwealth to Centre and thence to the memorial flagpole on Newton Centre Common, where Mayor Edwin O. Childs will deliver an address. The parade will then proceed back to Thompsonville. At 4 o'clock Monday afternoon there will be a speaking program at the Thompsonville Playground, followed by a band concert and dancing on the green. Late in the evening there will be a display of fireworks which, according to the committee, will be the finest ever seen in the city. Louis Volpe is honorary president of the association and B. Marulli, chairman in charge of the two days' celebration.

DEATH OF MRS. BOND

Mrs. Susan D. Bond, widow of Judge David W. Bond of the Superior Court, died at her home on Gibbs street, Newton Centre, last Saturday. She had been an invalid for some time. Mrs. Bond was born in Brooklyn, Conn., in 1842, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dyer. In 1863 she was married to David W. Bond and they lived for some time in Northampton until her husband received his appointment to the Superior Court bench.

Mrs. Bond was a direct descendant in the eighth generation of William Bradford, Governor of the Plymouth Colony. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Barnard of West Medford, and two sons, Charles W. Bond of Newton Centre and Hon. Henry Herrick Bond of Waltham.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at her home, 122 Gibbs street, Newton Centre. Rev. Frederick H. Page, pastor of the First Congregational Society, Waltham, officiated. At the burial service Wednesday afternoon at Florence, Rev. J. Harry Hooper, minister of the Free Congregational Society, Florence, Northampton, officiated.

THE NEWTON DOG SHOW

As was stated last week, the entry for the Middlesex County Kennel Club show to be held on Columbus Day, October 12th at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Grounds was rapidly growing, and we are now informed that close to five hundred dogs have been entered, with a wide variety of breeds represented.

From Papillons to St. Bernards they range in size, and between those two extremes may be found representatives of breeds which have not been seen at any shows for a number of years, such as the Skye Terrier, the Pug Dog, and the Schipperke. These breeds used to be very well known hereabouts, but since the advent of the Boston Terrier and the Shepherd, and other better known breeds, they had faded into obscurity to a great extent.

As the show will directly benefit the Y. M. C. A., an organization too well known for its splendid work in our community to need description here, we would simply urge upon our readers the double pleasure they can derive from attending this show—as exhibitors if possible—at any rate as spectators.

There will be found a good clean show run in good fashion by a club which has for years built up its reputation on that basis, and a large attendance will result in benefit to the Y. M.

We are asked to emphasize a note in the advertisement on another page. Namely that Exhibitors must get their dogs to the show at the specified hour, as the entry is extremely large, and the hours of daylight so limited, that unless judging can be started promptly it will be impossible to wind up the affair before darkness sets in. Again under American Kennel Club rules, classes can not be rejudged for any cause, late arrival or otherwise. So be warned.

FIRE TEST

One of the features of the local observance of Fire Prevention Week will be staged on Saturday, the tenth day of October, 1925, at the corner of Walnut street and Tennyson road, Wellesley Hills, a short step from Newton Lower Falls.

This demonstration is for the purpose of testing the indestructible qualities of concrete construction. A small building 8 x 8 feet square and 9 feet high has been erected for the purpose and on the day of the demonstration will be filled with combustible materials such as tar barrel staves and wood soaked in kerosene oil. The Fire Chief will set the fire which will be allowed to burn for an hour. At the end of the prescribed time the firemen will be called to turn on a stream of water onto the hot concrete walls, and to put out the fire, and to enable the observers to make a closer examination of the building material after it has passed through this severe test of excessive heat and sudden application of water. The temperature to which the building will be subjected will be between 1500 and 1800 degrees. The town officials and many of the prominent citizens, together with contractors, builders and architects and insurance men interested in the test will be present. A report will later be made, and the results of the fire will be published.

ELKS OUTING

Under the efficient direction of a committee of which Mr. Wilfred Chagnon was chairman and Mr. A. F. Herrington, secretary, the family outing and basket picnic of Newton Lodge of Elks, held last Sunday afternoon was a great success notwithstanding the lowering weather.

The outing was held at Danforth Farms Country Club in Saxonville and over a thousand Elks and members of their families were taken in automobiles from the Elks' Home on Centre street, Newton.

The entertainment included a band concert by the Mt. Auburn Band of Watertown, golf, base ball, football and numerous field sports.

The winners included the following:

Boys' race, James Gallagher first, John Dolan second.

Girls' race, Mary Cavanaugh first, Helen Herlihy second.

Youths' race, E. Melville first, William Morris second.

Married men's race, Michael Cavanaugh first, Joseph Bowker second.

Bag race for men, John Mullen first, Henry Gallagher second.

Bag race for women, Mrs. Westbrook first.

Nail driving contest, George P. Brophy first, Stephen Morrell second.

MOTHERS' COUNCIL

A joint meeting of the Mothers' Club and Mothers' Council of West Newton was held Monday, Oct. 5th, at the home of Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw, 96 Berkeley street. A very stimulating talk was given by Mrs. Edward V. French, president of the Parent-Teachers' Association on the "Aims and Purposes of the Parent-Teachers' Association." The hostesses were Mrs. Clifton Leatherbee, Mrs. Ernest Lovejoy, Mrs. Joseph Sevell, Mrs. William H. Best, Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw and Mrs. Roy R. Merchant.

AS YOU FACE THE CLEANING WHAT ABOUT THE BLANKETS?

They must be made clean, soft and fluffy in anticipation of cold nights to come. At The Winchester Laundries you may have them washed (50c per single blanket, $1.00 for double), or cleansed (75c per single or $1.50 for double). The work is beautifully done, and will save you untold hours of hard effort.

ANNUAL MEETING AND LUNCHEON

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Eliot Woman's Association was held in the church parlors on Tuesday, October 6th.

There was a business meeting at 10.30 and the luncheon under the chairmanship of Miss Janie Hobart was served at 12.30. There were about 175 members and guests present. The first number of the program which followed the luncheon was a Treasure Hunt, which was directed by Mrs. Samuel N. Braman. This hunt revealed much of treasure earned and saved by the ladies of the association during the summer months. Mrs. Enid Botsford gave several whistling solos and Mrs. Martha Gifford Hadden piano solos. The afternoon's entertainment closed with reading by Miss Bessie Stratton, Director of Religious Education at Eliot Church.

HURRILL-LUCAS

On Saturday, October 3rd, Miss Mildred Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lucas of Orchard street, Newton, was married to Albert Edwin Hurrill of Portland, Maine. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Newton A. Merritt of the Baptist Church. The best man was Mr. Henry Stewart of Thomaston, Maine.

The bride wore a gown of beaded blonde georgette and carried a bridal bouquet. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Douglass of Newton, was gowned in pencil blue georgette.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Hurrill will live at 70 Glenville avenue, Allston, Mass., where they will be at home to their friends after November 1st.

The groom is a graduate of Bowdoin College, '20, and a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

At the usual Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club Mr. Fred R. Basley presided in the absence of President Ira S. Roe and the guest and speaker was Mr. Thomas L. Curtin, proprietor of the Waltham Foundry.

Mr. Curtin gave a most instructive talk on the work of a foundry and gave a graphic illustration of the way in which a mould is made for a casting. One of the interesting facts related to the difference in method, in making a stove cover, where fluidity is the first consideration, of machine tools, where the casting must be kept soft enough for working, and window weights where weight is the only factor.

WHAT TO BUY IN FLORIDA!

Our advice is to buy any good property offered by a reputable company or individual, financially and morally responsible.

Most Florida realtors are responsible in every way; only a few are not. Investigate carefully; satisfy yourself that men of character and integrity are behind the proposition—then go ahead and buy.

We welcome the closest investigation. Send for our booklet. It tells the whole story frankly and honestly. Use the coupon, please.

The Executive committee of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange has issued a warning urging prospective purchasers in Florida real estate to make careful investigation before making an investment. The committee estimates that 150 millions of Massachusetts money has been invested in Florida the present year. The advertisements we carry in the Graphic are from reliable and trustworthy brokers.

Governor Fuller makes a sound suggestion in advocating the prohibition of all day parking in the city of Boston and it might be well to adopt a similar measure for parts of this city. Street widenings are too expensive at any time and doubly so when the congestion is caused by standing cars. Elmwood street in Newton is a striking example of the dangers of all day parking.

After many annoying delays the Federal government has at last approved the plans for the proposed new bridge over the Charles River at Cottage Farm. We trust the Metropolitan District Commission will take immediate steps to build this most important public improvement.

force, which he estimated at 2000 planes. He told of the accuracy of his force in making an average of 75 to 96 per cent hits in tests of 200.

Former Speaker Young brought the greetings of the neighboring town of Weston, and Mr. Powers suggested that Weston ought to be annexed to Newton so that Mr. Young might become the mayor. Mr. Young countered with saying that he would agree if the district would be designated as Greater Weston.

Lieut. Brown was the last speaker and gave a most entertaining talk on the air situation. He wanted everyone to realize that aviation was here to say, and that aviation was a commercial as well as a military asset to the nation. He declared that the United States had no air policy at the present time, and no legislation controlling aviation in the country. At the beginning of the world war he said that aviation was for observation purposes only, and that aviators of the belligerent countries would wave their hands to each other as they passed. Later aviators carried rifles, and at the end of the war about 25 per cent of the planes were for observation. Three classes of planes were the pursuit planes, which were flying machine guns, bombardment planes, and attack planes, which were a combination of the others.

He said that the army and navy both needed air service but that the battle of the air must be fought by planes as it would be both over water and land. He believed that commercial aviation should be given first consideration, and told of the establishment of a network of air ways which could be utilized by commercial aviation. He declared that America had the greatest air way in the world, that from New York to San Francisco and that the service there was the most efficient in the world. He closed with an interesting description of the World Filght of 1924, which he said was the greatest feat ever accomplished in aviation.

An interesting incident of the banquet was the gift of flowers to President Hateld from Mrs. Isaac F. Kingsbury of Hartford, Conn., in memory of her husband, Col. Kingsbury, who was a former captain of the Guards and a member of the Association.

BAD FIRE

The sounding of a false alarm last night was partly responsible for a bad fire, which, required two alarms and made necessary a call for help from Waltham and Wellesley.

With a damage estimated at $12,000, the woodwork mill of J. A. Bayer & Co. of Webster street, West Newton, together with machinery and contents, was practically destroyed. Surrounding houses and factories were threatened by the stubborn, smoky fire, which gave the combined forces a battle for more than an hour.

Ira Melvin of 182 Webster street, whose house is behind the mill, saw the blaze at an early stage and sounded the alarm from box 351. Unknown to Melvin, however, a false alarm was rung in at that time from box 921 and the alarm from box 351, it is said, did not register.

The apparatus responded to the false alarm from 921. Five minutes later, when no apparatus appeared at the Webster-street fire, neighbors became excited, and Melvin again sounded an alarm from box 351. With this, the fire had become furious. As soon as Assistant Chief George K. Stacy arrived, he ordered a second alarm, calling Waltham and Wellesley, as well as Newton.

The home of William Kellar was considerably scorched. While the Newton department fought the mill fire, the Waltham department covered the neighboring houses and mills with steady streams, checking what threatened for a time to be a conflagration.

Chief Randlett, who turned out on the false alarm, came in to the Webster-street fire on the second alarm.

TAXES ORDERED ABATED

Judge C. H. Donahue in the Middlesex Superior Court, has handed down a decision in favor of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Inc., in its petition against the city of Newton for the abatement of taxes on club property. Frank H. Stewart is counsel for the club.

In its petition the woman's club claims to be a literary, charitable and educational corporation and therefore exempt from taxation. The petition sets forth that the city of Newton as of April 1, 1923, assessed the club the following taxation: Real estate, $1463; personal property, $53.20; street sprinkling, $6.40; making a total of $1522.60. It is also set forth that the club appealed to the city assessors for abatement of the taxes, but that the assessors refused the request and the club therefore appeals to the court. The case was heard recently before Judge Donahue, Mr. Stewart appearing for the club.

Judge Donahue in his decision orders the city of Newton to abate to the Woman's Club all the taxes except the $6.40 for the street sprinkling. He finds that the club's many past and present activities and the varied uses by the club of its building include some which are literary, benevolent and charitable and some which are social in character and for the edification and gratification of its members alone.

After reviewing all the facts, Judge Donahue finds, in conclusion, that the dominant purpose of the organization and the uses to which its building has been put are literary, benevolent and charitable, within meaning of the statute and he, therefore, orders the abatement of the taxes except that for street sprinkling. The street sprinkling tax, he says, does not come within the meaning of the statute.

DAVIS—HUGGARD

The wedding of Miss Grace Isabel Huggard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Huggard of Newton Centre and Mr. Percy Hendry Davis took place last Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, on Everett street. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church of Newton Centre.

The bridal gown was of white satin and she wore the conventional tulle veil and carried a boquet of of white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Clifford Belcher of Boston was her matron of honor and was in powder blue crepe de chine and carried a boquet of pink roses.

Mr. Davis had his brother, Mr. O. Donald Davis of Malden as his best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Davis being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Huggard.

After a wedding trip to New York Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside at 58 Everett street, Newton Centre, where they will be at home after October 15th.

The bride is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and is a supervisor of music. The groom was a former resident of St. John, N. B.

DEATH OF MR. BAKER

Mr. Peter C. Baker, one of the oldest and best known residents of Newton Lower Falls, died last Tuesday at his home on Cornhill street at the age of 74 years. Mr. Baker was born in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1851, but has been a resident here for 53 years. For many years he has been engaged in business as a carpenter and builder.

Mr. Baker was one of the founders and has been for many years president of the board of trustees of the Perrin Memorial Methodist Church of the Lower Falls. He was also a member of the Grange.

He served his ward as an alderman-at-large for the four years beginning in 1902, and has always taken a deep interest in public affairs.

He is survived by his widow, and three sons, Mr. Frank Baker of Greenwood, Mass., Mr. P. Clarence Baker of the Lower Falls, and Mr. Russell Baker of New River, Mass., and three daughters, the Misses Laura and Esther Baker and Mrs. William Leonard, and Mrs. T. F. Donahue, all of Newton Lower Falls.

Funeral services are being held today at the Methodist Church, Rev. Everett Hansen, the pastor, officiating, and the interment will be in the Newton Cemetery.

EYE AFFECTS WHOLE BODY

Why Routine Examination of School Children Is Imperative Is Explained by Authority.

Dr. de Schweinitz, in Hygeia, first points out that only about 4 per cent of eyes are entirely normal according to optical standards. At birth nearly all eyes are far-sighted. Near-sighted eyes most commonly make their appearance from the sixth to the tenth year of life, that is to say especially during school years. Such errors when marked give rise to eyestrain or "weak eyes." While it is true that few eyes are absolutely normal, many approach it so closely that for all practical purposes they may be considered normal. They do not give rise to discomfort, and correcting glasses are not required, at least, in younger years. But it must be realized further that good vision and painless eyes do not necessarily exclude eyestrain; and eyestrain may cause headache, pains in various parts of the body, twitching of the face, night terrors, nervousness, indigestion, and many other symptoms. The need for the routine examination of the eyes of school children is therefore clear, and the possible effects of failure to recognize the fact of eye trouble are pointed out. These effects are not limited to the eye itself. "The eye is not confined, as it were, to a little area of its own, subject to diseases and defects unconnected with the rest of the body. Quite the contrary. It is most intimate in its relations to the rest of the body." "The problems which surround it, whether they relate to optical faults or to disease, are medical problems, and must be solved with this fact always in view."

SELF-PITY SHOWS WEAKNESS

Can Properly Be Set Down Not Only as a Bad Habit, but a Poisonous One.

Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pitying themselves? If so, you can set them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity saps one's self-reliance. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity. They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively. They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self-help that they have no time to waste on self-pity.

Self-pity is not only a bad habit; it is a poisonous habit. It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice no human being can qualify to go far or rise far. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and discouragements; we all have ambitions thwarted. But we do not let discouragements discourage; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear our occasional streaks of pessimism on our sleeve or on our countenance. We keep a stiff upper lip. We wrestle on. And we smile on. We don't become cry babies. We may inwardly wince, but we don't flinch. We don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have troubles enough of their own.

We refuse to be cowards. We refuse to wear the white feather. We strive to be men. We become men. We are men.—Forbes Magazine.

Clerk's One-Cylinder Mind.

"I usually know what I want and when I do I ask for it explicity," said the Man Who Grumbles. "Yesterday I entered a paint store and to the clerk who offered to wait on me I said: 'I want a quart of white paint, best quality, for wood to be used outside.'

"The clerk seemed puzzled. He studied a moment and asked: 'How much do you want?' I told him. He seemed satisfied and after a brief pause asked: 'Interior or outside?' I again supplied the information. He made no objection but still sought information. 'Going to use it on wood?' he suggested. I assured him that I intended to smear it on my window frames and they are of wood.

"I thought the transaction was about to be closed, but the clerk was still in doubt on one point. 'What color?' he asked cheerfully. I satisfied his curiosity and he got the paint for me. Stupid? Not a bit. He simply had a one-cylinder mind. I had supplied too many facts for him to assimilate at once."—New York Sun.

Sociability an Asset.

A political candidate, on paying a second visit to the house of a doubtful voter of the agricultural class, was very pleased but somewhat surprised on hearing from the elector that he would support him.

"Glad to hear it," said the candidate. "I thought you were against me."

"I was at first," said the other. "The other day when you called here and stood by that pig sty and talked for half an hour you didn't budge me an inch.

"But after you had gone away, sir, I got to thinkin' how you'd reached your hand over the rail and scratched the pig's back until he lay down with the pleasure of it. I made up my mind then that when a man was so sociable as that with a poor fellow creature I wasn't the man to vote against him."—Harper's Magazine.

REFUSE TO INSTALL NEW SYSTEMS

to the city but for instance a $10,000 policy on a framed dwelling which at present costs $16.60 per year, would decrease $1.66 under a new system. Under a ten-year period however there were but five cities in the state with a lower fire loss than Newton. Fire losses per each inhabitant were $1.82 in Newton for this period; Brookline was the lowest of 31 cities in the state with a fire loss of $1.00 per capita. Chelsea was the highest with $5.50. Regarding the police system Mr. Baker felt that the new system could be deferred until the fire alarm system was installed but that 50 new hydrants should be installed in each of the years 1925, 1926, and 1927.

Alderman George W. Pratt asked for a formal or informal vote of approval of the committee's report. Alderman Earle said that the committee on Public Works was awaiting the action of the board before reporting on the advisability of removing the Willow street stable. He also stated that the Highland Mills could be used for the present. Alderman Fitts moved that the report be approved. This brought Alderman Heathcote to his feet in protest. He said that the pay-as-you-go policy was all right in its place but regardless of whether the tax rate would be increased or not the matter of a new fire and police system was not one to be lightly handled. He argued that the advice of the chiefs of the two departments should be regarded above that of the committee's. With the old system in use the city was "taking a chance on getting by." After some discussion the matter was finally put to a vote and the committee's report approved.

Alderman Earle then asked that the rules be suspended and that the Willow street stable be razed. Alderman Heathcote thought the matter should be taken under advisement and should wait over until the next meeting. Alderman George W. Pratt said that every day's delay might prove serious if a fire should take place and it was finally voted to suspend the rules and consider the matter at once. The offer of Priest & Company of $155.00 for the material in the building was then accepted and the building will be demolished immediately.

The meeting came to order at 5 P. M. when several hearings were held on petitions. No one appeared on the petition of Sarah G. Harley et al for change of zone, private to single residence, of land on easterly side of Randlett Park. Mr. Joseph T. Bishop spoke in behalf of his petition for change of zone of land bounded by Langley road, Glen avenue, Hammond Pond parkway, and Boston & Albany tracks. L. C. Smith, H. R. Nash, and others also favored it. Opposition was raised by Mr. Ira J. Barnum. The clerk read a letter of protest.

The Rev. Joseph E. Robichaud spoke in behalf of his petition to place the land on Watertown street between Pearl street and the Watertown land in the general residence district. Jeremiah McNamara and Miss Charlotte E. Stearns, Leander Sampson, and Mrs. Timothy Regan also favored the change. There was no opposition. The board later granted the petition placing the land under question in the general residence zone.

Several residents of Fair Oaks avenue appeared at the hearing on the laying out of Fair Oaks avnue, which they desired. Residents of Bemis street also favored the laying out of that street. William E. McGee spoke on the desirability of laying out Brookdale road. These petitions were referred to the Public Works committee.

Ossian D. Brett requested that land be taken for a sewer in Charlesbank terrace. Mr. Harold O. White also favored the project. One resident objected, saying that his cesspool, which he had to build two yeare ago when a sewer was refused, was satisfactory. Residents of Ashton avenue and Nevada street appeared in favor of sewers in these two streets. The three petitions were referred to the Public Works committee which later reported favorably upon them. Appropriations were passed to construct these sewers.

The Edison Co. was granted a pole location on East Side Parkway.

The following jurors were drawn for November sessions: Monday, Nov. 2, 1st session of Criminal Court at Cambridge; Frank Kennedy, 71 Faxon street; W. Clarence Lodge, 375 Cabot street; Monday, Nov. 9th, 2nd session of Criminal Court at Cambridge; John H. Kelley, Jr., 233 Adams street; Harry F. Stimson, 186 Hammond street; Wilmot M. Brown, 11 Dickerman road; Monday, Nov. 9th, 3rd session of Criminal Court at Cambridge; John P. Hartwell, 180 Carleton road; Thaddeus S. Grant, 28 Austin street; William J. McClellan, 81 Madison avenue. The board then adjourned until 7.45.

George P. Brophy of River street, Auburndale, spoke in behalf of the petition of the Baker Auto Supply for a permit to keep and sell gasoline at 1249 Washington street, West Newton. Mr. Brophy told the board that he was at present doing business at 1235 Washnigton street but that since the property had been sold he could not obtain a renewal of his lease. He intimated that the persons who purchased the property had designs upon his business and that he was the victim of a mercenary proposition. All he desired was to move his tank to the new address a few doors further down the street. There was no opposition.

Mr. Thomas W. Proctor spoke in behalf of Mrs. Gertrude B. Bernhardt on her petition for a drive in filling station at the corner of Walnut and Centre streets, Newton Highlands. Mr. Proctor stated that if the filling station were granted that the view at the corner would not be obstructed as would be the case if stores were constructed there, and that a gasoline station in the vicinity was a necessity. Opposition was made by Mr. W. M. L. McAdams, Paul L. Mullen and others.

Mr. John J. Walsh, attorney for Thomas H. Davis, appearing on the latters petition for a 25-car public garage at 25 Paul street, Newton Centre, stated that the location adjoined a manufacturing zone and that the garage was to be used for private cars and not for trucks. In answer to a question he said that it was the petitioner's intention to tear down the present paint shop. The petition was opposed by Mr. John V. Spaudling representing 34 property owners on Paul street and Oxford road. Other residents of the vicinity opposed the permit.

Attorney James P. Gallagher, representing Messrs. Freid and Litchman, spoke in behalf of his clients' petition for a filling station at 1235 Washington street, West Newton, near the location at which the Baker Auto Supply Co. is now doing business. Mr. Gallagher stated that the old building on the corner of Davis court, which had been ordered vacated by the Board of Health, would be razed. Regarding the statements made by Mr. Brophy, earlier in the evening, Mr. Gallagher stated that the character of the attacks were such that it was not necessary to deny them. The question was whether additional gasoline facilities were needed, whether the location was suitable, and whether the petitioners were the proper persons to receive the permit. Opposition was raised by Mrs. Annie Cole, Mrs. Anna DuBois, widow of a Civil War veteran, and George P. Brophy, who represented Thomas Scandelli. Mr. Brophy made an eloquent plea in behalf of the opposition.

No opposition was raised to the petition of Waldo S. Wheldon for a gas station at 201 California street, Nonantum.

The usual grist of private garage hearings were held. The board later granted all but three of these or 81 in all.

Leave to withdraw the following petitions for damages on account of accidents: Katherine C. Smith, William J. Norris, J. M. Fitzgerald, et al, Frank A. Rogers, Elizabeth M. Gleason, Lillian Goldringer, Arthur A. Williams, Georgiana B. Melick, and John T. Farry.

The following petitions for change of zone were granted leave to withdraw Sadie Kostick, land near Woodward street, Ward 5, and Harold Parker, et al, change of ward lines, ward 4 and 5.

The following permits were granted: Andrew Mazzone, 4-car garage at 1010 Chestnut street, filling station, Ferguson & Co., additional tankage at 436 Lexington street, 300 gallons total, The Motor Conditioning Co., 13-car repair shop at rear of 749 Beacon street, Newton Centre, J. J. Quirk, 10-car garage and 1000 gallon gas tank at rear of 320 Watertown street, Nonantum.

Communications were received as follows: from the Mayor, immediate action requested by School Committee on the matter of the new junior high school for the West Newton-Auburndale district; no sale of land on Lowell avenue or West Newton Hill; recommending passage of order releasing city interest in discontinuance of Hammond Brook (on land of F. H. Chamberlain); recommending appropriation of $10,000 from school bonds for rough grading of girl's playground, south of the new building; recommending that the offer of Priest & Co. of $155.00 for material in the Willow street stable be accepted; request by the city treasurer for an appropriation of $208.24 for 1925 taxes on Victory Field; recommendation from the Mayor that the wrong done to residents of North street be righted (cost to city—$8,948.98).

Alderman Fitts stated that the appropriation for $10,000 should be made at this time in order that the fill might settle through the winter. If the money was not voted now it would mean a loss of an entire year and it was hoped that the field could be in condition for use by next fall. The appropriation was the nmade.

Alderman Pratt opposed an appropriation to the city clerk's department to cover cost of printing annual reports on the grounds of principle. The matter was referred back to the committee.

Alderman Lloyd reported favorable action by the Franchise and License committee on the petition of the Wellesley Motor Coach Company to run express busses through Newton on Boylston street. Questions regarding standing passengers and other matters which might raise technicalities in regard to the bus regulations recently passed by the city were raised. After some discussion the matter was referred back to the committee.

This discussion brought Alderman George W. Pratt to his feet in protest of the taking of the entire board's time on matters that should be considered in committee. He also asked that some means be devised so that the board would not have to listen to the long list of private garages at which but few persons appeared. Nearly every alderman present took part in the discussion which resulted and the consequence was over twenty minutes was spent on the question of "How to save time." The various committees took the matter under advisement.

An order for the city election on December 8 and designating the various polling places in each precinct was then passed.

The board adjourned at 12.40 A. M.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chester I. Garde of New Jersey are the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Chapin at their home on Beacon street.

—Betty Chapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Chapin of Beacon street, has received a medal from the Massachusetts Humane Society in recognition of her act of bravery in saving the life of a drowning man at Vineyard Haven, Mass. last summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. William G. Thompson of Chestnut Hill announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Miriam Phillips Thompson, to Dr. Theodore Dunham, Jr., of New York. Miss Thompson, who is a graduate of Radcliffe, class of '22, is a member of the Junior League. She is a granddaughter of the late Rev. William R. Huntington, D. D., who was rector of Grace Episcopal Church in New York. Miss Thompson's mother was before her marriage Miss Mary Huntington. Dr. Dunham is a graduate of Harvard '21 and of the Cornell Medical School. He is now engaged in research work in astro-physics, under Professor Russell at Princeton.

DEATH OF MRS. WOOD

Mrs. Flora Elizabeth Wood, wife of W. Whitney Wood, a Boston lumber merchant, died suddenly Friday at her home, 19 Victoria circle, Newton Centre, following several years of invalidism. She was a native of Providence, R. I. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Carl Wood of Newton Centre and A. E. Wood of Newtonville; and a daughter, Mrs. Gould Capon of Newton Centre. There is also a half-sister, Miss Virginia Tourtellot of Providence.

Funeral services were held from her late home on Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Charles N. Arbuckle officiating and the interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

General Federation

The ambitious program of our National Organization is found in the September issue of General Federation News, and—as we might expect—Massachusetts is to the fore in taking eagerly to all the choice plans of the new program, of which we find ample proof in the first issue of the new year of Federation Topics. Of course all clubwomen ought to have the joy of these publications, but since many have not it might be well to give a few of the high lights here.

Mrs. John Sherman, the national President, starts with a clever bit of wisdom for all clubwomen:

"The normal human being has five senses, and we need at least three more: The sense of fitness; the sense of humor; and that rare and wonderful quality called common-sense, perhaps because it is so uncommon; and the greatest of these is the sense of humor. It is the sense of humor that keeps our nice discrimination from becoming unduly critical, and with it common sense never becomes stolid and dull. Given these eight senses and you have the ideal club woman, a green isle in the sea, an oasis in the desert, a ready refuge in time of trouble, etc."

What a splendid summary of the truth, aptly put! Let us therefore embrace the woman with the sense of humor and make her our leader, as Mrs. Sherman goes on to suggest.

In line with these words of wisdom for the club woman, also, there comes a book from the Century press, by our former national President, Mrs. Alice Ames Winter, called: "Business of Being a Clubwoman." The very title proves the value of the writing, and when one considers the vast experience, and wide travel, and big matters that belong to such a woman—must necessarily belong, it makes one desire to read and profit from what must be golden words of wisdom and advice. To quote what Mrs. Sherman says of her fellow-president's book: "This book is replete with information concerning all the multitudinous details of club work. The novice will find it invaluable, and the older club woman will find here the steps by which they must build up their local organizations, their little clubs and their big city and district and state federations."

Art, Citizenship, Education, American Home, Legislative, International Relations, and Public Welfare give their programs, and they have a wealth of facts to present that prove that into every field we are looking with high hope and high endeavor. And it is not idle dreaming, as is proven by the array of facts gathered. Women of power, enthusiasm—well-regulated—and infinite patience and steadfastness are on the committees throughout the United States, and they have compiled for every chairman valuable aids and suggestions in their leaflets. It is not a haphazard, nor newly-enthusiastic compilation that they offer, either, but balanced, sane, and possible.

Let us see, then, what Massachusetts intends to make her own of these plans, rather than go on with the program from the General Federation viewpoint.

State Federation

The President, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, announces a new policy in conferences, having all activities concentrated in two major events in each district. In looking through our calendar for the Newton Federation, therefore we discover — if we did not already know it — that the honor of one of these conferences for the twelfth district falls to our city, when we celebrate our midwinter legislative day on January 22nd, under the auspices of our State organization. The other district conference becomes the honor of the New Century Club of Needham, when an all-day program will be enjoyed November 20th. Mrs. Smith calls attention, further, to the two Presidents' Conferences of the Fall, one October 29th, at Barnstable, and the other, November 12th, at Springfield—the day before the big State meeting of the Autumn in this latter city.

Reports for committees show thought, foresight, and the ever-present inspiration of idealism. Community Service welcomes into its ranks Volunteer Service, a new opportunity that is boundless in usefulness and scope, to stand elbow to elbow with Civics, Citizenship-training, and Motion-Pictures. Stopping a bit to ponder the possibilities of these briefly-stated titles opens vistas. It takes women to dare to climb to the heights; to dare to hitch their wagons to a star; be they travellers on foot or horseback, in other words arriving slowly after much travel, or arriving quickly, through full speed ahead; it is well that they have this courage, for through it progress is gained.

Mrs. Packard, Director of International Relations, is happy in the discovery that many clubs are introducing this subject into their yearly programs, and while she rejoices at the interest of her Massachusetts clubs, there comes the announcement from Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, the General Federation Chairman, that a group of prizes—the first $75; the second $40; and the third a piece of bronze statuary—is offered for the best suggestions as to methods of awakening local interest in International Relations, and for promoting international understanding. Each manuscript is limited to 500 words, and competitors may be either individuals or clubs. The offering of prizes is always intriguing, and with Newton having fifteen clubs, and eight associates, representing about four thousand club women, it would seem that we might have a try for one of those offerings, and stand a very good chance of proving that we have been thinking not alone of our local problems but of those of the world.

Mrs. Davis, in her Conservation program, brings to us not only many of the same thoughts of other years—forestry, etc., but she bids us celebrate the centennial of Arbor Day in 1972 by planting a tree now, registering it with the American Tree Association, 1214 Sixteenth street, N. W., Washington, D. C. It would be interesting and stimulating to have some record of how many trees may be so planted in our own garden city! To establish in this way some public beauty spot—a public park or garden, or a club-house grounds—would certainly serve a double purpose.

But better yet, for the practical idea, is her suggestion that we study the subject of conservation of water-power and cheaper electricity. The possibilities for human betterment, industrial, and domestic, are amazing, in this power that may revolutionize production of necessities, and ease and cleanliness in heating our homes, or in caring for them otherwise!

The Literature Chairman, Mrs. Schrader, gives the welcome tidings of a Drama Course of six lessons, to be held at State Federation Headquarters on Tuesdays from 10 to 12 on November 10 and 24, December 15 and 29, and January 12 and 26. This will include production of plays, staging, lighting, costuming, planning of programs for clubs, study of plays, and pageantry. What a vista of wonderful programs and of utilizing of talent among our club members this opens up! It would be splendid if every club could have a representative at this course, whose enthusiasm for trying out what she learns equalled her dramatic ability.

Mrs. Culbert, the Legislative Chairman, has as yet only one matter to bring to the attention of the clubs—the initiative petition sponsored by the Massachusetts Civic League asking for a change in the Civil Service Law in regard to taking away the veterans' preference. She very wisely only asks that we inform ourselves upon this subject.

And lastly, the State Song—about which your editor told you last Spring and which she begged you to write, for the glory of Newton—has been written! That is, the poem has been chosen but the music still remains to be found. But—a peculiar circumstance—the name of its author was, by some accident, lost! so Federation Topics informs us mournfully. Of such is the fleeting joy of fame! The words are these:

O Massachusetts, old Bay State,
To thee this song we raise.
Where Pilgrim Fathers sought a shrine
In peace their God to praise,
Where loyal patriots paid the price,
May we their faith maintain
Who made for us the sacrifice,
Humanity their gain.

O Massachusetts, Beacon Light,
We'll strew thy hallowed ground
With mayflowers sweet and laurel green,
Thy heroes all to crown.
And fearlessly as in the past
Shall Massachusetts stand
For truth and nobility,
The foremost in the land.

Recent Events

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Mrs. Hiram A. Miller, the new President, entertained this club for the opening meeting of their year on September 28th. "Makers of America" is the general subject of study for the first half of the year. A detailed study of the characters of Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, and Hamilton, in Biography and in Fiction, is to be conducted by different members of the club.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club held its first meeting of the season Tuesday morning, October 6th, at the home of Mrs. G. W. St. Amant, whose hospitality is always most gracious.

The work of the first half of the year is to consist of a survey of our New England states, and this first morning was devoted to New Hampshire and Vermont.

Mrs. hCarles D. Pickard, with the topic "Stories of a New Hampshire Farm," read a tale of one monther, but typical of many, who, confronted with a choice between a home amid beautiful surroundings and modern equipment, among her children, and her old home full of treasures valuable only for associations and the memories of those gone before, chose the latter and was happy among the "things" to which she was accustomed.

Miss Margaret Haskell gave some chronicles and superstitions of the White Mts. from the days when the notches through the mountains were feared by the Indians because of their darkness, to the present when the railroad carries hundreds of travellers to the comfortable hotel on the summit of the highest peak.

The program of the morning closed with a very interesting paper on the history, industries, products, schools and cities of the wonderfully beautiful state of Vermont. But the fact was emphasized that Vermont's chief glory is not in her lifeless products but in her staunch, dependable, and honorable sons and daughters, chief among whom is, of course, the man who stands at the head of our nation today.

At the close of the program, Mrs. St. Amant's perfectly-appointed dining-room was opened and the club enjoyed a delicious luncheon prepared and served by the able Program Committee, that showed its skill in culinary as well as literary matters.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Monday evening marked the first gathering of this club, with Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, the new President, presiding most graciously. Reports of the Summer meetings of the Executive Board were read by Mrs. Walter Stevens, Recording Secretary, and the State Federation Report was delightfully and most interestingly given by Mrs. C. Frederick Rogers. Mrs. Joseph Congdon, the new District Director, was guest of honor and spoke on her duties and on "neighborliness" of clubs in the District.

Miss Adele Dowling, dramatic reader, of Emerson School of Oratory, gave two delightful readings; one on "Art Criticisms," and the other, Barrie's "Twelve Pound Look."

A reception to old and new members, refreshments, and a social hour followed.

Newton Federatoin of Women's Clubs

Notice is given of the first Board Meeting of this Federation for Monday, October 19th, at 10.15, at the Newton Club, Newtonville, with the new President, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., presiding. Plans for the year will be brought in by officers and chairmen, and policy formulated. It is important that all delegates be present to take part in the discussion and to vote. All club women are welcome, and urged to attend.

The Civics Chairman, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, is to have the last half hour of the meeting, and will present Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Mayor of Newton, who will speak on our City Government and allied topics. This is in keeping with the plan of the Executive Board to allow each chairman to present speakers on her especial subject at some one of the yearly Board meetings, with adequate time allowed to do her topic justice.

The fifteen clubs and eight associate organizations comprising the Newton Federation are already starting their activities, even though a few of them do not have open meetings this month. The first Board meeting, therefore, will serve as a clearing house for important issues, and bring the members into co-operation.

Monday Club

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands celebrates its new season by opening its meetings on Columbus Day, and, quite appropriately, looks back into America's early days, in a discussion of "Rugs," by Mrs. A. H. Armstrong, and of "Period Furniture" by Mrs. Frank Frost. The club will have for its hostess Mrs. H. E. Williams, at her home, 7 Norman road. On the title page for this club is a motto, quoted from St. Augustine, that, terse, and brief though it is, covers a broad ground, and is well worth remembrance in all club life: "In good things, Unity; in small things, Liberty; in all things, Charity.

Auburndale Woman's Club

October 13th marks the opening day for the Auburndale Woman's Club, with the business meeting at 2.30 P. M., in the Auditorium, presided over by the new President, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, and the program at 3 o'clock. Miss Laura Dalzell, a Wellesley graduate, will give a demonstration of the Noyes System of Rythmic Dancing, with her pupil dancers. This promises to be instructive and entertaining. Dancing as an art or a pleasure is a form of exercise that someway loses

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of the Newton Graphic, published weekly at Boston, Mass., for October 1, 1925.

State of Massachusetts, County of Middlesex, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared John C. Brimblecom, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Newton Graphic and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

John C. Brimblecom, Newton, Mass.

1. That the owner is: (If the publication is owned by an individual his name and address, or if owned by more than one individual the name and address of each, should be given below; if the publication is owned by a corporation the name of the corporation and the names and addresses of the stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of the total amount of stock should be given.) Newton Graphic Publishing Company with these stockholders, John C. Brimblecom, Lillie F. Brimblecom, Newton, Mass, Allston Burr, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are (If there are none, so state.)

There are none such.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

JOHN C. BRIMBLECOM.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of October, 1925.

G. L. WHITE,
Notary Public.

My commission expires Oct. 13th, 1927.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by James Clarke and Edgar W. Alexander to the West Newton Savings Bank, dated July 29, 1922, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4550, Page 360, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday, the twentieth day of October A. D. 1925, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and described in said mortgage deed as follows:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate on the Northerly side of and being now numbered 85 Auburn Street in that part of said Newton called West Newton, shown on a "Plan of Land in West Newton belonging to Thomas Robertson", dated April 25, 1894, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds at the end of Record Book 2275, bounded and described as follows:

Southerly by said Auburn Street, one hundred fifteen (115) feet;

Easterly by land now or formerly of Clara H. G. Inman, one hundred twelve and 50/100 (112.50) feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of Lucas, one hundred fifteen (115) feet more or less;

Westerly by Crescent Street, one hundred twenty-five (125) feet;

Be any or all of said measurements more or less, and containing 13,560 square feet, be the same more or less."

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments, if any there be. Three hundred dollars ($300.) will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms and conditions of sale will be announced at the sale.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

How would this parody do as a campaign song for some men in this city who would like but hesitate to oppose Mayor Childs' desire for re-election:

I want to be Mayor,
But I won't be Mayor,
If you would be Mayor, too;
Kickers may kick 'till the air becomes blue,
Yet you will come "smiling through."
I'd like to be Mayor,
But I won't be Mayor,
If you're a candidate too-oo!

"To commemorate the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus the twelfth day of October shall hereafter be a legal holiday and shall be known as Columbus Day." There you have the wording of the act of the Massachusetts General Court of 1910 by which it is possible for most of us to enjoy a brief period of rest from business next week. The statute is one of the shortest on the books. There is nothing more than given above—a single sentence. What more is needed you ask. Legally nothing. It is up to the people. Under favorable weather conditions it is one of the very finest times of year to view the woods, the reddened foliage of autumn and other glories of Nature. The larger cities go in for celebrations and usually there is a parade and other appropriate exercises. The interest of the Italian people—naturally proud of the day—is always intensive and they may be relied upon to whole-heartedly lend every effort towards the success of such a celebration. It has been our pleasure to witness such demonstrations in Boston and invariably they have proved worth while. The custom in Boston for a number of years has been to have a parade of members of the Police Department. Such a thing in Newton has never been suggested and we are not offering the idea now as one to be looked into by the city fathers. We do believe, however, that sometime a civic demonstration that would include the Police Department and the Fire Department might not be inappropriate. It pleased us to find that our thought regarding "come and see" tours for taxpayers was cordially received. In our opinion any parade showing what Newton possesses in the way of fire and police personnel and equipment would be a matter of more than ordinary interest. It need not take long and surely the cost would not be great. So much is heard of the awakening of civic consciousness and pride. Isn't it possible that the people may be aroused equally well by something in the form of a parade as well as by the eloquent words of earnest speakers? Newton can be made a livelier city—one in which the citizens find their enthusiastic appreciation for their home city growing as the municipality itself expands. We do not need noisy and commonplace celebrations, but something that has both dignity and meaning. We should like to see Columbus Day celebrated in a community spirit rather than by each one seeking out his individual entertainment.

There are a good many Newton people who will remember a lot of pleasant times spent in the Boston Theatre—that historic structure which has closed its doors for the last time. We are not qualified to indulge in lengthy personal reminiscence and would not if we could for there are many of our older readers who can do a much more complete and satisfactory job if only they would set about it. We wonder how many recall that odd little clock over the proscenium arch? No youngster who ever saw it, we venture to say, ever forgot it. Here indeed was something out of the ordinary—two squares with the figures in Roman numerals. One showed the hours and the other the minutes, or least the five-minute periods. We remember some time ago the manager of the house, it was then part of the Klaw & Erlanger interests and had not passed into the Keith hands, told us a few things about the clock. He said that there was a secret about winding it and that the only one who possessed that secret was the veteran stage-door man. This old man insisted, we were informed, upon doing the winding unobserved. It all sounded very mysterious and very interesting and proved one of the things we always remembered. We must admit that we do not know whether the clock has been run in recent years, but we have an idea that it has not. However, it wasn't the clock alone that gave us memory treasures. Besides witnessing a number of plays and participating ourselves in amateur productions on its great stage we there met some remarkable people. We shall never forget an interview with the late Oscar Hammerstein, with his quaint silk hat of the boulevard type. We shall always recall with pleasure an interview with Geraldine Farrar and the fact that this famous prima donna favored us with a great American beauty rose at its conclusion. We can well remember our struggle to understand the great Tetrazzini, who spoke so volubly in Italian and who kept both the interpreter and ourselves thinking fast while she expressed her appreciation of the people of this country. We have a lot of other things to look back at when we think of the Boston Theatre as a relic of the past. Those days of our first newspaper work included the privilege of witnessing a dress rehearsal of the revival of "Ben Hur" and an afternoon spent with the inimitable Denman Thompson during a performance of "The Old Homestead." These and other experiences crowd themselves into our mind. You naturally will say, "Then you are sorry to see the Boston Theatre pass out?" and to this we frankly reply, "Indeed we are."

Sometimes we wonder just what the mission of improvement societies may be. Somehow or other they haven't been so much in the public gaze of late. Or it may be they have taken other titles and other ways of accomplishing the purposes for which they were established. It sort of gladdened us to see that the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society had decided to make of its annual gathering next week a sort of "get together" for past and present members. In our opinion there is the secret of the success of an improvement society—a combination of the best in social and civic life. If our memory serves us, improvement societies have for the most part shown a tendency to hold meetings and invite a speaker from the outside to make the principal address. We have heard such addresses and while we have found them interesting the thought has invariably occurred to us that the business sessions should be in the form of town meetings. The trouble is with most of us that we prefer to allow somebody else to do the work. Furthermore, we are prone to criticise the earnest efforts of some individuals when they strive to start a movement to further a local improvement. It is a bit of cynicism in us that prompts us to say, "What is he looking for, public office?" After all that is sort of mean when a man or a woman, inspired only by unselfish motives, endeavors to lead the way to civic betterment. And yet, it is the old story. The work begun humbly by some unknown is carried on half-heartedly until public opinion is actually aroused. Then when the work is over and praise is to be bestowed, there is generally a group on hand to receive congratulations and the one individual to whom belongs the credit is practically overlooked or memory of him dimmed. This should not discourage those who have good ideas and by no means should improvement societies abandon their programs. Ideals are good for individuals—why not for groups of citizens?

We inadvertently discovered this Summer, while trying to show a visitor some of the most interesting places in Boston, that there is a splendid organization made up of high-minded men and women, engaged in the restoration of old dwellings. As an example we were shown the Harrison Gray Otis mansion on Cambridge street in the West End of Boston. When the widening of this famous thoroughfare is finished and the painters and decorators have done their part on the Otis mansion there will be a magnificent specimen of the architecture of other days available to the inspection of everybody. It is to be furnished after the manner of "a gentleman's home." There will also be a hall for exhibition of household and other articles of former days while the organization itself will have meeting quarters in the basement. The whole plan makes a direct appeal as one hears it outlined. And Boston isn't the only place where such things are done, for Brookline, Dedham, Medford and other cities and towns have had the same idea and carried it out in several instances with excellent effect. But where is Newton?

A man is paid for what he knows and he pays for that which he doesn't know.

HARRIS-WEBSTER

One of the notable fall weddings in this city took place last Saturday noon at the First Unitarian Church, Chestnut Hill, when Miss Mary M. Webster, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Webster became the bride of Mr. Henry P. U. Harris of New York City.

The church edifice was gay with autumn foliage combined with chrysanthemums and lilies and made a most attractive setting for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Addison Moore, D. D., the minister of the church, assisted by Rev. Dr. William G. Thayer of St. Mark's School, Southboro.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a white satin gown embellished with pearl embroidery and old lace, a train of lace and the conventional tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Surrounding her at the altar was a large company of intimate friends, adding a gay note to the beauty of the occasion in their frocks of rich geranium pink chiffon and broad black hats and black slippers, their arms filled with bright-hued flowers—Madame Dreux and yellow roses and bright blue boultonia blossoms. The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Blake of Lenox, while the eight remaining attendants included Miss Margaret Stone of New York; Miss Virginia Gardner of Dover; Miss Josephine Choate of Southboro; Miss Nell Baldwin, Miss Mary Louise Butterfield and Mrs. George S. Mumford, Jr., all of Chestnut Hill; Miss Hannah Hallowell of Milton, and Miss Margaret Bazeley, of Boston.

Mr. Harris's best man was his brother, Mr. John U. Harris of New York. Two other brothers of the bridegroom, Messrs. George U. Harris and Lement U. Harris, both of New York, and the brother of the bride, Edwin S. Webster, Jr., of Boston, were among the ushers. The remainder of the group were R. Colgate V Mann, Donald F. Bush, Jr., and Sheridan Logan, all of New York, and George Rice and Nelson Bigelow of Boston. Mr. Harris was graduated from Harvard in 1923, and belongs to the Delphic, Hasty Pudding and Iroquois Clubs.

After a wedding trip abroad Mr. and Mrs. Harris will reside in New York.

MacDONALD-GILLIES

The wedding of Miss Edith L. Gillies, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haley Gillies of Newton and Mr. Archie MacDonald of Parker street, Newton Centre took place Wednesday evening at Grace Church chapel, Newton, where the ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Raymond Lang.

The bride wore a going away gown of embroidered wine colored satin with hat to match and her only attendant was Miss Mary Keefe of Newton. Mr. Charles MacDonald of Newton Centre was the best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, 29 Pearl street, Newton, which was attractively decorated for the occasion with palms, asters and gladioli.

Following a wedding trip to New York and Pennsylvania Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will reside at 8 Belmont street, Newton, where they will be at home after November 1st.

The bride is a former art student and is at present a saxophonist in an orchestra. The groom is a former amateur bicycle champion of New England and is a professional bicycle racer.

THE NEWTON SAVINGS BANK

The Newton Savings Bank has placed in its banking room a splendid reproduction and enlargement by Bachrach of an old photograph of the Newton Bank, the first bank in Newton. This institution originated as a State Bank in 1848, and in 1865 changed its name to Newton National Bank.

The picture shows the original building erected in 1848 in Richardson Park on the exact site of the present structure now occupied by the Newton Savings Bank and the Newton Trust Company. It is described in a history of Middlesex County as follows: "A little way to the northward (meaning north from the railroad station) is the cheerless little square around which are aligned the small shops and markets of the village, with the dark brick building of the Savings and National Banks near the centre, overshadowed by magnificent trees."

While the Newton Savings Bank was organized in 1829 and incorporated in 1831 the houses of the various Treasurers were the offices of the Bank until 1863 when it occupied one half of the old Newton Bank building. In 1898 it built, with the Newton National Bank, the building which it now occupies.

INVITATION TO SINGERS

An invitation is issued to all the singers in the city of Newton and nearby places, to join the Newton Choral Society which is about to begin its seventh year. Rehearsals will be held from now on every Tuesday evening at 7.45 at Central Church, Newtonville. No examination is required of candidates for admission. The only qualification asked is that you enjoy singing and that you will attend the rehearsals regularly.

The society is very fortunte in again having as its leader, Mr. William Lester Bates, organist and choirmaster of the Second church, West Newton. Mr. Bates's hearty enthusiasm and his technical skill as a director of choral music make these meetings very interesting, and the training which he gives is very valuable to all who desire vocal practise. The fee for active members is only $2.00 a year, and high school students are received for $1.00 a year, or 50 cents for each half season.

NEWTONVILLE LAND

Henry W. Savage, Inc., has sold for Walter A. Rollins two parcels of land on Oak Cliffe road, in Newtonville, one containing 8500 sq. ft. and the other containing 9500 sq. ft. The purchaser, L. W. Eddy, plans to build two single homes available for purchasers in the spring.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, October 7—It is now apparent that the Congress will concern itself over international as well as domestic affairs. The unsatisfactory condition of the French Debt and the activities of the Inter-Parliamentary Union have brought foreign affairs to the front. There is no shortage of domestic issues which the political opportunists can seize to project themselves into the limelight.

The Inter-Parliamentary Union, which has been in session at the Capitol, was assembled for the purpose of discussing certain world questions which could obtain the benefit of collected wisdom. Though foreign dignitaries were gathered under one roof, there were no marked evidences of unusual statecraft. Instead the proceedings were marked at times by clamor and petty quarrels. The social functions were more successful than the social gatherings.

Observers here believe that the Mitchell controversy had too many press agents. Nothing particularly new, worthy to be called a sensation, was produced at the hearings. The comments of aviation experts were more or less prosaic, and old arguments were re-hashed and presented as fresh ideas. In official circles, Colonel Mitchell is regarded by some as an egotist; by others as a courageous officer; and by the more or less cynical as an obvious publicity seeker. While a large number of his critics admire his courage, opinion prevails that Mitchell could have taken other means such as resigning from the Army before attacking, rather than breaking the bonds of discipline.

The election of young LaFollette to succeed his father as senator from Wisconsin revives a delicate question. In political circles here, they are asking if the Senate will adhere to its policy of last winter and insist upon regularity among those bearing the party label. The senior LaFollette, while he lived, had a considerable following among so-called Liberal Republicans. Though his son was elected on a platform founded on his father's principles, he can never hope to attain the power of his predecessor. His extreme youth and inexperience will handicap the new senator more than his political beliefs.

By the way, the defeat of the Republican Party in Wisconsin has resulted in some caustic criticism of Senator Butler of Massachusetts, the National Chairman of the G. O. P. It is only the President's friendship for Mr. Butler that holds him fast to his post as political dictator of the Republican Party. During the last campaign, Butler and the other party chiefs did not play happily together.

While the subject of house cleaning in the Senate is frequently mentioned, there is some talk of enforcing regularity by removing Senator Borah as Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The Idaho Senator is not "a regular" Republican and is usually at odds with the administration's program, especially in foreign relations. The conservative element regard him as temperamentally unfit for this post and would like to substitute another senator for the chairmanship whose opinions coincide with the executive department's. However, the seniority rule still prevails, and it will require a tremendous amount of pressure to relieve Senator Borah from this job.

The administration is carrying out its policy of selling the American Merchant Marine to the inland voters. Commissioners of the U. S. Shipping Board are now touring the middle west speaking before farm and industrial organizations. One of the principal reasons why the Merchant Marine legislation has failed is the apathetic attitude of Congressional delegations from these inland states. The middle west has always felt that the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards were the only beneficiaries interested in water-borne commerce. The Shipping Board representatives are telling the people of the inland states that the primary need of the farmer is a broadening of the markets. They say:

"These markets must be found and reached by means of a Merchant Marine, either a foreign Merchant Marine, or the farmer's own."

It will require an intensive campaign to win the necessay votes from that section of the country. It will be recalled that Roosevelt had a similar problem on his hands when the question of the American Merchant Marine was up during his administration.

WEST NEWTON MAN KILLED

Mr. James H. Furneaux, the watchman at the Middlesex & Boston car barn at Waltham who was brutally killed by bandits early Sunday morning had been a resident of West Newton for many years, having been employed in the Cate and Smart stables. He was 68 years of age and is survived by a widow and one son, Ernest W. Furneaux, a member of the Newton Fire Department.

He was a member of the Newton Veteran Firemen's Association, and had charge for many years of their headquarters on Watertown street, West Newton.

Many employees of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company attended the funeral services Tuesday afternoon at his home at 120 Crescent street, West Newton, with Rev. Newton A. Merritt, of Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, as the officiating clergyman. The delegation from the railway company was headed by the general manager, H. H. Hanson, and there was a delegation from the Garden City Benefit Association, composed of street railway employees.

The pallbearers were Frank Moan, John Coolidge, George Gallaway, William Egan, Newton Lucas and Joseph Stickney. The burial was in Natick.

CHILDREN FOR SAFETY

The school children of the nation, says the A. L. A., seem, in a good many localities, to be bearing the brunt of the automobile accidents and fatalities. In some States, notably Connecticut, this year, the percentage so far is nearly one half and in most States it runs up to between 30 and 40 per cent. One of the reasons for this is that a full and proper impression of such dangers is not made upon the child mind. He is left too frequently to his own immature judgment. If automobile traffic continues as undoubtedly it will,—parents of small children should look a few years ahead and prepare for the safety of their offsprings when the time comes for them to be upon the streets. It is the surest of all ways to protect them against danger. It is not a hard task. It does not require any great education.

It may be thoroughly accomplished little by little each day from the earliest time a child begins to understand, and when the age of three years is reached the ordinary mishaps that make home accidents one of the greatest causes of injuries to children, will be well drilled into the mind. A parent who neglects to do this important educational duty as a part of the everyday routine is inviting upon his household the suffering and sorrow that accompany child fatalities in our streets. But there are thousands of parents in every State who are totally ignorant of the safety movement. To these may be added thousands of parents who have heard of it but who are absolutely indifferent to the message,—parents who trust to luck, who take chances themselves, who are not only willing their children do the same, but who actually encourage them to be venturesome, believing the experience beneficial. Such parents, declares the A. L. A., have not yet seen the light and they must be reached and shown their error. How is it to be done? asks the A. L. A.

If "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and if the school authorities of every State can be made to realize it and are willing to make the attempt to reach and enlighten parents on the hazards of the streets and homes that confront their children, it need not be a complicated or expensive undertaking.

Every teacher of small school children could be cheaply supplied with leaflets or even one small sheet, at regular intervals—say each week or two, calling the attention of parents to the constant need of warning their children of all forms of danger.

Short, pointed and helpful information should be printed thereon and these given to the school children with the request they be taken home to their parents. This method would not only create in parents an interest in safety work, but would also bring to them much useful information that perhaps in no other way would ever reach them.

A year of such effort would result in an immense amount of safety knowledge being broadcasted throughout the country, says the A. L. A., and would bring to the aid of all safety organizations an influence from the homes of incalculable value.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Newton League of Women Voters held its first meeting of the season on Monday, October 5 at the home of Mrs. Percy E. Woodward.

The evening was spent in discussion of the questions to be voted upon at the meeting of the State League on October 8.

Opinion varied widely as to whether women should be made eligible for jury service some believing that women are so much more emotional than men as to be unfitted for such service, others that they could develop so as to be as valuable as men and in some cases more so.

Raising the school age of children is viewed, according to a report from the mothers of the Stearns School Centre, with much disapproval, partly because the school curriculum is not at present well adapted to the needs of working children.

Preference for veterans in the Civil Service was discussed. The Massachusetts law provides that any veteran who attains a mark of 65 per cent in the civil service examinations shall be placed on the eligible list above all non-veterans of whatever standing. And a "veteran" is not of necessity a man who served at the front; he may be one who spent a short time in a training camp or even a student who received college training at government expense. In view of the expense and injury to the public service involved in such preference to "veterans" the League approved changing the Massachusetts system to correspond with the Federal provisions. This means adding 5 per cent to the mark by which any able-bodied veteran passed an entrance examination and 10 per cent to the mark of a disabled veteran.

Much interest was aroused by an account of some of the abuses connected with the custom of presenting petitions to the General Court.

The cost of paper and printing for an average bill is $24.00. One petitioner in 1924 and 1925 filed so many that half a ton of paper was required to print them; another in the same time filed more than 70 bills; others have filed bills and after they have been printed have asked permission to withdraw them.

In view of such facts the League approved the plan to require a fee of $2.00 from any person filing a petition for a bill or resolve. This requirement would not apply to municipalities or their officers or to reports required by law.

In consideration of the importance of some of he subjects proposed for study by the State and National Leagues, the Newton League voted to receive at each meeting two papers one of which shall deal with some matter of local politics or administration and one with a topic of broader scope.

The next meeting of the League will be addressed by Mrs. Arthur G. Rotch, President of the State League and will be held at the home of Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden.

OPENING CHAPTERS OF A NEW STORY FOR BOSTON GLOBE READERS

."THE MISSING MILLIONS" —How a beautiful girl lived in terror of her life and how Scotland Yard was stumped.

A thrilling yarn by Edgar Wallace, the famous detective story writer.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Association of Central Church, Newtonville, met on Wednesday morning. Sewing was under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Bennett, and Mrs. A. E. Vose was chairman of the surgical dressings. The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. L. E. McCertney and Mrs. Eugene Rust was chairman of the serving committee. Baskets of autumn flowers and yellow candles made the tables attractive. Mrs. W. H. Allen, the president, gave a cordial welcome to the 34 new members. She introduced the new blue year book whose color suggests "A summer day filled with sunshine." Two hundred and fifty-one members are enrolled in the book.

As a timely reminder of the need for silence when the president is speaking, Mrs. C. A. Richardson presented Mrs. Allen with a child's drum decked with carnations. Another laugh was caused by the witty manner in which Mrs. Myron Davis gave her plans for the rummage sale. "No more exasperated collectors because door bells are cranky, and members gone to town, forgetting to put their bundles on doorsteps." This is all to be corrected by neighborhood collectors who will have everything in readiness for autos to take them to the salesroom in West Newton.

Mrs. W. E. Strong who is soon leaving for the Orient announced that Mrs. John W. Byers and Mrs. Horton E. Allen would carry on the work of the "Seaman's Friend Society" in her absence.

Miss Belle Nugent of Satara, India, described her work in the hostel for children. There are tiny babies dulled and stunted by opium. Among mill workers infant mortality is 828 out of 1000. It requires two or three years of care before there is any apparent gain in the opium fed babies. Children in the school are taught neatness and cleanly ways of living through the object lessons of brightening their brass plates till they shine like gold, of washing their frocks, bathing, and dressing their hair properly. The children trained in the school can be identified among others. One boy asked his mother, "Why don't you become a Christian? Your gods don't listen to you." Miss Nugent has a vision of a church at Satara some day if friends will give aid. Already a lot has been bought and the native helpers are giving generously of their salary of $18 a month. "Ours is a work of faith," Miss Nugent says, "as but 21 per cent of salary is paid by the boards. There is a government grant and the remainder must be solicited."

And during the famine there were 325 women and children to be fed.

As usual Mrs. Allen gave the keynote of joy in work and aptly quoted from "The Voice of the Task"—

"I have a rendezvous with work;
Be glad, my soul, and sing,
Life's call and test I may not shirk
But catch their challenging.
Today I face a serving task;
So to it let me bring
The quick response the day shall ask
With merry heart and ring."

COMMUNITY THEATRE

The program as arranged by the Community Theatre management to commence Sunday, October 11th is probably the strongest double bill that has been presented, either picture being worthy of first position in any theatre.

In order to accommodate all those desiring to witness the performance on the evening of Columbus Day, plans have been made to open the Newton Theatre (Newton Opera House), where exactly the same program will be presented. The two houses are capable of seating upwards of 2500 people.

Richard Barthelmess, supported by Dorothy Mackaill and an all-star cast, appears in the most delightfully appealing picture of his spectacular career, "Shore Leave." Originally produced as a stage production by David Belasco, the story, revolving around the life and habits of a young Jack Tar, abounds in comedy and has for its setting some of the largest ships of Uncle Sam's first line of defense.

The companion picture, "Wild Horse Mesa," adapted from the story by Zane Grey, undoubtedly the most popular writer of stories of the early West, includes in its cast Jack Holt, Noah Beery, Billie Dove, and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Lovers of Western melodrama, will be satisfied in the highest degree. The hero and his prize stallion come in contact with numberless thrilling experiences.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The Blue Triangle Club for business and professional girls, held its first Recognition Service for the season last evening, and took into its membership the following eight girls: Phyllis Allen, Muriel Anderson, Alice Babbitt, Miss A. Freeman, Donata Lombardie, Helen Maher, Paula Melanson, Helen Van Buskirk. After this a most enjoyable social evening was spent in charge of Miss Paula Melanson.

Friday, at seven thirty, the Senior Girl Reserves will meet for a business meeting, after which Miss Leathers—our new Executive Secretary — will lead a discussion on "Girls, a Bundle of Habits."

Plans are being made for the opening of the gymnasium class Tuesday, October 13th. There will be a class for adults at seven thirty and basketball at eight thirty.

The children's gymnasium—comprising girls from nine to twelve years—will begin on Wednesday, October 14th, at four o'clock.

Groups of girls are meeting at the Association rooms on Thursday evenings at seven-twenty for bowling, which is held at the Young Men's Christian Association. If there is sufficient demand other groups will meet on Wednesday evenings to go to the Brookline swimming tank.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers will hold their annual fall tournament October 10th and 12th on their range at the Pleasant street side of the Newton Centre playground. Shooting is scheduled to begin at 10 A. M. each day, with an intermission for a basket lunch. Saturday the men will shoot a York Round (100, 80, and 60 yards) and the ladies a National Round, (60 and 50 yards).

Monday the men will shoot the American Round (60, 50 and 40 yards) and the ladies the Columbia Round (50, 40 and 30 yards). Visitors are welcome.

BOSTON & WORCESTER STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

adopts Another Popular Feature for Improved Rapid Transit Service.

ON Monday, October 12, 1925, the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company will introduce a non-stop service in the cities of Boston and Worcester for the greater convenience of its patrons.

Between Chestnut Hill, Brookline, and Park Square, Boston, and between Lake Quinsigamond, Shrewsbury, and Salem Square, Worcester, stops will be made, on inbound trips, to discharge passengers only, and, on outbound trips, to permit only passengers, whose destination is some point on the lines of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company, to board cars.

This improved service has been made possible through the co-operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Company, over whose lines terminal connections are made.

Transfers are not issued to, nor accepted from, cars of the Boston Elevated Railway Company or Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Company. Patrons desiring transfer privileges on these lines should change at Chestnut Hill or Lake Quinsigamond respectively, and pay fare to these points only.

Zone coupon tickets will be accepted through to Park Square from any point on the Boston & Worcester Street Railway. Buy coupon tickets on sale at Agencies.

connection with all thought of the drudgery of the word "exercise," retaining only its fascination and enjoyment. The program will be followed by a reception, social hour, and tea.

Professional Women's Club

The same day, at two o'clock, begins the year for the Professional Women's Club of Boston. This meeting will be held at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, and the new President, Mrs. Helen Willard Howard, makes her first appearance. There will be short reports of the State Federation Meeting at Wampscott last May, and of the recent New England Conference at Pound Springs, given by Marion H. Brazier. Club women do not need to be told that this means information given with the sense of humor for which Miss Brazier has become noted in all her club activities. The program of ther entertainment will be music and readings: Mrs. Mae Shepard Hayward, soprano; Bertha Everett Morgan, reader; Edna Colter Stearns, mezzo-soprano; Ida B. Harding, accompanist; and Mme. Edith Noyes Greene, pianist. Mme. Greene will play her own compositions. The Reception and tea will follow at three-thirty, when guests will be admitted.

Newton Community Club

The Year Book of this club promises many attractive features, some carrying on ideas that have worked out well in former years, and some undertaking experiments that ought to be successful and interesting. Classes include six lectures on Current Events, classes in beginning and advanced French, and a reading group for enjoyment of new books, as have been in vogue in the past. The Music Committee announces the engagement of Rev. Earl Harper to form and conduct a Choral Class. A chorus is not new to this club, but has not been indulged in recently. Art classes and a series of Spring lectures on Garden and Nature Lore are new ventures and undoubtedly most alluring. The opportunity to enjoy a Fashion Class conducted by Filene, and a series of lectures, also conducted by them, beginning in November, on "Color and Line," and lectures on Child problems to be given at the North Bennett Street Industrial School, are also listed.

The New Committee on Public Health suggests the outdoor sports of their department, with hikes, and swimming, tennis and dancing, riding, golf, and calisthenics.

The first Current Event lecture—which course is to be given by Mrs. Ida Carter-Boyer, comes on November 5th. All those desiring to join this course should apply at once to the Treasurer, Miss Margaret Aubin. The French classes should be applied for to Miss Dorothy L. Simpson, before November 1.

The Style Show on "Heads and Hats," and tea at Filene's, comes November 12th, at 3.15 P. M. This includes hair-dressing as well, a fact that we may see borne out opportunely that evening, which is Guest Night, though there is danger in having this affair on the same date as a club meeting, since it may be so enticing that members will arrive home too late and too excited to go out for the evening!

A class in Lustre Painting on Glass, Tin, and Lamp Bases will meet Tuesday mornings for six weeks, beginning October 27th.

On Monday mornings during November and December, there will be an really fascinating class in Furniture Painting and Refinishing of Antiques. Other interesting things are planned for later in the Winter in art work, and in the Spring in garden suggestions. With thoughts of redecoration, which always come with the cool, crisp days of going indoors, and with Christmas already pressing into our minds, furniture painting and tin painting sound very attractive. Perhaps during the Summer, on some of those trips into the country, too, some of you have picked up antiques, that just need a skilled touch to bring out their rare beauty.

And as if these classes were not enough to arouse our interest we learn that this club is to join others of Newton in having a club bulletin, published under the able management of Mrs. Dale Brown. The club, having served at school age, of course must turn to write, and becoming thrilled with the use of pencil and paper, it not of essays a bulletin, but it realizes that it has come to the time when a story should be kept of its precious doings, before all that has occurred in its exciting, though short, life is forgotten, so it has also appointed a Club Historian, and to Miss Julie Fisher falls the honor of the Chronicles. Miss Fisher, being one of the charter members, should be able to think back and pick out all the brilliant achievements of this remarkable child!

LODGES

Allhousie Lodge of Masons will have a dinner and entertainment at the next meeting on Wednesday.

Allhousie Lodge of Masons will receive an official visit on October 21st from the District Deputy, Henry P. Ash.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The initial year of the Newton Credit Bureau, organized in June of 1924 and maintained under the general direction of the Mercantile Division of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, has been very successful, and a study of its activities during the twelve-month period indicates in many ways the need for authentic credit information by the business men of the city. The extent to which the local merchants and others have subscribed to the service—and have used it—has far exceeded the expectations of those most instrumental in establishing the bureau and in making available all kinds of dependable credit information on short notice. With the record of a full year of progress and accomplishment, the second year is expected to be even more successful and present indications point to the continual rendering of service to a gradually extending group of subscribers.

Eighty-one individuals and business organizations subscribed to the service of the Newton Credit Bureau during its first year, thus insuring an adequate income to cover all operating expenses, provide a substantial part of the needed equipment, and to leave a small cash balance to be applied to the second year.

All reports are rendered on a strictly confidential basis especially in regard to the sources of information, these not being revealed to even the subscriber. The operation of the bureau has gradually been made more and more efficient, until nearly all reports are made within two or three hours after requested, and sometimes within a few minutes. A majority of the strictly local reports deal with the credit responsibility of new residents of Newton in which the reciprocal relations with other credit bureaus are of material assistance.

The number of reports rendered during the first year of service was 828 an average of more than ten reports to each subscriber.

The busiest month of the initial year was May of this year, when 115 reports were given, and next busiest was October, 1924, when 103 were rendered.

An encouraging feature of the analysis of the first year of the Newton Credit Bureau has been that a large majority of the reports rendered have been favorable to the credit applicant, although some have been the reverse and there are probably but few of the eighty-one subscribers who have consistently used the service who have not saved substantial sums of money. That the Newton Credit Bureau is to become a permanent institution with a continuously widening field of service and influence—to both the individual and the community—seems apparent to all conversant with the results of its first year's activity.

INSTALLATION AT AUBURNDALE

Troop 15 recently formed at the Auburndale Congregational Church, will be formally installed by Scout Commissioner Carley on the evening of Oct. 13. He will be assisted by scouts from Troop 10 of Waban. Parents of the boys and other friends of the troop are urged to be present.

TO PRESERVE CABIN OCCUPIED BY TWAIN

Reno Park to Have Abode of Famous Humorist.

It is in the ghost city of Aurora, Nev., that Mark Twain wrote "Roughing It." The cabin that he occupied still stands just about as he left it, "E. N. R." writes in the Kansas City Times. Here and there can be seen the marks of souvenir hunters, but in most respects the cabin is in a good state of preservation. The stove upon which he did his own cooking, covered with rust and grime, is just as it was when he took the stage that carried him on the first lap of his journey to the East and world fame.

In one corner of the cabin is the wooden bunk upon which one can imagine Mark Twain lay weaving in his mind many of his western romances, as he watched the smoke rings from his old pipe floating lazily upward to join the cobwebs on the ceiling. As I sit here on the edge of Mark Twain's old bunk writing these brief notes I have a feeling that his spirit is hovering near.

When word was received recently that citizens of Mono Lake, Cal., were starting a movement to remove the Mark Twain cabin to that place, a few Nevada old-timers suddenly awoke to a realization of the value of this early-day treasure and bestirred themselves to keep it within the borders of the state that has a greater claim on this man who made the whole world smile with his quaint humor and homely philosophy. Arrangements have now been completed to transport the cabin and its historic contents to the Wingfield park at Reno. The surprising thing is that this was not done long ago.

Walking through the streets of this most interesting of Nevada's ghost cities, a vision comes to one of its past hectic days, the days when daytime and nighttime in Aurora were one and the same, when the merry click of the roulette wheels could be heard at all hours of the night or day, when the doors of its many dance halls were never closed, and one can understand whence came the inspiration for Mark Twain's unrivaled tales of those pioneer days, the like of which will never be seen again.

It is truly a deserted village. Not a human being in sight. No sign of animal life. Nothing but empty and deserted buildings. Along the main street stands a three-story brick hotel, several two-story bricks, others of one story, all still in very good condition. Many of these buildings compare favorably with similar structures in such cities as Reno. The doors of most of these buildings are open for all who wish to enter; a few have iron bars across the doors, but with windows broken one can easily see all within. In one of these is a hearse, upon which it is said the absent owner still pays taxes, just why no one knows; it may be he thinks the camp will some day stage a "comeback," a trick that Nevada ghost cities have.

The building once used as a courthouse, where justice was dispensed in the true and easy pioneer style, has its jail doors wide open, swinging back and forth with every breeze that sweeps down the once-busy street. In one of the cells is a chain shackled to the floor, indicating the strenuous character of some of its former occupants. In another cell are four dusty coffin lids, gruesome evidence of the old days when men were wont to shoot first and talk afterward.

In one of the one-story bricks stands a long bar and back of it a bevel glass mirror, and in front the shattered evidence of the familiar brass rail upon which rested the feet of many men who later became prominent in the business and financial affairs of San Francisco and other Pacific coast cities. With feet on this rail, and with the tinkling of glasses, men made deals involving thousands of dollars. Those were free and easy days, as the old-timers will tell you with many a sigh and lonesome look.

It was amidst such scenes and such environment as this that America's foremost humorist spent his young manhood days.

Kidd's Treasure Again

When the Westchester county park commission opened bids at White Plains, N. Y., for the removal of Money hill, on the Hudson river at Croton, it inserted a clause in the contract that if any of Captain Kidd's treasure was unearthed from the hill it was to be turned over to the commission. Money hill was so named owing to a legend that Captain Kidd buried some of his treasure there. Residents thereabout have frequently reported finding Spanish pieces-of-eight and other coins of ancient mintage.

Useful Glue

Here is a glue any housewife can make. It's so simple and will serve many household purposes. Just dissolve one tablespoonful of ordinary cooking gelatin in from two to two and a half tablespoonfuls of boiling water. Boil a few seconds and add a little sugar while still hot.

A woman who uses it says it will effectually stick paper or cloth to metal, wood or glass and do this without leaving a stain.

Just So

"How did the accident happen?"

"Why, I dimmed my lights and was hugging the curve."

"Yeah, that's how most accidents happen."—Judge.

Mean Trick Played on Indian Water Goddess

It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of the large artificial lakes that have been made in all parts of India, for upon the regular supply of water from them the agriculturists depend for the growth of their crops.

Many of these tanks have been built at great expense, and it is not surprising that the protection of some god or goddess is necessary for the peace of mind of the people.

A collection of legends connected with such tanks would not be without interest. In the Kadur district of the Mysore state, there is a large artificial reservoir, known as Ayyankore, well known to planters who frequently enjoy duck shooting there.

The legend connected with this lake is as follows: Though the goddess of the neighborhood permitted the construction of the bund, which held up the waters of the river, she was never really pleased about the matter. After a number of years her patience was exhausted, and when the waterman, in charge of the sluices, visited the place in the early morning, she accosted him, and then informed him that she had determined to destroy the bund, and allow the waters to flow in their usual course. The waterman thought of the king and the royal family, and the thousands of people in the town of Sacrapatna below.

Falling down before the goddess he pleaded that he might be permitted to go to the town and inform the people of the impending disaster, so that they, at least, might be saved. The goddess relented, and declared that she would not destroy the dam until the waterman returned to tell her that the necessary warning had been given. Delighted to be able to convey the warning to the king, the waterman ran to the town, and obtained permission to see the king.

On hearing the condition laid down by the goddess, the king quickly saw a way of escape. He immediately gave orders that the waterman's head should be cut off, so that he should not be able to return to the goddess. Hence it is that the dam still holds. The goddess still waits patiently for the coming of the waterman, and holds faithfully to her promise.

Great Eastern Writer

The name "Voltaire of the East" is applied to Omar Khayyam, whose Rubaiyat is familiar to every reader. Because of his purity of diction, his fine wit, crushing satire and general sympathy with suffering humanity, he strongly resembles the great Frenchman. His poetical renown is based on his quatrains, a collection of about 500 epigrams which Fitzgerald has done into English. But Omar, the Persian tentmaker, was more than a poet; his favorite studies were mathematics and astronomy. His standard work on algebra written in Arabic, together with other treatises of similar character, raised him to the foremost rank of the mathematicians of his time. At the request of the sultan he conducted extensive researches in astronomy which were instrumental in reforming the calendar of his day. He died 1123 A. D.—Kansas City Star.

Use Radio to Find Mines

That radio methods will come into greater use in prospecting for unknown beds of mineral was the prediction made to the British Association for the Advancement of Science by Prof. Sherwin F. Kelly of the University of Toronto. After reviewing the numerous electrical methods that have been employed more or less successfully in geological work, Professor Kelly described in detail the processes in which an audio-frequency current is introduced into the outcrop of a mineral-bearing vein or rock formation, the mineral body being then traced underground by means of the strength of the audio-frequency field on the surface of the ground. The current tends to follow the more highly conducting layers of rock.

Did His Best

A young couple, recently married, had been riding with some friends. On reaching home the bride hurried the new husband up to the apartment with orders to start the coffee boiling, while she made a few necesary purchases at a neighboring store. Her consternation at the absent-minded and well-meaning husband was beyond bounds when on hurrying into the kitchen she found the coffee boiling in the new electric percolator on top of the new gas stove, well surrounded by a high flame.—Indianapolis News.

Writers

In a pretty large experience I have not found the men who write books superior in wit or learning to those who don't write at all. In regard of mere information, nonwriters must often be superior to writers. You don't expect a lawyer in full practice to be conversant with all kinds of literature; he is too busy with his law; and so a writer is commonly too busy with his own books to be able to bestow attention on the works of other people.—Thackeray.

No Race Suicide

A resident of Indianapolis tells the story of a woman who lives in his neighborhood, who had her first hospital experience recently as a guest of one of the local hospitals on the occasion of the birth of her sixteenth child. One of her friends who called on her before her return to her home, found her very enthusiastic over the treatment given her in the institution.

"I'm coming here every time after this," she said.

NO-NOX, THE NEW GULF MOTOR FUEL, PROVES THE GULF CLAIMS

The Gulf Refining Company report an unexpected sale of NO-NOX and customers are lavish in their praise of this new fuel. The Gulf Refining Company have been very conservative in their advertising of NO-NOX as they say they do not wish to "bull" their customers on this gas—they would rather its merits be discovered by their patrons—they are ready to stand back of the guarantee that NO-NOX will stop carbon knocks and that it contains nothing harmful to man or motor. An anti-knock or stop-knock fuel that really accomplishes its mission is worth the price to any motorist, says an officer of the Gulf Refining Company, as the average consumption of gasoline during the year is about five hundred gallons per car which figures, at three cents additional per gallon, the small sum of $15.00 per annum. The added power efficiency is worth that, not to mention the saving in wear and tear on motor and chassis of insufficient combustion, etc. There seems to be no doubt as to the Gulf Refining Company having at last found the real remedy for carbon knocks.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION

Fifty-three boys and girls from the Primary and Junior Departments of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church attended the first session of the week day school of religious instruction, which was held last Tuesday afternoon. The school exceeded the expectations of those in charge from every standpoint. Classes will be held every Tuesday afternoon during the winter from two to four o'clock.

The Primary Department, which comprises the first three grades of public schools, approximately meets separately for their program. While in the worship period and the music period the children meet together, the three classes in the department meet separately for their course of instruction. The music period in the Junior Department, which is made up of the fourth to sixth grade children of the public school approximately, is in charge of Mr. Post, Director of Music for the Church. From this group a boys' and girls' choir will be selected. An outlined course of study is being followed by the children in the older group in their class work.

More than double the time at present alloted for religious instruction in the former program will be given in the present one. If the first meeting is an indication effective work will be carried on such as would be impossible at the Sunday meetings of the department.

Teachers are—first grade, Mrs. Robert MacGregor; second grade, Miss Ruth Doggett; third grade, Mrs. Frank Simmons; fourth grade, Mrs. Herbert Blair; fifth grade, Miss Marian Lants, and sixth grade, Miss Dorothy Bellamy. The school is under the supervision of Mr. H. L. Stright, Director of Religious Education for the Church.

This is the first program of week day religious education to be put on in Newtonville. It will be watched with a great deal of interest by those interested in the modern program of religious education for children.

ORDWAY—CHESTER

The wedding of Mr. Warren Ordway of Gibbs street, Newton Centre and Miss Elizabeth Rich Chester of Brookline, took place last Saturday afternoon at Trinity Church, Newton Centre. The church was decorated with cedar trees and sweet alyssum, and the pews reserved for members of the two families were marked off by lighted candles. The Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her cousin, Mr. Charles Davidson, and given in marriage by her mother, wore white satin fashioned with long full train over which fell the veil of tulle and old lace held in place with sprigs of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies and jasmine as well as the white prayer book carried by her mother at her bridal. The matron of honor, Mrs. William Marquis, her sole attendant, wore a bouffant-skirted dress of peche-tinted taffeta. Her hat was a picture model of black velvet and her flowers, tea roses and autumn larkspur.

Mr. Lawrence Shaw Mayo of West Newton was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Starr McG. Pierce of Boston; George M. Hall of Brockton; Horace W. Hall and Aldrich Taylor of Newton Center; Stafford Johnson of Newton and Minton W. Warren of Cambridge.

Mrs. Charles B. Moore, an old friend of the Chester family, held the wedding reception in her home at 147 Sumner street, Newton Centre. After the reception Mr. Ordway and his bride left on their honeymoon, a wedding trip by motor car through Canada. Upon their return they will take up their residence at 67 Elgin street, Newton Centre.

Mr. Ordway graduated from Harvard in 1910. He is a member of the Harvard Club and the Brae-Burn Country Club.

The Light From Within.

He that has light within his own clear breast may sit in the center and enjoy bright day.—Milton.

Parrot Long Esteemed

Aristotle spoke of parrots as did a writer who lived a century before him, the latter describing a bird that could imitate sound and speak the Indian or the Greek language, making it over two thousand years that this member of the feathered tribe has been known to talk. Even if parrots had not been able to speak they would have attracted attention because of their brilliant plumage. They used to be favorite pets in Rome, where the great ladies kept them in cages of tortoise shell and silver wire. As the Romans of those days appreciated beautiful fowls more thoroughly when served at table (such as roast peacock garnished with their own feathers), so did they esteem the parrot as a choice delicacy.

Inconstant

The critic was talking about love.

"Good writers," he said, "never treat love is an immorta! and divine thing. Poor writers always do.

"Poor writers go on about love ridiculously. They are like young Jack Hoskins.

"'I like you, Mr. Hoskins,' a pretty girl said to young Jack. 'But I like Mr. Hemingway, too. Mr. Hemingway,' she added with a simper, 'says he thinks about me 365 days in the year.'

"'Huh! He wants one day off every four years, does he?' said Jack Hoskins. 'Surely Miss Fetherstonhaugh—Ethel—surely you don't compare a lukewarm attachment like that to a burning passion such as mine!'"

Speed of Riveting Hammers

Riveting hammers are made with six, eight and nine-inch strokes, and the speed of the piston depends somewhat on the length of the hammer. The speed of the piston also depends on the piston; the short piston running more rapidly than a long piston. These piston speeds will vary from ten to sixteen blows per second, or from 600 to 1,000 blows per minute. The faster speeds are commonly found in shipbuilding and carbuilding plants, and the slower speeds are found in boiler shops.

DISEASE CAME FROM EUROPE

No Record Of, or Name for, Malaria, Has Been Found Among the American Indians.

The slow diseases which sap vitality do not have spectacular records, but in the long run the damage which they do is incalculably greater than that of epidemics, writes Herbert J. Spinden in the World's Work. Malaria, for instance, is a greater obstacle today to the development of the tropics than yellow fever ever was, although the latter could accomplish much at one fell swoop. For one thing the effects of malaria reach around the globe and into nearly all its habitable parts.

The three kinds of malaria are described by the Greek physician Hippocrates and the names which we use today are of Roman origin. The two-day fever is called tertian, or third, because the Romans counted both ends of any numerical sequence, and the three-day fever is called quartan, which means fourth. There is no good evidence that malaria existed in America before the discovery. We do not find terms for it in American Indian language nor do we find any records that the early explorers in Central and South America suffered from this disease. For instance Cortes led an army across the base of the peninsula of Yucatan, through a region of swamps and flooded streams where today malaria is rife in every village, yet we find no mention of this illness among any of his troops or Indian burden bearers.

CAN GO LONG WITHOUT FOOD

Healthy Human Being, Drinking Plenty of Water, Will Survive Fast of Forty Days.

Some weeks ago a pig disappeared from its sty on a Cornish farm. Search was made, but the creature could not be found, and was given up for lost.

Twenty-four days later a man passing an old mineshaft heard something below, and made a search. There was poor piggy, some thirty feet down, quite unhurt, and it was speedily got out.

It was thin, but otherwise not a bit the worse, and at once started feeding ravenously, says London Answers.

It takes a long time to starve a fat pig, which can actually lose half its weight before it dies. Most full-grown animals can go without food for a long time, and can lose as much as two-fifths of their weight before succumbing. An exception is the mole, which, when deprived of food, starves to death in less than 48 hours.

A healthy human being can fast 40 days if he or she takes plenty of water. A case is on record of a woman going 43 days without food, during which time her weight decreased from 143 to 99 pounds.

Children cannot fast for long without fatal consequences. They collapse after a fast of three to five days, and lose a quarter of their weight.

Snakes, of course, are the champion fasters. The big python in the zoo recently went more than two years without a meal.

How to Get Used to Noises.

"What I like about the neighborhood," insisted the enthusiastic resident of Brooklyn Heights, "is the quiet. No trolleys, no elevated roar, no heavy trucks thundering through our streets, no sound from the subway. Why, I think—"

"Just a minute," objected his friend from across the bridge. "You live so near the harbor that your back door is virtually a dock, and yet you have the nerve to tell me that yours is a quiet neighborhood. What about the tugs and harbor craft that go tooting up and down the bay all night?"

"Well," admitted the Brooklynite, "I do remember hearing a toot or two the first few nights I lived there. But I never hear 'em now."

"Exactly," said the Manhattan man. "Just what I thought. Used to 'em now. That's just the way the elevated and the two-ton trucks affect me now. Any neighborhood's quiet if you live there long enough."—New York Sun.

A Quack Quacks.

A quack cure for the evils of reckless driving is offered by a psychologist, who says the slow, nervous driver who has in his mind or his subconsciousness the vision of a wreck is the one who goes headlong into a crash. "Instead of a vision of the accident and how it happens the driver must have a clear vision of how to drive correctly" in critical situations.

Every seventeen-year-old driver of a light delivery truck proceeds with perfect self-confidence, proceedin: in many cases without regard to the rights of other drivers, feeling that the impressive displacement of his vehicle in the atmosphere ahead of the driver of a passenger vehicle will warn that driver not to stand up for his rights, has a clear vision of how to drive. He sees himself hogging the road and getting away with it.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

True Sacrificial Spirit.

Dad was having one of his economical fits. Bluebelle received a solemn caution to cut down on expenses. Dad pointed out a number of things the government was taxing and declared that more would be added to the list. He said he had even heard it rumored that the authorities were contemplating slapping a tax on bridge games.

The girl was not greatly disturbed.

"All right," chirped Bluebelle. "I'm willing to play bridge all day long for my country."

FITZGERALD—KING

The wedding of Miss Mary D. King, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. King of Beacon street, Waban, and Mr. Francis E. Fitzgerald of Newton Upper Falls, took place Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. T. A. Curtin, the pastor, at 4.30 o'clock.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white Chantilly lace over satin, her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower boquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Margaret F. King, was her maid of honor, and was in coral crepe de chine, with large black velvet hat and carried a boquet of butterfly roses.

Mr. Joseph Fitzgerald, brother of the groom, was the best man, and the ushers were Messrs. James W. Fitzgerald and Joseph C. King.

A reception was held at the home of the bride that evening from six to nine o'clock, the house being attractively decorated with autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald are enjoying a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City and Washington.

Laughter Killed Love.

I thought quite a lot of a little neighbor boy. One day while over there visiting, I was standing in the dining room watching his mother scrub and talking to both of them. All at once his mother said, "Watch out." I thought I was in her way, so stepped back quickly. Alas! a tub of water was directly behind me and I sat down in it. My little friend laughed at me till he couldn't laugh any longer. My love for him died then and there.—Chicago Journal.

TWENTY FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Fine Record of Accomplishments To the Credit of the Upper Falls Improvement Association

A well attended symphony concert was given in the Emerson School hall Wednesday evening by the Italian Symphony Ensemble. The occasion was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society. The Society was formed in 1900 and chose for its motto, "the improvement, betterment and general welfare of our village." The following officers served during the first year: Lewis P. Everett, president; William Hopkins, vice-president; John Temperley, secretary; and John A. Gould, treasurer. The officers for the year 1925-6 are: Mrs. Charles Mills, president; Lewis P. Everett, vice-president; William H. Warren, secretary, treasurer.

Among the achievements accomplished by the society are numbered the following: one-half the cost of the land for the village playground met by the society. Contributions made for seats and to the annual outing for the children. Contributions of reference books to the reading room, installation of a telephone and meeting of the charges for the first year. In the Emerson school the Society installed electric lights in the kindergarten and at the entrance to the building and contributed $100 for pictures to the building when it was completed. During the war the society presented a service flag in a glass case, donated to the Memorial Tablet and met the expense of the dedication exercises of the tablet. The Society also has given prizes for the best kept places. Perhaps one of the most important of the society's achievements has been the taking over of the Wade schoolhouse and fitting up the first floor as a hall. This gives the village a moving picture house and meeting place for many events. The upkeep of the building is the constant care of the association.

During the intermission, Miss Ethel W. Sabin spoke of the founding of the organization by a handful of residents who were interested in the welfare of the village. At that time Mr. William Hopkins suggested that a mail box be placed outside of the postoffice so that mail could be posted on Sundays and holidays. This was the first improvement made by the society.

She introduced Mayor Edwin O. Childs who congratulated the society on its achievement. He said that the church was the organized conscience of the community and the improvement association the organized civic spirit and that both were needed for the welfare of a village. Speaking of the petitions which come to his office the Mayor stated that it was often hard to believe that many of the persons who signed petitions, simply because someone asked them to, really desired the things asked for but when the petition came from the society that it was a real earnest request. The society makes for efficient citizenship the Mayor claimed and he felt that, outside of its mayor, that the city had a good government. Also, the society educates public opinion and places human

FALL RALLY

The Sixteenth Annual Field Rally of the Boston District Epworth League was held at the Centenary M. E. Church, Auburndale on Monday, October 12, 1925.

The afternoon session opened with a Worship Service under the leadership of Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale. A choir of Auburndale Leaguers, Miss Dorothy Barry as cornetist and Miss Pearl Hilliard as organist, assisted at this service.

The devotions were led by the Rev. Robert L. Taylor of Oak Square M. E. Church, Brighton.

Miss Dorothy Barry played a cornet solo.

The Rev. Edson R. Leach of First M. E. Church, Lynn, was the speaker of the afternoon.

The year's work was outlined by the president of the District, Miss Mabel Arnold of Roxbury.

Each district officer held a conference with the circuit and local officers of the same department. Three hundred and forty-nine responded to the afternoon roll call. Following the conferences an Outdoor Frolic was held. The Auburndale Chapter furnished supper to about 300.

The evening session opened with a sing under the direction of Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale, with Miss Elizabeth Schulz at the piano.

Rev. L. H. Blackburn of Parkman Street M. E. Church, Dorchester, led the evening devotions. Miss Elizabeth and Miss Pearl Hilliard at the organ. Schulz played two piano solos.

The Watertown Epworth League presented a missionary sketch, "A Life for a Life."

Rev. Ralph E. Lairs of the Newton Centre M. E. Church gave the address of the evening.

The South Walpole Epworth League received a pennant for having the largest percentage of members present. Their percentage was 96.2.

Four hundred and forty responded at the evening roll call. Between 30 and 40 churches of Greater Boston were represented.

This rally was one of the largest in several years.

NEW LIBRARIAN

Mr. Julius Lucht has been appointed Librarian of the Newton Free Library, to take up his duties the first of November. Mr. Lucht is of Dutch origin. His father, a Lutheran clergyman, came with his wife to this country just after the Civil War and settled in Davenport, Iowa. Mr. Lucht received his A. B. degree at Harvard in 1899, and his A. M. degree in 1905. He taught at the Davenport High School for four years, and at Lawrenceville School, New Jersey, for two years. He then took the regular library school training at Pratt Institute, and since then has held the position of librarian in the Free Public Library, Leavenworth, Kansas, at the University Club, Chicago, and from 1915 to 1925 was Librarian of the Free Public Library at Wichita, Kansas, a city of 90,000.

D. R.

Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., will meet next Friday afternoon with Mrs. Warren F. Gregory of Walnut street, Newtonville. Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan will be the guest and speaker.

COLUMBUS DAY

The holiday was observed in this city by a two day celebration under the auspices of the Filippo Corsi Society, also known as the Italian Benevolent Association of Newton Centre and Thompsonville.

The program included a band concert Sunday afternoon and evening on the Thompsonville playground. On Monday there was a parade from Thompsonville to Newton Centre in the morning, band concerts afternoon and evening at the Thompsonville playground followed by a wonderful display of fireworks.

The parade in the morning, while short, was most colorful. It included a detail of police under Sergeant Veduccio, followed by Mr. Aurelio DeSantis on a white horse dressed in Colonial uniform and representing George Washington. Next came the band followed by members of the Society wearing little white caps and gloves and carrying American and Italian flags.

These were followed by about fifty boys and girls, the boys with red caps and blue sashes over white blouses, the girls with blue caps and red sashes over white dresses. Each child carried small American and Italian flags. Then came some Red Cross nurses, two of whom carried a large wreath of yellow chrysanthemums which later were placed at the base of the memorial flagstaff on Newton Centre Common. Two well-designed floats, one representing Columbus on shipboard, and the other a group of Indians outside their tepee, and several gaily decorated automobiles brought up the rear.

The parade passed through a goodly part of Newton Centre and then massed itself around the Memorial flagstaff. Here there was a short but good speaking program under the direction of Mr. S. D. Bacigalupo and included the always eloquent Mayor Childs, and Mr. Edward Corsi of New York, a son of the man for whom the Society was named.

The parade then reassembled and marched back to Thompsonville.

The statement of a Boston paper that the celebration was under the direction of the Gabriele D'Annunzio Club of which Mr. F. Gasbarri is president, was not correct.

Lasell

On Friday, October 16, Colonel E. A. Havers will give us a Musical Travelogue at Bragdon Hall. Music will be furnished by a Duo-Art Reproducing Piano.

Dr. Edgar Park wil be the speaker at Vespers on Sunday evening.

The first concert in the Paul Shirley Sypmhony Concert Series, under the auspices of Lasell Seminary, will be given at the Auburndale Club on Tuesday afternoon at three-thirty.

DOG SHOW

A Great Success In Spite of the Weather, Nearly 500 Dogs Entered

When the officers of the Middlesex County Kennel Club saw the driving rain which soaked Ne wEngland on Friday, Oct. 9th, and on the following day were chilled to the bone by the unwonted snow and severely high winds, their thoughts about the prospects for their annual Fall show on Monday the 12th, were anything but joyful. However, Sunday conditions changed, and while the holiday, Columbus Day, was not really warm, it was without the chilling wind which had been so noticeable before.

With some four hundred and eighty dogs entered, among them being good entries of Brussels Griffons and Papillons, it can be easily perceived that the sixteen judges had an extremely busy day before them. In regard to the last named breed it was a source of great regret that the steamer's delay in arrival at New York and inability to get the little creatures cleared for transportation to Massachusetts on Saturday had prevented their arrival and exhibition at their first show on our soil.

Shepherd dogs led the entry with sixty-six. Boston Terriers came next with forty-four. Cocker spaniels had thirty. Pekingese had thirty-seven, and Pomeranians nineteen. Fox terriers made a good showing with twenty-seven. Bull terriers outdid themselves with a splendid entry of twenty-three. Irish Terriers had seventeen, and Doberman Pinschers turned out with fifteen. Nineteen bulldogs gave their judge a nice entry, and Airedales, Sealyhams, and the English and Irish Setters made more than usually good showings here.

Twenty collies and the same number of chows together with nicely distributed numbers of the other breeds helped to make up a thoroughly representative All Breed Show. Even with eight rings in constant use it was dark before the variety classes and best in show awards were completed.

Owing to this the entry for Sporting Group No. 1, consisted of the Chesapeake Bay dog only, Miss Mary E. Quinn's very typical Cheequa Buff.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

EVERETT 6 - NEWTON 0

..Everett, althougth outplayed by Newton in every department of the game, got all the breaks in a hard-fought Suburban League contest, Monday morning on Claflin Field, and scored a lone touchdown on an intercepted forward pass and a 100-yard run by Ahlin, the visitors left halfback. The break came near the end of the second period after the local boys, thorough the efforts of Captain Gilligan and Frank Spain, had put Newton in a scoring position on the 10-yard line.

During the first period the ball was kept well to the centre of the gridiron with both teams doing considerable punting. In the second period Tom Gilligan took a lateral pass from Spain and ran 50-yards to Everett's 10-yard line where he was downed by an Everett player. A line plunge failed and then Spain shot a flat pass which Ahlin, leaping high picked out of the air from under the cross-bar of the goal posts. The Newton players were all in play at the goal line and had no chance to nail the Everett back, who, behind quickly formed and perfect interfence, statred on his run the entire length of the field. Newton blocked the attempt at goal.

After the rest between the halves the Newton team came out with determination written on their faces. After kicking off and receiving the ball on a punt the orange and black made Everett's strong line seem like so much paper by reeling off four consecutive first downs in a row. Line rushes, end runs and short passes well mixed in by quarterback Spain again put Newton within scoring distance. One of these plays was remarkable and showed that Coach Dickinson has taught the Newton boys to keep their wits about them. Spain, attempting a long forward pass saw that both he and the receiver were covered and tucking the ball beneath his arm ran 20-yars around Everett's right end. Newton kept on ripping Everett's line wide open and had the ball on the 5-yard line when Lyons fumbled. Everett recovered and kicked out of danger. Still undaunted Newton began all over again only to have their hopes dashed by another fumble, which Everett recovered near midfield. Late in the game Everett was in position to score when one of Spain's punts went low, struck one of the Newton linemen, Everett recovering on Newton's 20-yard line. The local boys held and Everett could not score. The summary:

EVERETT HIGH — O'Hara, Savage, le; Shlomovitz, lt; Lewis, lg; Conveny, c; Tobey, rg; DeVenuti, rt; Redmond, re; Harrington, qb; Homes, lhb; Ahlin, rhb; Griffin, fb.

NEWTON HIGH — McCollough, re; Stubbs, rt; Porter, rg; Andres, c; Hapgood, lg; Littlefield, Pratt, lt; Hemeon, Bennett, le; Spain, Clark, qb; Hall, Lyons, Proctor, rhb; Proctor, Holbrook, Hall, lhb; Gilligan, fb.

NEWTON PALS WIN TWO

On Sunday afternoon, October 11, at Cabot Park, Newton, the Newton Pals defeated the Barton Club of Malden, by a score of 9 to 0. The Pals scored early in the second quarter, when Aucoin, standing on the Bartons 20-yard line, hurled a forward pass to Lyman who shot across the goal line for the only touchdown of the day. They scored again in the last quarter, when Aucoin kicked a beautiful field goal from the 25-yard line. The work of Lyman, Dargon, Mackin, Morse and Geagon was one of the features of the game.

On the holiday afternoon, October 12th, at Cabot Park, the Pals defeated the Ronan All-Stars of Dorchester, by a score of 6 to 0. The Pals scored early in the game when Charley Murphy, speedy left halfback, circled left-end and dashed 60-yards for a touchdown through the whole Dorchester team. The work of this lad in all the games this season has been very instrumental in the Pals fine showing, and besides being a great defensive back, he is one of the most consistent ground gainers on the team. Lyman, continuing his work of the previous day, played a fine game as did also Mahoney, Mackin, O'Rourke and Geagon. On Sunday afternoon, October 18th, at Cabot Park, Newton, the Pals will play the Garden City Club, and a fast, hard game is expected. Follow the crowd and see a good clean football game.

SPORT NOTES

Monday's score does not throw the proper light on the relative merits of the Everett and Newton teams. Newton played rings around the Brickley boys but did not get the breaks, which one always find accompany the winner in almost any line of sport. Everett's line, averaging more than 200 pounds per man on the field, crumbled time and time again under the onslaughts of Tom Gilligan, Frank Spain, Asa Hall, Guy Holbrook, and young Proctor. Newton's aerial game far excelled that of the visitors and but for the unfortunate fumbles of the local boys, who appeared somewhat nervous at times, the score would have read about 14 to 6.

Wherever Newton finishes in the struggle for league honors which commenced Monday, all of its opponents will know that they have been in a real football game. The defeat at the hands of Everett does not mean that Newton will not yet finish at the top. Everett, league champions last year and favored by many to finish on top again, has several other stiff opponents to meet in Cambridge, Brookline and Medford, and may not be as fortunate getting the breaks at it was Monday. By winning over the other teams in the league, which is by no means out of the question after Monday's showing, Newton could tie Everett if the Brickley boys should suffer a defeat at the hands of any one team in the league and would finish ahead if two trimmings were administered. The cry at present is "Watch Medford." Medford easily defeated Somerville, 30-0 the holiday, showing how dangerous this team will be in the fight for honors.

Newton meets Cambridge Latin in its second Suburban league tilt tomorrow afternoon on Claflin Field, at 2.30 P. M. Cambridge Latin was clearly superior to Rindge, Monday, when it won the school championship of that city 6-0, but should consider itself lucky that it was not held to a scoreless tie. Cambridge has a well developep forward passing game and tomorrow's contest will no doubt be an open game.

Ed Wilson of Newton, representing the B. A. A. took second place in the mile walk at the Boston City games at Charlesbank Gym, Monday. Wilson, who was virtually a scratch man, could not overtake Peter Laurino of the Dorchester club who had a handicap of 65 seconds.

Newton fans were offered an opportunity to get a line on the coming game against Waltham, October 24th, Monday, when the Watch City lads went down to a 3-0 defeat at the hands of Providence Tech, victors over Newton three weeks ago, 7-0. Newton has come along fast since that game however, and the Waltham boys will know they have been in a real battle, whoever wins.

Clem Coady Harvard fullback, went through the game against Middlebury, Saturday, withtout injury but in practice Monday morning, received a slight cut over the right eye, when attempting a forward pass play. The injury was not serious and Coady finished the practice session.

Herman Buxbaum, who is a substitute on the Newton high backfield, is the son of an old star football player of other days. It was the Newton boy's father, "Izzy" Buxbaum who, as halfback of the Boston English high team in 1897, was the unanimous choice for the all-scholastic team of that year.

The Free Booter Red Tops of Newton, captained by Miss Louise Fessenden, triumphed over the Commonwealth Club eleven, 12 to 10, in a free scoring game of the Boston Field Hockey Association series at the May school field in Brookline, Monday. It was the opening game for the Red Tops.

Win Robinson of Dartmouth will probably not be in shape to play again until after tthe Harvard game. His torn ligaments will require at least another week to mend.

George Carens in the Boston Transcript, says that Jake Stafford and his teammates on the backfield of Harvard's Team B, seem destined to supplement the Team A quartet, in keeping. Clem Coady is the fullback, in keeping on pressure throughout the season. Speaking of Coady, he says that the Newton's boy worth cannot be overemphasized, even though he is apt to be credited with few sensational runs he is carrying out his heavy assignments in workmanlike fashion and making it possible for his other backfield mates to streak for goodly gains.

"Dotty" Wright was credited in Tuesday's papers with a field goal in the first period of the Dean-Worcester Academy game Monday, which was the only score of the game. However, it was not Wright who negotiated the score, but his teammate Colbert, formerly of Dedham high who kicked the goal from a difficult angle on the 35-yard line.

The breaking up of the Surburban league seems certain in view of the recent announcement that Medford High will resign from the league at the end of the present football season It is expected that before the 1926 season rolls around that Everett and Somerville will follow suit. Medford's claim that the schedule is too strenuous is not the real reason for its withdrawal. The inability of Brookline, Cambridge Latin and Rindge Tech to draw sufficient crowds to the games that these teams play away from home has forced the other teams in the league to practically support them. Malden withdrew from the league in 1923 for the same reason and since that time has prospered. The league, two years ago, was precariously near dissolution and a change from a 50-50 split of gate receipts to a 60-40 division for all home games was the only thing that saved it. Football lovers will be disappointed to see the league go as they feel that the game should be played for sport's sake and not for what financial gain there is in it. Commercialism seems to be cropping into scholastic sport and it really seems a shame that the Suburban league is to pass out of existence.

What effect the breaking up of this league will have on Newton's schedule is problematical. It is doubtful if Newton can retain the three games with the teams in the northern group of the present league but it is hoped that every attempt will be made to at least keep Everett and Somerville on the 1926 list. These two teams have given the local boys real competition in the past and the keenest of rivalry exists between them. There is nearly as much rivalry to these games as there is to the Waltham and Brookline games as the crowd of 500 at Monday's game shows.

Y. M. C. A.

At first the elements seemed to be against the success of the Dog Show held by the Middlesex County Kennel Club on the Y. M. C. A. grounds for the tents were blown down in the high wind of Saturday. There was the largest entry of dogs since the show has been held on the grounds.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary served refreshments from a tent nearby and netted a goodly sum for their treasury. The Committee of ladies consisted of Mrs. Bang, Miss Page, Mrs. Kasper, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Whitten, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. White, and Mrs. Bascom. The ladies were greatly indebted to Mr. Whitten for the use of his car to bring in the necessary supplies.

Mr. L. E. Moore of the Camp Committee and Secretaries Clyde G. Hess and H. W. Bascom spent the holiday at the Frank A. Day Camp making arrangements for a number of important improvements in the camp equipment.

Mr. Frederic D. Fuller, President of the Association, and Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary, have been elected delegates to the National Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association to be held at Washington, D. C., on October 24th, 25th and 26th. Mr. Fuller is also a delegate from this district to the National Council which meets immediately after the Convention.

Arrangements have been made with the Athletic Association of the Newton High School so that fall practice of the track team under the direction of Coach Raymond Green will be held on the Newton Y. M. C. A. field. C. V. Moore of the Physical Department Committee, is much interested in the development of athletics not only in the Association but among the school boys.

Enrolment Week for new members throughout the State of Massachusetts will be held October 15th to 22nd. The plan is for every Association to increase its membership to full capacity by every member bringing in a friend.

FRANCIS-HAVENS

Two Newton Centre families were united in marriage when Miss Beulah Case Havens, the daughter of Mrs. Herbert R. Havens of Homer street, became the bride of Mr. Douglass Brooks Francis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Francis of Centre street. The wedding took place last Saturday, at the home of the bride, where the ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan D. D., rector of Trinity Church.

The bride, who was gowned in ivory satin, trimmed with Princess lace, was accompanied by Miss Lucy Clark of Ithica, N. Y., as maid of honor and by her niece, Miss Louise Leland of Providence, R. I., as flower girl. The ribbon giris were Mrs. Roderic M. Blood, Miss Cornelia M. Holmes, Miss Charlotte Hill, Miss Emily Woods, all of Newton Centre, Miss Eleanor Bowker of Waltham and Miss Ruth Foss of Fitchburg.

Mr. Francis had Mr. Sydney Bowers Holden of Newton Centre as his best man and Messrs. Harold Howe of Newton Centre and Austin Welch of Fitchburg were the ushers.

A reception followed the ceremony, music being furnished by a string quartet.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis will reside at 28 Commonwealth Park, Newton Centre, where they will be at home after December 1st.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College and the groom from the Boston University School of Business Administration.

RED CROSS MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held on Wednesday, October 28th, at 7.45 P. M., at the Red Cross Headquarters, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

Its purpose is to elect a Board of Directors, consider any reports, and transact such other business as may properly come before the Chapter.

All members of the Red Cross are cordially invited to attend.

Immediately after the Annual Meeting a meeting of the Directors of the Newton Chapter will be held.

To wit: "The land in said Newton, consisting of two parcels with the buildings thereon, the first parcel being shown as parcel "A" on a plan entitled "Plan for the development of the Towle Estate, Newton, Massachusetts, by Henry J. O'Meara" which plan is recorded herewith, subject to correction with respect to all measurements, areas, and dimensions, thereon shown. Said parcel "A" is bounded and described as follows:—

Beginning at a point at the Northwesterly corner of a private way shown as "Colby Street" on said plan and Centre Street, and running Northerly along the Westerly side of Centre Street, three hundred ninety-four and 2/10 (394.2) feet to parcel "B" on said plan; then turning at a right angle and running Westerly on said parcel "B" about two hundred eighty (280) feet; then turning at slightly more than a right angle and running Northerly about four hundred and fifty (450) feet; then turning and running in a generally Southwesterly direction in an irregularly curving line along the middle of a private way shown on said plan as "Westchester Road" to a point in the Northerly line of Colby Street, about one thousand (1000) feet West of Centre Street; then turning and running Easterly on Colby Street, about one thousand (1000) feet to the point of beginning, containing about 280,000 feet, all of said quantities and measurements being more or less, and also including herein so much of the fee and all other property or rights of any kind which may belong to the mortgagor in said Colby Street.

This parcel is conveyed subject to a first mortgage to Helen M. Towle of $70,000 of even date, recorded herewith.

The second parcel is shown as parcel "B" on said plan, and is bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Centre Street about four hundred and fifty (450) feet; Southerly by parcel "A" on said plan, about two hundred eighty (280) feet; Westerly by said parcel "A" about four hundred fifty (450) feet; and Northerly by parcel "C" on said plan, about two hundred and eighty-three (283) feet; Containing approximately 127,300 square feet.

Said parcel "B" is subject to the life tenancy of Mary Shannon Wingate, created by the Will of Mary Shannon late of said Newton, said will being dated March 27, 1899, and with the benefit of the provisions of said will relating to payment of taxes, assessments, insurance and repairs by the trustees under said will during said tenancy. Said premises are hereby conveyed further subject to the obligation of the grantee, her heirs, and assigns, which obligation shall run with the land, to perform all the covenants and agreements on the part of said Loren D. Towle, his heirs, and representatives hereafter to be performed under an agreement between said Loren D. Towle and Sarah P. W. Taylor, dated Sept. 19, 1916, a copy of which agreement is annexed to the deed of Helen M. Towle to Henry J. O'Meara, of even date herewith.

This conveyance includes the fee to the middle line of any way upon the land belonging to the mortgagor adjoining either of said parcels. I further grant as appurtenant to each of the said mortgaged parcels a right of way for all purposes over all ways shown on said plan to all connecting public ways. The premises are conveyed subject to the Zoning Law requirements, if any there be, so far as now in force and applicable thereto.

Said parcel "B" is conveyed subject to a first mortgage to Helen M. Towle of $7500 of even date, recorded herewith.

I reserve a common right of way for all purposes of a public street, including the right to grade and layout, construct or cause to be constructed, sidewalks, curbing, to put in sewer and water pipes, gas pipes, electric light conduits, poles, wires, and all other general public service appliances which are usual to public streets or ways, in, on or over the streets any portion of which are included in the mortgaged premises.

Both lots are mortgaged subject to a mortgage for $20,000 to Joseph H. Soliday, Trustee, to be recorded herewith."

Terms of sale: One Thousand Dollars will bs required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of the sale.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

(Signed) MARY A. O'MEARA,
Present holder of said mortgage.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

Sometimes it is legitimate to compare our own advantages with those of other people, not, of course, for the degrading purpose of pleasurably gloating but rather for the highly edifying one, of viewing our progress —thus providing ourselves with a little grain of encouragement that will aid us in making even greater strides.

It is for this reason that I allow myself the privilege of mentioning in comparative terms, a visit which I made to a public school in England. I was attracted to the building because it was arranged so that all the classrooms should be on one floor. This was not of course so very unusual, since all English buildings are considerably lower than ours, but the ceilings were not much higher than those in some of our oldest New England farm houses, thereby making the windows small. However, each one had it's own window box, filled with the most brilliant geraniums that England's soil could produce—and these helped considerably to disguise the inadequacy of the lighting properties. There was no large "fire-gong" with a deafening ring, growing like an unsightly wart on the exterior of the building,—instead, a very pleasant sounding tinkle came from within when periods were over. The children played in the school yard quite like the little institutioners they were compelled to be and if there was an unpleasant reaction to be experienced it was this one—for an atmosphere of "happiness at play" was lacking—it seemed to be only another part of the day's program of duties. My visit was in midsummer and I learned that school is in session until August, when one month is allowed for vacation. During this long year the same teachers are in charge of the same children and they do not have promotions—a child stays in one room until he or she is considered eligible for work considerably further on. The stimulation that new teachers and new pupils can give each other is therefore almost lacking. The children arrive early in the morning and do not leave until late in the afternoon, but since only the poorest children go to the public schools in England, this must be a considerable help to the mothers with others at home. When the age of fourteen is reached school is no longer possible for in order to continue their studies, a rather high tax is required. There are no fine high-schools where practical training may be completed! Nearly one hundred per cent begin their long hard road of earning at the immature age of fourteen. These children begin their school career at the age of two or three, however, so perhaps they make up a little at that end,—though the chances would seem slim.

I never heard children sing so well in my life! The very smallest had as good an idea of harmony and sweetness as our's in the sixth grade, and though they love to sing anything, of course they fairly "burst themselves" with song when "God Save the King" is the selection. They each and everyone, even the tiniest, seemed aware of the grandness of Patriotism. Can we claim that?

F. A. Day Junior High School

Pupils of the seventh grade had charge of the assembly this week. As a reaction to the program given by members of the Student Government, six of the VII F pupils expressed their ideas. Leroy Benoit in introducing the program, spoke of thrift in relation to our school life. Bernard Doucetts then expressed his ideas. Marjorie Dillworth spoke of the social benefits and Charles Doherty of the general changes pertaining to Junior High School life. Rocco Leone made a plea for athletics and David Buxbaum made one for better publicity. A French film, "From Jacques to Johnnie" terminated this French division's program.

The seventh grade classes in social studies have enjoyed lantern slides pertaining to their work in Room 10.

Stearns School

On Friday afternoon, October 9th, the first assembly was held. The program was as follows:—

Song, "America" .....School
Reading, "Columbus"
Florence Dezotell
Song .....Miss Lovely's Class
"Safety First"
Miss Broughton's Class
Song .....Miss Tibbett's Class
Talk on Fire Prevention
Mr. Winslow
Song .....Mrs. Goddard's Class
Play .....Miss Walker's Class
"America the Beautiful" .....School
Flag Salute

The children are becoming more interested in saving their money and the sum deposited in the bank last week was the largest we ever have had this year. The three rooms saving the largest amounts were:—

Miss Parker's room, Grade 5.
Miss McLaughlin's room, Grade 6.
Miss Anderson's room, Grade 4.

The classes having the highest per cents in attendance for the first four weeks of school were:—

Miss Luck's class, Grade II, 98.4; Miss Stewart's class, Grade II, 98.6; Miss Parker's class, Grade V, 98.3; Miss McLaughlin's class, Grade VI, 98.2; Miss Ekert's class, Grade I, 98.1.

Several teachers spent their holiday out of town; Miss Smith visited friends in Leominster, Mass.; the Misses Ida and Mary Broughton motored to Higgin's Beach, Maine; Miss Walker drove over the Mohawk Trail; Mr. Winslow was entertained at Brewster, Mass.; and Mr. Lewis attended the MacMillan reception at Wiscasset, Maine.

Mason School

In has seemed wise, considering the very large classes in some rooms, to use what used to be the sewing room as a classroom. The sewing classes have been transferred to the Library. This change fills every room of the three floors of the school.

The geography collection, now situated in the unfinished part of the third floor, is being put in order again. All the cloth covers have been laundered new labels are being made, and it is hoped that the supplies for geography study will soon present an attractive appearance.

The percentage of attendance for the first four weeks of the new school year is very high. This is always true for the fall months, and it would aid in preparing for the next higher grade, if the boys and girls could keep it up through the year.

The Newton Centre School Association has received the yearly dues from 651 parents and friends,—a fine showing at this time of the year.

The Mason District stands 100 per cent in its aid to the Junior Red Cross, and the buttons are seen in every room.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The total enrollment to date is 506 pupils, this being 10 below similar figures obtained for last year. The kindergarten enrollment is 46, compared with 56 for one year ago. Our largest clas sis grade seven with a net enrollment of 45.

For the first monthly report we have a standing for the building including the kindergarten of 96.6 per cent. Miss Nickelson's class stands highest with 99.4, and Miss Kelly's class is second with 99.2.

Our new teachers this year are Doris E. Hardy in grade three; Ruth A. Kelter in grade four; and Annie Doe in position of building assistant.

The Emerson football team was organized the second week of school with George Waugh as captain and Michael Geraci as manager. The team lost the first league game to the Hyde School team by a score of 11 to 6. Neil Mahoney, playground director, is coaching the school team and it will surely give a good account of itself in the coming games.

Interesting assembly periods have been held on successive Monday mornings. Mrs. Lacroix entertained with a beautiful vocal solo at our first assembly. At the second assembly Catherine Burley sang "Thank God for a Garden" and Walter Billings played a piano solo, "Il Trovatore." At the last Assembly Harold Stromborn recited "America the Beautiful" and Clementina Panella recited "America for Me."

The graduating class have chosen their pin and an order has been placed for early delivery of the same.

Our savings through our school bank for last year were $991.83.

Book Clubs are organized in grades seven and eight, and interesting meetngs are held each week for one period.

The first weighing showed four classes with no "Reds": the Kindergarten, Miss Hunt's, Miss Nickelson's, Miss Smith's and Miss Kelter's.

75th ANNIVERSARY

The Congregational Society of Auburndale was organized October 17, 1850, and the Church, November 14, 1850. This number of The Greeting, it will be observed, is issued on the seventy-fifth birthday of the Society. Plans are already well under way for an appropriate observance of the important anniversary. A large committee, of which Mr. C. Winthrop Blood is the chairman, was appointed last Spring to have full charge of the celebration.

The general programme will be as follows:

Thursday evening, November 12. The young people, as their contribution to the celebration, will give the Pageant entitled, "Pageant of the Four-fold Life," by Miss Elizabeth H. Nutting, Superintendent of our Young People's Department.

Sunday Morning, November 15. A special service of worship in commemoration of the founding of this Church. At this service there will be sung the anthem, "Thou shalt remember," writtne for baritone solo and chorus by H. W. Parker for the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of our Church and dedicated to the Rev. Calvin Cutler.

Sunday afternoon, November 15. A commemorative Vesper Service. The Chorus will render Maunder's Cantata, "Song of Thanksgiving."

Tuesday Evening, November 17. The Anniversary Banquet, at which will be present specially invited guests. After-dinner speaking; music.

Thursday Evening, November 19. Birthday Greetings to the Church from its absent members.

WINS HONORABLE MENTION

The Newton High School has received honorable mention in the contest under the direction of the American Child Health Association of the work being done in schools of the high school grade throughout the country in the line of health education. Over fifty schools entered the contest.

The results of the study will take shape in a bulletin to be published by the American Child Health Association in the near future, placing on record the most valuable experiments in health education culled from the material submitted. This will make available to schools all over the country the material gathered together in this study, the actual results of tested experiments in health education in secondary schools.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The first rehearsal of the Newton Choral Society was held Tuesday night, with the director, Mr. William Lester Bates, leading the music as usual. The new president, Mr. Archibald Bardington, made a few remarks welcoming the members. The attendance was 96, which was the largest the Society ever had for the first rehearsal of the season. Eighteen new members were received, and seven more have promised to come in for the next meeting.

CAMP FIRE NEWS

The new officers for the year September 1925-1926 for the Cheskchamay group of Camp Fire Girls of Newtonville are: Lois G. Pottef, president; Ruth C. Filene, vice-president; Estelle Cyr, secretary; Mildred Curless, treasurer; Marion Welt, assistant secretary; and Mary Gallagher, song leader. The business meeting at which these officers were elected was held at the home of the guardian, Mrs. W. H. Storer on Wildwood avenue, last Friday afternoon.

The group had a theatre party the evening of October the ninth.

A ceremonial meeting was held on the night of October 2 at which Margaret Storer, the assistant guardian, presided. This leader and Ruth Filene were awarded honors. The girls sang camp songs, and followed the program of the monthly Council Fire.

A hike to the Blue Hills! However it was not directly from Newtonville to the Observatory that the six hiked. Instead they walked from home to Newton and from Mattapan Square to the Hills,—in all a hike of about ten miles. Those who went were: Barbara Dobyns, Ruth Filene, Estelle Cyr, Margaret H. Storer, Mrs. W. H. Storer, and Nancy Meehan.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers held a very successful shoot on October 12th. Seventeen men and seven ladies competed. Guests from Greenfield, Worcester, Haverhill, and Woonsocket, R. I., also entered the lists.

The ladies shot a National and a Columbia Round. Mrs. E. W. Frentz of Melrose was high lady, winning the first prize. Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre won second place.

The men shot a double American Round. Dr. P. W. Crouch of Brighton, National and Eastern champion of the U. S., won the men's first prize,—an Indian flint spear head. Homer S. Taylor of Greenfield won the second prize which was a white quartz Indian arrow head.

The novelty shoot was a tall silk hat fastened to a tall stick. An apple was on the hat. Men and ladies both competed for this, the men at 50 yards and the ladies at 40 yards. The hat was hit the most times by Mr. J. C. Bushong of Worcester, giving him the ownership of the hat and also a target face as a prize. An Indian tepee was brought and erected by Mr. Cosseboom of Woonsocket, and a fire, inside a bucket, made a very pleasant warmth.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Hunnewell Club opened its social season Tuesday evening, with a "smoker" for members and their friends. A large gathering attended and enjoyed to the limit the slight-of-hand performance of Dick Cartwright, one of the most accomplished of the younger school of magicians. His feats were both mystifying and amusing and evoked tremendous applause. The performance was given in the large hall and this allowed the members opportunity to inspect the new lighting system installed this Summer. The illumination is in every way an improvement over the former, arrangement and adds greatly to the charm of the hall as well as proving more satisfactory both to the audience and performers.

President Peirce was congratulated on his enterprise. Chairman Curtis of the Entertainment Committee outlined the plans for the coming season, assuring a number of Sunday afternoon concerts by widely known musicians and vocalists, dances, dramatic performances and other features which are certain to be most popular. After the stage show there was a special supper.

KUMANBUY VILLAGE

On Thursday and Friday, October 22nd and 23rd, the food and gift shops of Kumanbuy Village in Immanuel Baptist Church will be open to the public. An attractive tea room will be a special feature. Thursday evening from 5.30-7.30 a delicious supper will be served in the Hunger Circle Restaurant.

Friday evening a play under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Merritt, Jr., and coached by Dr. L. H. Naylor, will be given in the village auditorium. It is a dramatization by Kate Douglas Wiggin of her own story entitled, "The Old Peabody Pew," and is produced by a special arrangement with Samuel French of New York. The Cast includes: Reader, Rev. N. A. Merritt, Jr.; Organist, Mr. William Self; Anna Wrye, Heloise Chase, Madeline Somerby, Helen Achorn, Virginia Parsons, Doris Moore, Blanche Leacy, Dorothy McCaul and Oscar Gustafson.

Mr. Thomas A. West is in charge of the stores of the village, and their general arrangements. She is being ably assisted by Mrs. H. W. Sylvester, Mrs. C. W. McCaul, and a corps of workers.

"MISS AUBURNDALE"

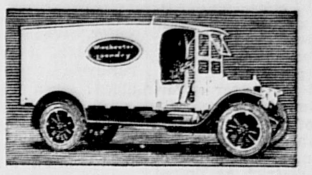

Miss Mary Foristall of Auburn st., Auburndale, was awarded the title of "Miss Auburndale" last Friday evening, at the dance conducted by the young women of the Sodality of the Church of Corpus Christi, Auburndale. The dance and whist party was under the direction of Rev. Leo Logan, Miss Edna Moir and a large committee. The judges in the beauty contest were, Maj. Edward J. Sampson, James R. Gormley and George Cox. The winner was presented a pearl necklace. Whist prizes were won by Mrs. J. Murphy, A. Robie, Stephen Madden, Mrs. Dan Sullivan, Mrs. Shaughnessy, Mrs. Foran, Mrs. James McCarthy, Miss Katherine Walsh, Miss Thersa McCarthy. Miss Gertrude Quilty was the winner of the fruit bowl, awarded the lucky ticket holder. Entertainment was provided by Miss Betty Ferguson, Joe Champagne and Miss Anna Harmon, dancers.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clapp, 14 Camden road, Auburndale. Reports of the Middlesex County Convention will be given.

AS YOU FACE THE CLEANING WHAT ABOUT THE BLANKETS?

They must be made clean, soft and fluffy in anticipation of cold nights to come. At The Winchester Laundries you may have them washed (50c per single blanket, $1.00 for double), or cleansed (75c per single or $1.50 for double). The work is beautifully done, and will save you untold hours of hard effort.

"BEHIND THE RED CURTAIN"

Rehearsals for the musical revue "Behind the Red Curtain" are being held daily. The enthusiasm with which the younger set of West Newton have responded to the able direction of Mr. Langdon Matthews of Boston insures the success of the production.

The revue combines in a unique way professionals and amateurs. "What is Behind the Red Curtain" will be disclosed at Players Hall, West Newton, Monday and Tuesday evening, Oct. 26th and 27th. Tickets can be obtained from Quincy Wales, chairman of the ticket committee, at the First National Bank, West Newton Savings Bank, or at McCarthy's Drug store at the corner of Washington and Waltham streets.

REAL ESTATE

William H. Morgan and Arthur P. Stone, Trustees of the Estate of the late Mayor E. B. Wilson, have sold to J. H. Drake the estate at No. 304 Otis street, West Newton Hill, running through to Regent street, consisting of a large house, garage, and 49,600 square feet of land. After extensive improvements, the new owner will occupy. The whole property is assessed for $22,500. Alvord Bros. were the brokers in this transaction.

Final papers have passed in the sale by Caroline A. Jackson to F. L. Elkin of a tract of land of about six acres on Cypress street, Newton Centre. Mr. Elkin has resold the property to W. Mark Noble, Jr. The valuation is about $15,000. Alvord Bros. were the brokers in both transfers.

One of Waban's fine homes located at No. 575 Chestnut street, Waban, has been sold to C. D. Jacobs by Captain J. A. Cook. The place is valued at about $22,000. Alvord Bros. represented the buyer.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by George B. Cameron and Nellie K. Cameron, his wife, in her right, to the Newton Trust Company, dated May 2, 1923 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, book 4819, page 255, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, on Friday, the sixth day of November, 1925, at twelve o'clock noon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage with all improvements thereon, described in said mortgage as follows:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate on the westerly side of, and being now numbered 275-277 Lowell Avenue, in that part of said Newton called Newtonville, and being shown as Lot A on "Plan of Land in Newtonville belonging to Nellie K. Cameron", E. S. Smille, Surveyor, dated September 14, 1922, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book of Plans 411, Plan 5, bounded and described as follows: SOUTHEASTERLY by said Lowell avenue seventy-six and 62/100 (76.62) feet; SOUTHERLY by other land of said Nellie K. Cameron shown as lot B on said plan, one hundred sixty-three and 96/100 (163.96) feet; WESTERLY by land now or formerly of Kempton and by land now or formerly of Pulsifer, seventy-three (73) feet; NORTHERLY by land now or formerly of Pulsifer, one hundred eighty-six and 85/100 (186.85) feet; Containing according to said plan 12,804 square feet, be the same more or less.

The premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and assessments, if any, and to the effect of outstanding tax deeds, or titles, if any there be.

Five hundred dollars ($500) in cash will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms at the sale.

—o—

The many friends of Hon. John W. Weeks have received the news of his resignation as Secretary of War with mingled feelings of gladness and regret. We are glad that he proposes to take care of his health by laying down the heavy duties and responsibility of his high office and we regret that the country will no longer have the benefit of his sound common sense and keen judgment in official position.

We have followed the career of Mr. Weeks from the time he reluctantly accepted the office of alderman in this city thru his incumbency of the office of mayor of Newton, as a member of Congress from this district, as United States Senator for six years, and as Secretary of War for the past four years, always with a constantly growing feeling of pride that a resident of this city and a personal friend was making such a wonderful record of accomplishment in the affairs of the city and the nation. It is a record of which any man would be proud.

Next week has been selected by the Benevolent Order of Elks to inaugurate a campaign to "Save Old Ironsides" now lying at the dock in Charlestown. It was hoped that the school committee would allow members of the Order to tell the school children something of the history of this famous vessel but that board has refused the permission as it might create a bad precedent.

An "acting" librarian at the Newton Free Library has been succeeded by the appointment of a librarian. We commend this action of the trustees of the Library to the attention of Mayor Childs, who persists in continuing as an "acting overseer of the poor," a person who was refused confirmation for office by the board of aldermen.

We are glad to note that Hon. Samuel L. Powers of this city is to be honored by a banquet to mark the completion of fifty years' practise as a lawyer in the city of Boston. It is a noteworthy occasion, and is a deserved tribute to the character and attainments of our genial neighbor and friend.

—o—

Full of energy and enthusiasm and a zealous worker in all good causes, Vernon B. Swett will be sadly missed by a host of friends in this city.

Congratulations to the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society, on its twenty-five years of splendid work. "May it live long and prosper."

WATERS-BURGESS

St. Patricks' Church, Brockton, was the scene of a wedding on Wednesday, when Miss Rosemary Burgess, niece of Mrs. Mary H. Fitzpatrick of that city, became the bride of James A. Waters of Newton Centre. The service was read by Rev. Patrick J. Waters, Ph. Dd., of St. John's Seminary, Brighton, brother of the bridegroom. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. David B. Waters of St. John's Church, Roxbury, also a brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Grace O'Connell of Danielson, Conn., and the best man, was William M. Cahill of West Newton. The ushers were Peter H. Farrell of Brockton and Paul A. Waters of Newton Centre.

A reception and wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Fitzpatrick. Mr. and Mrs. Waters left for an auto trip to the Laurentain Mountains, Canada, and on their return will reside at 3 Aberdeen street, Newton Highlands.

The bride is a graduate of St. Elizbeth's Hospital Training School. Mr. Waters is a graduate of Northeastern University Law School and is a practicing attorney with offices in Boston. He is chairman of the board of registrars of voters of Newton. He held the rank of captain of infantry in the United States Army during the World War.

GIANT SPECIES OF CENTIPEDE

Reptiles Found in Trinidad Secrete a Poison Which Enables Them to Paralyze Their Prey.

Trinidad centipedes have been presented to the London zoo, an exchange says. They are more than a foot long, and at the broadest part nearly half an inch across. They are dark brown, with rings on the long feelers and on the legs, a pair of which projects from each flattened segment of the body. These tropical centipedes live in shady places, hidden under bark, stones or dead leaves, moving chiefly at night. They run quickly and can climb vertical surfaces if there is any foothold for their claws. They are entirely carnivorous, living on insects, grubs, small birds or mammals, which they kill with their venom.

It has been shown that the whole of the body of these centipedes secretes a volatile venom, so that even the wounds made by the sharp claws are extremely painful. The under surface of the head carries a formidable pair of poison fangs, the venom of which escapes by a pore in the claw, being formed by large glands at the base of the claws. The venom is an acid opalescent liquid, hardly miscible with water. When injected into the veins of rabbits it produces instantaneous paralysis, with coagulation of the blood; when injected under the skin enormous abscesses are rapidly formed. The bite is very painful to human beings, but has not been known to be fatal, although it causes insomnia, local swelling and occasionally ulcers.

GREAT DAY AMONG SEMINOLES

Florida Indians Made Holiday of Occasion When Whole Tribe Turned Out to Shoot Fish.

In the old days before statehood, fishing was a great holiday with the Seminoles in Florida. A chief fisherman was selected. He appointed the various committees looking towards the fishing; some to gather the "devil's shoestring," some to do the shooting and some to beat the root after it was tied in bundles.

The "devil's shoestring" grew in abundance in the sand hills of Seminole county. The Seminoles dug down deep into the sand until they could get a firm hold on the root and then pulled until it came forth. These roots were then tied into bundles of 12 or more, according to the size of the water stream. A board or log was then erected in the pool and the shoestring beaten with little mallets. It gave off a milky kind of coloring into the water and when this had thoroughly permeated the stream, the fish became intoxicated and would jump out of the water or skim along on their sides.

The shooters would then begin their work with the bow and arrow, and as the larger fish came to the surface they would shoot them with arrows and the younger Indians would pick them out of the stream.

When Chance Befriends.

Inventors have gone a long way towards producing to order whatever man and his industries require. But invention is not yet an exact science and never is likely to be. Artisans and experimenters continue to stumble upon useful discoveries. So with Roentgen of X-ray fame. While working over his vacuum tubes he was unexpectedly called out of the room. He left a bulb still glowing on the book he had been reading, and in the book was a large, antique key used as a bookmark, while beneath the volume there happened to be a photographic plateholder he had ready for an outing that afternoon. When developing some plates later, there upon one of them he found the shadow of the key. He sought an explanation of the curious phenomenon by replacing the "properties" and energizing the tube as before. There was the shadow again on the plate. The X-ray was found.

Queen Ants and Bees.

It has been contended that the queen ant has not had justice done to her by naturalists. As compared with the famous queen bee, she is regarded by some as a far more admirable creature. In fact, they are, in many respects, diametrical opposites. The queen bee is a degenerate creature, unable to nourish either herself or her young, to visit flowers, to build combs, or to store them with honey. With the queen ant quite the reverse is true. She is a perfect example and embodiment of her species and the worker ants suffer from incomplete and retarded development. The queen ant is a very industrious and intelligent worker and it is pointed out that she forms an exceedingly interesting subject for study, and has not hitherto been well understood.

End of Cromagnon Age.

About 15,000 years ago the Cromagnon age in Europe came to an abrupt end. There developed a sudden mildness to the climate, accompanied by cool rains. Heavy forests sprang up on what had been the open grass lands of wild reindeer, wild horses, and wild bison. Glaciers pulled back up their Alpine slopes; the ice fields that were over what is now Norway and Sweden melted away. The Pleistocene age was over and the modern era was at hand. Cromagnon people all but vanished from western Europe; Cromagnon art was no more. Whether these wild chestnut-haired hunters followed the ice into what is now Russia, or whether they became extinct, no one knows. Certain it is their former lands were deserted when the next race of man appeared.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, October 14. Aside from the debates on routine legislative matters it is apparent that the Congress will have mucothtalk will have much to talk about during the winter. The quarrels in various Government agencies involve the President and the Congress so that the prospects are bright for a test of strength between the Chief Executive and the legislative body. Already some of the Congressional leaders are sounding the tocsin.

The question of armament will undoubtedly be conspicuous in the debates. Those who have analyzed Mr. Coolidge's address before the American Legion at Omaha feel that he has sounded a warning against increasing appropriations for military purposes. The President has very skillfully entwined the foreign debt issue with the aviation controversy. Legislators cannot very well discuss one subject without considering the corollary.

By indirection the President has made known the fact that the Federal Government cannot consistently appropriate large sums of money for national defense, especially for aviation development and at the same time demand economy of our foreign debtors.

Those close to the President feel that his Omaha speech will provide a problem for those advocating large air fleets. It was pointed out that we cannot ask the French, Italian and British to balance our budgets while this country proceeds to spend huge sums in developing its defense. Apparently the President holds the opinion that with this country taking the lead in disarmament the debtor nations will soon follow in our footsteps. Lessened expenditures for military purposes would allow the French and others to balance their budgets and thereby pay some of the indebtedness to this country within a reasonable number of years.

These questions will crop up officially before the convening of Congress in December. The House committee on ways and means which is charged with the responsibility of providing revenue will meet next Monday for the purpose to framing the tax bill. Secretary Mellon has been invited to make his recommendations at this time. There is no doubt that he will be questioned as to foreign debts and their effect upon domestic taxation. Public sentiment favors further reduction in taxes and this congressional committee will have a real problem on its hands.

The President continues to hold his own despite the turmoil in his official family. With wholesale resignations in the Shipping Board, followed by charges and counter-charges, the President is planning in order to meet the situation when Congress asks for recommendations. The feeling exists that Mr. Coolidge will hold his cards until the delivery of his annual address to the Congress the first week of the new session.

The suggestion that the Shipping Board's functions be transferred by an act of Congress to the Department of Commerce is given many supporters. Secretary Hoover has many jobs now and may ask to be relieved of these new responsibilities.

The return of many members of Congress to Washington some weeks prior to the regular sessions is not due entirely to political reasons. Some of the newly elected legislators come ahead to get acquainted with the jobs preparatory to the rush of business from their constituents in December. Others leave the home districts at the insistent demands of the women folks who want to "get into society." By early arrival, the socially ambitious can survey the situation and make their plans accordingly. As one newcomer in Congress said at a local club the other day, "I would rather stay home and sell myself to the voters in the district. Glad-handing is more profitable at home than kow-towing to notables here." That homely expression summed up the true situation in many cases.

It is a notorious fact that many members of Congress invite bankruptcy by lavish entertainments in an effort to "be recognized by Washington society." A study on the real social events of the official season here would show relatively few functions given by "the powers that be" in politics.

Group 2 for working dogs saw a better entry of three, and here the Doberman Pinschers, E. J. Child's red and tan bitch, Asta v. d. Berne, a thoroughly good specimen, captured the honor, with the Shepherd, Doreborn Kennel's Billo-Bez of Doreborn, a black of good conformation second, and the Collie, Thistle Bloom, owned by Mr. Alwin A. Klauer, another good dog, third. The Terrier class, always well filled, was no exception in this case, as four responded to the call. After some careful work in the midst of an interested and constantly pressing crowd, the judges finally decided upon the Wire Fox Terrier female, the Chappaqua Kennels, Ch. Roscoe Graceful Mover, a most fitting name for a very good specimen in a group of close competitors. Close contenders were the Sealyham Brecknock Banker, and the Scottie, Mrs. Maurice Newton's Ch. Land O' Burns.

The class for toys was not well filled, only two being shown—the Pom and the Peke. As the two judges elect could not agree two more were called in, for another even break, so then another judge was appealed to, and after a close examination the vote was three to two for the Pomeranian, Mrs. Marion E. Leahy's Blaze of Gold of Ashton More, most typical and a beautiful gaited little dog. As can be imagined his close competitor was the Peke, Mrs. Hadaway's importation, Boltonia Kim of T' San Won Kennels, a dog with good expression and ample bone. For Class 5 for Non sporting dogs, the only two came to light (?)—the oft-times winning Boston Cristo Kennels' Ch. Million Dollar Kid, and Miss Grace R. Whitney's very good Schipperke, Fortune's Knight. The Boston Terrier won the award, and then the best in show was quickly called.

The five winners of the previous classes were soon aligned, the judges made a final comparison, and the Cup for best of all was given to the Fox Terrier, Ch. Roscoe Graceful Mover. The cup for second best or reserve went to the constant winner, the Boston, Ch. Million Dollar Kid, and the Silver Medal for next best to the proud owner of the Chesapeake Bay Dog, Cheequa Buff.

By that time it was growing very dark, so quick adieus were said, and everybody started for home with the glad consciousness of a well spent day at a most successful show. Always spoken of as being one of New England's most attractive Fall shows, this last event has sealed that opinion in the public mind, for notwithstanding the somewhat cool day, the attendance of spectators beat all previous records, and it is the consensus of opinion of all who were present that the club had scored another notch of creditable performance.

GIRL SCOUTS

Metropolitan Division Meets at Camp Mary Day

Wednesday was a perfect day for the GET-together of the Metropolitan Division Girl Scouts at the Girl Scout Camp. About 70 Commissioners, Council members, Captains and other officers accepted the invitation of the Newton Council and availed themselves of this opportunity of visiting the camp. Mrs. Stanley M. Bolster, Deputy Commissioner, gave the welcome to camp and Miss Freeman the Director was asked to say something about the camp, its origin and method of conducting it. Most of the meeting which lasted until the middle of the afternoon was devoted to the Court of Awards the requirements for the Medal of Merit and Golden Eaglet and to the different methods of conducting campaigns for raising money for the organization. Luncheon was eaten on the porch or down by the pond and during the recess at noontime the visitors were shown about the camp and conducted over the grounds.

The first meeting of the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association is to be held on Wednesday evening in the supper room of the Unitarian Church, West Newton. The Officers of the Newtonville Troops have charge of the supper and Miss Ruth Stevens, the State Director, is to be the speaker of the evening.

Rehearsals for the "Forest Court," the Operetta, which is to be given by the West Newton Troops on Saturday, October 24, in Players Hall, West Newton, are progressing finely and the entertainment promises to be a great success. This is the first event on the program for the "Library Week" and the members of Troops V and XV are delighted that they can take part in this big Community affair and add their bit to the Memorial Fund.

Miss Lisbeth Leighton, who has been a Newton Girl Scout ever since the first troop of Girl Scouts was started in Newton, is acting as Assistant to Miss Doris Lovell, the Director of the Cambridge Girl Scouts. Miss Leighton first registered with the Newtonville Troop but on moving to West Newton she transferred to Troop V. She has been a Lieutenant in Troop V for the last 2 years and has also been a member of the Troop for Senior girls in that village. Cambridge is fortunate in gaining such a Scout and Newton is fortunate in not losing her entirely as she will still do some field work in our troops.

values above material values. The greatest thing of all is the development of community spirit which he said is the result of thinking of the other fellow. This generosity of spirit makes for true Americanism of which the test is not ancestry, money, or clothes but the welfare of the community.

The concert by the Italian Symphony Ensemble, under the direction of Raffaele Martino, was well rendered and received enthusiastically by the audience which numbered well over four hundred. A violin solo by Signor N. Varalla, a flute solo by Signor L. Laudane, and solos by Miss Alma Sibert were the outstanding features of the program. Miss Sibert's rendition of several Lettish Folk songs was most pleasing.

Happy Prospect for Hubby!

That one of the latest theories put forward by doctors is that new clothes are better than medicine to restore health. One can imagine how carefully a man would look after his wife's health, with the prospect of prescriptions of new jumpers, fur coats and strings of pearls in front of him every time she is suffering from a tiny ailment!—Exchange.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Your editor wishes to thank the Presidents and Press Chairmen of the clubs for their splendid co-operation. She wishes also to make it plain that accounts of meetings, if written up as soon as they take place, and mailed to her, will be printed the week they occur, provided the material reaches her on Wednesday. This is for those clubs whose meetings come on the first two days of the week. Those clubs whose meetings take place Wednesday or later in the week must be content with the week following for their write-up, but—please—this does not mean that these accounts also should be left until they, too, arrive on Wednesday in your editor's hands, lest she work till midnight, and—verily—you have to have a successor! Accounts of a meeting should be written and mailed as soon as the affair has taken place, for while enthusiasm and memory are alert the best record can be concocted! Accounts of meetings to come should be sent two weeks in advance, if possible, so they may be printed the week preceding the meeting, and press chairmen know what is coming unless there has been some unusual change.

The Year Books will be greatly welcomed by your editor, as they keep her in touch with dates and plans.

State Federation

Your editor wishes to remind the Presidents of the fifteen or more clubs of our Newton Federation to mark their calendars for the 29th, if they have by chance overlooked doing so.

For, by invitation of the Barnstable Woman's Club, a Presidents' Conference for Eastern Massachusetts will be held in Village Hall, Barnstable, Thursday, October 29th, at 10.30 A. M. Mrs. S. D. Lovell, President of the Barnstable Club, will give greeting, to which Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith President of the Massachusetts State Federation, will respond. Department reports will be read by State Chairmen at the morning session as follows: Junior Membership, International Relations, Assistant Clerk, Industrial and Social Conditions, Public Health, Legislation, Civil Service, Federation Topics, Americanization. These reports will be followed by a round table and question box.

Miss Mary J. Mortimer, Grey Holme, Barnstable, is in charge of the tickets for luncheon which must be reserved not later than October 22nd.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, General Federation Director for Massachusetts, will be the first speaker on the afternoon program. There will follow reports from these departments: Mothercraft, Community Service, Music, Friendly Cooperation with Ex-Service Men, Art, American Home, Press and Publicity, Literature. Suggestions by the President of the Federation, questions and resolutions which will complete the day's full program.

Trains leave Boston for Barnstable at 8.30 A. M. arriving in Barnstable at 10.31. Returning, the trains leave at 4.03 reaching Boston at 6.10 P. M.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

A decision handed down last week as to the status and purpose of one of our clubs of the Newton Federation is of wide-spread interest, and will be received with pleasure by our organizations, for by it is recognized our fundamental principles for all time, and the precedent established will forever react to the credit of the women's clubs as to our purpose and high intent.

While it is to be regretted that a controversy should have had to be fought out in our own home town, or that the powers that be should have allowed this to become a matter of controversy, since it is so evident what is the status of clubs in a community, we can congratulate ourselves that the difference of opinion has been so splendidly settled, and our status thereby becomes a matter of legal record that could not otherwise have been proven—however apparent it was when stated.

Decision in Favor of Woman's Club

Judge C. H. Donahue in the Middlesex Superior Court recently handed down a decision in favor of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Inc., in its petition against the city of Newton for the abatement of taxes on club property. Frank H. Stewart, Esq. is counsel for the club.

In its petition the woman's club claims to be a literary, charitable, and educational corporation, and therefore exempt from taxation. The petition sets forth that the city of Newton as of April 1, 1923, assessed the club, the following taxation: Real estate, $1463; personal property, $53.20; and street sprinkling, $6.40; making a total of $1522.60. It is also set forth that the club appealed to the city assessors for abatement of the taxes, but that the assessors refused the request and the Club therefore appeals to the court. The case was heard recently before Judge Donahue.

Judge Donahue in his decision orders the city of Newton to abate to the Woman's Club all the taxes except the $6.40 for the street sprinkling. He finds that the club's many past and present activities, and the varied uses by the club of its building, include some which are literary, benevolent, and charitable, and some which are social in character, and for the edification and gratification of its members alone.

After reviewing all the facts Judge Donahue finds, in conclusion, that the dominant purpose of the organization and the uses to which its building has been put are literary, benevolent, and charitable, within the meaning of the statute, and he, therefore, orders the abatement of the taxes, except that for street sprinkling, which does not come within the meaning of the statute.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club began its year on October 8th with a most successful meeting in the New Underwood School Hall. As the members entered the hall, they were presented to Mrs. William R. Dewey, Mrs. Shirley K. Kerns, and Mrs. Loren D. Towle, who were in the receiving line.

Promptly at 2.30 o'clock, the President, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, called the meeting to order, and introduced Mr. Frank W. Chase, who spoke a few words of welcome in behalf of the school. Mr. Earl E. Harper, of Auburndale, gave an address "Thou Shalt Sing", which was followed by a demonstration of singing by all the members of the club who tried their best to carry out the Commandments as directed by Mr. Harper. These were received with much amusement, since they consisted of first: Thou shalt sing; second, Thou shalt sing with all thy might; third, Thou shalt sing with thy mind; and fourth, Thou shalt sing beautifully—which of course saved the day, for the idea of singing lustily without heed to quality was rather a startling demand!

Miss Luthera Sibley, the writer of some of the songs which were sung, was present, and played the accompaniments on the piano.

Mr. Denoe Leedy gave a very enjoyable piano recital of modern music as the second part of the program.

Just before the meeting was adjourned, the President introduced the Chairmen of the Classes, who, entering into the merry spirit of the thing, arose and bowed to the audience, while huge white placards, designating their especial class, and pinned across their chests, swung jauntily with their motion. These are for the French class, Miss Dorothy Simpson; Fashion class, Mrs. William W. Colton; Child Problem, Mrs. Dexter B. Hill; Rugmaking, Mrs. William J. Tyler; Furniture Painting and the Refinishing of Antiques, Mrs. William A. Parks; China Painting, Mrs. Chester C. Smith; Nature Study, Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson; and for the Reading Group, Miss Edith Jamieson.

Refreshments were served during the social hour which followed, by Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss and members of the Social Committee.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Art Committee Chairman, Mrs. W. H Balckler, arranged the program for Friday, October 9th, when the first meeting of the season was held in Players' Small Hall, with the new President, Mrs. John R. McLean, presiding.

A talk on "California and the Wonders of the Golden Southwest", illustrated by some beautifully-colored slides, was given by Mr. Henry Warren Poor.

A group of three songs was rendered by Miss Stella Robertson, with Mrs. Louise Miles, accompanist. Tea followed.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The first meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club was held Tuesday afternoon, October 13th, at the Auburndale Club. The business meeting opened at 2.30 with the new President, Mrs. Stephen Wright, presiding. Two verses of "America the Beautiful" were sung, followed by announcements from Committee Chairmen. After a short intermission a most interesting program was offered.

Miss Laura Dalzell, a former Wellesley graduate, with five of her pupil dancers, gave a demonstration of the Noyes System of Rhythmic Dancing. This is a spontaneous type of dancing created by the imagination.

A reception to the presiding officers and all new members was enjoyed, with a social hour and refreshments.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Charles B. Hall of Wakefield will entertain the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on the evening of October 19th at the Club Rooms, Emerson School, at 7.30 o'clock, with her illustrated lecture on "Alaska, the Land of Far Delight." These pictures were taken last year after Mrs. Hall's trip to the Biennial at Los Angeles. Mrs. Frank Redman, Corresponding Secretary, is in charge of the evening.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Saturday, October 24th, marks the opening day of a most interesting series of events in honor of "Library Week," the splendid aim of which will end in a dream come true in a library building that will be the pride and joy of not only this section of Newton but of the entire city. The program begins—as a Saturday program should—with an entertainment for children arranged by the Girl Scouts. This—an operetta—is to be given in Players' Hall. In the evening an equally pleasing event is scheduled—a dance in the Armory, to which all floor space will be given, with no other entertainment, to break in on the time for this pleasure, and it will be a pleasure for Scotty Holmes' Band is to furnish the music.

The following week, beginning October 26th, for three afternoons,—Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday—enticing food sales will be held in the Unitarian Parish House, with the Mother's Club in charge. At the same time and place, the Educational Club will have a table of domestic articles for sale. A Book Shop, with new books, and second-hand, will be provided, every afternoon and evening of the week, beginning Monday, that all may keep apace with the new or recent writings, or—if wise in looking ahead to coming Christmas needs—provide for that day when they may be anxiously, eagerly, seeking for just the right idea! To buy in peace and quiet, and to aid a splendid cause at the same time is double cause for self-congratulation. A word to the wise!

In this connection, on Tuesday afternoon, Miss Alice Jordan of the Boston Public Library, will give a free lecture on Children's Books, and on Wednesday, at 3 P. M., John Clair Minot of the Boston Herald will lecture on "Current Books."

On Monday and Tuesday at 8.15 o'clock there will be an attractive Musical Review, in Players' Hall, directed by Langdon Matthews, and at 6.30 on Tuesday, a supper will be served in the Congregational Parish House under the able management of Mrs. Gardner I. Jones.

In this same Parish House there will be an attraction for the children, Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 2 o'clock and all day Saturday, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M., of that wonderderful treat—a County Fair!

To read of such plans makes one wish that there were no other things to think of than to spend the week in their enjoyment, but at least a few of them may be indulged in even by busy clubwomen—and they will not only have their enjoyment, but help to bring true a dream woven of idealism.

On October 23rd Mrs. Claude Gilson will give her second lecture on Current Events, for which tickets may be obtained from the Treasurer. In an announcement of this kind there is not much that can be said, but much is not needed, for busy women realize full well the blessed privilege it is to have in tabloid form this keeping abreast of the world and its times. To delve for one's self into the swiftly moving history of today takes hours that the woman of modern complicated life can not spare, much as she might like to.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held on October 19th at the home of Mrs. L. P. Briggs, 38 Aberdeen street, Newton Highlands. The subject of the afternoon under the "Makers of America," as a main topic, is "Washington: His Writings," in charge of Miss Harriet M. Ward. Washington has so come to mean to us the General who led the colonies through the war and to the establishing of the United States that we do not always think of him as a writer, or from the literary or more peacefully-inclined angle. It will, therefore, be worthwhile to study this great leader from a viewpoint that will prove once more his right to this title in all things.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet October 20th, at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, 362 Wolcott street. At the close of the regular program, Mrs. Marion W. Jamieson will give a short talk on Y. W. C. A. work.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The new Philanthropic Chairman, Mrs. William F. Coan, starts her committee activities with a Food Sale on October 20th, which will follow the Club meeting in Lincoln Hall, when Dr. George H. Bigelow of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health will give his popular talk on "Periodic Health Examinations."

The Education Committee, Mrs. George G. Wolkins, chairman, reports completed plans for a children's beginner's French class to be led by Madame J. M. Clauzel, of the Chamberlayne School for Girls in Boston. The first class will be held Saturday, October 17th in the School Library at 11.30 A. M.

The Art Tea advertised for October 27th is to be omitted.

Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson leads the next out-door tramp scheduled for October 21st. Full announcement of route will be made at the next club

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

The recent census shows a vast increase in Newton's population. The same is true of other Massachusetts cities. They appear to have taken advantage of this condition while Newton has failed to do so. We refer to the fact that along with greater numbers of men, women and children in the various municipalities has come a larger field for Mayoralty candidates and other seekers for public office. Boston has at least seventeen who desire to be elected Mayor. Lynn, in its primaries last Tuesday, had thirteen to choose from and other cities have done and are doing their best to keep their end up. Does this mean a lack of enterprise on the part of Newton voters? If there are to be no more male opponents of Mayor Childs' candidacy, so far as the men are concerned, isn't it possible for the women to lead the way? If they cannot find a woman candidate for Mayor they might prevail upon some prominent man to run, assuming, of course, they favor a contest. A candidate backed by the strong support of an organization of women voters would make things decidedly interesting in Newton politics this Fall and possibly upset what appears now to be a sure thing.

Whether one believes that the regulation of traffic in Nonantum Square represents the most perfect solution of the problem, the fact remains that it has been established and further criticism is not in order for the present at least. What we have in mind is the control of Newton Corner traffic on the other side of the Centre street bridge. It seems as if the authorities, having wrestled with the vexatious situation north of this bridge, have sort of overlooked the rest of the village. Center street between the bridge and Richardson street is at times thronged with vehicles. We think it a mistake to permit a solid line of cars to park from the bridge to the entrance of Newton depot grounds. These cars are placed solidly against the curbing. Entering Centre street from Elmwood street one cannot cross to the other side of Centre street directly, if all the cars are in their customary places. It is necessary for the pedestrian to walk south to a point opposite the depot driveway or go north, passing over the bridge, and cross opposite the bank. There is a crossing from Elmwood street over Centre street and this should be kept open. Then, again, a narrow thoroughfare like Elmwood street should not be allowed to contain at one time more than a certain number of cars. It is easy to understand the attitude of a business man who is eager to obtain all the trade possible. His customers, too, have a right to drive up to the door of a store, leave their car and do their shopping. There is a limit somewhere, however, and if it be on the number of taxi-cab stands then it should be promptly established. Perhaps some one will tell us that there are regulations against parking in these places. If such there be, we are of the opinion they are not enforced. The traffic problem is becoming more and more acute. The Aldermen have their troubles with garage permits but now that Winter is coming on these petitions should become fewer. This, then, should give the Aldermen time to turn to traffic. The Police Department has had a burden never dreamed of ten years ago but as far as we have been able to learn the extra men needed have only been appointed after extended delays at City Hall. It may be that some people think Newton will never need a police traffic squad, but it will, and, in our opinion does. There should be a ranking officer driving about every village to see that the traffic men have all the assistance they need. In Boston you will see a superior officer "jumping in" to straighten out a temporary tangle. That official goes all over the city. Newton's needs are as imperative in a smaller way. If more police are required the fact should be recognized at City Hall. The problem is growing and is not to be settled by the investigation of a special committee. Let us have a traffic squad and "get down to brass tacks" and brass buttons.

We have learned indirectly that some of the Aldermen, maybe all of them as far as that is concerned, are in favor of shorter sessions. Well, they have in their own hands the power to regulate that matter themselves and anything they may agree upon will be satisfactory to the public. The stumbling block appears to be the number of hearings. The board now assembles in regular session earlier than in the old days. It is getting more, in the matter of sessions only, like the municipal boards of great cities which hold their meetings in the day time. As to the question of hearings we have never been able to convince ourselves that the full board should be called upon to sit at hearings on all subjects listed. The Legislature refers a petition or a bill to an appropriate committee. That committee holds a public hearing. Other members of the General Court, if interested, attend. Some of them speak for or against the proposed legislation. Then the committee makes its report and action is taken by the Legislature in regular session. Is each of the petitions offered the Newton Board of Aldermen so vital that it cannot be heard by a committee or must twenty-one men be required to listen to details that are frequently almost inconsequential? If the Aldermen find their tasks overwhelming why don't they adopt new rules? Perhaps it would require amendments to the city charter. The charter has been amended before and can be again. We would not urge any drastic changes which would threaten the people of the city with full or partial loss of their rights. If it is a question of submitting charter changes to the voters for approval that could be done at city elections. We believe in Representative Government and although it may appear that occasionally we are a bit impatient with our own city government we are confident that Newton is most fortunate to have so earnest a group of men willing to serve. Of course it is an exacting job, a job that is productive of much criticism and no praise, but having taken it on there is no escape from its unpleasant features.

Among the glories of the past—the not so distant past, we mean, say twenty-five years ago—were the lower prices of food. No doubt you read in last week's Graphic how in those days heavy cream sold for fifty cents a quart and "refined russet cider" for 25 cents a gallon. We do not know if the present russet cider is as refined. As we do not drink cider ourselves we cannot say whether the consumption of that beverages tends to refinement of conduct on the part of consumers. Offhand, we do not think it does, but then we have no objection to offer and no protest to make. As far as we are concerned the cider may now and the jugs containing it continue to ornament the roadsides for the edification of automobilists. We will take our apple juice in concentrated form, thank you. But heavy cream at 50 cts. a qt. and eggs at 45 cents a dozen! Here is something worthy of reflection. The prices of dairy products and hennery products have joined the aviation forces and appear to be out for altitude records. We suppose the dealers, jobbers, producers, handlers and all those having a part in getting these things to our tables have a reason, or several reasons for the increased figures. But are the cows and the hens getting anything more out of it? We trust they are. Again we read, "Oranges 40 cents a dozen." It may be that so much land in Florida has been turned into sites for winter hotels and palatial residences that that groves of oranges have been crowded out, one by one. In California much fruit-growing space has been demanded for locations for moving pictures. That is a little more satisfactory and we are willing to admit that it is almost too much to expect—dreams of Florida riches and movies, too, with oranges at the old-time prices. Imported French Camembert sold a quarter of a century ago for a quarter. It takes two quarters now to get a box of the same size and no chance to say, "How ripe is this one?" or "Will it keep two or three days?" But let us not talk of luxuries, or think of them. To proceed with the old and new prices in the spirit of comparison may start a flood of memories, but after all isn't it more interesting to be living in these days? We think so.

A thoughtful friend, reading of our illusions in this column to the stage and reference to theatrical performances so happily remembered, has given us the privilege of looking over his collection of programs. Many of these old plays were most successful, all of them were interesting and none of them called for the intervention of a board of censors. All this leads to the question of what has got into the minds of so many modern writers for the stage that they feel obliged to draw from the seamy side of life to properly impress an audience. We hear of the "naturalistic school"—the kind of drama that shows all the mean and contemptible traits of human character without a single ray of sunshine. We have no desire to see a revival of the melodrama that painted the bad absolutely and the uncompromisingly black and the good spotlessly white, but we believe there is a medium that will make play-going a wholesome recreation. We have no patience with authors who indulge in pure hokum, but we do enjoy a play that has to do with life and that shows the human struggle is upward in its trend and not downward.

The school children of Newton one naturally thinks of these days as "busy and bustling," but that is no reason they should be forced to remain "bussless."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

A part of the lumber for the new cabin of troop 1 of Newtonville has been delivered and carried over to the camp site. This cabin will be the largest in the Ohio, the overall dimensions to be twenty by forty feet.

Mr. Egon Kattwinkel, formerly Assistant Scoutmaster in troop 7, West Newton, has been appointed Scoutmaster in place of Mr. Robert L. Underwood whose duties as assistant pastor make it necessary to give up the post of scoutmaster. The troop has prospered under the leadership of Mr. Underwood and he has become a great favorite, not only with the scouts but the officers as well. It is fine to know that he will still be able to give up some time to the boys. Mr. Kattwinkel was a very efficient assistant and has had a considerable amount of experience in boys' work. It is a great satisfaction to see him come back to Newton and go right into the scout work.

The dedication of the cabin of troop 11 of Eliot Church, Newton, took place in the Ohio at 3.00 P. M. Monday the twelfth. Mr. John M. Woodbridge, Jr., Deputy Commissioner and acting temporarily as scoutmaster of this troop was master of ceremonies, forming the troop at the new flag pole and going through the color ceremony. Bartlett Thorogood, a scout from troop 5, Newton Centre, acted as bugler. The beginning of scouting was symbolized by awarding the tenderfoot badge to Alexander Pratt, the newest member of the troop. After prayer by Mr. John M. Woodbridge, Professor L. O. Cummings as chairman of the local troop committee, presented the cabin and the key to Mr. James C. Irwin who represented the president of Norumbega Council. Mr. Irwin, with a few well chosen words, returned the key to Mr. Woodbridge, Jr., as temporary custodian of the cabin and also spoke of Mr. Carley's connection with this troop as scoutmaster and in other capacities, saying that Mr. Carley was the first one to make real use of the Ohio as to permanent improvements and that his infinance and action had been a great stimulant to scouting in the community. Mr. Woodbridge, Jr., replied and gave a summary of the story of the building of the cabin, telling that the camp was named "Camp Carley" by some of the scouts more than a year ago, displaying the rough sign that they made without suggestion and then putting in position the new sign which reads, "Camp Carley, Troop Eleven, Boy Scouts of America." Mr. Carley replied briefly, calling attention to the fact that without the fine spirit of cooperation on the part of the scouts, officers and the troop committee, as well as the parents, the cabin could not have been built.

FIRE TEST

The Fire Demonstration which was scheduled to take place last Saturday was postponed, on account of bad weather, to next Saturday, October 17, at 1.30 P. M., rain or shine, at same place—Walnut street, corner Tennyson road, Wellesley Hills, near Newton Lower Falls.

Can our fire losses be reduced by a more general use of concrete construction? All interested in fire-safe houses are invited to witness this fire and water test.

Easy Lessons in - AUCTION BRIDGE

Author of "Ferguson on Auction Bridge"

Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 2

One of the best liked members of one of the New York clubs is an old professor of Greek at one of the local universities. He has read every thing that has been published on the game but has never been able to become a good auction player. Every once in a while he has a bad night and when he does his partners try to grin and bear it. The following hand is an illustration of the professor's game:

Hearts — 7, 5
Clubs — 9, 6, 2
Diamonds — Q, 10, 2
Spades — Q, 9, 8, 5, 2

: dummy :
: A B :
: professor :

Hearts — K, 4
Clubs — A, Q
Diamonds — A, 8, 5, 4, 3
Spades — A, K, J, 10

The professor's contract was five spades and A led the ace of hearts and then a low heart which the professor won with the king. He then took out the trumps and led a small club from dummy and finessed with his queen. The king was in A's hand so that the professor failed to make his contract as he subsequently lost the king of diamonds which was also in A's hand. After the hand was over, the professor said to his partner, "Well, partner, if the king of clubs had been on the right side, I would have made my bid." His partner, a very good player, replied: "You could have gone game without taking the finesse. After you had taken out the opponents' trumps, you should have led a low diamond toward the queen in dummy. A had the king so that your diamonds were set up and on the last two in your hand, you could have discarded two losing clubs in dummy." This criticism was correct and the professor apologized for taking a finesse when it wasn't necessary. Study this hand carefully and see that you don't make the same error. Count your losing tricks and don't finesse if you don't have to do so.

About an hour later the professor bid one no-trump, all passed and A opened the three of clubs. The professor's hand and the dummy's are as follows:

Hearts — Q, 10, 9
Clubs — 9, 4, 2
Diamonds — Q, 10, 4, 2
Spades — 10, 6, 5

: dummy :
: A B :
: professor :

Hearts — J, 8, 7, 2
Clubs — A, Q, 7
Diamonds — A, K, 3
Spades — A, Q, 4

The professor should have sized up the hand as follows: "A can only have four clubs for he has led the three and the deuce is in dummy. Therefore, AB should only make two club tricks and two heart tricks. If the diamonds are evenly divided, I can go game without finessing the queen of spades. If they don't break, then I will have to finesse the queen of spades." Unfortunately, he failed to figure out the hand as outlined, and as soon as he got dummy in the lead, led the spade, finessed the queen and A won the trick with the king of spades. It was now impossible for the professor to go game as he had to lose two club tricks, two heart tricks and one spade trick. To play the hand correctly he should have set up his hearts and then have played for the drop in diamonds. They were evenly divided so that in this way he could have made game. His partner was silent for a minute and then said: "Well, professor, it looks as if anybody can teach Greek but auction seems to require a head."

Answer to Problem No. 1

Hearts — none
Clubs — 8, 5, 3
Diamonds — 6, 4
Spades — Q, 8, 6

Hearts — none
Clubs — Q, 7, 2
Diamonds — 7, 3
Spades — J, 7, 4

: Y :
: A B :
: Z :

Hearts — K, 8
Clubs — J, 9
Diamonds — K
Spades — 5, 3, 2

Hearts — A, 10, 9
Clubs — K, 4
Diamonds — Q, J
Spades — 9

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can YZ win six of the eight tricks against any defense? Z should lead the nine of spades. If A covers with the jack, Y should play the queen and then lead the three of clubs. If A refuses to cover, Y should also play low. Z should then play the king of clubs. In either event, Z would win the second trick with the king of clubs. He should then lead the four of clubs. A can either (a) win the trick with the queen or (b) allow B to win with the jack. (a) If A wins the trick with the queen of clubs, he can lead a club which Y will win and lead a diamond, putting B in the lead and forcing him to lead hearts to Z's tenace or spades to Y's tenace. A can also lead a diamond, putting B in the lead with the same result. A can also lead a spade to Y's tenace. Y would win these two tricks and lead a diamond putting B in the lead with the same result. (b) If A allows B to win the third trick with the jack of clubs, the result is the same. All he can make is the king of diamonds, so that YZ must make six of the eight tricks against any defense.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending October 10:—Patients in hospital 121, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 62, patients paying less than cost of care 31, free patients, including babies, 28, babies born 8, patients treated by out patient department 101, accident cases 14, social service calls at hospital 11, at homes 3, patients transferred by social service car 4.

Friday of last week a class of senior Newton High School students, with their teacher, visited the hospital. They were particularly interested in the kitchens and in invalid cookery.

Miss Humphreys and Miss Reed attended the meeting of the Massachusetts States Nurses Association at Pittsfield last week. They went by bus by way of the Mohawk Trail and returned by bus by way of Jacob's Ladder. They report the meeting to have been a most enthusiastic one.

Dr. Baker, superintendent of the hospital at Newport, R. I., accompanied by his wife and son were recent visitors at the hospital.

At its meeting at the hospital on the evening of October 19 the Newton Medical Club will listen to talks by Dr. Leland S. McKittrick and Dr. Elliott P. Joslin on the subject of diabetes.

Miss Allen, the superintendent, is to attend the coming meeting of the American Hospital Association at Louisville and is to read before it a paper on "What can the hospitals in the smaller communities do to make their training schools sufficiently attractive to compare with the training schools of hospitals in larger cities."

Among the recent presents made to the hospital is a story book from Mildred Anne Connelly of Newton Lower Falls.

Miss Martin and Miss Allen recently met with the members of the hospital committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club at the home of its chairman, Mrs. Trowbridge, and told of some of the present needs of the hospital.

Miss Mary Lynch, president of the hospital student Y. W. C. A. is a member of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. joint committee which met in Boston last week to plan for the student conference at Northfield next February.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

"The Ten Commandments," conceded by all critics to be the mightiest picture spectacle in all the ages, comes to the Community Theatre for four days commencing Sunday, October 18. It is a modern up-to-date story of the most gripping sort, preceded by a lavish prologue in a most magnificent setting. Among the famous artists appearing in the prologue are Theodore Roberts, as Moses, Charles DeRoche as Rameses, Estelle Taylor, Julia Faye, and in part two, Edythe Chapman Richard, Dix, Rod LaRoque, Leatrice Joy, Nita Naldi, Robert Edeson, Charles Ogle, Agnes Ayres.

The balance of the program consists of the Our Gang comedy, "Boys Will Be Joys" and "Ouch," a third dimension movie of the series that has never failed to delight Community audiences.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Milton Sills heads the bill in "The Knockout," a virile story of the Canadian logging camps, filmed with the co-operation of the Canadian government. The supporting picture is "Fine Clothes," adapted from Franz Molnar's famous stage success "Fashions for Men," starring Lewis Stone, Alma Reubens, Percy Marmont, Raymond Griffith and Eileen Percy. It has for its theme a dramatic revelation of the craving for finery of the modern women of the present day.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The first Board Meeting of the year was held on Wednesday evening, with supper at six-thirty. Following that the reports of the Silver Bay Community Conference were given by Miss Claire L. Amazeen and Miss Martha O. Boothby. These two young women, who served as the Association's delegates to the Conference reported that they had gained not only great inspiration but much information of practical value in the local work. Miss Amazeen is President and Miss Boothby Vice-President of the Blue Triangle Club for business and professional women. The Board considered plans for this coming Winter, which have to do with a finance campaign and with an effort to greatly increase the membership, from all the Newtons, in this Association.

On Monday evening, the 19th, the Blue Triangle Club will meet as usual, with supper at six-thirty, after which Miss Margaret Leavitt of Newton, will tell some of her experiences in Labrador with the Grenfell Mission. The club feels very fortunate to be able to get Miss Leavitt to speak on this interesting trip.

Plans are now under way for a Mother and Daughter banquet of all the Girl Reserve Clubs, to be held Friday, October 23rd. Supper will be served at six-thirty, followed by a programe given by the various clubs, which will be as follows:

Blessing, Miss Anne L. Leathers; Toast Mistress, "Welcome to Mothers". Speakers:

Mrs. Louis Stoughton Drake, "Chums, Daughter and I;" Miss Emily Doibier, "Chums, Mother and I."

Music selections.

Stunts by clubs.

The gymnasiums class started Tuesday evening, with an enrollment of seven. It is hoped that a good number of girls will also attend the basketball class, which will meet Tuesdays at eight-thirty. The children's gymnasium class began Wednesday at four o'clock.

MR. POWERS TO BE HONORED

Hon. Samuel L. Powers, who has just completed fifty years of active service as a lawyer, will be tendered a complimentary banquet at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, on November 16th, by some of the most prominent members of the bar, the courts and public officials.

OLTMANS-NILSSON

Wedding announcements have been received for the marriage of Miss Lilly Natalie Nilson of Newton, to Mr. John Gerard Oltmans of Cambridge, at the home of Rev. Henry S. Potter, Arlington October 9th.

After a trip to New Hampshire, the couple will be at home, after November 1st, at 61 Dartmouth street, Belmont.

BOSTON & WORCESTER STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

adopts Another Popular Feature for Improved Rapid Transit Service.

ON Monday, October 12, 1925, the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company will introduce a non-stop service in the cities of Boston and Worcester for the greater convenience of its patrons.

Between Chestnut Hill, Brookline, and Park Square, Boston, and between Lake Quinsigamond, Shrewsbury, and Salem Square, Worcester, stops will be made, on inbound trips, to discharge passengers only, and, on outbound trips, to permit only passengers, whose destination is some point on the lines of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company, to board cars.

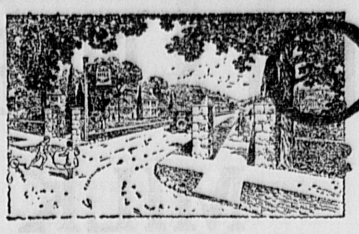

This improved service has been made possible through the co-operation of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Company, over whose lines terminal connections are made.

Transfers are not issued to, nor accepted from, cars of the Boston Elevated Railway Company or Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Company. Patrons desiring transfer privileges on these lines should change at Chestnut Hill or Lake Quinsigamond respectively, and pay fare to these points only.

Zone coupon tickets will be accepted through to Park Square from any point on the Boston & Worcester Street Railway. Buy coupon tickets on sale at Agencies.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

meeting and members are urged to remember and reserve October 21st pending this.

Newton Community Club

Mrs. Helen Talboy, who has just returned from Geneva and the Hague, will speak on the "World Court" at the meeting to be held on October 22nd, at the Underwood School Hall.

A course of six Current Event lectures by Mrs. Ida Porter-Boyer will be given on the first Thursday of each month beginning on November 5th. Tickets may be procured from the club treasurer, Miss Margaret H. Aubin.

The Classes Committee with Mrs. R. Porter-Boyer as Chairman, has planned a busy year for members of the club. There is to be a French class, a Fashion class, a class on the Child Problem, art classes in Rug making, China painting, and one in Furniture painting and the Refinishing of Antiques. For nature lovers there will be a nature study class and, in the spring, lectures on Gardening. As these classes are now being formed and many of them are limited, application should be made at once.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A regular meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will take place on Tuesday, October 27th at the Auburndale Club House.

Mr. Melville C. Freeman, head of the History Department in the High School of Practical Arts, Boston, will speak on "The Inspiration of Books." There will be song by Miss Dorothy Greeley.

The afternoon is in charge of the Literature Committee.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Committee on Courses of the Newtonville Woman's Club, of which Mrs. H. D. Cabot is Chairman, has sent reply cards to the members presenting for consideration several subjects for study. Some of these classes are already organized, others are suggested to obtain an expression of opinion. The list is as follows: French, Literature, Round Table Talks for Parents, Hooked-rug Making, Candy Making, Exercises in Posture, Millinery, Dressmaking, Italian Cut Work and Embroidery, Gardening, Glee Club, and Dramatics.

The Round Table talks will include subjects connected with child training and school problems. Mrs. G. E. Eames, Chairman of American Homes Committee, reports that the fall millinery class is meeting under the leadership of Miss Alice Alden at the home of Mrs. W. G. West, 297 Crafts street, Friday afternoons at 2.30. There is still opportunity to join this class either for single lessons or for the remaining three of the course.

The Hospital Committee held its first sewing meeting Thursday, October 15th, at the home of Mrs. C. J. Trowbridge. Miss Bertha Allen and Mrs. Martin were present and explained about the sewing for the coming year. Other such meetings are to come. During the absence of the President, Mrs. Decatur, the Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Charles Kepner, Mrs. H. A. Burnham and Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe will share equally in the responsibility. Questions of club interest and matters of information will be referred to Mrs. Charles D. Kepner.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Two interesting events for this enterprising club mark the coming week: the meeting of the Travel Class on Monday, the 19th, at the home of Mrs. Willard C. Church, 356 Waltham street, West Newton, and the regular meeting of the club on the 23rd, in Players' Small Hall. The Travel Class is celebrating its fifteenth anniversary this year. What an amount of travel this does represent, and what happy memories of fair and strange lands visited! The Friday meeting is in charge of the Legislative Committee, with Mrs. Herman R. Place, as Chairman, when the "Affairs of the City of Newton" will be discussed by Hon. Thomas W. White. Music and tea will complete the afternoon.

This club is also co-operating in true sisterly spirit, with the Community Service Club of this village is aiding the work of Library Week. They have charge of the Household Tables during that affair at the Unitarian Parish House, proceeds of which sales will go to the fund being raised for the new library building.

Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club

On October 24th, Mrs. William Mick will be hostess for the Shakespeare Club, and Mrs. S. L. Eaton has charge of the program. The year's study is the play "King Lear," and Mrs. Eaton will present the study of the first two acts.

Dates of the next meetings of the clubs follow:

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club October 19
C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands October 19
Auburndale Review Club October 20
Newton Highlands Woman's Club October 20

and, lastly,—and an IMPORTANT MEETING FOR ALL NEWTON CLUB-WOMEN—the BOARD MEETING of the Newton Federation next MONDAY morning, at 10.15 o'clock, in the Newton Club, Newtonville, OCTOBER 19th.

WHITAKER—LOVELL

The wedding of Mr. Holden Whitaker, of Bradford road, Newton Highlands, and Miss Kathleen Lovell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andre J. Lovell of Falmouth, Mass., took place on Columbus Day at the home of the bride in Falmouth, Mass., where the ceremony was performed at one o'clock by Rev. James C. Sharp.

The bridal gown was of white satin trimmed with real Point lace and seed pearls, with long tight sleeves, the tulle veil trimmed with orange blossome and real Princess lace across the forehead. She carried a shower boquet of lilies of the valley and roses.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara K. and Margaret S. Gass of Cambridge. Miss Barbara wore slate blue silk, large pressed beaver hat, and Miss Margaret was in king's blue silk with large hat. Each carried a boquet of garden flowers.

Mr. Whitaker had his brother, Mr. Winthrop Whitaker of Newton Highlands as his best man, and the ushers were Mr. Hollis Lovell, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Wesley Dennis, both of Falmouth.

A reception followed the ceremony, the house being most attractively decorated with autumn leaves, garden flowers, palms and baskets filled with garden flowers and forming a temporary altar.

After a wedding trip thru Vermont and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker will reside at Needham, where they will be at home after November first.

The groom is a graduate of the Pratt Institute of New York, and of the Massachusetts Agricultural College.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Fanny B. Coffin, a resident of this city for over fifty years, died last Saturday at her home on Bellevue street, Newton, after a long period of failing health. Mrs. Coffin was the widow of the late Lewis E. Coffin, for many years chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors. She was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, and was 76 years of age. For many years she was identified with the activities of Channing Church.

She is survived by two sons, Prof. Fletcher B. Coffin of Lake Forest, Ill., and Mr. Langdon Coffin of Newton.

Funeral services were held from her late home on Monday, Rev. Chester A. Drummond, pastor of Channing Church officiating and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

MISSION AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

On Sunday evening, October 18 the Rev. William Smith of St. Mathew's Church, Worcester, will begin a week's mission in St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands. The schedule of services will be as follows: Holy Communion every morning at 7.30, Tuesday at 4.00 P. M., Children's Service. Wednesday at 4.00 P. M. for women only. Saturday evening at 7.30 for men. The regular mission service for all will be at 7.30 every evening. The parish extends a cordial welcome to the people of the Highlands to attend these services.

ATTEMPTED HOLDUP

Tuesday night between eleven-thirty and midnight, as John A. McCarthy was about to close his drugstore at the corner of Washington and Waltham streets, West Newton, a man came into the store and asked for the change of a Canadian fifty-cent piece. He stated that he desired to buy some gasoline but the filling station tender refused to accept the Canadian money. McCarthy, who was alone in the store, refused to change the coin. At this time a friend of Mr. McCarthy, who was passing the store and who was suspicious of a Ford touring car with its engine running and a man at the wheel entered the drug store. The man who had asked for the change for the coin apparently became scared, as he hastened out, and jumped into the auto, which drove rapidly away.

RECENT MOTION PICTURES BASED ON LITERATURE

Many people enjoy an occasional "movie." Many people enjoy seeing moving pictures much more frequently than occasionally. In this connection, it is interesting to go back to some of the sources of a few recent pictures that have been approved by the National Board of Review:

NEWTON BETTER HOMES

A departure from the usual type of dwellings has been made by the Newton Better Homes Associates, who have already completed a number of stately residences in the restricted section of Commonwealth avenue, Newtonville, the geographical centre of Newton, and on Lowell avenue to the north, which is one of the main thoroughfares between Newtonville and Newton Centre.

The wide experience and judgement of one of the associates who has constructed many dwellings in the last generation for permanent investment, have been applied to the erection of these fine homes. And accordingly the best of materials and workmanship have been used, as is evidenced by solid brick construction and Spanish tile roofs; plumbing of iron size brass with fixtures of solid porcelain, built-in shower baths.

Hot water heating systems with oil burning equipment, and instantaneous hot water heaters are provided.

It would seem that these are veritable houses of tile with their blazed tile bathrooms and kitchens, rich red quarry tile sun rooms, breakfast rooms, terraces and outside porches.

The dining rooms are finished with six-foot quartered gumwood wainscote dadoes with which harmonize the craftex panelling and tinting, so decoratively used throughout the houses, wall paper has been entirely eliminated.

Nor are to be overlooked such appointments, not found everywhere, as: linen and cedar closets, automatically lighted, and mirrored doors.

Away from the rear of the houses but carefully placed for easy access to the house and a wide drive way stand private 2-car fireproof brick garages, lighted and heated from the house.

Charmingly set back on the non-traffic side of Commonwealth avenue, these houses, all representing different periods of architecture, are attracting much attention from exacting homeseekers.

TO A VIOLET

While strolling in the aFll decked fields,
Aflame with purple, gold and red.
I looked on many a splendid view,
Of hill and vale, and clouds o'er head.
A downward glance and at my feet
A violet of lovely hue
Looked shyly from its lowly place,
A little spot of heavenly blue.

How came this modest flower of Spring
In late October to enfold?
Perchance the foot of man or beast
Had earlier crushed it in the mold;
While others grew, and bloomed, and passed
This stricken plant still held to life,
And bravely battled all alone,
Undaunted in the strife.

Dear little flower of lovely hue,
Plucked on a late October day,
Thy courage won thee thy reward,
Altho' thou could'st not bloom in May
And dearer than the splendid view
I prized thee, flower of heavenly blue.

Newton

—Monday morning a still alarm was rung in for a slight fire in Pearl court.

—Miss Mabel Swett, as a member of the senior class at Wellesley College, has been elected a member of the executive board of her class.

—Mr. Thomas F. Farrington, a resident here for the past fifteen years, died last Wednesday at the Newton Hospital after a short illness. Mr. Farrington, who lived at 214 Bellevue street was employed in the U. S. Postal Department. He was born in Ireland and was 48 years of age. He is survived by his widow and four children. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning.

Mr. Thomas F. Burlingame who died Wednesday at his home, 106 Charlesbank road, was 72 years of age, and was connected in business with the Hoffman House Real Estate. He is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter. Funderal services were held from his late residence yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. West Thompson of the Methodist Church officiating, and the burial was at Norwich, Conn.

DEATH OF MR. SWETT

Friends of Mr. Vernon B. Swett were shocked to learn on Wednesday that his death had taken place early that morning. Mr. Swett had attended to business as usual on Tuesday, and had mentioned to friends on the train from the city that evening that he was in very good health.

Death was caused by hardening of the arteries.

Mr. Swett was a resident here for over twenty years, and had been active in religious and political circles, and always took a deep interest in public affairs. He was appointed a member of the Newton Planning Board when that body was established and had served as its secretary.

He was an active member of the Newton Methodist Church, of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Exchange Club, Boston City Club, Puddingstone Club, Charles River Country Club and the Twentieth Century Club. He was a trustee of Wesleyan University and of Kents Hill Seminary, and was a former president of the Boston Board of Underwriters.

He was born in Milton Plantation, Me., on May 3, 1870, graduated from Wesleyan University in 1896, and then entered the insurance business in Boston, where he was the general agent of the Provident Life Insurance Co.

Mr. Swett was twice married, and is survived by his second wife, who was Miss Helen G. Eager before her marriage, and her children, two daughters and one son, Miss Mabel E. Swett, a senior at Wellesley College, Miss Elizabeth Swett and William A. Swett, a student at Andover.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at his late home, 180 Franklin street, Newton.

DEATH OF MISS WHEELER

Miss Louise Tileston Wheeler was the daughter of Benjamin F. Wheeler and Sara Elizabeth Leeds Wheeler, both of Newton, born November 30, 1869. Her girlhood was spent in Newton followed by extensive travel abroad with her cousin, Miss Ella Macomber of West Newton. For the past twenty years she has lived in the Back Bay, Boston. Her death there at her apartment followed a shock on Sunday afternoon, October 4, 1925.

She was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church Newton. The funeral services were held at the home of her cousin, Edmund I. Leeds, Park street, Newton, her pastor, Mr. Newton D. Merritt, officiating. Mr. J. Garfield Stone of Eliot Church rendered the music. The interment was at Newton Cemetery.

She is survived by a brother, Frank Leeds Wheeler of Allston, his wife and son, Leeds Wheeler, also a sister, Mary Wheeler Donkin of North Falmouth, and cousins, Mr. Francis Macomber of West Newton, Miss Ella Macomber, now of Boston, Mrs. Sallie Macomber Adams of Brookline, Edmund I. Leeds of Newton and Colonel Charles Tileston Leeds of Los Angeles, California.

MEMORIAL WINDOW

A memorial window to Cyrus Cobb, sculptor of the Soldiers' Monument, Cambridge and his wife, Emma Lillie Cobb, has been given by their children to Harvard Church, Brookline. It occupies a single gothic opening in the north transept, and is inscribed: "In loving memory of Cyrus Cobb and of his wife, Emma Lillie Cobb."

The window has for its text: "At evening time it shall be light," from the Book of Zechariah. It is of Tiffany favrile glass and reperesents a field of lillies, symbolic of the resurrection, stretching out to the horizon. The white flowers become suffused with sunset tints in the distance. From the horizon upward soft tones of lilac and mauve, streaked with gold, blend through rose, saffron and green into the purplish blue of the evening sky.

The crystal waters of a pool in the foreground reflect the colors in the sky. The left bank of the pool is fringed by blueish flowers and at the right a thick clump of purple iris breaks the whiteness of the lilies.

The window was designed and made at the ecclesiastical department of the Tiffany Studios, New York City.

MADE ODD BOUNDARY "LINE"

Explanation of Compound Curve That Settled Dispute of Early Colonial Days.

When William Penn obtained a grant in Pennsylvania he was very desirous of owning the land on Delaware bay to the sea, and procured from the duke of York a release of all his title and claim to New Castle and a radius of 12 miles around it, and to the land between that tract and the sea. Lord Baltimore protested, but in 1685 the Lords of trade and plantation made a decision in Penn's favor.

The tracts which now constitute the state of Delaware, Penn called "The Territories," or the "Three Lower Counties on the Delaware." They were governed as part of Pennsylvania for about 20 years. In 1776 the inhabitants declared them a separate state. Then ensued a long-drawn-out dispute between Delaware and Pennsylvania over the northern boundary line. Because of the inaccuracy of the original survey of 1701, no single curve could be made to pass through the stones set up to mark off a radius of 12 miles around New Castle. An attempt to rectify the line was made by the United States Coast and Geodetic survey, but when a number of Delaware residents found they would be geographically in Pennsylvania they raised such a howl that the survey was dropped, and a joint boundary commission was appointed to settle the dispute. A compound curve was found to conform very closely to the original line, so it was adopted.

SUNSET IN ARABIAN DESERT

Scene of Remarkable Beauty Under the Glowing Moon and the Silver Stars.

There is no twilight in the desert. One moment the sun rides high in the heavens; the next it dies in brief, few moments of ruddy afterglow, and then at one bound comes the dark. One by one the stars appear, as when the lights are turned on at nightfall in a city, until the purple-velvet sky is cut across by a broad swath of silver dust, the Milky Way. And so we would fall asleep, lulled by the murmur of the Arab voices and the grumbling of the camels. . . . Above us a moon that looked like an enormous silver plate, and the stars very near. It is usually late before the camp falls asleep. The fires die down to beds of glowing embers. The night wind rises, and I draw my blankets about me more closely. I can discern the dim, misshapen forms of the camels tethered outside the zareba walls. A sentry, rifle on shoulder, muffled to the eyes in his abieh, moves past on noiseless feet. A jackal howls in the darkness. Something rustles in the undergrowth—a snake or a lizard, no doubt. The moon transforms the yellow desert into a lake of molten amber. Over everything a magic silence falls.—E. Alexander Powell, in the Century Magazine.

Try This on Your Links.

Perkins was a billiard and pool "shark" and Watkins had tried for two years to get good enough to beat him at the game, but with no luck. Last year Watkins gave up in disgust and quit the billiard table for the golf links. Here he had better success in becoming proficient, and after one season's play, found himself able to approach within a respectable distance of old Colonel Bogey.

Watkins borrowed an extra set of clubs and, after some tall persuasion, got Perkins out on the links for a round of golf. Perkins was like a flapper in a long skirt! Watkins rubbed it in and gloated over his victim to the utmost. The game was a bit lop-sided and Watkins was soon 10 up on the 18 holes. Perkins saw how badly he had been beaten, but he was a true sportsman and a game bird.

"Well, you won that game, I guess," he said to Watkins. "Scratch never was my game, anyway. Now let's play a round of call-shot."

In the Pines.

Awake in the stillness of the country, with quiet meadows, white in the moonlight, stretching beyond your garden gate, you hear the approach of the wind as he woos your pine trees to sing with him; for the wind cannot sing alone; he needs a lyre through which to sweep his mightiest and his gentlest songs.

It is not a rustle, as with poplars, but a swift, swishing sound, at first hardly more than the breathing of a child, but rising to a powerful crescendo as the boughs flatten under the mighty sweep of the wind.

A few moments and the hush follows, that wonderful vanishing point of sound, unattained by the greatest artist. So gentle is the subsiding that you hardly know when the wind left, but the pines are straight and still again, and the wind is a mile away, stirring the hawthorn buds on the hill and flinging out their fragrance into the moonlight.

Tricks in All Trades.

The jeweler was showing an out-of-town customer around. There was an attractive girl behind the counter and the proprietor explained that it was her particular task to look after bashful swains who came in to purchase engagement rings. Also he related a number of anecdotes about the same timorous swains.

The visitor thought the arrangement a good one.

"Then she helps business in engagement rings?"

"Very much. Wears a big one herself."

On Friday evening, October 9th, Old Black Joe and His Gang presented a most snappy program for Garden City Grange in Dennison Hall, Newtonville. Charles F. Dow, as Old Black Joe; Bones, Ernest Doyle; Banjo, C. W. Dow; Pianist, Charles Doyle; Banjo, Frank Murphy; George Hardy, Tamborines. The vocal selections were well rendered and received with great applause.

The jokes were clean and clear. Frank Murphy as leader of the orchestra, made a wonderful hit. The whole entertainment was pronounced first-class.

Although it was a very stormy night, there was a large audience. Members of Dover, Cambridge, Waverly, Arlington and Lexington Granges were present in good numbers.

On Wednesday evening, October 14, in Odd Fellows Hall, Northgato Park, Charlestown, William R. Turnbull, D. D. G. M., of Olive Branch Lodge, No. 78, and suite installed the officers of Waban Lodge, No. 156, I. O. O. F. Officers installed were: Noble Grand, E. H. Robinson; Vice-Grand, Howard C. Henderson; Recording Secretary, Charles F. Dow, P. G.; Financial Secretary, A. F. A. G. Libby, P. G.; Tresurer, Alfred G. Hastie; Warden, Arthur Haines; Conductor, Walter Dennison; Chaplain, Henry Urghart; R. S. S., George Patterson; L. S. S., Clifford Trefry; R. S. N. G., Edmund L. Buell, P. G.; L. S. N. G., Walter Tedstone; R. S. V. G., Harvey Purdy; L. S. V. G., Thomas Griggs; I. G., Earl Patterson; O. G., Arthur Cox, P. G.

There were interesting remarks by the Deputy and suite after which P. G. Locke, presented the retiring N. G., Frank Stevens with a very beautiful Past Grands Collar, which was received with many thanks. P. G. Perkins then presented one of the older P. G.'s, S. K. Billings with a duplicate of the one presented to the retiring Noble Grand, which was also received with many thanks.

A fine entertainment was furnished by a local entertainer.

At the close of the entertainment all retired to the banquet room for refreshments.

SHORT SESSION

The Board of Aldermen, in following out the wishes of certain members at the last meeting that steps be taken to shorten the sessions of the board, held a short session Monday evening. The meeting was called to order at 7.55 and adjourned at 8.45. There was but little business to be considered and the short docket was gone through in rapid order.

Attorney James P. Gallagher was the only speaker of the evening on the public hearings that were held. He represented Mr. Horace W. Orr in behalf of the latter's petition for a filling station at 15 Centre place, Newton. The filling station was to occupy 1500 square feet of the land in the rear of what is known as the Bachrach Block and was formerly used as a storage place for wood by the Brackett Coal Company. The land backs up to the driveway which leads to the Newton station of the B. & A. R. R. Mr. Gallagher stated that the building would be of brick exterior with an asphalt roof and that the usual facilities, such as free air, water, and crank case service, would be ob-

LIQUOR SEIZED

Frank Gorgone of 68 Lexington street, West Newton, was arrested Tuesday morning, charged with making an illegal sale of intoxicating liquor and with illegal transportation of liquor. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $500. The case was continued until Saturday. Gorgone's arrest followed the second largest raid ever made in the Garden City. The liquors and materials used in the manufacture and sale of a number of brands of synthetic whisky will have to be appraised by an expert, but the value of the entire haul is roughly estimated at between $2500 and $3000.

City trucks had to be called in to bring the contrabrand to Headquarters, and four huge loads were stored in the cellar beneath the jail. The raiding squad was three hours bringing in the stuff. The equipment seized showed that Gorgone had one of the most complete and up-to-date "moonshine" factories in existence. His work, according to the police, consisted mostly of blending and bottling, and while the goods he sold were not poisonous, the raiders claim they were all synthetic imitations of famous old brands.

He devoted a large garage to the business. Within, the police say, they found a huge copper still, coils, vats, barrels, cans, boilers, stoppers, labels and caps, straw containers and burlap bags, so that his finished product in appearance could not be told from the goods they represented. His labels, officers declared, showed he was turning out imitations of Old Parr, King George, Gaelic Smuggler and Black and White.

He purchased his alcohol in barrels, the police aver, mixed and redistilled it in his garage, added the necessary water and coloring matter, labeled, and capped the bottles and shipped it out again in case lots. He was also doing a business in grain alcohol, and the police claim that they purchased a gallon from him.

The haul included 15 cases of Black and White, all ready for shipment, about five cases of assorted brands; about 30 gallons of alcohol, about 2000 empty cans and bottles, stoppers, etc., and 16 empty barrels. The still was in operation when the raid was made, and was brought to headquarters with the liquor sizzling with in.

Chief Burke superintended the raid, which was made under the direction of Sergt. Thomas F. Leehan and patrolman Patrick King and motorcycle officer William Dowling. The place had been in operation, according to the police, only a short time, and the above-mentioned officers have devoted the past four days to the plans for closing it up. They were assisted by Sergt. Andrew Moran and a squad of patrolmen in carrying out the raid.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The officers of Garden City Lodge, A. O. U. W., were installed Tuesday evening in Bay State Hall, Centre street. I. J. Gibson was installed master workman; Amos Landry, past master workman; Henry Urquhart, foreman; Mrs. Rhoda Carlin, overseer; Charles Pendergast, recorder; Joseph E. Crandell, financier; John E. Griffin, treasurer; Mrs. Alice McCullock, guide; John Kinchlea, inside watchman; John F. O'Shea, outside watchman. The officers were installed by Dist. Deputy Grand Master Workman Thomas F. Rafferty and suite of Vulcan Lodge, Roxbury.

Honors were paid John Flood, organizer of the lodge, its first master workman, more popularly known as the father of the lodge.

John F. Griffin, who has been treasurer of the lodge since its institution in 1894, enters into his 32d term. Joseph E. Crandell, financier, has served in this office for the past 10 years.

DEATH OF MR. CURRY

Mr. Francis H. Curry, who had been connected with the Chelsea Savings Bank for more than forty years, died Monday at his home, 10 Alden street, Newton Centre, where he had resided twenty-three years. He was in his seventy-second year, and a native of Chelsea. His parents were the late Silas R. and Mary W. Curry. Mr. Curry made his home with two maiden sisters, Miss Anna E. Curry and Miss Ada L. Curry, and these, together with a brother, Arthur M. Curry of Newton Highlands, are his sole survivors. Funeral services were held on Wednesday and the burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

HAVE YOU JOINED OUR FAMILY OF SAVERS?

On October 1st, 1925 we had over 11,000 open Savings Accounts showing total balances of over $6,000,000.00.

These figures show an average balance on each Savings Account of approximately $545, which speaks well for the thrift of Newton people as hundreds of these accounts were brought up to these figures by regular weekly or monthly deposits.

Deposits in our Savings Department start to earn interest from the first business day of each month compounded semi-annually to the first of April and October.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Local Red Cross Chapter officers are now busy with preliminary plans for the annual roll call which opens Armistice Day and continues through Thanksgiving. The canvass in Newton will be made this year through the mails as it was last year. The goal this year for Newton is 10,000 members. Last year 6,000 were enrolled but with the increase in the city's population there is every reason to believe the larger number will be enrolled.

As is well known the American Red Cross is the most effective instrument for helping the unfortunate in local communities, the State, the Nation and all over the world. Newton is one of the places that appreciates the Red Cross and has always shown its endorsement by substantial subscriptions.

As an official of the organization has said, "The American Red Cross is race, creed and color blind. It sees is suffering only a challenge to be accepted. The least we can do is to make possible a continuance of its good work."

The general committee for the Newton Chapter in charge of this year's roll call is headed by Miss Edith Jamieson, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson and Miss Helen Morton.

Each branch, including the various villages, has its own chairman. These branch chairmen are as follows: Miss Helen F. Hull, 29 Ivanhoe street, Newton; Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, 64 Oakwood street, Newtonville; Mrs. J. N. Lovell, 257 Otis street, West Newton; Mrs. George W. Smith, 51 Lake avenue, Newton Centre; Mrs. L. H. Marshall, 10 Hartford street, Newton Highlands; Mrs. George F. Reinhardt, Waban; Mrs. Richard W. Foote, Central street, Auburndale; Miss Ethel Sabin, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. Bernard Early, Newton Lower Falls and Mrs. R. M. Saltonstall, Chestnut Hill.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON 12—CAMBRIDGE LATIN 7

Newton was forced to extend itself in order to pin a 12 to 7 defeat on the Cambridge Latin team in a Suburban league game on Claflin Field Saturday afternoon. Brilliant rushes by Captain Tommy Gilligan and Billy Proctor, resulting in substantial gains, placed the local boys in position to score in the first and second periods. Holbrook, who did the punting for the home team, played a good game, his punts, one of which went for 50 yards, helped out a great deal. Cambridge showed the local team a wonderful aerial game, especially in the second period, when a long forward for forty yards put the ball on the 20-yard stripe. From there another forward gave the Cantabs their only touchdown of the day. The threat of another score was there all the time and wide-awake work on the part of the Newton backfield in intercepting many of the forward passes attempted by the visitors staved off defeat. Just one more score and the result would have been different

In the first period two fumbles by Billy Proctor in Newton's territory looked bad for the final result of the game but the Newton back redeemed himself by his substantial gains through the visitor's line and his alertness in the second half when he intercepted several forwards. Newton obtained the ball on a kick from the opponents and a pretty punt by Holbrook put the ball in Cambridge territory. Cambridge kicked offside at midfield. Holbrook gained 5 yards through the line and then Captain Gilligan, on a pretty end run of 35 yards took the b all to the 10-yard stripe. Two plays put the ball on the half yard line where Cambridge held and took the ball on downs. Koreywo kicked out of danger. Holbrook, Proctor, and Gilligan, in turn, again put the ball within a foot of the goal line. Cambridge held for two downs, but on the third play Gilligan went over for the first score. He missed the try for the extra point.

Newton got a lucky break shortly after the opening of the second period when Cambridge kicked over Gilligan's head. The Newton captain just barely touched the ball as it passed over him and it was anybody's ball. A Cambridge end fell on the oval on Newton's 15-yard line but as the end was offside the ball was brought back to the Cambridge 25-yard line where the play started. Cambridge kicked to mid-field. Here Newton started a pretty march down the field. Holbrook made two yards off tackle and Gilligan made 12 yards for first down through the same spot. Another 8 yard gain by Gilligan and 4 yards by Holbrook and it was first down again. Rushes by the three Newton backs took the ball to within a foot of the line and Gilligan slipped around his right end for the second score. An attempted forward pass for the extra point was grounded.

Newton's regulars went out with the exception of McCullough, Porter, Holbrook and Clark and substitutes replaced them. Cambridge kicked off and after a few plays which netted but little gain Holbrook kicked to the Cambridge 30-yard line. Here Cambridge opened up and threatened to score. McCullough, the alert Newton end grounded a forward pass behind his goal line and Newton put the ball in play on the 20-yard stripe. Newton kicked offside at the Cambridge 40-yard line. Cambridge then completed two out of three forward passes for its only score of the day. Captain Sullivan kicked the goal.

In the second half the local boys tried vainly to increase their score. Captain Gilligan attempted two field goals but both failed. Cambridge when in possession of the ball threw pass after pass but only completed a few. There usually was a Newton man on hand to either intercept or ground the pass. Captain Gilligan intercepted one and ran for thirty-five yards but Newton lost the ball on downs. Proctor intercepted another on the 20-yard line but Gilligan missed an attempted field goal. The forwards that were completed usually resulted in the receiver being downed in his tracks. The Newton boys were right on their toes in the last period and there was no opportunity for a visiting player to break away for a long run. Billy Proctor tackled McCusker, the Cambridge left end, so hard that it knocked his wind out and time was called to allow him to regain his breath. The game ended with the ball in Newton's possession in mid-field. The summary:

COUNTRY DAY LOSES

Thayer Academy smothered Country Day School Saturday morning on the Country Day field 32-0. The Newton private school boys were unable to stop the Thayer attack. Reggie Johnson of Country Day played a fine game at tackle and his work prevented a much larger score . Vallee and Murphy played well for the visitors and shared the honors with two touchdowns each.

ALLEN CHALMERS WINS

The Allen Chalmers school defeated the Moses Brown School of Providence Saturday afternoon 13 to 9 coming from behind in the final quarter and scoring a touchdown which overcame Moses Brown's 9 to 6 lead. Although outrushed Chalmers baffled Moses Brown with its passing game and had sufficient defensive strength to turn back the home team several times when they were in position to score.

NEWTON RAMBLERS LOSE

The Brookline Shamrocks defeated the Newton Ramblers in a District Amateur League game Saturday at Hammond Field, Chestnut Hill. The score was 28 to 3. Harris and Kelley starred for the winners, while Read and McCaffrey were the outstanding players for the Ramblers.

SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE HOCKEY

A new program will be tried out in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League this coming winter. The past two years a preliminary round has been played out-of-doors and then the first four teams battled for supremacy in a semi-final and the surviving two teams in the finals. The league officials announced this week that the preliminary schedule has been completed. Instead of a semi-final elimination round a round-robin series will be played among the four best teams, calling for a total of six games. For each win in this series two points will be given and for each tie one point. The team with the greatest number of points will be the champion.

There is no chanage in the league membership from last year. Somerville which was a member three years ago and retains membership did not ask to return to play in the league but will probably play independently as it has in recent years.

The season will open January 7 and the out-door games will probably be completed by February 1. In case the ice is unfit for play on the day scheduled the game will be played the next day the ice is in condition.

Newton's schedule follows:
Jan. 7. Newton at Brookline.
Jan. 11. Stoneham at Newton.
Jan. 14. Newton at Rindge.
Jan. 18. Belmont at Newton.
Jan. 25. Arlington at Newton.
Jan. 28. Cambridge Latin at Newton
Feb. 1. Newton at Melrose.

SPORT NOTES

Waltham surprised many football fans by its win over Fitchburg Saturday. A great many others will be surprised if it turns the same trick tomorrow against the local team. Newton should win by a small margin but there is such keen rivalry between the Garden and Watch cities that either one team is apt to outdo itself in an effort to be returned a winner. Newton will not have the able services of Frank Spain to direct play as this promising quarterback is out for the season with a fractured collar-bone which he sustained in the Everett game. It is a question whether Hemeon will be in the starting lineup as he is suffering with a dislocated cartilege in his shoulder. However, he may be in shape to play. Ramsden, who played at right end in the game with Cambridge showed that he is well able to take care of that position. His play Saturday was steady and reliable in spite of the fact that he had had but four days' practice as a wingman. Usually in the Newton-Waltham game some player covers himself with glory. In 1921 Jake Stafford ran wild and led Newton to 27-0 win. The next year Lowrey, now playing quarterback for Holy Cross, ran wild and aided greatly in defeating Newton 25-7. Two years ago in a mud-puddle the game ended in a 7 to 7 tie and last year Newton unexpectedly sent the Watch City boys home defeated 20-7. Waltham has one of the lightest teams it ever put on the field but what they lack in weight they make up in speed and fight. It will be a tussle, from the drop of the hat.

Walter McQuiston, former Newton high halfback, now playing in the backfield of the Dartmouth freshman team was in a large measure responsible for that team's victory over the Dean Academy team Saturday. Although the field was wet and slippery he ran for 35 yards in the first period and put the ball in position for the first score. In the last period he broke loose again for a 42-yard run around left end for the second touchdown. "Dotty" Wright, ex-Newton quarterback, a substitute quarter on the Dean Academy team, was one of the outstanding players of the game.

Win Robinson is the only man on the Dartmouth squad not expected to be in shape to play against Harvard tomorrow. Until Robinson tore the ligaments in his leg over two weeks ago he was the most consistent and accurate punter in the squad. Miles Lane of Melrose and he were fighting it out for the regular position at right halfback, but since Robinson was injured Lane has been covering himself with all kinds of glory and Win will have a tough job on his hands to regain the lost ground.

While Jake Stafford was in the game Saturday he got away for several pretty gains. He led the Crimson into the shadow of the Purple's goalposts but the Crimson line could not lift and there was someone through on the plays on which so much depended. The first of the week Joe McGlone, of Natick, who has been directing Team C was promoted to Team A while Captain Cheek was on the sidelines while Jake continues to call the signals for Team B.

The services of Harold Carver at guard are greatly missed this fall by the Newton high team. The big boy who was one of the best guards in school circles last year was forced to remain out of the game this season because of an injury sustained in one of the late season games last fall. He is scouting Newton's opponents for Coach Allie Dickinson and has been doing a fine job at the game.

George Owen and "Mike" Gulian visited the practice on Claflin Field yesterday and assisted Coach Dickinson in preparing for tomorrow's tilt with the Watch City team.

Clem Coady recovered a fumble Saturday that led to Harvard's only score against Holy Cross. Shortly after this he clipped a Holy Cross player and the Crimson had to surrender the ball to its opponents in its own territory. This was the big break of the game as forward passes immediately led to the Purple's score.

Joe Kohler, was the only Bowdoin player to suffer injuries in the game against Wesleyan Saturday. He will probably be in shape to play tomorrow.

Daniel E. Kennedy of Chestnut Hill tackle, and William D. Alexander of Newton, guard, are substitutes with Joe Kohler on the Bowdoin team.

Hank Bjorkman, former Newton High and Dartmouth captain, is helping the Dartmouth coaches to prepare for tomorrow's game with Harvard. If he has been able to impart his skill and speed to the Green wings in the last five days, Dartmouth will not worry about its ends.

"Jake" Stafford, who was relegated to the third-string quarterback position on the Harvard varsity this week is too valuable a ball carrier to remain in the background for long and the fight which he will put on to regain his lost laurels may carry him far. Those who saw him in the game with Yale last fall will never forget his masterly handling of the ball on that afternoon when he probably more than anyone else, kept the Blue on the defensive during the first half of the game.

George Chase, a former Newton high and Cambridge Latin high centre is a second string centre on the Bates College team.

Hamilton Oakes, a former Newton high center and one of the best in Newton's history, is now playing center on the Bowdoin freshman team. His play is as consistent as ever and with his size and experience he will make a welcome addition to the varsity in the next three seasons.

"Shad" Osborne, a substitute end on the Yale varsity, injured his knee slightly in practice Tuesday. The injury is expected to heal rapidly.

Ned Dewing, who was injured a few weeks ago in practice with the Harvard freshman team, is expected to be in the starting lineup in the game with Worcester Academy tomorrow.

Clem Coady was somewhat banged up in Saturday's game against Holy Cross and took things easy the first of the week. He will be right in there tomorrow in the game with Dartmouth and no doubt will give a good account of himself. Newton fans will be divided in their allegiance to the teams with Coady and Stafford in the Harvard lineup and Robinson sitting with his Dartmouth teammates on the Green side.

Next Friday, Oct. 30th, the high chool boys will hold a golf tournament starting at 9 A. M. The result of this tournament will, in a large measure, determine the make-up of the school golf team next Spring. The Albemarle Golf Club has tendered the school an invitation to play on its 18-hole course in Newtonville. Cups will be awarded the winner and the runner-up.

The finals in the tennis tournament at the high schol will be played shortly between Charles Parker and Edgar Warren.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Senior (men's) class special activities get under way with the first event of the 100 Point Athletic Contest on Thursday, November 5th. The contest starts with the twenty yard dash and will be followed by one or two events a week until the twenty events are completed. Winners will be awarded the Association emblems.

Members are taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the Association for individual private instruction for non-swimmers.

Under the leadership of Gus Carlson, wrestling is becoming an activity of the Association again. "Gus" is meeting members who have wrestled and those who want to learn, on Tuesdays, from 6.30 to 7.30 P. M. A team will be formed to enter the Y. M. C. A. championship meet at Cambridge in January.

The Boys' Secretary, Mr. Clyde G Hess, was greatly surprised when attending the State Boys' Conference on Monday to have placed on the table before him a birthday cake. Evidently his fellow secretaries had not forgotten the anniversary.

Mayor E. O. Childs was the speaker at the annual banquet of the Lynn Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening. His subject was, "A Man's Duty to His Community."

The members of the Junior Department enjoyed the football game between Boston University and Boston College last Saturday. On the two previous Saturdays they were the guests of the Harvard Athletic Association in the stadium.

The members of the Women's Auxiliary are making preparations to entertain the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary of the Two-States on October 29th and 30th. Meetings will be held in the Baptist Church and meals will be served in the large hall in the Association building.

Lieutenant Abbott C. Martin, who was killed in an aeroplane accident, was formerly a resident of the Y. M. C. A. dormitory while stationed in Boston. While flying in this vicinity he often circled over the Y. M. C. A. building. He had many friends among the dormitory men who were very sorry to learn of his sudden death.

The Y. M. C. A. movement in Europe seems to be going forward by leaps and bounds especially in the new countries of Poland and Czecho-Slovakja. George Nox McCain writes from Paris, France, that the Y. M. C. A. lined up with Europe at the physchological moment. Its aims and ideals have been embraced eagerly.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

A little friend of mine came home from school the other day fairly effervescing with joyful enthusiasm. I was favored with a visit and before many minutes had passed I discovered the reason for her newest bit of happiness.

"I'm going to take music lessons!" she imparted gleefully.

"Isn't that fine," I returned, "Where are you going to take them?"

"Oh, Im going to take them at school for twenty-five cents a lesson, and Im going to practice at grandmother's."

When she had gone I gave the astounding idea more careful thought. For twenty-five cents a week—the price of five ice-cream cones—that enthusiastic youngster was to have an opportunity for which otherwise she might have to wait many years to pay, and then it might be too late to train unpracticed fingers. Even if she should not turn out to be a musician, her ear for music and appreciation of it would be increased and bettered at least fifty per cent. Certainly that music teacher will be privileged to start a few of geuius, on their roads to success for surely FIFTEEN—GRAPHIC .... many pupils will be allowed by ambitious parents to take advantage of such an opportunity.

How many of the world's greatest musicians would have literally given their last crust for such cooperation and assistance. Instead, many times, they were forced to steal their moments with music and not only had to go without training in their younger days but were made to feel that the "profession" of music was unworthy of real men. Certainly the world is not standing still, as some would have us believe, when it throws in the way of all who care to avail themselves of them, the best opportunities possible in every field—they are to be had now for the asking and the labor—little more!

The class in Lip Reading for the Adult Deaf is progressing well and new names are constantly being added.

The Superintendent, realizing the importance of good lighting for this study has kindly assigned the class to a room (No. 19) on the first floor—where there is beautiful indirect illumination. This thoughtfulness is greatly appreciated by Miss MacNutt and the students.

F. A. Day Junior High School

The boys won their first football game of the season when they scored 30-0 with the Country Day School. This week they are playing the Lexington School Team.

The girls begin their class hockey games next week.

"America's Heritage," a very vital picture, was the film chosen for Wednesday's assembly program under the direction of Miss Pierce. It depicted the benefits derived from a summer at camp under the Boy Scout regulations.

Cards signifying failure in major subjects were given out this week.

Mr. Daniels has taken some very good pictures of our lunch room and the pupils having lunch in it.

Mr. Moorehead of the Better Homes Department of the Boston Herald, was an interested observer in the lunch room this week.

The seventh grade will have an opportunity to order school pins or rings next week.

Mason School

A fine lecture on India, given by Col. French to the boys and girls of the Mason District on Monday afternoon, netted a goodly sum for the general school fund.

Medical examination of pupils in the various grades was begun on Monday. This ought to help parents to know more about the physical condition of their boys and girls.

This year, through the thoughtful consideration and generosity of a parent of one of last year's eighth grade boys, four prizes are offered to the boy and the girl who show the greatest amount of improvement along character lines, and to the boy and the girl who show, through the year, the neatest work. In case of a tie only, is superior scholarship to be considered. This gentleman thus demonstrates what all business men consider important—all round reliability in character, and systematic neatness or care.

The eighth grade hope to select nominees for the different class officers this week and prepare their ballots.

Stearns School

The Opportunity Class spent a profitable hour at the Nonantum Market this week, where they talked with the owner about Foods and the Source of Foods. Labels and boxes were examined to help the children see how many countries help supply us with food, and the many different kinds of food supplied. At the close of the visit the class was presented with a model store to be used in the school room.

Much interest is being shown in the weight chart for October.

The White Group has increased 1 per cent; the Blue Group has decreased 7 per cent; the Red Group has decreased 1 per cent. Four rooms have no "Reds." They are as follows:

Miss Church, Grade I; Miss Larson, Grade II; Miss Ekert, Grade II; Miss Walker, Grade IV.

We miss Mrs. Goddard, who is confined at home with illness, this week. Mrs. Cooney is substituting in her room.

The mixed team consisting of older boys from the Stearns and a group of Junior High boys played the Pierce School in a tie game at Victory Field last Thursday.

Lasell Seminary

A large and appreciative audience composed of the residents of Auburndale and Lasell students, welcomed the Paul Shirley Symphony players in the first concert of their series, at the Auburndale Club auditorium, on Tuesday afternoon.

The Lasell Hockey Team will play the team from the Waltham High School on Friday at three o'clock.

The speaker at the regular Vesper service at six-fifteen on Sunday, October 25, will be Dr. Harold E. Speight, of King's Chapel, Boston, Mass.

Americanization Activities

The film "The Land of Opportunity," sponsored by the Colonial Dames was shown Tuesday evening, October 20th at the Community Theatre of Newton by the generous co-operation of the management with the Americanization Division of the Newton School department.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Thomas White and Manager Sumner two classes enabled to see this splendid patriotic production gratuitously, receiving both enjoyment and inspiration thereby.

MUSICAL SERVICE

A special music service is being planned for the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church at the evening service next Sunday. In the morning Dr. Albert C. Knudson, Professor of Systematic Theology, Boston University School of Theology, will preach.

Novice badges will be given to the new members of the Intermediate Department at their evening meeting next Sunday. At this meeting Mr. W. T. Rich will speak to the boys and girls.

Miss Dorothy Black will be the leader of the Epworth League meeting next Sunday evening with Vernor Morse as associate. The subject will be "Being Our Best in Our Play."

Several of the members of the church attended the Annual Convention of the Massachusetts Council of Religious Education held at Springfield, Massachusetts, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Mrs. Herbert Blair and Mrs. W. H. Timbie have been elected as official delegates from the Church School Board.

Twenty-five members of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church have enrolled in the Norumbega District Community Training School which meets every Monday evening.

THE CHARM OF CHEMISTRY

"Wherever we look, the work of the chemist has raised the level of our civilization, and has increased the productive capacity of the nation."—Calvin Coolidge.

In connection with the present interest in the Prize Essay Contest now being conducted by the American Chemical Society, the following books will be of especial interest:

DURANT-HOOPER

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Hooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Hooper of Newton Centre, and Mr. H. Kingsley Durant of Larch road, Cambridge, Mass., took place on Saturday evening, October seventeenth, at Trinity Church at eight o'clock.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Stanley McCaddon of New York as matron of honor and her bridesmaids were Miss Grace O. Chellis of Brookline and Miss Ruth P. Gordon of Newtonville. Mr. John Durant, brother of the groom was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Paul C. Sanborn of Boston, Robert Fiske of Auburndale, Edward Emerson of Newton and Philip F. Hooper, a brother of the bride, of Boston.

The bride's gown was of white satin crepe with pearl beading and her veil was of princess lace trimmed with orange blossoms. The matron of honor wore a gown of pale pink chiffon trimmed with rose ribbon and the bridesmaids' dresses were of rose satin with rose velvet trimming.

The decorations at the church were boxwod trees and chrysanthemums, and lighted candles were placed along the aisle.

PARENTS' NIGHT

On Saturday evening, October 24th, the Boy Scouts of Troop 5, Newton Centre, will hold a Parents' Night at the Trinity Church Parish House at 7.40. Demonstrations of Scout activities and movies will be given. This will give the parents a chance to get together and show an interest in the boys—all who are interested are invited.

HOWELL-FISKE

The wedding of Mr. William A Howell of Riverview avenue, Waltham and Miss Ida Elizabeth Fiske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F .Fiske of West Newton, took place at Trinity Church, Newton Centre on Thursday evening, October 15th. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D. D.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. D. H. Robblee of Newton as matron of honor. Mr. George M. Howell of Waltham, brother of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Mr. Arthur P. Howell of Waltham and Mr. John R. Hamilton of Brighton.

The bride's dress was of white beaded georgette and the matron of honor wore a dress of powder blue beaded georgette.

The church was attractively decorated with white carnations and roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 52 Henshaw street, West Newton, where the couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fiske and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howell. The decorations at the home were of white and pink carnations, roses and ferns.

After a wedding trip by auto which will include New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Howell will reside at 52 Henshaw street, West Newton.

WISWALL-CARTER

A very pretty home wedding took place last Monday, October fifteenth, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter of Needham when their daughter, Miss Doris Enid Carter became the bride of Mr. George William Wiswall of Oak Hill, Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed at five in the afternoon by Rev. E. H. Byington.

The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. Putnam Johnson of Needham as matron of honor and the best man was Mr. Raycroft Wiswall of West Roxbury, a cousin of the groom.

The bride's gown was of satin faced canton crepe and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore a dress of salmon pink moire taffeta and carried a bouquet of butterfly roses.

The house was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, palms and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiswall will make their home at 81 Wiswall road, Newton Centre.

The bride is a graduate of the Needham High School, and of the New School of Design and was a student at the Museum of Fine Arts.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

At the recent dedication of the cabin of Troop 11 of Eliot Church at the Ohio, one of the notable features was the unveiling of the fireplace, which contained the memorial tablet to Mrs. John M. Woodbridge, who died in 1922. Mrs. Carley unveiled the tablet and Professor L. O. Cummings spoke of the great helpfulness of Mrs. Woodbridge in the scout work, and of the fact that she was the first head of the Women's Auxiliary of troop eleven, saving also that Mrs. Woodbridge's life as a devoted wife and mother was a wonderful example and inspiration to all who knew her. Professor Cummings also said that the tablet was the thought of Mrs. Alden Clark, who acted as the head of the Auxiliary at an occasion after the death of Mrs. Woodbridge and the cost of the tablet was defrayed by an amount left in the treasury after the expenses of this occasion were covered.

Refreshments were served by the following group of hostesses, Mrs. Jerome M. Carley, Chief Hostess, Mrs. L. O. Cummings, Mrs. W. K. Stafford, Mrs. H. W. Gallagher, Mrs. C. E. Barba, Mrs. Kennedy Crane, Mrs. H. Gardner and Miss Bessie Stratton. Including scouts there were over sixty-five people present.

COUNTRY FAIR

The Stebbins Alliance of the Unitarian Church of Newton Centre is planning a Country Fair to be held in the Parish House on Friday, October 30th from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. There will be an unusual display of useful and fancy articles, and also well stocked tables of fruits, vegetables, preserves, candy and other delicacies. The children will be especially delighted with the "Penny Arcade."

A buffet supper will be served from five until seven o'clock, and in the evening, a special Country Orchestra will furnish music for old fashioned dancing.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Newton Lodge of Elks will celebrate its tenth anniversary with a banquet, dance and entertainment at the Boston Chamber of Commerce on the evening of November 4th.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Oct. 21—Though there has been litlte publicity given the matter, official Washington is disturbed over a simple question—"Is the President the real boss of his official family?"

The highest tribunal in the land, the Supreme Court, has been asked to decide this question which involves the removal of the postmaster at Portland, Oregon. Every Monday when the decisions of this august body are read the hundreds of government officials throughout the country anxiously await the verdict. However, the average citizens regard it as "just another case for lawyers."

Those who probe beneath the surface of things say that the court's decision will be of the utmost importance to the American Government. The Portland postmaster challenged the right of the President to remove, claiming that under the law he could be "removed by the President, only by and with the advice of the Senate." The question involved is whether or not, under the broad authority given the President by the Constitution, he must obtain the consent of the Senate for the removal of an executive officer.

It will be noted that a verdict upholding the defiant postmaster would put the President of the United States at the mercy of the Senate. It is easy to imagine how the enfeebling of the executory power would strengthen the Senate's domination of the Government. Incidentally, it would undoubtedly result in cabals and intrigues by disappointed politicians and keep the nation in constant ferment anl political convulsions.

Some of the waggish observers have compared the situation to a domestic controversy wherein a domineering spouse (meaning the Senate) who wants all the prerogatives.

Two subjects will come before Congress this winter which will revive old time discussions of States' rights and other points of political philosophy. The Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, one of the principal promoters of electrification programs, has projected the giant power issue into public debate. "Giant Power" is a new term to designate the cheapest sources of power by pooling of electrical energy supply, we are told, and the chief idea behind it is not profit but the public welfare. "Superpower," another new phrase, is the interchange of small quantities of surplus power at the ends of the transmission line of each system, which, of course, is for the profit of the companies.

It is a foregone conclusion that the question of power mergers and regulation will be threshed out in Congress this winter. Senator Norris, of Nebraska, is the leading advocate of public ownership while Secretary Hoover occupies a similar position as a proponent of State regulation. Congress will be the judge as to the necessity of Federal action.

Certain phases of the tax reduction program hinges upon the action in question of State rights. As the present tax hearings progress the inheritance taxation provision will be discussed. It is said that the Administration wants this tax repealed while certain Congressional leaders are against this proposal. According to the story making the rounds of Washington, several southern governors have joined with the chief executives of their States in an effort to have the Federal inheritance tax repealed, making it a matter for the States to decide.

The fundamental principles of the Republican and Democratic parties are bound to crop up in these debates. It is said that the inheritance tax is unfair to the taxpayers as it usually costs the estate two dollars for every dollar collected. With the exception of Florida, every State levies an inheritance tax in addition to the Federal tax. This means that there are 47 different systems and where property is scattered in various States the administrators of estates are forced to employ legal staffs in each locality. It is a very expensive undertaking which makes the natural inheritance a mere pittance after fees and other expenses are deducted.

Already there are unmistakable signs of slashes between majority and minority on tax proposals. Chairman Green, of the House Ways and Means Committee has never been regarded as an administration man and is now opposing certain tax plans of Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon. Mr. Garner, of Texas, ranking minority member of the committee, has offered a plan for the consideration of the Congress for the raising of exemptions to $4,000 for single men and women and $5,000 for married folk.

It is said that this latter plan would be very popular inasmuch as it would relieve at least 75 per cent of the present taxpayers from contributing to the Federal Government. The claim is advanced that revenues would be reduced by only $100,000,000.

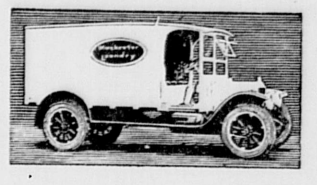

The principal objection to these proposals seems to be on the question of morale. The direct taxation advocates feel that the citizen will lose his interest in the Federal Government affairs when relieved of all taxation and argue that the payment of taxes gives the citizen a vital interest in the conduct of the Government. Others claim that despite the obvious popularity of the proposal it would be unwise because it would place the vital burden of taxation on the more successful citizens.

Congressman Garner and Senator Swanson have also suggested a taxation program based on passing a share of the burden on to the future generation. Secretary Mellon on the other hand thinks that it is sound judgment to pay off our national debt within a twenty-five year period without refunding.

Messrs. Swanson and Garner claim that by spreading the national debt over a period of 62 years and by refunding, it would be possible to save the taxpayers $600,000,000, while the Mellon plan of payment in 25 years would allow a tax reduction of from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000. The Congressional Record will be congested with words pro and con before any progress is made on the agreement in the tax program.

AS YOU FACE THE CLEANING WHAT ABOUT THE BLANKETS?

They must be made clean, soft and fluffy in anticipation of cold nights to come. At The Winchester Laundries you may have them washed (50c per single blanket, $1.00 for double), or cleansed (75c per single or $1.50 for double). The work is beautifully done, and will save you untold hours of hard effort.

It is interesting to compare the mayoralty situation in Newton with that in Boston. The latter city has a dozen aspirants for that office, while Newton has but one. It's a great pity that Newton cannot induce one of its many able business men to stand for this office, where business methods are sorely needed. It is a greater pity that in Mayor Childs, the city has a man who registers 100% in goodfellowship, and in religious, fraternal, charitable and philanthropic circles but is such a woeful failure as the chief executive of a three million dollar business. We have a feeling that the opposition to Mr. Childs' continued occupancy of the office of mayor is growing rapidly and that with a capable candidate and an intensive campaign he could be defeated for re-election. We hope this suggestion may stimulate such a candidate and such a campaign.

—o—

The news (?) in the Boston papers that a candidate for the Boston city council has filed a bill at the State house to extend the Boylston street subway to the Newton line should be taken with a liberal dose of salt. When such a Utopian scheme is really brought about it will be done thru a sensible state ageney such as the Metropolitan Planning Board and not by a Boston politician.

—o—

We extend our best wishes that the Memorial Library week at West Newton may be a great success . One of the crying needs of his city is a system of adequate branch libraries and West Newton is showing the way to obtain such a system.

Bridge players in this city will be interested in the announcement that a series of bridge games by expert players will be broadcasted each week on Station WEEI. Listen in you bridge fans.

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY CLUB

President Timothy O'Connell had the pleasure of opening one of the largest meetings of the above club, at its last meeting, Wednesday evening, as well as one of the most succesful ever held by that organization. Guests were present from the nearby cities and towns, and Providence, Rhode Island, also had a representative in the person of John Kelleher, who aided in a great degree to make the social part of the evening, one to be long remembered.

Mr. Kelleher made a most interesting speech and read from work of a number of Irish and American poets. Other speakers were, E. J. Burke, F. F. Delaney, J. D. Monahan, J. J. Herlihy, and John Kennedy.

Richard H. Lyons rendered two well known ballads and never was in better voice.

Edward O'Brien treated the members to some jig and reel dancing and instrumental music was furnished by various members.

President O'Connell call on Brother M. J. Cunniff to give the benediction, and his tribute to the land of his adoption, the United States, was so well received that in response to an encore he recited the Star Spangled Banner in its original form.

SHORT SESSION

tainable in connection with the sale of gasoline. The project had the approval of the Chief of Police who could see no objection from a traffic standpoint, the attorney stated. It also had the O. K. of the Fire Chief who is satisfied that there would be no fire menace. Mr. Orr's representative then filed with the board the written consent of the land owners and occupants of the buildings on the opposite side of the street. Regarding rumored objection by the railroad company, Mr. Gallagher stated that in a talk with Mr. Watson, who represented the railroad company, the latter had said that if nothing was heard from them that they might conclude that no objection would be raised. Mr. Gallagher said that nothing had been heard from them. He then went on to say that the board had chosen the policy of not allowing filling stations on main thoroughfares but in places that are easily accessible. This location, he claimed, met both of these conditions and that it would also result in increased revenue to the city by increased taxes. Mr. Gallagher has represented many petitioners in the past few years but this was the first time in his experince that it looked like a unanimous proposition. In response by a question by Alderman Earle regarding the disposition of the old wooden sheds which are now being used to park machines in, Mr. Gallagher stated that the buildings would disappear from the scene altogether. Alderman Parker asked if Mr. Orr was to operate the filling station, to which the attorney replied that Mr. Orr would not man the pumps but the petition was his personal application and that he was not contemplating selling out. There was no opposition and the petition was referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses.

Nineteen jurors were drawn for a special session of the Criminal Court at Cambridge. They were: Louis Boudrot, 41 Dalby street, Nonantum; John J. Delaney, 123 Bridge street, Nonantum; William J. Randall, 1019 Washington street, Newtonville; Herman C. Lythgoe, 36 Fair Oaks avenue, Newtonville; Frank G. Stuart, 299 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls; George B. Grath, 28 Victoria Circle, Newton Centre; George W. Harvey, 248 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale; Burton C. Cotting, 151 Oakleigh road, Newton; Edward M. Saunders, 84 Walker street, Newtonville; George B. Hartop, 55 Carleton street, Newton; Edward A. White, 9 Chandler street, Newton; Elisha L. Avery, 324 Crafts street, Newtonville; Clarence B. Baker, 558 Grove street, Newton Lower Falls; J. Scott Rider, 162 Grove street, Auburndale; Howard N. Pease, 36 Broadway, Newtonville; Elmer E. B. Johnson, 61 Central street, Auburndale; Alfred N. Minot, 15 Claflin place, Newtonville and Archie W. Osgood, 152 Crafts street, Newtonville.

A petition was received from the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway for a permit to operate bus lines on the Stowe street and Bemis lines. It was referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses. The order on the docket under the caption of unfinished business relative to the authorization of the Mayor to enter into a contract with the street railway company relative to bus service and transportation of school pupils was allowed to remain on the table.

The Wellesley Motor Coach Company was granted a permit to operate an express bus through Newton by way of Boylston street from Boylston Park to the Brookline line. The company is required to put up a $5,000 surety bond.

The Washburn-Stevens Company, which has recently taken over the new Stuart Garage, was granted a license to sell 2nd-hand automobiles.

Benny Romano was granted a transfer of 3 pool tables from 200 Adams street to 212.

Amato Pescosolido, 28 Adams street, was granted a renewal of an auctioneer's license.

Florence K. Marshall and Gertrude S. Gower were granted a transfer of a common victualler's license from 24 Richardson street to 421 Centre street.

Leave to withdraw was granted Thomas H. Davis for a 25-car public garage at 25 Paul street, Newton Centre. The same action was taken on the petition of Gertrude B. Bernhardt for a filling station at the corner of Centre and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands.

A communication was received from Chief of Police Bernard F. Burke requesting six additional patrolmen for further protection of banks and business houses.

The Baker Auto Supply Company was granted a transfer of a gasoline pump from 1255 to 1249 Washington street, West Newton.

Alderman Lloyd, chairman of the Franchise and License committee, said that there were a number of petitions on the docket that it was really necessary to act upon at the time but that in order to avoid a recess he would ask that certain petitions be granted but that if any member felt that they should be held out he could make his wish known. After the rules had been suspended, President White said, "We will hear the report of the Chairman of the Franchise and License Committee." Forty odd private garages for not more than two cars were then granted.

Hearings were assigned for the next meeting on the taking of land for sewers in Broadway terrace, Ward 2; Merrill road, Ward 6; and Whittemore road, Ward 7.

Appropriations for sewers in the following streets were made: North street and Decatur street, Ward 2, $610; Eastside Parkway, Ward 1, $789; Terrace avenue, Ward 5, $717; Bullough Park, Ward 2, $1,100; Pond street, Ward 1, $972.

The board adjourned at 8.45 until Monday, November 2nd at 7.45 P. M.

Using the Bible.

I am convinced that the Bible will always be more beautiful the more it is understood; the more, that is, we see and observe that every word which we take in a general sense and apply specially to ourselves had, under certain circumstances of time and place, a peculiar, special, and directly individual reference.—Goethe.

SCULLY—HARTWELL

The most notable of the fall weddings in this city was that of Miss Madeleine Hartwell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swan Hartwell of Temple street, West Newton, and Mr. Donald Bemis Scully of Cuba, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Scully, former well known residents of Newtonville.

The wedding took place at the Second Church, West Newton, on Wednesday evening, October 14th, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Park, the minister of the church.

The church edifice was decorated with fir trees and greens and on every third pew was a bracket holding five candles, making a most artistic background as the bridal party walked down the aisle.

The bridal gown was of white satin with Duchess lace, with the usual court train. She wore an exquisite head dress of silver lace and orange blossoms and her veil of silver net fell to the end of the court train. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

The bridal party included a matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Cruickshank of Romford, Conn., a maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Hartwell, sister of the bride, and these bridesmaids, Miss Allison Hartwell of West Newton, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Willard McCleod of North Carolina, Miss Ruth Hyde of Greenwich, Conn., Miss Elizabeth Stout of East Orange, N. J., and the Misses Frances Stebbins and Harriet Ellison of Newton.

All the bridal attendants were gowned alike in pink chiffon with silver lace, full skirts and they carried muffs of flowers in pastel shades. Marietta Withington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lothrop Withington and Louise Fry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fry, and both being granddaughters of Mr. Sherman L. Whipple, acted as flower girls.

Mr. Scully had Mr. George Zabriskie of New York as his best man and the ushers were Messrs. Thomas Wood, Jr., of Brookline, Lewis Cousens of Salem, Thomas Shirley of Newton, Gay Walsh of New Orleans, George Percy of Cambridge, Frederick Percy of Arlington, James Bingham of Cambridge, and "Buzz" Stout of Princeton.

A largely attended reception followed at Pine Lea, the Hartwell home on Temple street, West Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Scully were assisted in receiving their many friends by Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Scully, and all the bridal party. The receiving line stood in front of a back ground of greenery and autumn leaves in the library. Supper was served in a large tent on the lawn and there was dancing all the evening to music by an orchestra.

The groom is a graduate of Dartmouth and the bride of Vassar. She is also a member of the Sewing Circle and of the Junior League.

Mr. and Mrs. Scully will reside in Punta San Juan, Cuba, where they will be at home after December 1st.

DEATH OF MR. HATCH

Mr. Frank C. Hatch, president of the Simons, Hatch & Whitten Company of Boston and a resident here for 28 years, died suddenly last Friday night at his home, 123 Grant avenue, Newton Centre.

Mr. Hatch, who was born in Taunton, the son of Cornelius P. and Prudence A. (Fish) Hatch, was graduated from Harvard with the class of 1877. Entering the dry goods business as a young man, he had been president for many years of the Simons, Hatch & Whitten Company, with offices at 70 Essex street, Boston.

Mr. Hatch leaves a widow, formerly Miss Fannie O. Whitney, and two sons, Frank C. Hatch, Jr. and Paul Hatch.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at Mt. Auburn Chapel in charge of Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D. D., rector of Trinity Church at Newton Centre. The Lotus quartet sang "Abide With Me," "Crossing the Bar" and "Just Beyond the Hilltops."

The pallbearers were Byron May, Jr., of Roxbury, vice president of the Simons, Hatch & Whitten Company; F. T. Pratt of Newton Centre and Samuel A. Whitney of Boston, Mr. Hatch's brothers-in-law; Walter B. Phillips of Brighton, Clark Walling of Boston, Fred F. Edgarton of Concord and George S. Smith of Newton Centre.

The body was cremated at Mount Auburn and the ashes buried in Newton Cemetery.

THE COAL SITUATION

Mr. William A. Clark, president of the New England Coal Dealers Association was the guest and speaker at the Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Clark gave an interesting and instructive talk on the labor situation involved in the pending coal strike. He called attention to the fact that Mr. Lewis, who is heading the strikers is not an anthracite coal man but is identified with bituminous coal, a business rival of anthracite. He said that of the 158,000 laborers in the anthracite district only 38,000 are actually engaged in mining, the rest being collateral work. He compared the bituminous coal mining, which is spread all over the country, and employing some half million men and producing about 500,000,000 tons a year with the anthracite industry which is contained in a district of some 480 square miles and produces less than a hundred million tons.

MR. LOUD TO GIVE RADIO RECITAL

Friends of Mr. John Hermann Loud, F. A. G. O., organist of Park Street Church, Boston, will have an opportunity to hear him give a radio organ recital from Park Street Church on Monday evening, Oct. 26. The recital is to be broadcasted by Station WNAC.

Mr. Loud was organist of the Baptist Church in Newton Centre before going to Park street, and he has many friends and admirers in the Newtons.

The radio audience is assured of an enjoyable recital as Mr. Loud's programs are always interesting.

Mr. Loud is dean of the New England chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The semi-annual Membership Meeting of the local Young Women's Christian Association, will occur next Monday evening, October 26th, at eight o'clock. There will be a most interesting meeting, after which a splendid program will be given, consisting of plays by the Girl Reserves, readings by Miss Grace E. Smith of Watertown, who is a graduate of the Leland Powers School of Expression, and piano numbers by Miss Thelma Peterson of Waltham. Refreshments will be served. A most cordial invitation is extended to you to attend this meeting, and if you can plan to do so, please let the office know, by calling Newton North 3447, by Monday noon. Do try to come and bring someone along with you, for a great deal of time has been spent in planning for this evening and a good time is assured all.

Last Monday evening the Blue Triangle Club met, with thirty-six for supper and over forty to hear Miss Margaret Leavitt of Newton, who told of her work this past summer in Labrador with the Grenfell Mission, where she had charge of the Child Welfare Work. Miss Murial Anderson, who is a Blue Triangler, then played a piano solo. After this most enjoyable program a short business meeting was held. Next Monday supper will be served as usual, but there will be no meeting following, as the club girls are going to assist as hostesses at the membership meeting.

The Mother and Daughter Banquet, which was planned for October 23rd, has been put ahead one week, and will take place on Friday evening, October 30th.

Don't forget the gymnasium class, which meets Tuesday evening at seven thirty. The class has grown since last week, and it is hoped that by next week a still larger number will appear at this hour. Also, please don't forget the basketball team, which meets at eight thirty on Tuesday evenings. With the right number of girls and Miss Elsie Bennett as instructor, our basketball team is assured.

The bowling team met last Thursday evening at seven thirty and a fine game was enjoyed at the Young Men's Christian Association. All those wishing to attend these bowling parties, please call the Y. W. for further information.

GIRL SCOUTS

The first meeting of the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association was held in the Unitarian Church vestry on Wednesday of this week. As usual there was an informal supper followed by the business meeting and then the officers had the pleasure of listening to Miss Ruth Stevens, the Girl Scout Director for Massachusetts, who spoke on the opportunities and responsibilities of leadership. She emphasized the importance of "following through" in scouting and spoke of the value of the patrol system when put in real use. Miss Doris Lovell, president of the Association, presided and welcomed the fifty members who were present. This meeting was preceded by a meeting of the Captains at which time plans for the year were discussed. It was decided to have four get-togethers for the Senior troops, of which there are eight in our city, during the year, the first one will be in November.

Troop III. Friday night, October 16, 25 members of Troop III with 4 officers went over to Cedar Hill, Waltham, for their annual overnight hike. The girls arrived just in time to make their beds in long rows in the bowling alley and then they went over to the rookery for their supper. It was voted to organize as the Circus troop with the patrols known as the acrobats, the peanuts, and the pink lemonade. The entire evening was given up to games, the most popular of which was hide and go seek which was played in the maze, a very spooky game with no moon to give light.

The following morning the scout pioneers had a chance to prove their skill in lighting a fire and maintaining it when every branch and leaf was soaking wet. Captain-ball and exploration trips filled the morning. Many scouts passed their cooking for the second class test at noontime, making delicious squaw corn and spagetti Italiene, Chocolate and marshmallow "Some-mores" were very popular. By 3.30 all were tired and ready to take the cars for home. The next thing Troop III is looking forward to is a Hallowe'en Party on October 29.

N. A. A.

The October meeting of the Newton Athletic Association will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Newton Club. The entertainment committee, of which Mr. George Owen, Sr., is chairman, has procured a real treat for the members and their friends. The slow motion pictures of the Harvard-Yale game of 1922 will be shown and George Owen, Jr., former Newton and Harvard star athlete, will explain the plays in detail. As an added attraction the entertainment committee is endeavoring to have a porminent player on the Dartmouth varsity, which meets Harvard in the Stadium tomorrow, present to talk to the members. SPENCER-BLOOD

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Crawford Blood, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Francis Blood of Orient avenue, Newton Centre and Mr. George Otis Spencer of Chicago took place last Saturday afternoon at Trinity Church where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, the rector, at four o'clock.

Mrs. Roderic Miller Blood, a sister in law of the bride was the matron of honor and Mr. Thomas W. Swan of New Haven, Conn., was the best man. Messrs. Roderic M. Blood of Newton Centre, William B. Hale of Chicago, Walter B. Galloway of Philadelphia and Joseph W. Dixon of New York were the ushers.

A small reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blood.

UNIQUE TOURNAMENT

The Auction Bridge Bulletin is making interesting plans for lovers of auction bridge for the coming winter. Subscribers to that Bulletin are entitled to enter teams of four, members of which need not be subscribers, to play a predetermined set of deals alike all over the country, scores to be comment, thus giving bridge players the opportunity to match their ability with other players.

The general plan is as follows,—

1. In making entries it is not necessary to specify the names of the contestants; merely the number of tables entered, so if at the last moment it is necessary to make a substitution, it can be done without notice and without affecting the entry.

2. The Tournament may be played at any place selected by the subscriber who enters the table, and at any time, day or night, during the week commencing Monday, January 11th.

3. On some date shortly before January 11th the subscriber who has entered the table will receive a sealed package, which will bear the label: "Do not open until ready to start the Tournament." This sealed package will include a pack of playing cards marked with sixteen pre-arranged deals, score sheets, instructions as to the management of the tournament, etc.

4. The instruction will accurately and fully explain (the explanation will be so clear that it will not be possible to misunderstand any part of it) exactly how the tournament is to be conducted.

5. The four players at each table may select partners by agreement, or determine same by drawing cards. Partners must not be changed during the game.

6. The general scheme of play is that sixteen deals will be dealt in numerical order. They will be so arranged that each player will have an equal number of opportunities to bid and play, and that these opportunities, as nearly as possible will be of equal difficulty. The method of scoring will be explained later.

7. The result of the Tournament will be announced as soon as possible (ties, if any, will be equitably determined and adjusted), and in making the announcement, only the scores of the leaders (both individuals and teams) will be given; so that those whose error column is large need not fear that the number of their slips will become public.

8. No one of the deals will contain a bid or play in regard to which there could be any question among the leading exponents of the game. The bids and plays, which will test the players in the contest, will be bids and plays that any expert player should make in ordinary play.

9. Entries need not be accompanied by payment of the entrance fee ($5 per table), and are subject to withdrawal at any time prior to December 1st. The entrance fee becomes due December 15th and should reach the 'Bulletin by th'at date.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Wednesday morning shortly before six o'clock a Ford truck, owned and operated by M. H. Jigargron of East Watertown was struck by an engine on the grade crossing at Oak street, Newton Upper Falls. The truck was badly damaged and Jigargron was injured about the chest. He was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance. The train, consisting of the engine and two passenger cars did not come to a stop until the second car was on the crossing. Jigargron did not see the train approaching as the car was closed in on the left hand side. This is the first grade crossing accident in the city and it occurred at the only grade crossing in the city.

Robert Andres, operating a Packard touring car owned by Mrs. Eugene C. Andres of Kirkstall road, Newtonville, backed into Marjorie Chapman, the fourteen year old daughter of John W. Chapman of Prescott street, Newtonville, near the corner of Walnut and Bowers streets, Newtonville, Monday afternoon. The girl was thrown under the car and suffered bruises about the head and arms. Andres took the girl to her home.

At the corner of Lowell avenue and Washington street, Newtonville, Saturday afternoon, Oscar Hussein of Green street in a Ford touring car struck and knocked down Charles Lamond, 9, of 168 Mt. Vernon street, Newtonville. Two of the wheels of the machines passed over the boy's body and he was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance. He suffered bruises about the face and left arm and complained of a sore stomach although it was found that he was not internally injured.

The same evening two other persons were struck by automobiles. Michael Dolan of 2312 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, while walking along Grove street, was struck by a car owned and operated by Almon Ingraham, Jr., of Wellesley. Dolan was removed to the hospital where he was treated for lacerations of the face. Agnes Nicol of Moody street, Waltham, was struck by a Ford truck owned by Edward Marsh of Crafts street, Newtonville and operated by Edward Gilbert of Highland street, Waltham, while crossing Washington street, Newtonville opposite the Ames store. She received a slight scratch but refused to see a doctor.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

State Federation

Plans, suggestions and advice are always interesting when they come from the mother organization, and a few of the former are given here that may offer hints to local chairmen.

November 15 is the closing day of the Home Library Contest of the Literature Department of the General Federation. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State Chairman of Literature, calls attention of all club women to this contest for which the first prize is $100. The contest is done by ballot, the selection of books thought suitable for the home being taken from "Everyman's Catalogue," a list of 600 books for the home library. For further rules and information those interested may read Federation Topics, or communicate with Mrs. Schrader.

Mrs. Schrader is much interested in the Drama Course which she has planned as part of the work of her department for this year. The course will be given at State Federation Headquarters, Boylston street, Boston, Tuesday, from 10 until 12 o'clock on the following days: November 10 and 24; December 15 and 29; and January 12 and 26. The course is planned so that club members may be of greater service to their clubs in the dramatic departments.

The department is also completing a literature book list which will shortly be available for club use. A Modern Poetry outline is another work of this department for use this coming year. Literature of the department and reference books may always be found at the State Federation Headquarters. Plans will presently be under way for Children's Book Week which will be from November 8 to 14.

Another contest that ought to appeal to some Newton woman, of artistic taste and ability—and we would be so proud to have one of our talented members capture a prize—is the one on music composition. It is satisfying to discover, too, that the name of the author who won the prize for the words of the song has been found. Such a predicament to lose the owner's name—of which your editor wrote last week! We breathe a sigh of relief in sympathy with the State Authorities who had such an unfortunate experience!

Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, the new State Chairman of Music of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, calls the attention of club women to the state song contest open to any club woman in New England. The words of the new state song have been written by Beulah Locke Sherburne of Lexington. Good stirring music of dignified character is desired for this contest which closes January 25, 1926. A prize of $20 (twenty dollars) will be awarded by the Music Department of the State Federation, the decision to be in the hands of the following judges: Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, Miss Mabel Daniels, Mrs. E. A. MacDowell, Mr. Frederick K. Converse and Prof. John P. Marshall.

Manuscripts should be sent to Mrs. Drayton, 33 Wellington Lane, Belmont.

A most enjoyable and profitable meeting of Press Chairmen of the Twelfth District took place last Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Carolyn J. Peck of Wellesley Hills, the District Press Chairman. Your Federation Chairman is glad to state that ten of the clubs of the fifteen in our federation were represented at the conference. Speakers were Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Miss Alice Albee, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, and the Editor of the Wellesley Townsman.

Mrs. Poole talked on publicity from the angle of the Director of the General Federation, and while pretending to complain of the demands of the State Chairman, as to giving full details of what she was to talk upon, and so far in advance, too (that same little imp of procrastination can gambol about even in the highest places, it seems!) and of supplying a good picture, she admitted the justice of the rules, and bade all good clubwomen abide by them.

Mrs. Congdon gave some ideas from the viewpoint of the district director, and her point admirably made as to the value of friendliness and sociability was especially pleasing to your editor, who has felt that in our community we can be much more "homey" in our club notes, instead of following the more stereotyped methods of the big city papers. Miss Albee, in her usually quaint, humorous, and convincing manner, took up the problems of writing to please the editors of the various city papers. She advised chairmen to study the styles of the various club columns and write in the vein each seemed to desire, if they would have their contributions printed as sent in, rather than rewritten. Miss Coolidge, in double capacity of Chairman and Club News Editor, and the Editor of the Wellesley paper spoke on publicity from the angle of the smaller city or town paper that can publish more detail and more intimate descriptions.

A social hour followed that was much enjoyed.

Newton Federation

A gratifyingly large number of delegates and club members attended the first Board Meeting of the new season on Monday morning at the Newton Club, Newtonville. A call for more chairs to be brought in had to be made by the new President, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., who presided. The usual business reports opened the meeting, after an appropriate word of welcome from the President. The Corresponding Secretary, Miss Florence N. Bridgman, called attention to her new telephone number, which is not listed—W. N. 1740-M—which may remain unchanged for awhile!

The Program Chairman, Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe, gave information on the three public meetings of the year, and urged that club officers make their members aware of the splendid programs planned, so that a large attendance may be called out. Mr. Edwin Markham, the Poet—let us capitalize it, as is his due—is to be the speaker at the first meeting, Wednesday, November 18th, and members—and friends—should mark their calendars even now for this day.

The Press Chairman, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, gave a few hints as to time of receiving material for publicity, and then presented the generous offer of Mr. Brimblecom, Editor of the Newton Graphic, to allow the Federation to have an issue of the Graphic, the proceeds of which, over the cost, should go to the club treasury, for philanthropies and other expenses of club civic activities. The opportunity to make this paper an all Newton one, and to arouse interest in it as an organ of Town activities and Club capabilities was received with enthusiasm, and it was unanimously voted to "accept Mr. Brimblecom's liberal offer" and to leave arrangements to the Committee of Press Chairmen of the Federation.

As Legislative Chairman, Miss Coolidge also reported the only pressing matter of the time—the Initiative Petition being sponsored by the Massachusetts Civic League, by which the preference of veterans would be materially lessened in the Civil Service lists. She reiterated her stand that clubs should be most careful of endorsement of measures of whatever character. She stated that she did not think she had the right as Legislative Chairman to give out petitions to the Federated Clubs with the demand, or request, that these be signed, or a quota secured. But she recommended that the question of circulating such a petition be taken before the Executive Boards of the various affiliated clubs, they to decide whether or not they wished to circulate the petitions. If they so decided, she recommended that they be circulated only as a civic matter, and the club rooms be made only a place for such signature, if any women approved this petition and wished to sign, just as they might find such a paper, for convenience, in a Post Office, or City Hall, or other public place. But that women who did not approve this measure, or who felt they did not wish to sign because they did not know enough of the merits of the bill, should not be urged, or made to feel uncomfortable.

While the Executive Board of the State Federation has been willing to bring this before the clubs for study, and possibly endorsement, they can only advise or suggest in any club matters, and the individual clubs have the right and privilege of deciding the policies and opinions of their own organizations for themselves, their Executive Boards being elected to carry on the business of their own organization, as the members express their pleasure.

Miss Coolidge asked that the decisions of the various clubs be made known to her, when a meeting of Legislative Chairmen would be called, if voted to circulate the petitions, and the arguments pro and con the petition be presented to the Chairmen for bringing before their membership. This could be done easily before the petitions have to be returned—by about November 20th.

Copies of the petitions were at hand for any Legislative Chairmen or members of the Executive Boards who cared to ask for one.

The Education Chairman, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, quoted figures as to illiteracy abroad and in the United States and in our own city. She also announced interesting plans for speakers on this vital topic in the near future.

Mrs. Hopkins of the Newton Centre School Association, reported conditions under which children work in the High School, and the need for building tunnels for passage from the buildings in wet weather was more than obvious. She explained painstakingly and clearly why it was impossible for longer interims than six minutes between classes, and why it was equally impossible, in this allotted time, for students to travel so far, and have time to get wraps, also. This meant that conscientious children, who tried to obey their parents in caring for their health in cold or bad weather, carried about with them all day, heavy wraps or wet ones, and they likewise carried their lunch boxes. She stated that while a tunnel, such as would protect the pupils from the weather, so saving much illness, would cost a great deal, it would not cost nearly so much now if built while construction is going on, as it would if put in later, as must assuredly be done, if the welfare of the children is considered in the matter. The Bard of Aldermen might consider an appropriation in their next four meetings, but if not, a concerted effort must be made after the new year by the mothers and club women to protect the children, and she asked us to be ready at that time with assistance.

An activitity of the Newton Mothers' Club, was brought to our attention and our support asked, when it was announced that Donald R. MacMillan would speak on January 2nd on Arctic matters, either in Community Theatre or the Opera House.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Chairman of Conservation, asked that each Federated club send a delegate to her committee. She quoted an appropriate item from a recent copy of the Boston Herald which said that in 1801 the Selectmen of Boston ordered that no fire be carried, uncovered, through the streets, and no pipe be carried, or smoked, unless the bowl be covered, in the interests of safeguarding against man's worst enemy—fire. "Have we progressed since then?" demanded Mrs. Goodridge, with a world of truth, despite the jest. A speaker on conservation matters is promised next month, "more- eloquent," the Chairman rashly stated.

Mrs. George M. Hayden, the new Chairman appointed for the Special Committee on the American Home, gave an inspiring message on what clubwomen hope to accomplish in this new field of endeavor, and plead for the appointment by each club of a delegate to her committee.

Library Week of the Community Service Club was stressed.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Chairman of the Civics Committee, then presented her speaker of the morning, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, after reading a notice of the School of Politics to be conducted at Wellesley College on October 28th, under auspice sf Massachusetts League of Women Voters.

Mayor Childs, as always, had a worthwhile message, of high ideals, sincerely, convincingly uttered. "Civics," he told us a bit humorously, "is the science of government. Politics is the application of that science." To stimulate the interest of every man, woman and young person in civic affairs, and in their responsibility in citzenship, is the most important activity of person or organization. He cited instances of excellent men defeated for office through the carelessness and indifference of voters, and said that his recollection of one man, a churchman, and a substantial man in his community, was his statement that if a prayer meeting came on the same night as a caucus to go to the caucus! "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God, the things that are God's," he quoted, then added, that more people forgot to render unto Caesar his due, than to render unto God what was His due. Another remark worth remembering and profiting from: "Keep public opinion up to a high level, for the level of a city's stamina is no higher than its public opinion," and "if good people did all they could for good government there would never be a failure in municipal government."

He advocated that women have a share in government and run for office, citing what the influence of clubwomen had done in our city in many matters, among them the playgrounds and supervised play.

The meeting adjourned at 11.40 A. M.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Luncheon at the home of Mrs. Christopher I. Flye, 70 Hull street, Newtonville, on Thursday, October 15th, inaugurated the work of the Home Economics Class for this year.

Tables prettily decorated in Autumn color were set for twenty-eight members.

After the luncheon, Mr. Matthew McNeilly, buyer of silks for R. H. Stearns Co., gave a talk on how to buy silks: the new styles that are most popular and those probably that will be most in demand the coming season—a fascinating subject to all hearts feminine.

Samples of beautiful silk for dress, also for underwear, were shown.

Mrs. Clarence S. Angell was Chairman of this pleasing program.

The Travel Class this year has for its general subject, "The Holy Land and the Bible." At its meeting on Monday, October 19th, two papers were given: "The Origin and Evolution of the Hebrew People," by Mrs. Charles E. Quinn; and "The Making of the Bible," by Mrs. F. E. Waring.

Music—"The Creation," as sung by Lucy I. Marsh for the Victor and refreshments, completed a pleasurable

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

The hunting season is on everywhere, even in our city. Maine has game hunters who hope to return with a record of having brought down something besides their best friend or their guide. Florida has its fortune-hunters who confidently expect that they will have to wade through money from the railroad station to the hotel and will find thousands of dollars waiting for them in their room. Boston has its vote hunters who are certain of the outcome of the mayoralty election and can't be induced to quit. And Newton has its candidate hunters who are looking for a man whom they believe can defeat Mayor Childs for reelection. We are most interested in the latter hunt, which, we are credibly informed, is a still one. We believe this latter assertion, but doubt its value. Gum-shoeing and sleuthing for a candidate does not impress voters, in our opinion. The man who has the courage to announce himself a candidate and declares himself willing to take a licking if need be, is not lacking in qualities that voters respect. We are not in favor of too much noise, but we believe that the people like to be taken into the confidence of their political leaders. Too much strategy is not good for any movement.

How long must Newton be a sloganless city? Is there no fertile mind prepared to supply some sort of catchy phrase that will give us an atmosphere of energy? Is there not somebody who will coin a combination of words that will make our streets in the business section look at all times like the Park St. subway in the rush hours? It gave us no little pain to read the other day that one of our venerable neighbors has passed us in the great rush for patriotic publicity. When we read, "Do It for Dedham," we almost wept at the thought that Newton has never had any snappy little line like that to send forth to the world, confident of some return in material prosperity. We tried to think. The result was a repetition of previous efforts along these lines in that we achieved only a headache and a few scattered thoughts. Newton, as a word, does not lend itself to the art of the slogan-writer. Rather, it defies him. We must confess that our attempt to contribute a catch-line was that of an amateur. We wrote the name of our city and then began to put words before it and behind it to see what would come of it. Naturally, the first thing that occurred to us was "Newton for Neddie," but then that smacked too much of the poetical. We immediately dropped it, but are quite willing it should be picked up and used by the Mayor's supporters in the present campaign. We next wrote, "Now for Newton!" Although we got considerable thrill out of reading it and our heart was filled with local pride we began to wonder just what it meant. Maybe we are wrong in assuming that a slogan should have a meaning. We proceeded as best we could when there popped into our mind that it would never do to have one slogan when there are so many villages. A slogan for every village, we thought. Well, well. Some undertaking. But nothing daunted we went ahead and here is the incomplete list:

Wards 1 and 7—"Make Yourself Cozy in Newton Corner."

Ward 2—"For the Perfect Thrill Try Newtonville."

Ward 3—"West Newton is the Best Newton."

Ward 4—"We Never Fail in Auburndale," or "Welcome is He Who Calls in Newton Lower Falls."

Ward 5—"My Home and My Heart are in the Highlands," or "Echo Bridge is Not a Game, but a Name!" Or, "Waban, Mass., the Home of Class!"

Ward 6—"We Bid You Enter (Heaven) Through Newton Centre," or "Be Nice and Still Like Chestnut Hill."

It was during a visit to a quaint little country town we first saw people carrying lanterns to light their own paths at night. Somehow or other we had failed to be impressed on our boyhood visits to the farm by the fact that the farmer used a lantern in going from the house to the stable when locking up things for the night. That seemed a natural thing to do and a matter of no especial consequence. When, however, we saw villagers furnishing their own street illumination it caused us to stop and take notice. We shall never forget the scene when a group of worshipers left the litle white church after the Friday evening prayer meeting. As they passed through the vestibule each picked up his or her own lantern, lighted it and made off down the road. One agile old lady we noticed in particular. She was one of the first to head for home and her handling of the lantern and her rapid gait proved that it was no new experience for her. As we gazed down the road with its score or more of lanterns bobbing this way and that we thought of the fireflies in the meadow. But, sweeping from our thoughts the poetic side we realized that these hard-headed New Englanders were resorting to the practical and were taking no chances of stumbling or walking off the road. All this, as we look back, seems very old-fashioned and rustic but as we look forward we wonder if it isn't coming to that in Newton once more, for Newton folks in the old days must have used lanterns for the same purpose. Now must we return to them in order to supplement, let us say, our present municipal lighting system? There have been some dark evenings lately on which all of us have tramped through great accumulations of leaves to get to our respective homes. And if we happened to have passed through side streets we found the thoroughfare dark enough to warrant illumination. The modern method is to use electric flash lights and with them we may be sure or reasonably sure of our footing. Whether some ingenious person will devise a plan whereby we may wear lights on our shoulders remains to be seen. We believe that something like that will have to be placed in use. We know of a collision between two highly estimable Newton citizens the other evening. The cause was the impenetrable darkness and that alone. These two met at a corner and collided with much force. A moment's irritation was followed by apologies and then a hearty condemnation of the city's policy of skimping on its street lighting costs. Soon, perhaps, we shall hear of traffic rules for sidewalks unless there are more lights overhead. Meanwhile we shall resort to a pocket lamp of our own if called upon to do any great amount of walking on side streets after nightfall. We have not made up our mind whether we shall eventually resort to red and green lights on our hat but we wouldn't be surprised if conditions demanded it.

Recently we beheld a great poster on which was printed, "The King of Fruits, Eat Plenty of Them. October 31 to November 6, National Apple Week." It seemed at first that this was going a bit too far to urge Newton people to eat apples. Then we wondered just why it was thought necessary. Soon we found ourselves inquiring among our friends as to their appetite for this delightful fruit. The result was astonishing in some respects. Certain of those we approached showed a startling familiarity with the different varieties. They could reel off the names of some of the most popular and tell us the distinction, the good points and the desirable qualities. Most everybody had something to say about the high prices, but that is to be expected in a way. We began to ask ourselves whether we had any choice. We couldn't answer the question with a definite description as our knowledge was pretty meagre. But then there came to mind an apple we had enjoyed in Charlotte, North Carolina, not so far back. It was called a "sheep's nose" because of its resemblance to the snout of that animal. And, my, we devoured several of the species—apples, not sheep, of course. When we mention this variety we found people looking at us very hard and saying, "Why pick out the most expensive apple and the one most difficult to obtain?" We hadn't picked it out, we had just mentioned it. During our deliberation there arrived a package of apples that came from one who had read of something we had to say about apples in another publication. We guessed what they were, and we were right—Macintosh, if that's the way to spell it. Then a friend came in with some Sparks and these we added to our store. After that we began to study a book of apples so that now we think we can identify not a few varieties. We can tell a St. Lawrence when we see one, a winter banana, a russet and some others, but if we saw more apples we would be even more familiar. This may rightfully be construed as an offer but it is made with the understanding that if anybody brings us an apple, or apples (preferably the plural) to identify they must expect to leave the apple or apples with us for keeps.

There is one form of entertainment that has stood the test of time and which is still going strong. That is the mystifying tricks of the sleight-of-hand man, or magician. Here is a form of pastime as ancient as the hills but which challenges the interest of young and old. Does anybody know of an instance where high-brows medium-brows and lowbrows were held by the tricks of the man whose "quickness of the hand deceives the eye." One of the first things we saw when we began going to shows was the conjurer or prestidigiator. The egg in the bag, the hat that produced coins and other things; the rings that seemed solid but which the magician is able to string together and separate at will! All these and many others are familiar but worth while. Accompanying them is the line of talk offered by the performer. The audience likes to be jollied and puzzled at the same time so that the artist has every thing his own way. Here, in our opinion, is one of the best things that civilization offers for diversion. That may sound like a strong and almost irrational statement, but nevertheless it is worth thinking over. No one wants to be overfed with magic yet there is nothing more stimulating to the imagination. When a large group of professional and business men watch a sleight-of-hand performer with closest attention and then admit themselves completely baffled by his ingenuity and skill their time has not been wasted. They have indulged in a form of recreation that is far from dull and which provides a novel means of getone's minds off more serious matters. We happened to be one of a company that recently looked upon the wand-waving and other stunts of a most accomplished young men and found ourselves applauding and asking, "How does he do it?" It made us glad to see thet these tricks are still capable of interesting young and old. We want to see another magician sometime. Now if someone will revive Punch and Judy we guarantee to be present, for that is another of old style humorisms too seldom offered for public entertainment. In other words, there are a few things of the old days that should never be allowed to be lost in the shuffle incident to the present day clamor for new thrills.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

The Knickerbocker Quintet inaugurates the Community anniversary week. The Community Theatre celebrates its fourth birthday with the week commencing October 25 and offers its patrons the greatest single week program in the history of the theatre. The management has arranged as a special added attraction on Sunday evening the Knickerbocker Quintet of Boston, a group of five virile singers, all with good voices, originality, a keen sense of humor, an organization that has enjoyed a wealth of experience from the incidental music in Shakespearian Repertoire at the Boston Opera House to the concert and vaudeville throughout the East.

The motion picture program Sunday evening and continuing through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday includes D. W. Griffith's master circus drama, "Sally of the Sawdust," starring Carol Dempster and William C. Fields, the popular comedian of the Ziegfeld Follies.

The companion picture is "A Son of His Father," a thrilling Western melodrama adapted from Harold Bell Wright's novel, starring Warner Baxter and Bessie Love.

On the last half of the week Gloria Swanson shines in all her glory in "The Coast of Folly," enacting three distinct characters in a manner that gives her full right to the press agent's title "The Bernhardt of the screen."

George O'Brien, assisted by Billie Dove, completes the program in "The Fighting Heart," adapted from the novel, "Once to Every Man."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

The steady growth of Christian Science in our community is reflected in the large attendance at the church services in Players' Hall, West Newton, making necessary the large and beautiful Christian Science Church now nearing completion on Walnut street, Newtonville. The attendance at these services is largely in excess of the church membership, indicating an open mind and a wide reaching spirit of inquiry in our midst. To meet this interest on the part of the public, an authorized lecture entitled: Christian Science: The Gospel of Salvation, by Mrs. Nelvia E. Ritchie, C. S., of Sewickley, Pa., is announced, in another column, at Community Theatre, Newton, Sunday, November 1st at 3.30 P. M. The public is cordially invited.

ARTICLE No. 3

A rather interesting question has been submitted to the writer. "If your partner bids no-trump and second hand bids two hearts, with what type of hand should you double?" There are two separate and distinct cases in which the partner of the no-trump bidder should double an adverse over bid on his right. For example, suppose the dealer bid one no-trump, second hand bid two hearts and you hold the following hand:

Hearts — 7, 2
Clubs — K, J, 7, 4
Diamonds — A, J, 10, 5
Spades — K, 10, 2

Don't you think you should double two hearts? If your partner has a no-trump hand, it should be impossible for the heart bidder to make his contract. On the other hand, it would be difficult to score game at no-trump or a suit bid. On the other hand, suppose your partner bids one no-trump, second hand bids two hearts and you hold the following hand:

Hearts — J, 10, 9, 7, 5
Clubs — K, 7, 4, 2
Diamonds — K, 10, 2
Spades — 10

Don't you think you ought to double two hearts with this hand? If your partner has a sound no-trump you should defeat the two heart bidder by two or three tricks. These hands are not inconsistent. They merely specify the two types that justify a double of an adverse two bid over partner's no-trump.

The same player has suggested that with strong hands of the first type, it would be better to double with the understanding that the original no-trump bidder should bid his best suit. This type of informatory double has been tried out many times but is not considered good tactics. The whole purpose of the informatory double is to force partner who has not yet bid to show his suit. To extend this principle to one who has already bid is carrying the principle too far. By bidding no-trump, a player declares himself as having at least two quick tricks distributed in at least three suits. To ask him to give further information is unnecessary. If he has greater strength than indicated by his no-trump bid, he should be allowed to show this strength voluntarily without being forced to do so by his partner's informatory double. He has done his duty by bidding no-trump. If he is overbid, his partner should not take up the burden. If he has a good suit, he should bid it. If he has a hand that justifies a double, he should double. If he has a hand that justifies a two no-trump bid, he should bid it. If his hand does not justify any such action, he should pass. It is then up to the no-trump bidder to make another bid if his hand justifies it. Auction is a partnership game and the object of the bidding is to find the best bid of the combined hand, the best bid for twenty-six cards, not thirteen. This can be best arrived at by bidding after partner has bid rather than by use of the informatory doubles which force bids, because forced bids are always hard to read. They may have strength and they may not. Never voluntarily place yourself in a position where you must guess as to your partner's strength if there is any other way open. Guesses, no matter how brilliant, can never cope with cold, hard facts.

In this connection a restatement of the nature of a business double is pertinent. A business double is a double made for the purpose of defeating the bid doubled. Any double is a business double if made after partner has bid or doubled, or any double of an original suit bid of four or more, or a double of an original two no-trump. In this connection please note that after partner has bid a no-trump and opponents have overbid and the partner of the no-trump bidder has doubled, such a double is a business double and made for the purpose of defeating the bid.

BRIDGE BY RADIO

Bridge by radio is the latest feature to be inaugurated by WSAI, Cincinnati, Ohio, and associate stations for this fall and winter, according to announcements made by officials of the leading broadcasting stations throughout America.

Plans have been completed to have bridge hands played over the radio by leading bridge experts in the principal cities of America. The first bridge hand to be broadcast will be put on the air Tuesday, October 27, from 9 to 9.30 o'clock, Central Standard Time. As the hand is being broadcast by the experts the plays and bids will be explained in detail so that the listeners-in will be able to play the entire game as broadcast by the experts. Each bid and play will be explained in detail.

The bridge hands will be prepared and played by Milton C. Work and Wilbur C. Whitehead, internationally known bridge authorities of New York. Both Mr. Work and Mr. Whitehead will choose experts from cities where stations are located which broadcast the hands thereby putting what is known as "the supreme court of bridge" against local talent throughout America.

The following explanation was given by Paul A. Greene, Manager of Station WSAI, as to the details of the plan:

"The plan is to have four experts play a deal of Auction Bridge and to broadcast each bid and each play of the deal, together with the reasons for each bid and each play. Prior to each broadcasting, listeners-in will be informed as to the names of the participants so that on the night of the game any four may play the deal, and each player be named after one of the four experts and take the same relative position at the tables as that occupied by his expert namesake. The players will be told to have a pack of cards divided into suits, so that the cards as they are dealt and broadcast may be quickly selected from the pack. The result of the draw for partners and deal will be announced, and then the cards dealt to each expert. The bidding will then follow, after which each play will be announced so that the players can play the same cards that the experts do."

In other words, the Auction Bridge players of the country who have radios will have the opportunity to actually play the same deal played by four experts, and to learn the reasons for each bid and play when holding and playing the same cards.

HOSPITAL NOTES

For week ending October 17: Patients in the hospital 121, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 61, patients paying less than cost of care 35, free patients (including babies) 25, babies born 11, 6 boys and 5 girls patients treated by the out patient department 78, patients treated at eye clinic 8, accident cases 7, operating roo mcases 48, social service calls at hospital 7, at homes 9, patients transferred by social service car 4.

The cabinet of the Framingham Normal School Y. W. C. A. has accepted an invitation to meet with the cabinet of the hospital Y. W. C. A. at the hospital Friday evening.

The members of the Student Y. W. C. A. cabinet: Miss Lynch, Miss Bain, Miss Malcolm, Miss Page, Miss Cherry, Miss ElHatton, Miss Roop and Miss MacGregor, attended the "Setting Up" Conference of the Metropolitan Student Y. W. C. A. held in the Zeta Alpha Society House, at Wellesley College, October 17.

The Newton Medical Club met at the hospital on Monday evening. Dr. Joslin and Dr. McKitrick both of Boston were the speakers, the subject was diabetes.

During the past week the hospital received a gift of some exceedingly nice books for children, also some very beautiful flowers were sent in.

Billy Morgan, a small boy who has been at the hospital for some time with a broken hip was asked to write what he thought of the hospital, he did so in two papers. The first is entitled

Dennison Ward

Dennison Ward is a large white room. It has three plain windows and one colored window, which is a picture of Elizabeth Dennison. The picture itself is about ten feet in height and three feet in width. The room has five cribs and six beds. Dennison is the only children's ward in the whole Newton Hospital. You have nice nurses and doctors. We have a very nice piazza. You get a very nice view of trees. We have the piazza screened in but the screens are off for the winter. We have a canvas over the top. One stormy night the wind blew so hard that it ripped a large hole in it. The next day the men came and took it off. They are going to glass it all in after the winter. The ward here is always full of T's and A's (Tonsils and Adenoids). We have two fireplaces, and we have pictures of boats, windmills, trees, houses, and lots of funny ones. We have a bookcase filled with books and toys. We have two clocks which never goes. In the center of the room we have a table with six chairs, and we have eight lights and one electric fan which we have the nurses turn on when we are hot. We have lots of fun staying here. We play games and the nurses have lots of fun taking the children up to the O. R. Some of the children when they are here so long that they hate to go home. We had one boy here called Henry and he cried when he went home.

Discription of the Children

There are nine children here for the present. They are Louie, Billie, Margaret, King, Arthur, Ellan, Doris, Edmund, and the sheik himself, Billie Morgan. Louis is a T. and A. Billie, Margaret, King, and Eddie are all T's system, Doris is here for her legs, and A's. Ellan is here for a nervous Billie the sheik is here for a broken leg. Playing football. The sheik and the sheik's playmate (Eddie) playes games. We push the table out and pull the beds together. Eddie and I have been the longest in the ward. I have an Autograph book and there is a little verse in it:

Dear Billie:

You may be a "sheik"
With big ideas
But when you want milk
You are just a kid.

While I was having my dinner the barber came. So I got my hair cut. It was great fun. The nurses say I look like a sheik now, etc.

The End.

BILLIE MORGAN.

NAVY WELCOMES OPPORTUNITY OF SHOWING HOW IT WORKS

By COMMANDER BRUCE R. WARE, United States Navy

Navy Day is here! The Navy greets you and throws open the doors of its establishment and of its Yard to all the citizens of America. The initials of our great country stand for "US," the united body, prepared and ready to answer at any time the call of our country.

A team that is loyal will succeed but where there is disloyalty in any system, no matter how thoroughly drilled and trained, that system is doomed to failure. Play the game fair and when you hit the line, hit it hard. Today we ask you to come to drill with us. Do not be on the outside looking in—do not be retired, remain on the active list, take an interest in your Mother Land and be an asset to her.

We of the Navy send forth this message; We want to show you how in times of peace a strong Navy pays; we want to show you why the Navy must always be the first thought of the nation. The American Navy must always be maintained, ready in men, ships, guns, scouts, under-sea craft and flying machines, so that when every other agency fails, the Navy will stand in front of the enemy and prevent war.

At this Navy Yard the United States Battleship Texas is being converted into a modern dreadnaught. She will, when completed, be the same fortress that the Washington was before she was sunk by guns from the Texas. The Washington withstood four days' attack from air forces and underwater explosions and, as you know, was sunk off your historic capes by Salvo from the 14 inch guns of the battleship now being modernized in the Navy Yard. Let the officers of that ship take you through her turrets and through her gun compartments and show you the beginnings of a modern dreadnaught. You will again be invited to see this battleship of the first line upon the completion of this work.

We of the Navy have faith in you patriotic citizens of America, and I, as senior member of the Navy Day Committee, assert that at no place where I have been stationed have I seen a better understanding of the country and its needs, than is shown here. To you it is given the opportunity, without much exertion, to come to a live, active, producing Naval establishment, the busiest Naval establishment in this country. Come and be thrilled by intimate contact with activities upon which the traditions of the Navy will be maintained.

The Captain in command of the Navy Yard, the officers, and the employees extend to you a cordial invitation to come and see us on Navy Day, October 27, 1925.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc., commenced its season's work, last Monday night, with its first rehearsal. Eight new applicants were heard and are to be voted on, next week.

The high character of the concerts given by this local organization and the reputation it has maintained from year to year is attracting the best of male talent from the Newtons and surrounding communities. An ambitious program is planned for this year, under the able direction of D. Ralph MacLean, and intensive work is under way.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

An enjoyable afternoon musicale and tea is being arranged for Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. The University Double Quartet of which Mr. Charles Pearson is a member will provide the entertainment.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Henry J. O'Meara to Mary A. O'Meara, dated December 24, 1924, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4802, Page 40, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 9.30 o'clock A. M., on Saturday, the seventh day of November, A. D. 1925, on the premises first hereinafter described as parcel A., all and singular the premises described in said mortgage.

To wit: "The land in said Newton, consisting of two parcels with the buildings thereon, the first parcel being shown as parcel "A" on a plan entitled "Plan for the development of the Towle Estate, Newton, Massachusetts, by Henry J. O'Meara" which plan is recorded herewith, subject to correction with respect to all measurements, areas, and dimensions, thereon shown. Said parcel "A" is bounded and described as follows:—

Beginning at a point at the Northwesterly corner of a private way shown as "Colby Street" on said plan and Centre Street, and running Northerly along the Westerly side of Centre Street, three hundred ninety-four and 2/10 (394.2) feet to parcel "B" on said plan; then turning at a right angle and running Westerly on said parcel "B" about two hundred eighty (280) feet; then turning at slightly more than a right angle and running Northerly about four hundred and fifty (450) feet; then turning and running in a generally Southwesterly direction in an irregularly curving line along the middle of a private way shown on said plan as "Westchester Road" to a point in the Northerly line of Colby Street, about one thousand (1000) feet West of Centre Street; then turning and running Easterly on Colby Street, about one thousand (1000) feet to the point of beginning, containing about 280,000 feet, all of said quantities and measurements being more or less, and also including herein so much of the fee and all other property or rights of any kind which may belong to the mortgagor in said Colby Street.

This parcel is conveyed subject to a first mortgage to Helen M. Towle of $70,000 of even date, recorded herewith.

The second parcel is shown as parcel "B" on said plan, and is bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Centre Street about four hundred and fifty (450) feet; Southerly by parcel "A" on said plan, about two hundred eighty (280) feet; Westerly by said parcel "A" about four hundred fifty (450) feet and Northerly by parcel "C" on said plan about two hundred and eighty-three (283) feet; Containing approximately 127,300 square feet.

Said parcel "B" is subject to the life tenancy of Mary Shannon Wingate, created by the Will of Mary Shannon late of said Newton, said will being dated March 27, 1899 and with the benefit of the provisions of said will relating to payment of taxes, assessments, insurance and repairs by the trustees under said will during said tenancy. Said premises are hereby conveyed further subject to the obligations of the grantee, his heirs, and assigns, which obligation shall run with the land, to perform all the covenants and agreements on the part of said Loren D. Towle, his heirs, and representatives hereafter to be performed under an agreement between said Loren D. Towle and Sarah P. W. Taylor, dated Sept. 19, 1916, a copy of which agreement is annexed to the deed of Helen M. Towle to Henry J. O'Meara, of even date herewith.

This conveyance includes the fee to the middle line of any way upon the land belonging to the mortgagor adjoining either of said parcels. I further grant as appurtenant to each of the said mortgaged parcels a right of way for all purposes over all ways shown on said plan to all connecting public ways. The premises are conveyed subject to the Zoning Law requirements, if any there be, so far as now in force and applicable thereto.

Said parcel "B" is conveyed subject to a first mortgage to Helen M. Towle of $750 of even date, recorded herewith.

I reserve a common right of way for all purposes of a public street, including the right to grade and layout, construct or cause to be constructed, sidewalks, curbing, to put in sewer and water pipes, gas pipes, electric light conduits, poles, wires, and all other general public service appliance which are usual to public streets or ways in, on or over the streets any portion of which are included in the mortgaged premises.

Both lots are mortgaged subject to a mortgage for $20,000 to Joseph H. Soliday, Trustee, to be recorded herewith."

Terms of sale: One Thousand Dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of the sale.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

(Signed) MARY A. O'MEARA,
Present holder of said mortgage.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, of Wollitt street, opened her house for the gular meeting of the Auburndale eview Club, Tuesday morning, Octoer 20th.

After a short business meeting, here encouraging reports were given the progress of the new library nd, Mrs. Leathers, of the Newton W. C. A., gave an interesting acount of the activities of that organation. She also solicited many more embers in order to increase the ficiency of the Association.

Mrs. Madison M. Cannon then took harge of the meeting, and read a mber of very interesting extracts om Wallace Nutting's "Beautiful aine," as her topic was "The Woods d Lakes of Maine." She closed with peculiarly appropriate poem, descriptive of the many beauties of that nderful State.

A piano solo was played by Mrs. anklin Leland in her always pleasg manner.

Mrs. Valentine's topic was "The ortland Band of Authors," and she umerated eighteen of these, giving teresting facts concerning many of em, including Artmas Ward, Thomas Reed, Sarah Orne Jewett, Nathanl Deering, Seaver Smith and his wife ho was the first woman preacher hold an independent pulpit, John al, who established the first gymsium in America, the three Abbotts, whom Jacob is the most familiar to all, N. P. Willis, the poet, Elijah ellogg, and others.

This closed an interesting and instructive morning.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The gala week for this club—and best of all—in a fine cause—begins on October 24th, with activities that have already been listed in this column, and that may be found elsewhere in the paper. But club members and all Newton residents are reminded again of these coming interesting events, and it is to be hoped that neglect or forgetfulness will not rob many of enjoying this opportunity for pleasure and co-operation.

An operetta for children on the opening— Saturday— afternoon; a dance in the evening; food ond domestic article sales the following Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday afternoons; a Book Shop every day, with talks from various interesting persons; a Musical Review Monday and Tuesday evenings, and a Supper Tuesday evening; and lastly, for the children (young and old), again, a County Fair, Tuesday and Friday afternoons, and all day Saturday. Is there any way of choosing, with so much of interest offered? It is to be hoped there isn't—but that everyone will decide to enjoy them all!

Auburndale Woman's Club

"The Inspiration of Books" is the subject for the next meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on October 27th, when the Literature Committee has secured Mr. Melville C. Freeman, of the High School of Practical Arts as the speaker. Miss Dorothy Greeley will be the singer for the afternoon.

Newton Highlands Shakesjeare Club

Mrs. S. L. Eaton will conduct the quiz on the first two acts of "King Lear" at the October 24th meeting of this club, which will meet at the home of Mrs. William Mick.

Christian Era Study Club

At the home of Mrs. Hosmer, 12 Tudor Terrace, Auburndale, on October 26th, at three o'clock, two papers will be given by club members. Mrs. Kattelle has for her kingly subject, George II, from 1727 to 1760, and Mrs. Hosmer, has Chatham, William Pitt.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

"Franklin, in Biography and in Fiction," is the topic to be given by Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, at the October 26th meeting. Mrs. Andrew B. Wright is hostess for the club on that day. "Makers of America" is the general topic of the year's work, and for the first two meetings of the club George Washington was the maker of our country whose life work was studied. This was indeed as it should be, and another appropriate thing, is the quotation from the words of Benjamin Franklin at the signing of the Declaration of Independence, on July 4, 1776, printed at the head of the club calendar—dry, significant words that has lived through the years since then, for their wisdom and warning—"We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately." This sage advice might well be followed in all walks of life, civic, political, and CLUB.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

A Book Review is scheduled for the next meeting of the Monday Club, on October 26th, in the afternoon, by Mrs. H. E. Williams, at the home of Mrs. L. H. Marshall, 12 Hartford street.

The Professional Women's Club

A tea and reception will be held at the Women's Republican Club., 46 Beacon street, Boston, from 3.30 to 6.30 P. M., on Tuesday, October 27th. This program is for members only, and a reply to the Club President as to attendance is requested. Mrs. Anna Allison Sharp, contralto, with Mrs. Effie Blos, her accompanist; Ora Williams Jacobs, soprano, with Minnie Stratton Watson, her accompanist; Dalies Franz, pianist, and the Georgiana Berry Trio, will be the musical talent of the afternoon.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The gracious hospitality of club members has made possible the opening of the club year with a reception given in a home. This time the courtesy has been extended by Mrs. W. H. Allen of 99 Kirkstall road, where the club will meet Tuesday, October 27th, at 3 P. M. Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Director of the Twelfth District, and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, will be guests of the club. The music will be arranged by Mrs. Chester H. J. Keppler. Tea will be served by the Social Committee, Mrs. J. Mervin Allen, Chairman.

The Hospital Committee will meet Thursday, October 29th, at 1.30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. John Rees, 31 Harrington street. The sewing consists chiefly of work on layettes. Members of the club are urged to attend these meetings which are held alternate Thursdays. They are pleasant socially and give an opportunity to aid a cause in which every one is interested.

Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick will meet with the Glee Club, November 3rd, at the close of the regular club meeting. Members, please note date, and be present.

The Dramatic Committe, Mrs. S. L. Sholley, Chairman, are arranging for some unusually interesting occasions. November 25th they will present two plays in the Parish House of the Methodist Church. They will be "Columbine in Business," coached by Mrs. Derby Brown, and "Buying Culture," a favorite of the Boston Theatre Guild, Mrs. S. L. Sholley, coach. The members of the committee are Mrs. Clinton Kyle, Mrs. Norman Southworth, Mrs. Horton Allen, Miss Louise Wetherbee, Mrs. Arthur R. Brown, Mrs. Percy F. Williams, and Mrs. A. L. Wakefield.

Tickets are selling well for the bridge party to be held November 6th. Last year the party was a marked success and it is expected that the ever popular game, not to mention the worthy object, will enlist the cooperation of all the members of the club.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

The Boston Woman's Civics Club will open its club season Wednesday afternoon, October 28th, at 2.30 at the Hotel Brunswick. The theme of the meetings of the present year is "The American Home," a subject in which the newly-elected president, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, is especially interestd, as she is the mothercraft specialist in the Department of the American Home of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The program of the first meeting will consist of an address from Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney on "The Opportunities before the American Woman"; a discussion of Current Events by Mrs. Frederic E. Dowling; "Music in the Home," Mrs. Mina G. Del Costillo, with musical illustrations; address of welcome by the President, and presentation of the outstanding features of the Federation Topics by Mrs. George M. Hayden, former president.

It is to be observed, therefore, that those women who are to give the program are of at least state-wide reputation and will make the afternoon one of great interest and profit. Mrs. Gurney's experience makes her speeches welcome, and her dry wit and keen logic are a joy to listen to. Mrs. Kimball's splendid work in the past few years and her efficiency will give to the club a president of whom they may well be proud, and that Mrs. Poole is a Director will by no means lessen the clever discussions in Current Events, with another former State-officer its "peppy" leader. Mrs. Hayden is our own newly-appointed Chairman of the American Home in the Newton Federation.

The following Committee Chairman have been appointed: Civics, Mrs. Henry H. Cudworth; Child Welfare, Mrs. A. C. Bang; Hospitality, Mrs. Leslie M. Brock; Legislative, Mrs. William E. Birdsall; Meetings, Mrs. E. W. Gardner; Music, Mrs. Mina G. Del Castillo; Press, Mrs. Frederic E. Dowling.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The first regular business meeting of the year for the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held in the Club House on the 29th, at two o'clock. Mrs. Willard Dalrymple, the new President, will preside. This being a "Get Acquainted Party" the program will be musical, so allowing for the privilege of sociability, an excellent way of beginning a new year. Tea and sociability complete the program.

On the two days following—October 30th and 31st—the club holds a Rummage Sale in the club house, all day affairs. Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer is Chairman, telephone C. N. 0644-M, and articles may be sent to the club house after October 26th, or will be called for by notifying her. To quote the Year Book: "We rely on the former generosity of club members in contributing articles for this sale."

An array of attractive interests have been arranged by the various Chairmen, a few of which are called to the attention of members, with the words of wisdom that if desirous of taking advantage of them, members should arrange to do so at once.

A class in Furniture Painting, decoration and refinishing, conducted by Mrs. Ethel T. Caldwell, begins on November 3rd, and is limited to ten members. There are eight lessons, and the lucky ten should apply to Mrs. E. V. Hickey, telephone C. N. 0745.

Children may learn Modeling in cement and plaster, and may take up drawing and painting under the tutelage of S. B. Duffield, the sculptor, on Saturday mornings, beginning November 7th. Adults may join a more advanced class in similar work. Those to whom this appeals should apply to Mrs. John B. Babcock, telephone C. N. 2201.

Two classes in French, with Mrs. Arthur Springer as teacher, will begin on November 4th, and will meet twice a week, Mondays and Fridays, the first class at 9.30, the second at 10.30 o'clock.

The Home Economics Committee offers a lecture by a Wearever Aluminum demonstrator, "The New Method of Cooking," for Friday, November 3rd, and those who wish to attend should notify Mrs. J. H. Randolph, C. N. 0389-W.

A Dressmaking Class is scheduled for Thursdays in November, with Mrs. J. Graham as instructor, and Mrs. Gordon Wilkes is in charge of applications, C. N. 1825-W, although members were requested to apply before October 1st, so possibly it is too late to make your Fall wardrobe with the aid of this class.

Another class which should have been applied for before October 1st is the ever-popular Italian Hemstitching and Embroideries, conducted in this instance by Mrs. Colombia Di Persio. Mrs. F. M. Burditt has this in charge, C. N. 2400.

Other alluring plans are scheduled for later in the year and will be announced as the time arrives.

MRS. MARSHALL RETURNS FROM AFRICA

Mrs. H. N. F. Marshall, formerly of Newtonville avenue, has just returned from five years of missionary work among the natives of the mountains and tablelands of Swaziland, British South Africa, and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds of Park street. In order more completely to master the native Zulu language, Mrs. Marshall has re-translated the whole English Bible. Much of the time her missionary work in Africa has been at the Fitkin Memorial Hospital station, in the Training School for Native Teachers and Preachers. Her special contribution to their Christian training has been along musical lines. Formerly the natives sang only the air to a few hymns learned by rote. From her early experience as a public school teacher in the United States, Mrs. Marshall adapted a new system of part singig to the native needs. She composed several Christmas cantatas and taught them to the African Christians. She taught this new method to the native teachers at the Training School and they produced Christmas pageants under her direction, which she had written and adapted to local conditions. She translated several books of Sunday School lessons, and has translated a book of Christian hymns, which is soon to be published in the Zulu language. As soon as a few hymns were ready, she taught them by charts to the native audiences and to the native teachers in the missionary college. The pageants were produced under her direction by the native Christians at Quarterly Conferences of the British, Scotch and American missionaries in the different districts of Swaziland.

OFFICE OF STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH, STATE HOUSE—Boston, June 16, 1925. Rules and regulations of the State Department of Public Health adopted by said department for the sanitary protection of waters used by the Metropolitan District Commission for the water supply of any town or water company under the authority of chapter 92 of the General Laws. The State Department of Public Health, acting under the authority of section 17 of chapter 92 of the General Laws, hereby makes the following rules and regulations for the sanitary protection of all waters used by the Metropolitan District Commission for the water supply of any town or water company, under the authority of said chapter:—1. No cesspool, privy, or other place for the reception, deposit, or storage, of human excrement, and no urinal or water-closet not discharging into a sewer, shall be located, constructed, or maintained within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no human excrement shall be deposited or discharged in or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission. 2. No human excrement shall be deposited or discharged in or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, unless suitable and adequate provision is made to prevent any manure or other polluting matter from flowing or being washed into such open waters. 3. No interment shall, except by permission in writing by the Metropolitan District Commission, be made in any cemetery, or other place of burial, within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by said commission for the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no house slops, sink waste, water which has been used for washing or cooking, or other polluted water, shall be discharged into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission or into the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 5. No garbage, manure, or putrescible matter, whatsoever, shall be put into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no garbage, manure, or putrescible matter whatsoever, shall, except in the cultivation and use of the soil in the ordinary methods of agriculture, be put upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 6. No stable, pig sty, hen-house, barn-yard, hog-yard, hitching or standing place for horses, cattle, or other animals, or other place where animal manure is deposited or accumulates, shall be located, constructed, or maintained, any part of which is within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no stable or other place, as above enumerated, shall be located, constructed, or maintained, within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission, unless suitable and adequate provision is made to prevent any manure or other polluting matter from flowing or being washed into such open waters. 7. No interment shall, except by permission in writing by the Metropolitan District Commission, be made in any cemetery, or other place of burial, within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by said commission for the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no house slops, sink waste, water which has been used for washing or cooking, or other polluted water, shall be discharged into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 8. No lands, which were not under the control of cemetery authorities and used for cemetery purposes on July 1, 1899, from which the natural drainage flows into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, shall be taken or used for cemetery purposes until a plan and description of the lands which it is proposed to use for such purposes, sufficient for their identification, shall be presented to the State Department of Public Health, and until such taking or use shall be approved in writing by the State Department of Public Health. 9. No manufacturing, refuse or waste product or polluting liquid or other substance of a nature poisonous or injurious either to human beings or animals, or other putrescible organic matter whatsoever, shall be discharged directly into, or at any place from which it may flow or be washed or carried into, any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission. 10. No system of sewers or other works for the collection, conveyance, disposal, or purification, of domestic or manufacturing sewage or drainage, or any other putrescible organic matter whatsoever, shall, except in accordance with plans first approved in writing by the State Department of Public Health, be constructed or maintained at any place within the watershed of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission, unless such cesspool, privy, or other receptacle, is so constructed that no portion of its contents can escape or be washed into any such waters. 11. No human excrement, or compost containing human excrement, or contents of any privy or cesspool or sewer, or other receptacle for the reception or storage of human excrement, shall be deposited or discharged upon or into the ground at any place from which any such excrement, compost, or contents, or particles thereof, may flow or be washed or carried into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission, unless suitable and adequate provision is made to prevent any manure or other polluting matter from flowing or being washed into such open waters. 12. No interment shall, except by permission in writing by the Metropolitan District Commission, be made in any cemetery, or other place of burial, within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by said commission for the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no house slops, sink waste, water which has been used for washing or cooking, or other polluted water, shall be discharged into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 13. No garbage, manure, or putrescible matter, whatsoever, shall be put into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no garbage, manure, or putrescible matter whatsoever, shall, except in the cultivation and use of the soil in the ordinary methods of agriculture, be put upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 14. No stable, pig sty, hen-house, barn-yard, hog-yard, hitching or standing place for horses, cattle, or other animals, or other place where animal manure is deposited or accumulates, shall be located, constructed, or maintained, any part of which is within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no stable or other place, as above enumerated, shall be located, constructed, or maintained, within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission, unless suitable and adequate provision is made to prevent any manure or other polluting matter from flowing or being washed into such open waters. 15. No interment shall, except by permission in writing by the Metropolitan District Commission, be made in any cemetery, or other place of burial, within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by said commission for the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission; and no house slops, sink waste, water which has been used for washing or cooking, or other polluted water, shall be discharged into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or into the ground within fifty feet, or upon the ground within two hundred and fifty feet, of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 16. No lands, which were not under the control of cemetery authorities and used for cemetery purposes on July 1, 1899, from which the natural drainage flows into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, shall be taken or used for cemetery purposes until a plan and description of the lands which it is proposed to use for such purposes, sufficient for their identification, shall be presented to the State Department of Public Health, and until such taking or use shall be approved in writing by the State Department of Public Health. 17. No manufacturing, refuse or waste product or polluting liquid or other substance of a nature poisonous or injurious either to human beings or animals, or other putrescible organic matter whatsoever, shall be discharged directly into, or at any place from which it may flow or be washed or carried into, any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission. 18. No system of sewers or other works for the collection, conveyance, disposal, or purification, of domestic or manufacturing sewage or drainage, or any other putrescible organic matter whatsoever, shall, except in accordance with plans first approved in writing by the State Department of Public Health, be constructed or maintained at any place within the watershed of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or within fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission, unless such cesspool, privy, or other receptacle, is so constructed that no portion of its contents can escape or be washed into any such waters. 19. No human excrement, or compost containing human excrement, or contents of any privy or cesspool or sewer, or other receptacle for the reception or storage of human excrement, shall be deposited or discharged upon or into the ground at any place from which any such excrement, compost, or contents, or particles thereof, may flow or be washed or carried into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, or into any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, the water of which flows directly or ultimately into any waters so used by said commission, or within two hundred and fifty feet of high-water mark of any open waters flowing as aforesaid into waters so used by said commission. 20. No person shall bathe in and no person shall, unless permitted by a special regulation or by a written permit of the Metropolitan District Commission, fish in, or send, drive, or put any animal into, the Wachusett Reservoir, so called, the open channel of the Wachusett Aqueduct, Sudbury Reservoir, Hopkinton Reservoir, Ashland Reservoir, Whitehall Reservoir, Framingham Reservoir Number 1, Framingham Reservoir Number 2, Framingham Reservoir Number 3, Lake Cochituate, Spot Pond, Chestnut Hill Reservoir, or any other lake, pond, reservoir, aqueduct, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws. No person other than a member of the said Metropolitan District Commission, its officers, agents, or employees, or public officers whose duties may require, shall, unless so permitted by regulation or permit of the said commission, enter or go, in any boat, skiff, raft, or other contrivance, on or upon the water of any of said reservoirs, of said lake, pond, or open channel, or of other such lakes, ponds, reservoirs, or streams, nor shall enter or go upon, or drive any animal upon, the ice of any of said waters or other such lakes, ponds, reservoirs, or streams. 21. No person shall enter upon the Wachusett Reservoir, so called, the open channel of the Wachusett Aqueduct, Sudbury Reservoir, Hopkinton Reservoir, Ashland Reservoir, Whitehall Reservoir, Framingham Reservoir Number 1, Framingham Reservoir Number 2, Framingham Reservoir Number 3, Lake Cochituate, Spot Pond, Chestnut Hill Reservoir, or any other lake, pond, reservoir, aqueduct, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, used by the Metropolitan District Commission as a source, or for the conveyance, storage, or distribution, of the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, for the purpose of cutting or taking ice, or cut or take ice from any such lake, pond, reservoir, aqueduct, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters, without a written permit granted by said commission, stating the time and place for which such permission is given. 16. All reports which may be made to any board of health, or to any health officer of any city or town, of cases of contagious or infectious diseases occurring within the watershed of any lake, pond, reservoir, stream, ditch, water course, or other open waters used by the Metropolitan District Commission for the water supply of any town or water company, under the provisions of chapter 92 of the General Laws, shall be open to the inspection at all reasonable times of said commission, its officers or agents. By order of the State Department of Public Health. (Signed) EUGENE H. KELLEY, Commissioner of Public Health.

Woman's Association of Eliot Church Hear Prominent Speakers on Live Topics

On Tuesday afternoon the ladies of Eliot Church heard Mrs. H. N. F. Marshall, formerly of Newton, bring a stirring message from the brown people of the African uplands. Mr. Warren K. Lewis followed with a scholarly discussion of South American problems. Mrs. Harry H. Powers concluded the program with a brilliant report of the National Congregational Council at Washington. Then little groups of ladies scattered over the rooms drinking a friendly cup of tea and admiring the clever African handiwork. Others met and visited with the new acting pastor, Dr. Beals, and Mrs. Beals. All had a few words with Mrs. Henry A. Arnold, widow of the loved pastor who gave us such an inspiring message at Easter time and so soon went to a greater work in the other Land. Mrs. Arnold takes her little family this week to live at Bradford, Mass.

Mrs. Marshall returned in August from the land where pythons crawl in the tall grass. Missionaries there keep sharp watch over their babies in high-chairs lest a bolder snake dare to venture through closely clipped door-yard grass, and attack the little ones, as recently happened.

Mrs. Marshall emphasized the mother-love which makes the world kin. The young heathen mothers are in despair at the death of their babies with no future hope. The missionaries creep through the low door-ways of the dark huts, bringing white garments for the tiny forms and a ray of hope to the despairing hearts. Often the missionaries reach the young mother in time to bring healing from the hospital near by to the little ones.

This helpfulness is an entering wedge for preaching the Master, who brought healing, sympathy and hope into religion. Before these people learn Christianity, the women are little better than slaves and burden-bearers among their people, she asserted, but after whole families are converted, all co-operate and remove from their backs the heaviest burdens.

They learn to sing in the boys' and girls' training schools. Mrs. Marshall was the first missionaray to adapt and teach thoroughly part-singing in the Tonic Sol-Fa" in Swazland, producing choice male and female quartet-singing, and large school choruses from Swazie talent.

She read to the ladies the bible story of the Good Shepherd leaving his ninety-nine sheep and searching for the single lost one. "But there in Africa," said she, "there is not just one lost sheep but one thousand million!"

She then sang, "The Ninety and Nine" in the Zulu language. This is but one of the hundreds of hymns that she has translated from the English.

When Mrs. Marshall left for America, she had a body guard of young men pupils who escorted her over the mountain trail by the dens of wild baboons and the lairs of leopards to the railroad 45 miles away. They were filled with sorrow at her departure. "Mother Marshall will never come back to us," they wailed. "She already has sheep (gray) in her hair." Her reassurance that she would surely come back if it were possible, brought again the smiles to the faces of her devoted pupils.

In one year the native brown Christians of the South African district have contributed $1400 to the support of their own work. This is a three hundred dollar gain over the preceding year.

Mrs. Lewis read a vivid paper on life in Latin America, the country of contrasts. In Mexico, the University was established before John Harvard or Eli Yale were born, yet only the aristocratic few are educated; the masses of the people are hopelessly ignorant.

Their hospital was founded before the English settlement at Jamestown was even dreamed of, yet Mexico is one of the most backward regions of the earth in a medical way. With natural riches greater than those of a thousand Midases, its masses are in hopeless poverty. Of the fourteen or fifteen millions of Mexico, three-fifths are Indians of many tribes and tongues, and two-fifths, white, or a mixture.

The chronic state of revolution is due, not to love of fighting, but to gross misgovernment and to great land-holdings with formerly no chance for the peon to have his own farm. The Constitution now provides for the breaking up of estates and chances for small farms, but the peons need teaching how to farm. Educational missionaries have been sent out to teach farming and agriculture.

Mexico needs a religion for the common people as well as education. Several American Protestant churches have missions there. They divide the territory, and all join in supporting the college for native pastors. Mackenzie College is sending out Christian leaders. The Feminist movement has been a great help in bringing about better conditions in Latin America. South America is the only land where not a single woman has a right to vote. One of the feminist drives was to get the men clerks into masculine occupations and let women sell woman's apparel. Women are banded together to study social movements. The Women's National Council in Argentine took as their motto: "Nothing for ourselves; everything for humanity."

Protestant work is a mighty force in Latin America for the emancipation

SCORES MAYOR CHILDS' POLICIES

Alderman White, Not a Candidate for Any Office, Tells How City Should be Run

Alderman Thomas W. White addressed the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club last Friday afternoon at Players Hall, on "How the City of Newton Ought to be Run."

At the beginning he stated that he was not a candidate for Mayor and would not seek that office and furthermore would not be a candidate for re-election as Alderman.

He discussed the methods of the present administration, declaring that department heads are allowed to assume too much power, that "discipline is almost an unknown factor" and that "Newton has been living on its fat for the past years and very little fiscal progress has been made."

Alderman White's speech is given herewith:

"Any person may naturally and humanly suffer some embarrassment when called upon to speak before a gathering of his own electorate numbering, I hope, some friends and some supporters,—at least we are all interested in the same subject—Good Government.

"Your request for me to speak to you is in reality a just demand of one of your public servants.

"Public office is a public trust, and the responsibility entailed is one of which I am deeply conscious.

"My purpose in coming here is in order that you may personally see what manner of man I am—despite all rumors and canards.

"Also to make two announcements. First, I shall not be a candidate for the office of Mayor of Newton—attractive as it is. Second, I shall not be a candidate for re-election to the Board of Aldermen, trusting that I at least can show gratitude for past favors, and realizing that there are many other men and women in our city more competent to hold office as a representative of the people. No public official receives honor for what he takes. Honor is the reward for what he gives.

"Under these conditions and with no self interest I may speak with freedom, and I trust with constructive criticism upon the subject matter assigned to me 'How the City of Newton Ought to be Run.'

"The position of Mayor of Newton is not a job. It is simply an honorable opportunity for temporary public service.

"In order that there be no misunderstanding, let me state that for the present Mayor of Newton I have the deepest, personal friendship, as the past will fully prove. He is a lovable character, a high type of citizen. His private life is above reproach, and is his own.

"Presenting simply my own conception of how Newton should be managed, no one else can be held responsible for my views.

"Statute law and the city charter provide that the Mayor of our city shall be directly responsible for the administration of its affairs. No appropriation can be initiated or increased without his authority. Unfortunately, the course of the least resistance is too often followed, and nearly everything is recommended, resulting in the burden being placed upon the legislative branch, 'the Board,' of not only exercising its functions, but indirectly assuming most of the policy and contract making power of the executive.

"The fundamental law requires that the Legislative shall not assume the duties of the Executive, and vice versa. The line of demarcation is clearly and well defined, and should be closely adhered to. Neither should infringe upon the other. Primarily, a mayor should be possessed of business ability, decision and practical vision. One who would lead and not follow. Able to say definitely 'Yes' or 'No' as conditions require.

"Some department heads are allowed to assume too much power, with a consequent increase in costs, a lack of morale and continued violation of sound, budget practice. Discipline is almost an unknown factor.

"It will cost, this year, about $3,709,000 to conduct this city, or one-thirteenth of the budget of the State.

"In other words, we spend about four per cent of our total valuation in yearly operations. Our net debt is about $3,700,000 or nearly four per cent of our total valuation, which is $117,000,000.

"Reduction of taxation is at present the engrossing topic of the nation and the state. The money of the taxpayer should be carefully conserved, yet the employe is worthy of his hire. Resources can easily be taxed out of existence.

"An insistent 'Pay-as-you-go' policy is the quickest way to reduce expenditures in the near future. Bonds incurring debt of any and all kinds should be eliminated wherever possible.

"About one-third of our annual outlay, or $1,022,303.54, is expended by the School Department.

"The character wisely provides that the Mayor shall be ex-officio a member of the School Committee. By so doing he would become a necessary connecting link between the School Department and the Board of Aldermen. Close application coupled with wise advice would eventually lead to a more efficient business administration of school affairs, and please distinctly understand I do not mean—a reduction of the salaries of the teachers. I do mean the elimination of unnecessary 'isms' in the curriculum—the control of the physical operation of the various units, careful purchasing and handling of supplies. Consideration of the placing of economical primary units at convenient locations in the city, relieving the grammar schools to quite some degree, avoiding long trips of young children, the abolition of the pest of portable school buildings, elimination of transportation costs, and to catch up with a too long neglected building program which has ended in congestion.

"To be really truthful, the City of Newton has been living on its fat for the past years, and very little fiscal progress has been made.

"Greater continuous care should be given to the physical and sanitary condition of all our schools.

"About fifteen years ago a fire insurance fund was created, to be added to at the rate of $10,000 yearly. No additions have been made in the past years, and rising $50,000 is all that is available for fire losses in public buildings. Such a fund should contain at least $500,000 before contributions ceased. History has shown that about once in fifteen to twenty years a political unit has a fire year when public property is destroyed in substantial amount. I predict such a happening in Newton. The city carries practically no insurance.

"For example: Should the Day Junior High School be destroyed—the loss being say $400,000—only $60,000 is available from the fire insurance fund. At the present time, the amount of the borrowing capacity of the city is only $300,000 for all general purposes.

"We should then present the pitiful sight of going to the General Court for authority to exceed our debt limit. I trust this may never happen.

"The Street Department expends $814,500 for maintenance. We have little reason to complain as to the efficiency of that department, yet more attention should be given to its capital outlay. Main and branch sewers and drains are nearly obsolete. Sidewalks have been neglected in many localities. It is questionable if any appropriation is longer necessary for both work and the Executive branch should give more attention to the literal enforcement of contractual rights under an existing liberal agreement, covering the collection and disposal of garbage.

"It is to be regretted that ordinances should be changed or suggested in order to fit some particular favored individual into a position. The orderly process of government is the only safe American method. Evasion of the law by the splitting of contracts and unnecessary overtime ought never to be allowed.

"The water problem is one that requires immediate attention. The quality is not bad, maybe a little corrosive in action with some manganese deposit. It appears to us at times hardly inviting to drink of or bathe in and not suitable on occasions for wash day. In my opinion, the first practical thing to do is to connect the Ward Street receiving basin directly with the pumping supply so that we may have a settling basin and as much of the city supplied, as is possible, by the indirect, smooth circulation of gravity flow in place of the direct pulsations of a powerful pump riling up the water as it forces it directly through the distributing pipes.

"Some progress has been made the past year along fire protection lines and better service by the installation of larger pipes along Commonwealth Avenue, now being placed. The work should be continued.

"Should this not alleviate the condition, serious consideration must be given to becoming a part of the Metropolitan supply.

"The operation of the zoning law has resulted in raising the values of property, especially in the business district. The Executive should see that his appointees 'the assessors' give due, taxable weight to such enhanced values predicated up such values as the owners place upon them for the basis of figuring rents.

"The Treasury Department spends the third largest amount,—$432,526. Most of this amount is a debt heritage built up in the past, and we are now settling with good, hard cash. In other words, if we didn't have to pay this we could build a new schoolhouse every year.

"Grave consideration should be given to the extension of night street lighting and the installation of comfort stations in our commercial centers.

"It would not require a financial genius to build a stadium and enclosure at Cabot Park that would easily finance itself and liquidate any expenditure within a short time.

"Stricter control over the use and maintenance of city-owned automobiles is necessary.

"The time in which building permits can be obtained should be reduced from 30 to not over 14 days. Simplification of the method for obtaining private garage permits would result in the saving of time and reduce irritation.

"At the risk of being burdensome, I might thread through many other divisions of city activity such as the gasoline filling stations, playgrounds, bus lines, etc., yet it might be better if I tried to answer any question that may suggest itself to any member after I close.

"The need of Newton today is for an administration led by a mayor with the courage and ability to conduct its affairs in such a manner that although during his administration he could not hope to be popular he would place the city on a business basis, and give to Newton her proper rank as one of the leading cities in the Commonwealth."

NEWTON CIRCLE

The Newton Circle, Inc., will be at home to its members and friends at the new Florence Crittenden Home, 10 Perthshire road, Oak Square, Brighton, on Tuesday November 3rd, from 3-6.

During the week of November 2nd to 7th the Home will keep open house—at the same hours. Any unable to attend Tuesday are cordially invited during the week.

WEST NEWTON AWAKE

Lively Interest Shown in the Program for Memorial Library Week

West Newton has been thoroughly aroused this week on the matter of raising funds for its proposed new branch library building.

The program given in the Graphic of last week has been fully carried out by large and enthusiastic committees. The book and food sales in the Unitarian parish house have attracted a great deal of attention and the "Town Fair" in the parish house of the Second Church has been the Mecca for the children. The hall has been most attractively decorated by Mrs. John P. Holmes with numerous and effective Hallowe'en features. Owl lanterns, faces of black cats and yellow and black crepe paper decorations. The attendants have worn Hallowe'en hats and aprons and witch costumes.

The parade of the wooden soldiers was a great attraction and the boys who took part deserve great credit for the way they carried out the instructions of Mrs. Paul S. Phalen who was in charge. There was a good acrobatic feature also in the bill.

The dance on Saturday evening at the State Armory, while not so well attended as was expected was a most enjoyable affair for the three hundred couples who were present.

The musical revue "Behind the Red Curtains" was given two performances Monday and Tuesday evenings in Players Hall. Langdon Matthews directed the revue and played a leading part One of the features of the show was the Russian Balalaika Trio. Prominent in the cast were Dorothy Bates, Virginia Beatey, Margaret Blunt, Elfreide Carter, Sally Davidson, Agnes Hartridge, Cleone Place, Virginia Taylor, Mrs. F. Rollins Maxwell, Jr., Elsie Winsor Bird, Frances Burton, Ethel Davidson, Evelyn Lovejoy, Dorothy Tufts, Constance Upham, Carl Pickhardt, Robert A. Burlen, Betty Bingham, William Benger, Charles Benson, Marshal Glazier, Richard Miller, Everett Upham, Harold E. Fyffe, Paul Thayer, Catherine Bolster, Hazel Sands Welch, Mrs. Philip R. Dunbar, E. Irving Locke, George Owen, Jr., was in charge of the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Norby were co-chairmen in charge of the production.

The field spohts on Thursday afternoon were held in spite of the chill wind which prevailed. They were in charge of Mr. E. T. Brean, Miss Hills, Mrs. Hovgaard and Miss Potter with prizes of jack knives for the boys and silver pins for the girls. The winners were Francis Chase, 100 yard dash for boys under 12; Alvira Aceto, for 50 yard dash for girls under 12; E. Mullen, 50 yard dash for boys over 12; Elsa Brandt, 50 yard dash for girls over 12; George Hutchinson, 100 yard dash for boys over 12; Elsa Brandt, 100 yard dash for girls over 12; George Rae for hop toad race; Francis Chase for boys and Elsa Brandt for girls in walking races; J. Bachrach and R. Chase for girls' couples race; George Rae and George Hutchinson, boys' couples race; S. Sprow and J. Hackett, wheel barrow race, and Elsa Aceto, girls' stilted legged race.

There were opportunities for goat and pony rides about the church premises and Mr. Carl E. Pickhardt was in charge of a shooting gallery.

D. A. R. MEETING

The October meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting chapter D. A. R. was held at the home of Miss Adelaide Webster, Chester street, Newton Highlands, on Tuesday the 27th. The regent, Mrs. Richard Cody, presided.

The account of a visit to the Girls' Dormitory of the International College at Springfield, to which the chapter has recently presented a drinking-fountain, was interestingly given by Mrs. Sanford Thompson. Miss Harriet Ward reported on the fall conference of the state D. A. R. recently held at Northampton, the keynote of which was the building and financing of the proposed Memorial Auditorium at Washington.

The regent then presented as the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Ethel W. Sabin of Newton Upper Falls. As Miss Sabin told of her work among the foreign-born, her participation in their festivities and her endeavors to assist them in the difficult problems of adjustment to our customs and laws, she unconsciously revealed the tactfulness and deep human sympathy which are the secret of her success. In closing, Miss Sabin stressed her belief in acquainting the foreigner not only with the glories of our own country, but also with the best that his native land has to offer of history and literature.

Refreshments were served by Miss Webster, assisted by Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Bicknell, Mrs. Elliot, and Mrs. Shute. A pleasing feature of the social hour was the presentation by the regent of a huge birthday cake patriotically decorated in honor of Navy Day, the 67th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, and the 35th anniversary of the founding of the National Society of D. A. R.

DEATH OF MR. KING

Mr. George W. King, a resident of Newtonville for many years, died last Friday afternoon at the Newton Hospital after a brief illness of ten days. Mr. King, who was 85 years of age, was a native of Nova Scotia. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George West of Harvard street, Newtonville, with whom he made his home, and two sisters who live in Nova Scotia.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Newtonville M. E. Church, Rev. A. D. Parker, officiating and the interment was in Wyoming Cemetery, Melrose.

NEW HOCKEY RINK

The Country Day School will have a new hockey rink to play on this coming winter. The boys at the school have raised about $5,500 to build a rink 80 by 180 feet, which is the size now most popular with school and college teams. It will be located just south of the athletic field which lies in the valley surrounded by the Commonwealth Country Club. It is now under construction by a contracting firm which makes a specialty of school and college playground work. The rink will have a complete electric lighting equipment enabling the boys to use it until long after dark every afternoon. This will insure its use by nearly all the boys of the school.

In recent years the Country Day teams have had to use the rinks at the Brae Burn or some other country club, which has been inconvenient. It meant irregular practice hours, long trips for the practice sessions, no shower baths, riding home in cold weather in a heated condition, and late arrival home. It also has been an added expense for the athletic association of the school and has prevented the boys from competing on equal terms with the other private schools around Boston, all of which have had their own rinks.

In spite of the adverse conditions the Country Day hockey teams have always made an excellent showing. Last winter eight former players were playing on college varsity, second or freshman teams, which is an unusual record when the number of Country Day boys who have been able to play hockey is taken into consideration.

The members of the hockey rink committee who have been so successful in raising the needed funds are Kendrick Kerns, Jr., chairman, John Garrison, Nathan Talbot, John Wilbur, and Richard Fisher.

FIRST WIN FOR INTERMEDIATES

The Newton high school intermediate varsity scored its first win of the season over the Belmont team Monday afternoon on the opponent's field. The score was 9-0. Joe Gilligan was the outstanding player of the game and his field goal from a difficult angle on the 33-yard line was the first score of the game. Whittaker of the local team scooped up a fumbled punt and ran 25 yards through the entire Belmont eleven for a touchdown.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

NEWTON 9—WALTHAM 7

The orange and black of Newton High waved in victory over the red and white of Waltham Saturday afternoon on the Waltham field. Captain Gilligan and his mates brought home a well-earned 9-7 victory before a crowd of 5,000. To every one of the local boys credit must be given for the stand they made in the last period to stave off threatening defeat by the Watch City team. The opponents threw pass after pass in a vain endeavor to get a man loose to score, but if the pass was not grounded or intercepted by a Newton player Tommy Gilligan and his backfield mates were right on the receiver and he went down in his tracks. In the first half Waltham started out as though they meant to run roughshod over the Garden City boys. The Newton line played high, and was like paper in front of the onslaughts of Concannon, Ryan and the other Waltham carriers. Waltham scored its touchdown on a fluke. On a pass from Andres to Holbrook, Proctor accidentally struck the ball and knocked it out of Holbrook's reach. Holmberg, the Waltham left end, who was right on top of the play scooped the oval up and ran 60 yards for the score. Concannon kicked the goal. Just previous to this play Emerson picked up a thrown ball from Gilligan as the latter was tackled and ran 70 yards to the Newton goal. A score was not allowed as the play was ruled an incompleted forward and not an attempted lateral pass.

Gilligan drop-kicked three points into Newton's score in the second period after the local boys had carried the ball to the 5-yard stripe.

Newton's winning score came shortly after the opening of the final period after McCullough had recovered a fumble of a bad pass from Siano, Waltham center, on Waltham's 26-yard line. Gilligan gained a yard and Proctor made 3 yards through centre. A forward pass from Gilligan to Holbrook who came from nowhere out of the midst of a group of players of both teams gained five yards more. With one yard to go for a first down Gilligan tossed a forward to McCullough on the line for the winning score. The kick for goal by Gilligan went wild.

The Game

First Period—Newton won the toss and Waltham kicked off to Newton's 34-yard line and Holbrook ran it back four yards. Two plays netted but four yards and Holbrook punted to Waltham's 30-yard line where Waltham fumbled and Newton recovered. Gilligan made 5 yards around end and Holbrook 2 yards off tackle. Gilligan was thrown for a 3 yard loss. The Waltham line was breaking through easily. An attempted field goal by Gilligan from the 38 yard line failed. Waltham put the ball in play on the 20 yard line and kicked to midfield. Newton was penalized five yards. On an exchange of kicks Newton gained 20 yards and the ball was in its possession on Waltham's 40 yard line. Here Emerson scooped up Gilligan's pass and made his run. The ball was brought back and Gilligan completed a pass for 7 yards. Proctor made 5 yards for first down. Here Waltham got its break as described and Holmberg scored. Littlefield kicked off to Waltham's 15 yard mark and the ball was run back to the 36 yard line. Waltham made 8 yards through Newton's line and the quarter ended.

Second Period—Waltham continued its rushing game and made first down. Waltham was penalized five yards and kicked to Newton's 15 yard line where Gilligan fumbled and a Waltham end recovered. An incompleted pass over the goal line gave Newton the ball on its 20 yard stripe. After Holbrook was thrown for a 5 yard loss he kicked poorly to the 23 yard line. After two plays Waltham fumbled and Littlefield recovered. Gilligan was again thrown for a two yard loss and Holbrook punted to Waltham's 45 yard mark. Holmberg, Waltham end, was replaced by Crawford. Ramsden made a pretty tackle and Waltham made no gain. The Watch City team was penalized 15 yards for illegal use of hands and they kicked to their 40 yard mark. Newton started a pretty march. Line rushes by Hall and Proctor made two first downs on six plays. Proctor took the ball twice more for a total of four yards and a pass, Gilligan to Holbrook, made the third first down. Gilligan took the ball on an end run and was forced offside at the 5 yard stripe. Hall made 2 yards but Proctor was thrown for a 3 yard loss. Gilligan scored a field goal. Hall was injured on the play and carried off the field. Waltham kicked off and Gilligan ran the kick back 13 yards to the 32 yard line. The first half ended with the ball in Newton's possession.

Third Period—Waltham kicked off to Newton's 15 yard line and Holbrook ran it back to the 30 yard mark. Newton played straight football and made four consecutive first downs for 50 yards. Gilligan, Proctor, Lyons and Hall carried the ball. Only one forward pass, Gilligan to Holbrook, netting 18 yards was attempted. The ball was now on Waltham's 20 yard line. After two plays, one an incompleted forward pass, with eight yards to go Gilligan made a poor attempt at a field goal. The ball rolled off to one side to the fifteen yard line where Waltham put it in play. Waltham kicked to midfield where Gilligan was nailed in his tracks. Newton lost the ball on an intercepted forward and Waltham punted to Newton's 30 yard line. Holbrook returned the punt to Waltham's 27 yard line where the opponents fumbled and recovered the ball. The quarter ended after Waltham had made a gain of one yard through the line.

Fourth Period — Waltham made 7 yards through the line. On the next play Waltham fumbled and McCullough recovered the ball on the 26 yard line. Newton made its touchdown as described. Newton kicked off and Waltham opened up with a forward passing game. Starting on the Waltham 38-yard line a forward pass, Ryan to Emerson, was good for 22 yards and a first down. Emerson was nearly loose but Gilligan made a nice tackle and stopped a long run. Another pass, Ryan to Connolly, won another first down on the 23 yard line. Waltham was penalized 20 yards for coaching. McCullough intercepted a long forward and ran the ball back eight yards. Newton was penalized 15 yards and Holbrook punted to Waltham's 40 yard mark. Another Waltham forward pass was intercepted by Holbrook on the 31 yard line. Holbrook kicked offside at Waltham's 40 yard line. Newton was penalized 15 yards on the next play and Waltham was given first down. Holbrook intercepted another Waltham forward and ran it back 10 yards to the 42 yard line. Proctor made 2 yards through the line and the game ended with the ball in Newton's possession on the 44 yard line.

SPORT NOTES

Newton should win over the Somerville team by about one touchdown according to comparisons of the games with Cambridge-Latin. Somerville was fortunate that Cambridge did not have a man who could score the point after touchdown or a tie game would have been the result. This is the first league game that Somerville has won since it defeated the local team two years ago. Newton played far better football against Waltham than it did the year before against Cambridge and if it continues to play the same brand the rest of the season it should finish well up in the league.

Three former members of Newton high football teams sat on the sidelines of Saturday's Dartmouth-Harvard game. Clem Coady and Jake Stafford were on the Harvard side and Win Robinson on the Dartmouth bench. Coady, who was injured in the Holy Cross game, did not round into shape in time but he will be back in the Crimson line-up tomorrow against William and Mary college. Win Robinson, who tore a ligament in his leg in practice a few weeks ago will be awaiting the call against the Brown bear in the new Providence Stadium tomorrow.

Mike Gulian, Newton high, Brown and All-American tackle, will play with the Providence Steamrollers Sunday at Providence.

Carleton McCullough played a great game for Newton against Waltham last Saturday. His recovery of a Waltham fumble on the Waltham 26-yard line was a pretty play. He shouldered the Watch City back out of the picture. This was the big break of the game as it led directly to Newton's touchdown. He later covered himself with more glory when he eluded several Waltham men in order to catch Tommy Gilligan's forward pass across the goal line for the winning score. This boy is one of the best ends Newton has had for several years, and he will be a worthy successor to Hank Bjorkman when he enrolls at Dartmouth.

While particular credit can be given Billy Proctor, Guy Holbrook, Tommy Gilligan, Carleton McCullough and Waxie Littlefield for their parts in the Waltham game the entire eleven gave all they had to bring home the bacon.

Asa Hall, who cracked a ligament in his hip in the third period and was carried off the field, will be out for the rest of the reason. His ground gaining for the local team will be greatly missed in the remaining games.

There are a number of fans who think Gilligan should have called on Proctor for a forward or Holbrook to rarry the ball instead of attempting to make a field goal from the 27-yard line at a rather difficult angle. It was third down and eight yards to go and the local boys had made a pretty march down the field from their own 30 yard line on four successive first downs, with Newton ripping the opponent line wide open.

Walter McQuiston had a great deal to do with the Dartmouth freshman team's victory over Exeter Academy Saturday.

George Owen claims that one of Dartmouth's most deceptive plays was developed by Allie Dickinson for Newton's use a few years ago and that one of Newton's men at Dartmouth turned it over to be used by the Hanover college.

Dotty Wright played a great game for Dean Academy Saturday when it smothered Suffield Academy 34-0 at Franklin. While Wright did not score a point his choice of plays was excellent and placed the ball in position to score.

Unless tomorrow's game between Medford and Everett ends in a tie one of the two teams will be leading the Suburban League tomorrow night. If Medford wins Newton's one hope will be to defeat that team next Saturday at Claffin Field. If Everett wins it should win the league championship without much difficulty. Medford can be defeated. It was nearly held to a tie score by the rindge team last Saturday and but for a 92-yard run by the Medford captain and back, Herb, Rindge might have turned the trick. Herb grabbed a Rindge pass on the eight yard line and ran to the other end of the field for the lone score of the game.

"Shad" Osborne, substitute end at Yale, who was injured two weeks ago will probably not be in shape to play this week but will most likely be ready for the call in the Princeton game next Saturday.

It has been definitely decided that for the present Clem Coady will not be shifted to his old position at tackle but will continue to hold down the fullback berth on the Harvard eleven. The shift may possibly occur before the Princeton game. Coady, who has been out of the lineup since he was banged up in the Holy Cross game, returned to practice Tuesday although he did not take part in any scrimmages. It is probable that he will not be used a great deal tomorrow as no chances will be taken on his being injured again.

TOMORROW'S LINEUPS

The lineups of the Newton and Somerville teams at Somerville tomorrow will probably be as follows:

Newton—McCullough, le; Littlefield, lt; Porter, lg; Andres, c; Stubbs, rg; Hapgood, rt; Ramsden or Hemeon, re; Gilligan (capt.) qb; Holbrook, rhb; Lyons, lhb; Proctor, fb.

Somerville—Hatchnore, re; McFarlan, rt; Corcoran, rg; Gergen, c; Talbot, lg; McGovern, lt; Johnson, le; Hanley, qb; Scully, lhb; Ewell, rhb; Wilson, fb.

FOOTBALL NIGHT

A football night was held Monday evening in the Newton Club by the Newton Athletic Association. Nearly two hundred members, friends and guests enjoyed an entertaining program presented by the entertainment committee of which Mr. George Owen, Sr., is the chairman. The chief attraction was the showing of the slow motion pictures of the Harvard-Yale football game of 1922 in which George Owen, Jr., who explained the plays in detail, took a prominent part. In this game his 62-yard run led to Harvard's touchdown. The entire football squad of the Newton high school were guests of the association and they enjoyed the program throughout.

Mayor Childs, a member of the asso- the results of athletic development of ciation, addressed the gathering upon the body and mind in connection with intellectual and spiritual development. He said that too great attention to books would develop a snob, exclusive development of the spiritual character would develop a bigot and that too much stress on physical activities would develop a beast. He congratulated the association on its work in the past two years and its aims for the future and paid a great tribute to Coach Allie Dickinson. A football coach he stated is not always regarded with much importance but when one realizes that a coach is year after year teaching the youth of today to think clearly, hear the first time, act immediately, and team with others in a genuinely social spirit that he is forming the character of the future citizens of the country. There are none better than Allie Dickinson.

Clarence V. Moore, chairman of the track committee, outlined the important things to notice in the Harvard-Yale-Oxford-Cambridge track meet of last July, moving pictures of which were shown. At a business session of the association held prior to the entertainment, Mr. Moore said that the committee had purchased a bronze cup for the winner of the freshman-sophomore outdoor fall track meet, and three cups for winners in the pentathlon events. These meets will be held next month on the Y. M. C. A. track.

During the evening David Grant, at the piano and Robert Woodworth, on the banjo mandolin, entertained with musical numbers.

George Owen, Sr., called upon a number of the athletes of other days to stand so that the younger generation could see the athletes they have heard so much about. Among those present were George Owen, Jr., Mike Gulian, Peg Wood, Herbert Garrity, Willard Rice,, Frank Dorney, Alphonse LaCroix, "Polly" Harris, Chris Vachon, Edgar Burkhardt, Clark Macomber, Jake Stafford, John Kellar and Edmund MacDonald.

COUNTRY DAY LOSES

Hackley School of Tarrytown, N. Y., outplayed Country Day School on the local field last Saturday and won the annual football game 25-7. Country Day scored their only touchdown in the first few minutes of play after Ken Kerns' long run to the 35-yard line. Crosby Greene scored the touchdown.

Bockwinkle of Hackley broke loose in the second period and scored on a pass from Purvis. He repeated the play in the third quarter. Inslee, Hackley fullback, intercepted a Country Day pass for another touchdown. Gage tallied the final score in the final period.

MAKES 104-YARD RUN

With one minute to play in a game between the Newton high school freshmen an dthe Milton academy freshman teams, Wednesday afternoon at Claffin field, Captain Pearson of the local team standing behind his goal line took a pass from his center on the 1-yard line and ran 104 yards through the entire opposing eleven for a touchdown. The Newton yearlings defeated Milton 20-7.

COME AND SEE

It was in 1913 that the writer witnessed what he has always remembered as the greatest tragedy he has ever seen. It was at Salonica just after the Balkan allies had wrested Macedonia from the Turks and then had fought over the partition of it among themselves. The inhabitants, Turks, Bulgars, and Greeks, had been guaranteed the right of residence and protection to life and property, but had found neither in the face of the age old hatreds which the war had intensified. There they were, huddled on the dock at Salonica, the clearing house for the whole movement. The dress of many suggested former affluence, but they were now destitute save for the few articles they carried with them. A steamer would come in from Anatolia discharging its cargo of fugitive Greeks and the Turks would crowd on board. They didn't have cabins or steamer chairs. They crowded on to the decks precisely as we have seen cattle packed in a cattle car, until the steamer sank low in the water under its sheer weight of human cargo. Then a ship would come in from Athens and the Greeks would repeat the operation. They were going, not to relatives or friends or homes or jobs, but to places where religious and race hatreds would not threaten their lives. How many thousands went on this pitiless trek we shall never know. They burdened the hospitality of little Greece to the breaking point before they were absorbed."

It was only a beginning of the vast migration that was to come a decade later under far different conditions. This time it is official and compulsory. A million and a half of Greeks have had to go, whether or no, abandoning their property. Moreover they are now limited to Greece, for no other nation will receive them. Meanwhile, little Greece whose rocky soil has never produced much except great men, has wasted hr substanc on foolish adventures and has little but sympathy to give them. Something, too, of this tragedy the writer has witnessed. A case for charity? Good heavens! If Newton saw it there wouldn't be a Christmas bank in Newton that wouldn't be empty before nightfall.

But it isn't primarily a case for charity, for the situation is permanent and charity is never a permanent solution. American philanthropy has wisely recognized this fact and promptly set itself the task of creating productive industries by which these people can earn a living, by which they can create, not pretexts for charity, but articles of worth and taste which are in genuine commercial demand.

What can such people make.—largely women and children and often gentle folk not bred to industry,—that could supply a legitimate American want? Mrs. H. H. Powers invites you to come and see at her home, 82 Church street, Newton, on Saturday, November 14, between the hours of ten to six.

CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA

Mr. William J. Cozens, a former resident of Newton Highlands, and for the past two years making his home at Hollywood, Florida, has written friends here regarding condtions in Florida and from which we quote the following:—

"It may surprise you when I tell you that there are scores of people coming into Florida from all parts of the country each week, who do not have a cent of money left before they reach their destination, as they did not calculate it would take so long or cost so much to get here.

"I get this information from gasoline stations in Central Florida where I am told that scarcely a day passes but what some family traveling south in their automobile ask the gasoline salesman if he will not accommodate them by giving them gasoline in exchange for some article that they have in their automobile, as they have no money left. Many have an idea if they can only get to Florida that they will become rich almost over night without any effort on their part, and so they scramble to get here."

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN

At a recent address in Boston, Rear Admiral F. G. Billard, Commandant U. S. Coast Guard, gave some facts and figures regarding the rum fleet off the coast of New England which should have been heard by every American citizen. The following paragraph gives an idea of what the Admiral stressed.

"It seems to me, my friends, that in all the discussion about the laws of this country against intoxicating liquor there is no situation more calculated to stir the indignation of every red-blooded, patriotic American citizen than the presence off our coasts of foreign vessels, manned by foreigners financed by foreigners in partnership with disreputable and traitorous Americans, hovering there for the express and well known purpose of flaunting the dignity and power of this, the greatest nation in the world. Whether a man is an advocate of national prohibition or not, does he wish to see vessels flying foreign flags, and protected through their registration under foreign governments, hovering off our coasts, that no foreign ship in time of war would dare approach, for the specific purpose of importing liquor into this country, in violation of the American Constitution?"

"If any of you this winter should come into possession of a bottle of genuine imported liquor that has been run through the coast guard blockade, and, believe me, your chances of getting such are slim indeed, as you sit within your steam heated home on shore, let your mind run, for a moment on the hardships, the cold, the gales of wind, the danger, that officers and sailor boys of an old historic corps of your government are enduring in carrying out their duty, and then gloat over your illegal possession of the liquor if you can."

DEATH OF MRS. RETAN

Mrs. Iretta H. Retan, wife of Fred S. Retan, New England manager of the Home Life Insurance Co. of New York, died suddenly October 22, 1925. She was born at Chilson, Michigan, the daughter of Nathan C. and Elizabeth (Bennett) Hight. She was a member of the class of 1890 Oberlin College, Ohio, and was chosen by the college as a teacher for the Kamehammeha School at Honolulu, and held the position for several years. She was intensely interested in missionary work.

She married Mr. Retan at Salt Lake City, Utah, August 4, 1892. He survives her, together with their three children, Mrs. Gregory (Vera M.) Bartevian, and Lucile L. and Emma Elizabeth Retan.

She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, former President of the Oberlin Alumni Association, and a member of the Second Church in West Newton. Services were held at her late residence, 29 Forest avenue, West Newton, Sunday afternoon, October 25th, at three o'clock. Rev. J. Edgar Park officiated. The bearers were Mr. Charles Swain Thomas, West Newton; Dr. Thomas N. Carver and Mr. R. D. H. Emerson, Cambridge; Dr. H. H. Powers, Newton, the Rev. Dr. John M. Barker, Newton Centre, and Dr. Stephen K. Patten, Brookline.

NEWTONVILLE WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Association of Central Church will meet on Wednesday, November 4th. There will be sewing and surgical dressing at 10 A. M.

Luncheon at 12.30. Mrs. Norman Southworth is chairman of the luncheon and Mrs. LeRoy W. Leland, chairman of the serving committee.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Rev. William W. Leete, D. D., Secretary of the Church Building Society.

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton. Player's Hall, Washington street, West Newton. Sunday service, 10.45 A. M. Subject of lesson-sermon: "Everlasting Punishment." Sunday School 10.45 A. M. Testimonial meeting, Wednesday, 8 P. M.

Y. M. C. A.

The first meeting of the Fellowship Club will be held Monday evening, November 2nd. The speaker will be John C. Brimblecom who will speak on the topic, "Twelve Days on a Battleship." Mr. Brimblecom had the pleasure of sailing on one of Uncle Sam's battleships from San Francisco to Honolulu to witness manouvers in Hawaii. Any man who is interested is invited to attend the meeting of the Fellowship Club. Supper is at 6.30 and the talk will begin at seven o'clock.

The Board of Directors will meet Tuesday, November 3rd at eight o'clock in the Director's room at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

The Finance Committee have issued a very attractive bulletin depicting the work of the boys' division. They are asking for $12,000, the same amount that was raised last year in subscriptions to balance the budget. The Association is 78 per cent self supporting. The Committee hopes for a generous response from the citizens of Newton.

The Senior class 1000 Point Athletic Contest starts Thursday evening, November 5th, with the twenty yard dash which will be followed by one track or field event a week, until the contest of twenty events is completed. The events will be conducted on Thursday evenings, following the regular senior class program of calisthenics and games. Individual awards will be made.

Leagues in the boys' classes start next week to run through November and December. The High School and Junior B classes will have a basket ball league and the Preps and Junior A a game league.

PRIZE FOR BOOK REVIEW

Authors do not always welcome adverse criticism; but the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research is willing to pay for it. The new Pollak book, "Profits," presents a far-reaching criticism of the existing economic order, and arrives as rather startling conclusions. As the authors wins to build on whatever is sound in this book, they are eager to find out, as soon as possible, the worst that can be said against their theories. Toward this end a prize of five thousand dollars is offered for the best adverse criticism of the book which is submitted to the Pollak Foundation, Newton 58, Massachusetts, before January 1, 1927. No one need buy the book in order to enter the contest, since the book may be examined in public libraries.

The authors are ,William Trufant Foster, formerly President of Reed College, and Waddill Catchings, formerly President of the Central Foundry Company and of the Sloss Sheffield Steel and Iron Company, and now a member of Goldman, Sachs and Company, and a director of numerous industrial corporations.

The judges are Owen D. Young, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the General Electric Company; Allyn A. Young, of Harvard University, President of the American Economic Association, and Wesley C. Mitchell, of Columbia University, former President of the American Economic Association.

REAL ESTATE

An artistic single house of seven rooms; two-car garage, and 9,000 square feet of land, located at 21 Westbourne road, Newton Centre, has been transferred from R. A. Carleton to Mrs. L. S. O. Baxter. The property is valued at $15,000.

Alvord Bros. report that they have sold for John F. Griffin Co. a single frame house at 20 Burr road, Newton Centre, to Mrs. H. T. Burbank. This home is of the Jacobian type and is one of the finest appointed small houses in Newton. It is understood that the new owner will tour Europe this winter and will lease the home for an extended period. The valuation is about $19,000.

A new six room home located at 57 Daniel road, Newton Centre, has been sold by George H. McCandless for Miss G. J. Hill through the office of Alvord Bros. Mr. and Mrs. McCandless will occupy as a home. The property is valued at $15,000.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY E. BUSHNELL

General

Some one has wisely stated: "The world will not cease from lack of wonders—but from lack of wonder!" Especially must that be true in the fall of the year, when every one is deeply engrossed in "getting back" into their year's work and have little time to notice with more than a passing conventional remark, the marvelous changes taking place all about. It is something to be tragically admitted that "mere movies" which ought at best be no more than a rainy day diversion are more enchanting than all the glories of the fall; that brilliancy of autumn foliage and the flying of thousands of birds together across the sky on their mysterious pilgrimage to warmer climes should mean little more to us than the coming of winter! We lack the power to wonder! Would that we need not have to accept the accusation! Perhaps some unpractical person will one day find a place in the school curriculum for teaching this valuable art.

It is expected that the report of the School Board and the committee of the Board of Aldermen will be completed this week, and ready for presentation at next Monday's meeting. The character of the recommendations is not known but it is well understood that the subject has been a part of the general transportation question, affecting the whole city and as such will be acted upon by the city Fathers. It can be definitely stated that whatever the outcome the city will continue to provide busses to convey pupils from the Oak Hill district to Newton Centre. Furthermore, provision has been made for the use of busses between the Charlemont district of Newton Upper Falls and Newton Highlands. These latter busses will be available only in the most severe weather and will not run continuously.

The F. A. Day Junior High School

The Science Club under the direction of Miss Williams was in charge of the assembly program Wednesday morning. Horton Allen as chairman announced "The Trial of Fire," a court scene with Patsy Lochiatto, Kerosene; Roy Copp, Cigarette; Edgar McGary, Match; Gladys Boudreau, Electricity; David Mendilovitch, Rubbish; Briscoe Chipman, Gas; John Esmond, Chimney; Ruth Dunn, Gasoline; Jack Dillworth, Lightning; Arthur Nichols, Bonfire; Babette Shafer, Spontaneous Combusion; John Hessian, Carelessness; Arthur Sisson, Judge; Garnet Sharpe, Prosecuting Attorney; Norman Beebe, Counsel for Defendants; Jack Morris, Clerk.

These characters each appeared in costumes designed by Miss Hinckley. The other members of the club acted as jurymen.

Mr. Carr stressed the importance of our new library, the privilege of individual help after two o'clock and school citizenship.

Lasell Seminary

Dean L. R. Potter spoke before the Federation of the Clubs of the Congregational Church in Leominster, Massachusetts, on Wednesday, October 21. Her subject was "A Sermon to Saints."

A group of nearly one hundred girls enjoyed a bus trip along the south shore on Monday, visiting historic places in and around Salem and Marblehead.

The usual Hallowe'en party will be held in the Gardner Gymnasium on Saturday evening.

Rev. George H. Phillips of Malden, Massachusetts, will be the speaker at the Vesper Service on Sunday afternoon at 4.15.

Mason School

The Junior Safety Council held a meeting on Monday at 3.30 in the library.

The following squads were chosen; helpers at the Rice School, at the crossing at Centre street, in the basements, in front of, and on the triangle at the Mason.

Two fine new rugs appeared in Mr. Paul's office this week, adding greatly to the appearance of the room. The Axminsters were the gift of the Newton Centre School Association, a body most deserving of generous support.

Generous support of the Newton Centre parents is shown by the fact that the Association now numbers 700.

The Junior Football team of the Mason played the Four Square team and won, 7—0.

On Thursday the Mason team played the Bigelow. The score will be given next week.

The eighth grade after holding the preliminaries made their ballots and voted for class officers. The result was that Philip Giddings was chosen president, Fred Purdy, vice president, Helen Brooks, secretary, and Beatrice Ridgway, treasurer.

Hyde School

The Hyde Health Class under the direction of Miss Sampson, started on Thursday afternoon, October eighth with a membership of 25.

An English Club has been organized in each of the eighth grade divisions, and some interesting programs have been presented.

A group of children will attend the Symphony concert on Tuesday afternoon, November 10.

Miss Flanders and Miss Douglas recently entertained the teachers with pictures and a very interesting resumé of their trip abroad this summer.

The recent physical examinations were carried on very successfully. Both parents and teachers cooperated in a most helpful manner.

The Hyde football team with Maurice Sullivan as captain and Anthony Ciccone as manager have won all their contests thus far.

The attendance has been unusually fine this fall. Last month the two eighth grades had an average of over 99 per cent, and several of the rooms including the kindergarten had no tardy marks.

At the recent class election the following officers were chosen for the class of 1925: President, Catherine Thompson; Vice President, Warren Dillaway; Secretary, Winthrop Lewis; Treasurer, Janet Ryther.

Rice School—Kindergarten

A Hallowe'en Party was held Thursday morning at 10.30. Songs and games, appropriate to the season were enjoyed. All the favors and the crown were made by the children themselves. The room was decorated with crepe paper and pumpkin lanterns of all sizes were lighted in the darkened room.

Stearns School

Miss Pauline Yetten, who has been the social worker at the Stearns School Center, is leaving the first of November. The teachers regret very much this loss. She has done splendid, efficient work among the families and in the Clubs. Her going is a great loss to the district.

Mrs. Ada Goddard, who has been very ill with erysipelas, is reported much better and hopes to return to school next Monday.

BOY SCOUTS

Troop 4, Newton Highlands, had their first overnight hike of the fall to their cabin in the Ohio Saturday in charge of Mr. Raymond Collins, A. S. M. They report a fine time as usual.

A Parents' Night and special meeting was held by troop 5 of Newton Centre Saturday evening at the Episcopal Church. Moving pictures of the troops activities were shown and there were several short talks by the officers and members of the troop committee after which the scouts gave some demonstrations of scout work. As a result of this meeting there will soon be a "Dad's" meeting to discuss the question of scouting in Newton Centre.

The installation of the first Seascout "Ship" will be held at the Veteran Firemen's building on Watertown street, West Newton at 7.30 P. M. Nov. 6th. The ceremony will be under the direction of Mr. Richard Brown, Portmaster.

A scoutmaster's meeting and dinner will be held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, the 4th of November. Every scoutmaster, Assistant, prospective scoutmaster, Deputy Commissioner and assistant, as well as interested seventeen year old boys are expected. The dinner will commence at 6.30 and will be a "Dutch treat" costing around seventy-five cents.

The Court of Honor Friday evening of this week will be held in conjunction with the meeting of troop 11, Newton, at the Newton Y. M. C. A. In addition to the award of badges and examinations there will be moving pictures shown of scouting activities.

Mr. Frank E. Lichtenthaeler, Scoutmaster of troop 4, Charles Parker, Eagle Scout of this troop, and Mr. Carley, the Scout Executive, spent a very pleasant week-end at Mt. Monadnock in spite of the snow and rain, going up Saturday morning and camping part way up the mountain that night. The ride back was a very wet one but all enjoyed the trip and suffered no ill effects.

GANLEY—BOISCLAIR

A wedding of much interest to the people of Newton took place on Sunday afternoon, October 18th, 1925, at four o'clock, at the church of St. John the Evangelist, Newton, when Mr. Robert J. Ganley of West Newton was united in marriage to Miss Alice E. Boisclair of Newton. Miss Boisclair was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha Boisclair, and Mr. James Ganley, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. John Wolffe and Mr. John Considine were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at the N. A. A. Club. Dancing selections were given by Miss Daisy Bernier of Newton and Miss Muriel Sullivan of Somerville, assisted by Miss Peggy Bernier of New York.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire and Maine Mr. and Mrs. Ganley will reside in Newton. Both are very popular among the younger set of the Garden City.

RECEPTION

An informal reception to Rev. Charles H. Cutler and Mrs. Cutler was given by the members of the Union Church, Waban, on Wednesday evening, from eight to ten o'clock.

The rooms of the Neighborhood Club were attractively decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and fruits.

There was music during the reception by the Girls' Trio and Rev. J. Edgar Park, D. D., of West Newton paid a fitting tribute to Dr. Cutler and his splendid work during the thirteen years of his pastorate at the Union Church. Mrs. Wellington Rindge and Mrs. Frank L. Miller were the hostesses at the tea table.

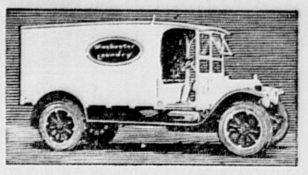

POLICE COURT

Persisting in the prosecution of violators of the traffic rules in Nonantum Square, the officers in that section had 15 drivers in Court Saturday morning, charged with driving the wrong way on one-way streets. None of the drivers was a Newton resident. Despite the equipment in the square, such as flashing signals and sidewalk signs, people driving through the city have great difficulty in circling the square without running afoul of some one of the many rules governing traffic at this point. Residents of the city have become accustomed to the "merry-go-round" detour, but transients never will be able to get through, according to traffic experts, until the street railway terminal is removed from the center of the square.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN TEXTILES?

The department of research of the Laundry-owners' National Association has prepared a booklet, "The Selection and Conservation of Textiles," that is so well written and illustrated as to be both interesting and instructive.

To individuals, women's clubs, classes in home economics, high schools or elsewhere, that could use these booklets, we will send the desired number with our compliments, if requests for them are sent to Sales Manager R. C. Wallace at Winchester, Mass.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

New members are still being received at the rehearsals, held each Tuesday evening at Central Church, for the concert to be given in December. The following singers have joined in the three meetings already held: Harry A. Kimball, Dr. L. A. Russell, Miss Ethel Rose, Miss Helen Rose, Miss Harriett R. Edmonds, Miss Helen Van Buskirk, of Newton; Dr. W. L. Keene, H. G. Barclay, Miss Rebecca Jeffords, Mrs. A. V. Lally, Mr. Stuart M. Hill, Miss Charlotte Vuilleumier, Mrs. T. L. Fecke, of Newtonville; Miss Inez Moulton, Mrs. M. L. Perkins, Miss Jessie M. Downing, R. C. Larcom, Albert S. Coupe, Miss Eva Bearisto, Miss Gertrude M. Hasty, of West Newton; Miss Maud Wilson, Mrs. Fred A. Raymond, Miss Florence M. Orrill, of Newton Centre; Miss Helen Dowd, Miss Irene F. Hoyt, Miss Ella A. Brown, Mr. Raymond A. Duplisea, of Waltham; Miss Florence L. Roy, Miss Minnie M. Miller, Miss Doris B. Laird, of Watertown; Miss Evelyn M. Burdick, Mrs. Ruth Ellen Lewis, Miss Mina Hicks, of Newton Highlands; and Miss Lillian C. Thain, of Boston.

NEWTON SPORTS

outplayed the same team at Milton for a 14-0 win. Milton had the ball on the Newton 30-yard stripe and attempted a field goal which fell short. Capt. Pearson of the local team caught the ball on his 5-yard line and ran 95 yards for the first score. He also kicked the goal. Fowler scored the other touchdown for the orange and black yearlings in the final period. Another feature of the game was a 40 yard end run by Nally.

WINS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Charles Parker, N. H. S., '27, defeated his classmate, Edgar Warren, 6-0, 6-3, 6-0 in the final match of the Boys' Singles tennis tournament at the high school last week. In spite of the one-sidedness of the score the match was very close, as nearly every game went to deuce. All the games were hotly contested. The second set was the best of the three. The score went to 3 all, each man winning his own serve, and then Parker played brilliantly to take the next three giving him the set. Bob Turner, one of Newton's stellar players, did a splendid job as referee.

—o—

While the presses were turning out the Graphic of last week containing a mild criticism of the manner in which the city was being conducted by Mayor Childs, President Thomas W. White, a member of the board of aldermen for the past four years and a close political and personal friend of Mayor Childs was scoring the administration of Mr. Childs in a most effective and convincing manner. We are pleased, of course, to have Mr. White so thoroughly and emphatically endorse the views we have been expressing for Lo these many years and it is one more straw which indicates that even the great personal popularity of Mayor Childs may not be sufficient to carry him through another election.

—o—

While we dislike the present preferential voting system in our city elections, we believe it would have been a great blessing if it was in force in the city of Boston. If you want a second or third voice vote from the average man it stands to reason that you wouldn't vilify the candidate whom he favors for his first choice.

—o—

We commend the attention of our readers to the extracts from the recent address of Rear Admiral Billard on the work being done by the Coast Corps against the Rum Fleet, with particular emphasis on the concluding paragraph of that article.

—o—

We are glad to note that the word "obey" is to be stricken from the marriage service of the Episcopal Church. It has long been an anachronism.

WHY THE "WE"?

"Pa," said a newspaper man's son, "I know why editors call themselves 'we.'"

"Why?"

"So's the man that doesn't like the article will think there are too many for him to lick." — Midwest Printer and Publisher.

UNQUESTIONABLY, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, the noted Brooklyn pastor, is one of the two or three greatest living preachers whose influence in the world of Theology reaches clear out over America and other English-speaking countries. He wi lecture here in the near future, and local people will have an opportunity of hearing one of the foremost churchmen of the age.

GIRL SCOUTS

Newton Upper Falls heads the "Honor Roll" in the Newton Girl Scout Headquarters as being the first village to send in its full quota to the Newton budget. This is the second time that Troop VII has headed the list. Each one of our eight Troop Committees has been asked to raise a definite quota towards the full amount needed to carry on the Girl Scout work here in Newton and the citizens of each village have been asked to help maintain this splendid organization. Every Troop wishes to appear on the Honor Roll.

COOKY DAY is coming. Those who have had the Girl Scout cookies will hail it with delight. Saturday, November 7, is the day when all Newton will see the Ghil Scouts baking. Each village will have a "Cooky" Headquarters. Look in next week's Graphic to find your local sale and get there early before the "Sold Out" sign goes up.

The operetta, "The Forest Court," given by the West Newton Girl Scouts, Troops V and XV for the Memorial Library Fund proved a great success. One hundred and fifty dollars was cleared and the girls are so glad to be able to contribute this towards the Memorial. All those who saw the performance were delighted with it and very enthusiastic and many requests to have it repeated have already been received. All the parts were well played, and the costumes were very effective and the dancing especially pretty and well done. Mrs. Richard Cooley originated the dances and trained the girls. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield played the piano and helped train the girls in their songs. The success of the performance was largely due to her work and the time which she and Mrs. F. W. Allen, who assisted her, put in it. Mrs. Thomas Weston played the violin and Mr. Frederic Rice the drums. Mrs. Philip Dunbar has charge of the staging with Miss Olive Webster to assist her. After the play the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps played. This was the first appearance of the Corps this season and they played particularly well. The performance closed with Scout songs sung by Troops V and XV and Taps played by Miss Elizabeth Plimpton, sergeant bugler of the Corps.

The cast included:—Mary Rich, Mary Alice Eaton, Elizabeth Kershaw, Helen Crosby, Lydia Albree, Elizabeth Gordon, Betty Rogers, Priscilla Bacon, Marguerite Brandt, Elaine Wainwright, Eleanor Sheafe, Miriam Hayes, Georga Walther, Charlotte Stearns, Julia Harvey, Helen Brandt, Jeanne Macomber, Eleanor Weston, Mary Jane Diefendorf, Elizabeth Hartridge, Jane Gilman, Marguerite Fuller, Myra Reid, Julia Bacon, Anne Rae, Helen Rae, Elizabeth Rogers, Mary Kibbe, Lois Cate, Alice Jenks, Barbara Smith, Jeanne Bachrach, Eleanor Kent, Barbara Lester, Katherine Allen, Ruth Williams, Kathlene Andrews, Nancy Mandell, Eleanor Bingham, Jeanne Wolley, Elsa Brandt, Alice Batson, Virginia Blunt, Mary Zeigler, Priscilla Ballou, Barbara Eaton, Frances Place, Beatrice Park, Janette Ramee, Clarice Wentzel, Lucy Ogden, Priscilla Guimont, Shirley Eddy, Barbara Jack, Eloise Andrews, Eleanor Clough, Eleanor Hartel, Ruth Houghton, Elizabeth Brooks, Eleanor Jack, Elizabeth Kilburn, Agnes Eaton, Venila Colson, Mina Bosworth, Doris Benson, Eleanor Beaurto, Frances Hayes, Barbara Livermore, Barbara Lippincott, Constance Upham, Ruth Chase, and Alice Jack.

THE K. B. B.

The K. B. B. of Newtonville on Saturday vening, November 14, will present at St. John's Parish House on the corner of Otis street and Lowell avenue, a play, "Misfit Cinderella" in three acts under the personal direction of Estelle G. Marsh. The cast, the famous K. B. B. players, is: Marjorie Bolster, Marjorie Chapman, Elizabeth Clarke, Virginia Hayes, Katharine Nixon, Addra Saunders, and Marjorie Trowbridge. We quote Miss Marsh, "Owing to the popularity of the players, a large crowd is anticipated." The music is by Miss Mary Pucciarelli, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. A. D. Quimby at the piano. In addition, a movie will be presented entitled, "Just the Thing." The chairmen of the various committees are: Eleanor Mildram, Posters; Virginia Rogers, Candy; Marjorie Bolster, assisted by Nancy W. Meehan, Publicity; Mary Olcott, Programs; and Henrietta Kraber.

DR. CADMAN COMING

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, inspired preacher, and one of the prophets of his age, is coming to the Eliot Congregational Church, Centre and Church streets, Newton, Tuesday evening, November 10th, 8 P. M., to deliver a lecture—"The Mission of the Republic," under the auspices of the Eliot Men's Club. This is considered his greatest subject, and the lecture is open to the public, both men and women.

Newton is indeed fortunate and the local committee is to be congratulated upon securing Dr. Cadman, as he gives but a limited time to platform work on account of the many pressing demands of his large parish.

This is a community event of the season and one which the people of Newton cannot afford to miss.

The lecture will be preceded with organ selections by Mr. Everett E. Truette and a group of songs by Mr. J. Garfield Stone, tenor.

You should secure your tickets early as they are going rapidly. No seats will be reserved—first come, first served.

Tickets can be procured from men of the church also at Perry's News Store, Hubbard's Drug Store, Newton, George A. Edmand's Drug Store, Newtonville, Newton Y. M. C. A., John A. McCarthy's Drug Store, West Newton, Philoon's Drug Store, Newton Centre, Hahn's Drug Store, Newton Center, Waterhouse's Drug Store, Newton Highlands.

KUMANBUY VILLAGE

At the Newton Baptist Church, on October 22nd and 23rd there was a most attractive and well patronized fair.

Buysom street, Seemor avenue, and Wayside terrace were lined with shops where one could purchase all sorts of merchandise.

The Lilac Shop with its decoration in orchid shades had fancy articles and was in charge of Mrs. F. H. Drisko and Mrs. W. A. Somerby. "Ye Apron Shop" with its latticed gateway and yellow and white coloring was where Mrs. E. A. McCassey and Mrs W. F. Ells had aprons of every kind and size. "Wonderland," a corner of mystery, was devoted to the sale of mystery packages, and Mrs. H. L. Sylvester and Mrs. Wm. Robart in their Hallowe'en costumes were kept busy during the entire sale. "Do dropin" tea room and gift shop was in charge of Mrs. C. W. McCaul and Mrs. C. L. Cotton. Here one could purchase flowers and Christmas cards or sip the delicious tea which was served in this shop.

Mrs J. W. Blaisdell, Mrs. C. W. Bradley, Mrs. Leslie H. Naylor and Mrs. Walter C. Wrye were in "Hungerland." All kinds of home cooked foods, canned goods, jellies and pantry articles were sold here and also waffles and maple syrup.

There was a "Black Cat Shop" and here were found holders, handkerchiefs and bags, and Mrs. George E. Rawson was in charge.

"Candyland" occupied the centre of the village and Miss Gertrude Gower and Miss Bertha Moore sold "sweets to the sweet".

Friday evening "The Old Peabody Pew" by Kate Douglas Wiggin, was given before a large audience. The cast included Helen Achorn, Heloise Chase, Blanche Leacy, Doris Moore, Virginia Parsons, Madelin Somerby, and Anna Wry, Dorothy McCaul and Oscar Gustafson taking the parts of Nancy Wentworth and Justin Peabody.

Not only the ladies in charge of the shops but different groups of the church women contributed to this most successful fair and these women have spent many hours during the summer months in preparing articles for the sale.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending October 24: Patients in hospital 124, patients paying as much as cost or care or more 62, patients paying less than cost of care 32, free patients, including babies, 30, babies born 8, patients treated by out patient department 121, patients treated by eye clinic 12, accident cases 12, social service calls at hospital 8, at home 5, patients transferred by social service car 4.

Last week in the births at the hospital the boys led for of the eight babies born five were boys.

In the state of Massachusetts out of ninety two hospitals surveyed by the American College of Surgeons sixty-nine were given a place on the approved list and of this sixty-nine the Newton Hospital is one. To win a place on the approved list a hospital must fulfill the fundamental requirements for good service to the patient. It must have an efficient staff organization, adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities, trained personnel, complete case records and periodic check-up or medical audit of the clinical work of the hospital.

Dr. DeWitt Wilcox was in charge of the meeting of the Medical staff at the hospital last Monday evening.

SERGT. CHAISSON DEAD

Mr. William H. Chaisson, a sergeant in the Metropolitan Police force, died yesterday at his home on Evergreen avenue at the age of 54 years.

Mr. Chaisson was appointed to the force in 1901 and promoted to be a sergeant in 1910. He is survived by a widow and one son, Mr. Charles H. Chaisson.

Funeral services will be held from his late home tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and Rev. Earl E. Harper will officiate.

of women. When the Y. W. C. A. was started there, they enrolled 800 members before their first building was finished, and in 1922, the year following, had a thousand members.

Buying and cooking was long left to dirty old Indian women, even in refined families, because of their scorn of work. Since the World War, the young men of the aristocracy have awakened and banded together for service. They teach night schools for the workers, and go as educational missionaries. They are not yet interested in religion.

The United States owes much to the "A." "B." "C" nations.—Argentina, Brazil, and Chile, because they helped us keen the peace with Mexico when we were threatened with war.

There is no large, dependable, middle class in South America, but Argentina may develop such a class from valuable immigrants from northern Italy. There is nothing in other Latin American countries between the aristocracy and the very lowest class.

In Brazil, parents keep children out of school to shuck button nuts. In Colombia, illiteracy is very bad. One in a family of eight may be able to read. The Protestant missionary work has aroused the Catholics to a better type of work, to the need of welfare work and touching the real needs of the common people. The Catholic work, if well done, is often more valuable in its colorful appeal to the people.

Mrs. Powers brought a vivid picture of President Coolidge as Honorary Moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches in Washington. In his evening address he emphasized that government must rest on religion. She spoke of the address back on religion. She spoke of the address where law enforcement-prohibition was stressed—the necessity for church people and religious people to do our part of law enforcement.

Mrs. Powers reminded us of the story of the parent who said when his boy's foot grows, he must have new shoes. In the same way the American Board finds its work growing and the "old shoes" can't be patched enough to fit. In other words the doors are wide open, the missionary work has enlarged, but there is a deficit and no money.

Mrs. Powers said our ministers are such fine, able and witty men, that there wasn't a dull minute during the whole session. With the ten-minute speeches, each started with a word of wit and ended with a word of wisdom.

"Religion is a life to be lived, not something just to be taught."

"If you don't step up you're bound to fall down."

"The church is the back log of civilization."

BLUE TRIANGLE NEWS

The Mother and Daughter Banquet, which was scheduled to be held on October 23rd, will take place Friday evening, October 30th. A splendid program has been arranged and it is hoped that a good many mothers will find it possible to attend with their daughters.

The semi-annual Membership Meeting was held last Monday evening with an attendance of one hundred and ten. This was a fine showing, and we hope that many more will be able to visit our rooms and talk with Miss Leathers, Executive Secretary, or those at the desk, who will be glad to show them through our association rooms. There was a very short business meeting held, we heard the minutes of the Annual Membership Meeting held last April, and a nominating committee, to choose new officers, was elected. Following is this committee, the first three being chosen from the Board and the latter four from the membership at large:—Mrs. Walace M. Leonard, Jr. Miss Emma E. Walker, Miss Eugenia F. Bradshaw, Miss Harriette M. Hudson, Miss Alta Blakeley, Miss Martha O. Boothby, Mrs. Arthur Kendrick.

Miss Grace A. Smith of Watertown gave several readings and Miss Theima Peterson gave several selections on the piano. Miss Smith and Miss Peterson helped to make our evening a most enjoyable one and we feel very fortunate in being able to secure them. The Girl Reserves led us in singing "Follow the Gleam."

Next Monday, November 2nd, the Blue Triangle Club will have a Hallowe'en Party, following their supper at six thirty. Last week, October 26th, supper was served as usual, but no meeting followed on account of the Membership Meeting held that evening.

The Tuesday evening Gymnasium Class is in full swing now, and information regarding this can be secured by calling the office. As you probably know, we are trying to get together a good peppy basketball team, such as the one last year, so that we might challenge other teams. Last year our girls won every game played, with the exception of the one with the Cambridge Y. All those interested in joining with us in basketball please call Newton North 3447 for information. Do talk this up for there is no better sport for fun and health than basketball. Our enthusiasm for this is one hundred per cent—how about yours?

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Newton Lodge of Elks is making elaborate plans to observe its tenth anniversary next Wednesday evening. The entire fourteenth floor of the Boston Chamber of Commerce building has been reserved for the occasion. The program will include a banquet at 6.45 P. M. with entertainment features between the courses including special lighting effects and selections on the splendid organ.

At the dinner there will be four toasts, former Senator David I. Walsh, speaking for "Our Nation"; President of the Massachusetts Senate, Hon. Wellington Wells, for "Our State," Mayor Edwin O. Childs for "Our City" and Mr. James F. Malley, for "Our Order." The banquet will be followed by dancing with special features for those who do not care to dance.

RED CROSS FINANCES SHOW WIDE SERVICES

Past Year Cost $10,321,679.80; Duty to Ex-Service Men Paramount.

Washington.—The national and international services of the American Red Cross are portrayed graphically in a statement of the Red Cross finances for the past fiscal year ended June 30, 1925. Expenditures by the Red Cross (including both the National Organization and the Chapters) during this period aggregated $10,321,679.80.

The obligation of the American Red Cross to the ex-service and service men is represented in this sum by a total expenditure of $4,225,292.61. In the interests of disabled veterans, the Red Cross expended $3,577,916.42, of which $1,677,916.42 came from the National Organization, and $1,900,000 from the more than 3,000 Chapters and local branches of the society. Red Cross services to the men of the Regular Army and Navy the past year called for $647,376.19, of which the National Organization furnished $310,376.19, and the Chapters, $337,000.

Sharing in importance with this responsibility was the Red Cross work of disaster relief during the year. In these operations there was absorbed a total of $1,922,782.90 up to June 30, this year. This represented $1,622,782.90 of National Organization funds and $300,000 from the Chapters. Relief in foreign disasters amounted to $285,579.35. This sum was appropriated altogether by the National Organization.

Insular and foreign operations of the American Red Cross during the year included relief in foreign disasters, the League of Red Cross Societies, Junion Red Cross Foreign Projects, assistance to insular Chapters and similar functions. Besides its disaster relief, the National Organization financed these other branches of foreign work also, including $110,238.72 for assistance to insular chapters, $177,450 for the League of Red Cross Societies, $84,384.43 for Junior projects abroad, and $80,057.62 for other insular and foreign operations.

In addition to its paramount duty to assist veterans and other service men and their families, and its disaster relief, the Red Cross expended at home through its national and chapter funds, a total of $1,029,616.05 for its Public Health Nursing Service; $154,135.09 for nutrition instruction; $314,422.76 for First Aid and Life Saving; $445,707.34 for Junior Red Cross; $132,759.88 for instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; and carried on similarly important home duties. Included in the latter were such valuable services as the Enrolled Nurses' Reserve, for which the National Organization expended $45,562.64; while other national operations at home amounted to $302,957.64. The chapters, in addition to the large part they played in all Red Cross activity, spent $678,000 of their own funds on general chapter services.

The broad humanity of the American Red Cross can never be measured by the money it costs, but even in bare terms of dollars and cents, the scope of its work is indicated. A study of these facts also shows the necessity for the largest possible enrollment, since Red Cross service is maintained almost entirely by its membership. The annual invitation to participate in this work through membership in the American Red Cross, is extended from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving, November 26.

Red Cross First Aid Popular in America As Accidents Gain

The rapidly mounting toll from traffic accidents has brought home to the public the necessity of being prepared to render prompt assistance while awaiting the doctor. During the past year 356 chapters of the American Red Cross were instructing classes in First Aid, and in the same period certificates were issued to 26,601 persons qualified by Red Cross experts.

Many cities throughout the United States are showing interest in securing first aid instruction for their police and fire department personnel, and through the work of local chapters, practical results have been obtained in such cities as Washington, D. C.; Toledo, O.; Boston, Mass.; South Bend and Indianapolis, Ind.; Port Arthur, Texas, and other communities. In co-operation with the State authorities, intensive training in first aid and rescue methods has been given to State police and constabulary members at four State training schools.

Instruction in these subjects in public and private schools, colleges and universities has increased during the year. Attention has been given to training teachers at institutes and summer schools.

The Red Cross first aid railroad car has been in continuous operation throughout the year. It covered 10,340 miles, visiting 137 cities, where 1,200 meetings were conducted by the surgeons, with a total of 146,827 people.

Industries particularly have availed themselves of the instruction afforded by the Red Cross. The Western Electric Company, for example, reports a reduction of the accident rate per 1,000 employees.

PECULIAR INCIDENT

Mr. Jesse Guilford, the well-known golfer, had a new experience Saturday evening.

Mr. Guilford had left his sedan parked in front of his home at 24 Brookdale road, Newtonville, in the early evening. Desiring to use the car later on he found it had disappeared.

On the point of calling the police to report his loss his phone rang, and a friend living on Albemarle road, a short distance away, informed him that his car was out on the street making a terrible racket. Mr. Guilford picked a niblick out of his bag and ran over to Albemarle road. There was the car with the horn tooting for all it was worth. Not a soul could be seen within nor a sound heard except the horn.

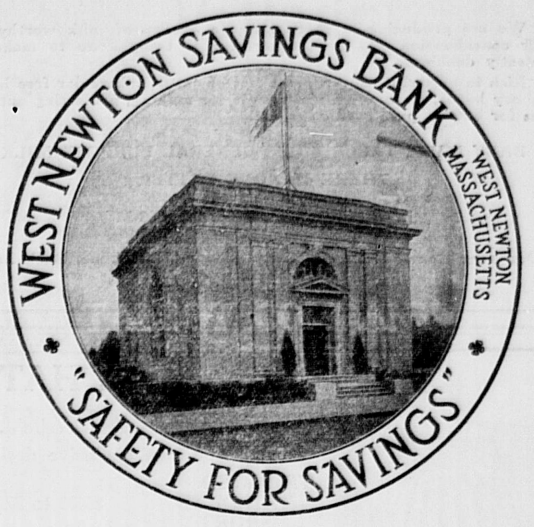

Then he realized why his car had been abandoned so suddenly. Mr. Guilford, who takes frequent long trips through New England, and, like many a motorist, knows the sensation of finding one's self out of gas in the country, had a little device installed on his tank. When the gas gets down to the three-gallon mark a horn starts to blow, warning the owner that it is time to fill up. The horn can be silenced with the touch of a button.

As luck would have it the gas in the car had just reached the point where the warning signal was due to sound. The thieves, not knowing the secret of the devise, thought it was a burglar alarm.

MISS FAIRBANKS MARRIED

Wednesday evening, October 28th, was the wedding day of Miss Dorothy Fairbanks of Boston, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Fairbanks, who, at the home in Belmont of her relative, Mr. John F. Davis, was married to Mr. Carl H. Baesler, a graduate of Harvard and the Harvard Law School. He is the son of Mrs. Maria M. Baesler and the late Carl B. Baesler. Only members of the two families were present at the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Stanley Speare of Roxbury. Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Baesler will live in Belmont where they will receive their friends after January 1, 1926.

Mrs. Baesler is soprano soloist of First Church of Christ Scientist, Newton.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Murdo McKay of 261 Nahanton street, Newton Centre drove across the Oak street railroad crossing into the path of a train Tuesday evening shortly before seven. The train struck the auto and damaged it badly. McKay, who did not stop when the signalman at the crossing waved his red lantern, received a slight cut on his nose and was treated by Dr. Hoey. Miss Fanny Anzivino, who was riding with McKay, was not hurt.

Monday evening John A. Davis of Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, drove his Essex coach into a tree on Commonwealth avenue near Exeter street, West Newton. The auto turned over and Davis received three crushed fingers on his left hand. Miss Phyllis Alden, of Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, pulled Davis from the auto. Mr. Stephen Frengos drove the injured man to the office of Dr. Godfrey who removed him to the hospital. The auto was badly damaged.

A collision between two automobiles owned and operated by Elizabeth M. Hart of Boston and Raymond D. Vought of Peekskill N. Y., at the corner of Walnut street and Commonwealth avenue, Newtonville, took place Monday, shortly after eleven. Both cars were badly damaged. Vought received cuts and lacerations which necessitated his removal to the hospital. The other occupants of his car, Mrs. Vought and Mrs. William B. Richmond of Newtonville, received slight cuts from the broken glass.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The bowling team lost three strings Wednesday evening in the Newton Bowling League to Commercial. Paul with 213 had the best string for the local team.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

State Federation

Happy the club that has a Music Chairman! For there comes this promising invitation from the State Federation Music Chairman, Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, couched in words that bid fair for a meeting in which humor may combine with profitable hints. "Chairmen of Music in each Federated Club are invited to this conference, and each Chairman may bring a guest, her problems, questions, suggestions, and her enthusiasm." The foyer of the Copley Plaza is the place of meeting for the conference, and the date and hour are Friday, November 6th, at 10 A. M.

The program will open by a talk on music by Mrs. Charles H. Bond of Boston, followed by a discussion of the Music Memory Contest, and making plans for Massachusetts to be represented in the National Contest.

An attractive presentation by several admired artists is scheduled in a program entitled "Vision and Color in Music" by Mrs. Mina G. del Castillo, piano; Naomi Hewitt, 'cello; Francis Aldrich, interpretive dancer, and May Fiske Hoffman, soprano, who will also speak on Music. Besides this fascinating sample of possibilities and joys in Music, the Montfort Trio, including Naomi Hewitt, 'cellist; E. Eileen Doherty, pianist; and Harold Crumrino, flutist, will entertain.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

There were many announcements from the Chairmen of Standing Committees and of classes at the meeting held on October 22nd. Mrs. Roger S. Hodges reported that the Community Service Committee is ready to serve the members of the Club in such matters as lights for dark streets, or mitigating the evil of unsightly billboards. She also urged the new members to register for the coming election.

The classes were again brought to the attention of the members. Miss Dorothy L. Simpson announced that the French Class will begin on Thursday, November 5th.

Mrs. Thomas H. Calhoun spoke of the Fashion Tea at Filene's on November 12th. Tea will be served at three and the lecture will start promptly at four o'clock.

Mrs. William W. Colton gave the dates of the Fashion Class, a series of lectures on Color and Line, beginning on November 16th and continuing through January.

Mrs. Dexter B. Hill is taking the names of those interested in the Child Problem Class which is to be given February.

Mrs. William A. Parks announced that both the Rug-making Class and the Class in Furniture Painting and the Refinishing of Antiques will be given in January. Mrs. Chester C. Smith had samples of luster painting, such as will be made by the Class in China Painting which will begin on Tuesday, October 27th. There will be six lessons with Miss Cora Carter as teacher.

Mrs. R. Leroy Schell announced a Choral Class with the Rev. Earl E. Harper of Auburndale as leader. This will meet on Monday afternoons at the Eliot Church Chapel beginning on November 9th.

Mrs. Clarence C. Smith told of the many interesting things that the Public Health Committee is planning for the year. There will be hikes, both short and long, swimming in the Brookline Swimming Tank; English country dancing; horseback riding at Oak Hill; golf at Wayland, and a class in posture and weight normalizing. Members interested in any or all of these subjects should communicate with Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge of the Conservation Committee spoke of the danger of forest fires, and again reminded the members to feed the Winter birds.

Mrs. Leslie O. Cummings of the Education Committee urged all members to be present at the Education meeting on November 12th, at eight o'clock at the Underwood School Hall. Professor Paul H. Hanus will speak, the Newton High School orchestra will play, and the children from the Bigelow School will give folk dancing. This meeting is open to the public.

Mrs. Ralph C. Henry announced the Bridge Party for the Philanthropic Fund, at the Hunnewell Club parlors on the afternoon of November 20th.

A recommendation from the Executive Board, that the Philanthropic Fund include the Scholarship Fund, was read and accepted. This concluded the business for the afternoon.

Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, accompanied by Mrs. George Owen, played two selections on the violin. The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Helen Talboy, told of the World Court in a most interesting way.

Mrs. Goldwin S. Sprague, Mrs. Nathan Heard, Mrs. W. R. Brewster, and Mrs. Marion W. H. Spurrier were in the receiving line.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, took place Friday, October 23rd, in Players' Small Hall. After a short business meeting Mrs. Amelia Frantz feelingly rendered "Luiugi Dae Caro Bene" by Secchi, and "Dawn," by Curran. The audience was so appreciative of her singing, she generously favored it with an encore.

An instructive outline of the "Affairs of the City of Newton" was given by Hon. Thomas W. White, a full account of which will be found in another column of the Graphic.

The program closed with two songs by Mrs. Frantz: "The Time to Smile" by Bohanan, and "My Task," by Ashford.

On October 26th the Travel Class met with Mrs. Josiah F. Whitney. Two exceedingly interesting papers were given: "Archaealogical Discoveries in the Holy Land," by Mrs. James H. Lalor, and "The Bible as Literature," by Mrs. W. D. Provost. Music, and then tea, completed the program. The beautiful ferns and begonias in the bay-window of the living-room added a very attractive note. Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. John R. McLean were the hostesses.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club held a regular meeting on Tuesday, October 27th, in the Auburndale Club. The afternoon was in charge of the Literature Committee, Mrs. Frank Ackerman, Chairman.

The topic for the program of the afternoon was "Books," and Mr. Melville C. Freeman, head of the History Department in the High School of Practical Arts, Boston gave a most interesting talk on the inspiration obtained from reading good books. Good books do many things—they form character, give a message of beauty and make clearer our ideals. He says that the people of today do not read enough of the right type of literature. A good book will not come down to you—you must come up to it.

Miss Dorothy Greeley, who has a charming contralto voice, added greater enjoyment to the afternoon, with a group of songs.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

A most enjoyable meeting of the Monday Club was held on Monday afternoon, the 26th, at the home of Mrs. Louis H. Marshall of Hartford street, with an unusually large number present. All but three of the club members were present, to hear Mrs. Henry E. Williams review "One Increasing Purpose," the latest book of A. S. M. Hutchinson. The social hour which followed the Book Review program, was, as always, an opportunity for much pleasure.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The club season opened Tuesday, October 27th with a reception at the home of Mrs. W. H. Allen, 99 Kirkstall road. The attendance was large and the occasion was especially social and delightful.

Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Decatur, and the guests, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Director of 12th District, and Mrs. Ellis Spear, President of the Newton Federation, were in the receiving line.

Mrs. Frederick W. Harding, Mrs. A. E. Vose, Mrs. George A. Edmands, Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, Mrs. Ralph Conant, Mrs. Charles R. Lynde, and Mrs. R. B Lake, members of the Hospitality Committee, acted as ushers. Tea was served by the Social Committee, Mrs. J. Mervin Allen, chairman. Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe and Mrs. A. D. Auryansen presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Congdon spoke briefly commending the "get together" spirit in club life. Among the suggestions gleaned from Summer experiences she had been impressed when in Toronto with the calmness with which a convention crowd had been handled. There was no apparent interruption of the usual order. So should we study to keep poised and serene in the midst of strenuous activity

Mrs. Spear spoke humorously and briefly with much grace and charm.

Two groups of songs were delightfully rendered. Miss Marie Sladen, contralto, was accompanied by Mrs. Payson E. Allen and sang the following: "A Brown Bird Singing," "He Loves Me," "Joy in My Heart."

Mrs. L. I. Pettys, soprano, with Mrs. A. D. Quimby at the piano, sang the following selections: "Her Rose," "Mignonette," and "Two Little Magpies."

Some interesting announcements were made in regard to the young girl who will benefit by the scholarship fund. She is Miss Edith Page, a recent graduate of the High School, and is at present at Dennison College in Ohio. She is preparing to do missionary work in China and her father is a missionary in that country. This object lends special interest to the bridge party to be held next Friday, November 6th, at 2.30 P. M at the Newton Club. The tickets are selling well.

Coming Events

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

"Common Fallacies About War and Peace" is the title of Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead's talk to the club on Monday night, November 2nd, at the club rooms.

Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., and Mrs. Samuel Eaton, President and Vice-President, respectively, of our City Federation will be the honored guests.

The club treasurer, Miss Ethel Proctor, is in charge of the evening. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the talk.

Waban Woman's Club

Next Monday opens the season for the Waban Woman's Club, at its club house, at 2.30 o'clock, when Mrs. Helen Talboy will speak on "What is World Peace?" Mrs. Talboy not only is a lawyer, but a writer of editorials and special articles for various publications, on first hand information secured by her in her travels During the past Summer she has been personally in touch with many of Europe's leading statesmen, and with members of the Secretariat at Geneva. She was connected with the Near East Relief Unit, at the time of the formation of the present Nationalist Government in Turkey, and was in the war zone during the Greek advance on Angora. With such training and experiences, and with her thorough knowledge of world affairs, no one can dispute that she is well qualified to help mobilize men and women for peace, in suggestions that are practical.

This November 2nd meeting is to be celebrated as New Members Day, a courtesy that should make it valuable as a getting acquainted gathering, especially when tea is served during a social hour.

Waban's ability in the dramatic field is to be shown once more, when on November 30th a play is to be given by talented club members. The Dramatics Committee has already asked members of the club with histrionic ability to apply for parts in the new play, and a try-out was indulged in on October 22nd. The result of that day, and of the always entertaining rehearsals that will follow in the next few weeks will be shown to interested members and friends on the last day of November. Mark it on your calendars!

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Miss Mabel C. Bragg, Assistant Superintendent of the Newton Schools, is to speak before her fellow members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, at the regular meeting in Lincoln Hall, Tuesday afternoon, November 3rd. Miss Bragg has chosen as her topic "Stories for Grown-Ups," and her audience is assured an hour of interesting, as well as instructive, tales.

Preceding Miss Bragg's talk, Alderman Heathcote is to give a twenty-minute talk on the coming City election and at the same meeting, the Legislative Committee is to have a petition relative to the Veteran's Preference, for members to sign, who may desire to do so.

Mrs. Grosvenor D'W. Marcy is to lead the members on the semi-monthly walk, Wednesday morning, the "hikers" meeting at the Bulletin Board in the Village Square at 9.30, and proceeding out Winchester Street and over Kendrick's Bridge and then along the banks of the Charles River.

Members of the Legislative Committee have been attending the lectures on The Federal Constitution given in Alumnae Hall at Wellesley College this week under the supervision of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, in connection with the Wellesley School of Politics. The Committee is following the plan of acquiring authentic information along legislative lines, which was adopted last year, when members attended the International School at Radcliffe.

A Club cook book is being compiled by the Home Economics Committee and as soon as the club members have all sent in their choicest recipes, the work will be put in the hands of the printer. The course in home dressmaking, under the direction of the same committee, begins on Monday, November 9th

Professional Women's Club

Members are reminded to make their plans to attend the first of the Tuesday evening socials, of the Professional Women's Club, to be held in Chauncy Hall, Boston, on November 3rd, at 8 P. M. There will be the program and tea, with the two Vice-Presidents sure to plan something novel and delightful for entertainment. Mrs. Bertha S. Davis, and Mrs. Emma Fall Schofield are these hostesses.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Among our fervent hopes in the interest of our fellow citizens is the establishment of a radio broadcasting station in Newton. We are not prepared to say how its installation is to be accomplished, where the money is coming from or how it is to be maintained and conducted. Such things are trivial when compared to the results which we believe will be achieved. The programs that we would wish to see presented would not include general themes but matters of vital importance to Newton voters. We have the spectacle in Boston of mayoralty candidates arousing their constituents and others by broadcasting snappy campaign speeches, some of their own creation and others written by managers or nimble-witted press agents. On the other hand, Newton is without a large field of mayoralty candidates, but it does not lack people who have their opinion on the subject. Supposing there should be a series of broadcasting recitals, or rallies, in which representatives of the various villages participated? In this way we might learn many suggestions that are at present offered in private. A broadcasting station is a reasonably safe place from which to enunciate one's prejudices as well as one's preferences. There is certain to be no interruption and, what is more to the point, no heckling. No matter what may be in the minds of those who sit and listen, they cannot do more to show their disgust than to shut off the machine. If they approve, they can put on the loud speaker and open the front window. We believe that we have found an admirable way for spreading throughout our city the murmurings that at present go no further than the four walls behind which they are uttered. Let us hear the leading men in each ward think. There is plenty of time between now and the city election. It may be necessary to kidnap some of the speakers for the evening, or beguile them into the presence of the microphone under some false representation. That, however, is another inconsequential matter as all is fair in love, war, and politics, according to the generally accepted standards. We believe that much would be sent out over the air that most of us would like to hear. Anybody who is timid about listening can wear ear muffs which should be of asbestos to keep their ears from burning.

We can imagine nothing more gratifying to the riding public hereabouts than the construction of a subway from the end of the present Boylston-street tube through Commonwealth avenue, Brighton avenue and Cambridge street in the Allston-Brighton section to Oak Square or thereabouts. It will not be difficult to convince the Legislature of the need of such an extension of transportation facilities, but it is doubtful if they can be induced to authorize it. The cost would be enough to cause a panic among the taxpayers of Boston, even if they were assured that the Boston Elevated would rent the new subway and that eventually the money would find its way back into the city treasury. However, we see no reason why the idea may not be brought to public attention and at least given a reasonable amount of thought and deliberation. We cannot believe that the enormous expenditure required would be permitted by the State; in fact we are almost certain it would not. On the other hand, we do not feel that it is good policy to sit back and say, "What's the use, they will never spend all that money!" In our opinion agitation of the subject will call attention to the situation and that in some way improvement will be brought about. The Boston Elevated has reduced the number of white-post stopping places and this no doubt has considerably cut down the running time. It is still a fact that the round-trip from the Watertown car-barn to Park street subway and return is a good deal to ask of a street railway in these days of traffic congestion. We mean that the difficulty of maintaining a schedule is great and presents a decided problem. The success of rapid transit on the surface is brought about by what the railway men call "short hauls." "Long hauls" caused delays and result in the cars reaching Newton in clusters. In seeking to solve the muddle, the first thought, naturally would be a subway to Newton but judgment would seem to show that the enterprise involves such a sum of money and other obstacles as not to be entertained as a part of the new transit program. That something should be done is apparent and if the proposed extension be only a vision it will at least bring the whole proposition forward and possibly result in an attempt to remedy in part the present not altogether satisfactory arrangement.

Last week in this column we sought to tell of the value of carrying a pocket flash light at night to enable one to pick one's way on a thoroughfare not lighted artificially. It was our aim to advise how to "watch your step." It now is with extreme satisfaction that we note the idea has been adopted by the new mammoth motion picture theatre which was recently opened in Boston. The ushers are provided with flash-lights and with them they escort patrons through the theatre. The lamp is so held that its rays fall upon he floor and the patron can literally see where he is going without fear of making a misstep. We do not wish it understood that we suggested the idea to the theatre management. No, indeed, they evolved it themselves. All we wish to point out is that it is "being done" and by many of our best people and tha twe cordially approve.

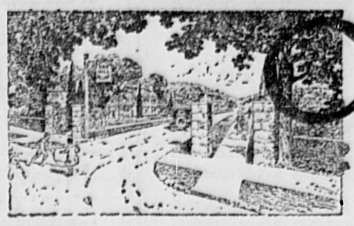

We deeply envy those who have had time to visit county fairs, so-called. No opportunity presented itself to us this fall, and in consequence we were denied the privilege of sizing-up the monster squash and admiring from a respectful distance the prize Durhams. Happily, memory serves us without fault in this connection so that we have many pleasant recollections of "going to the fair." Although there are no great agricultural interests in Newton we believe that our readers appreciate the meaning of an exhibit of everything pertaining to the farm and farm life. It was at one of these exhibits we ate a sumptuous meal of farm victuals and it will be a long time before we forget the roast chicken stuffed with country sausage, the cranberry sauce, the squash pie, the apple pie, the celery and the fresh milk. That was not all that was put before us but represents everything that we care to confess to at this moment. We not only ate, but we saw. And what a display of things to look upon! The piles of apples, potatoes, turnips, pumpkins, squash and cabbage! The rows and rows of preserved and canned fruits and berries and of pickled cucumbers and onions and chili sauce and piccalilli! "How terrible," we thought, "is life in the country—terrible when one cannot devote all one's time to feasting on the products of the field and orchard!" That day at the fair revealed to us many novel things, but the ancient sport of "hoss" racing provided the biggest thrill. We knew no one among the owners, nor were we flush enough to risk any money, but we found ourselves standing on our toes as these splendid specimens of horseflesh made their way round the track. Not so interesting was the test of strength of oxen. It did not seem necessary that they should be forced to show how large an amount of granite blocks they could haul on a flat rig, called in rustic language a "stone boat." Just what fun people got out of seeing these magnificent oxen goaded into straining to the utmost we failed to learn and expect never to grasp its significance. But there were so many wonderful features that thoroughly delighted us that we wished that we take in a country fair at least once a week. And to crown the day's enjoyment was the supper that awaited us of hot biscuits and honey!

At the risk of being called "cranky" we are about to declare ourselves against that form of juvenile lawlessness that comes under the head of "Hallowe'en pranks." We have an idea that it was not danger of fire from hot ashes as much as it was the destruction of property each year on the night of October 31 that caused ash-barrels to be made of galvanized iron instead of wood. We are sorry to see the passing of the barrel staves for they would be useful, if properly applied, to remind the wild youths to respect other people's property. But there is the danger of arraignment for murderous assault if a householder seeks to defend his own home. The sickish sentimentality exhibited so much of late towards inmates of penal institutions shows itself in another form when wanton destruction of real estate is upheld under the plea that "boys will be boys." We trust we are not like the woman in Newton Corner who stopped a little girl carrying some empty milk bottles in a basket and said, "You must not carry those bottles on my side of the street. The noise they make clinking together disturbs me and the others in my house." We are not as sensitive as this dame, but we believe that the youngsters can carry things too far on the pretext of having a "good time." The boys and girls these days are keen and alert and they know that to injure a lawn, garden, fence or house is not "funny," although it may be an exhibition of daring. They do it because they know that it causes older people annoyance and also that they will be allowed to "get away with it" by the prosecuting authorities. It is merely another abuse of the probation system, only it hasn't the stigma of a base criminal offence. The one solution seems to be an organization of the Taxpayers' Protective Union, whose members shall band together, arm themselves with long clubs, hold weekly drills throughout the year and then on Hallowe'en line up in battle formation and send out word to the youth of the neighborhod that they are ready to receive them and give them a warm welcome.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The first of the season's Sunday afternoon concerts was given last Sunday and in spite of the unfavorable weather conditions attracted a large audience which thoroughly enjoyed the excellent program. A most enthusiastic reception was extended the University double quartet. Joseph Lautner, director. Mr. Lautner contributed a group of solos as did Charles Pearson and Morris Brown. The others members were George Renwick, Oliver Payne, Bradford Nichols, Meyer Cogan, Hugh Kilte, and Lucius Elder. Edward Greene was accompanist. Deep appreciation was expressed on all sides of the quality of the voices and the choice of selections. It was in every way a complete success.

At the close of the musicale, tea was served in the Club parlors, Mrs. Edward Mellus, Mrs. Arthur W. Blakemore, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts and Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity acting as pourers.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Henry J. O'Meara to Mary A. O'Meara, dated December 24, 1924, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4802, Page 40, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 9.30 o'clock A. M., on Saturday, the seventh day of November, A. D. 1925, on the premises first hereinafter described as parcel A., all and singular the premises described in said mortgage.

To wit: "The land in said Newton, consisting of two parcels with the buildings thereon, the first parcel being shown as parcel "A" on a plan entitled "Plan for the development of the Towle Estate, Newton, Massachusetts, by Henry J. O'Meara" which plan is recorded herewith, subject to correction with respect to all measurements, areas, and dimensions, thereon shown. Said parcel "A" is bounded and described as follows:—

Beginning at a point at the Northwesterly corner of a private way shown as "Colby Street" on said plan and Centre Street, and running Northerly along the Westerly side of Centre Street, three hundred ninety-four and 2/10 (394.2) feet to parcel "B" on said plan; then turning at a right angle and running Westerly on said parcel "B" about two hundred eighty (280) feet; then turning at slightly more than a right angle and running Northerly about four hundred and fifty (450) feet; then turning and running in a generally Southwesterly direction in an irregularly curving line along the middle of a private way shown on said plan as "Westchester Road" to a point in the Northerly line of Colby Street, about one thousand (1000) feet West of Centre Street; then turning and running Easterly on Colby Street, about one thousand (1000) feet to the point of beginning, containing about 280,000 feet, all of said quantities and measurements being more or less, and also including herein so much of the fee and all other property or rights of any kind which may belong to the mortgagor in said Colby Street.

This parcel is conveyed subject to a first mortgage to Helen M. Towle of $70,000 of even date, recorded herewith.

The second parcel is shown as parcel "B" on said plan, and is bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Centre Street about four hundred and fifty (450) feet; Southerly by parcel "A" on said plan, about two hundred eighty (280) feet; Westerly by said parcel "A" about four hundred fifty (450) feet; and Northerly by parcel "C" on said plan, about two hundred and eighty-three (283) feet; Containing approximately 127,300 square feet.

Said parcel "B" is subject to the life tenancy of Mary Shannon Wingate, created by the Will of Mary Shannon late of said Newton, said will being dated March 27, 1899, and with the benefit of the provisions of said will relating to payment of taxes, assessments, insurance and repairs by the trustees under said will during said tenancy. Said premises are hereby conveyed further subject to the obligation of the grantee, her heirs, and assigns, which obligation shall run with the land, to perform all the covenants and agreements on the part of said Loren D. Towle, his heirs, and representatives hereafter to be performed under an agreement between said Loren D. Towle and Sarah P. W. Taylor, dated Sept. 19, 1916, a copy of which agreement is annexed to the deed of Helen M. Towle to Henry J. O'Meara, of even date herewith.

This conveyance includes the fee to the middle line of any way upon the land belonging to the mortgagor adjoining either of said parcels. I further grant as appurtenant to each of the said mortgaged parcels a right of way for all purposes over all ways shown on said plan to all connecting public ways. The premises are conveyed subject to the Zoning Law requirements, if any there be, so far as now in force and applicable thereto.

Said parcel "B" is conveyed subject to a first mortgage to Helen M. Towle of $7500 of even date, recorded herewith.

I reserve a common right of way for all purposes of a public street, including the right to grade and layout, construct or cause to be constructed, sidewalks, curbing, to put in sewer and water pipes, gas pipes, electric light conduits, poles, wires, and all other general public service appliances which are usual to public streets or ways, in, on or over the streets any portion of which are included in the mortgaged premises.

Both lots are mortgaged subject to a mortgage for $20,000 to Joseph H. Soliday, Trustee, to be recorded herewith."

Terms of sale: One Thousand Dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of the sale.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

(Signed) MARY A. O'MEARA,
Present holder of said mortgage.

ARTICLE No. 4

Is it more difficult to play the dummy hand against two opponents or for the two opponents to play against the declarer? That question has been the cause of much discussion but to the writer there seems only one answer. It is much more difficult for the opponents of the declarer. The latter can see his twenty-six cards and should know the best way of combining them to the best advantage. He is not in the dark as are his opponents, for they must guess as to the other's holding and they are just as apt to guess wrong as right. Also, in the opening lead, the opponents of the declarer are at a disadvantage. If partner has not bid, what should be the opening lead? This is a question that puzzles the experts at times but the average player can greatly overcome this difficulty by the careful study of a good table of leads. In playing against the declarer, try to convey as much information as possible to your partner by use of conventional leads and discards. Watch your partner's play and that of the declarer very closely. Try not only to make every play of your own convey information to your partner, but try also to learn something from every play of your partner and of the declarer.

The following hand looks easy but unless the proper lead is made, the game is lost:

Hearts — Q, J, 8
Clubs — 7, 4, 2
Spades — J, 4

The dealer bid one spade and all passed. What is the correct opening lead with the above hand? The correct lead is the queen of hearts. Any other lead with this hand would have lost game. The player who held it opened the four of diamonds, a very bad lead. Never open a suit containing the king against a suit bid, if there is any other possible lead. It is nearly always a trick loser.

The writer has occasionally mentioned the Law of Symmetry in these articles. This Law is, in effect, a theory that there is a symmetrical relation existing between the distribution of the four suits in any one of the hands and the distribution of any one of the four suits among the four hands. This symmetrical relation is well exemplified by the distribution of the following hand which came up recently in actual play:

	Hearts — Q Clubs — K, J, 7, 4 Diamonds — A, 8, 7, 6, 2 Spades — 5, 4, 3
Hearts — J, 9, 6 Clubs — Q, 10, 8, 6, 5 Diamonds — Q, J, 9, 5 Spades — 7	Y A B Z	Hearts — K, 10, 7, 5, 3 Clubs — 2 Diamonds — K, 10, 3 Spades — J, 9, 8, 2
	Hearts — A, 8, 4, 2 Clubs — A, 9, 3 Diamonds — 4 Spades — A, K, Q, 10, 6

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one spade. All passed and A opened the six of clubs. Z won the trick with the nine of clubs and proceeded to look the hand over. What would you figure as to probable distribution and correct play of the hand? Z should note that his own hand and Y's were divided 5-4-3-1. He also noted that A opened the six of clubs and that B played the deuce. If B had held two clubs, he would have started an echo to show his partner that he could trump the third round of clubs so his play of the deuce indicated a singleton. Z, therefore, figured that the clubs were divided 5-4-3-1. He holds five spades and his dummy three so that if A also held a singleton, it must be in spades. Therefore the spades must be divided 5-4-3-1. His heart and diamond holding and that of the dummy also indicated a possibility that these suits were divided 5-4-3-1. Z, therefore, decided to play accordingly. At the second trick he led the ace of hearts and then a low heart trumping in dummy. He then led a low club which B trumped. On this trick Z played his ace of clubs so that he could finesse the king jack later. No matter what B now plays Z must make a small slam. Figure it out. The hand is remarkable in that after the first lead the distribution of all four suits can be so accurately determined. It is also a remarkable illustration of the Law of Symmetry. All of the four suits and all of the four hands have the same distribution, 5-4-3-1. It is the first time that the writer ever has noted such a unique hand.

Answer to Problem No. 2

	Hearts — Q Clubs — Q, 9 Diamonds — A, 8 Spades — 8, 5
Hearts — J, 10 Clubs — 10 Diamonds — K, Q Spades — Q, 9	Y A B Z	Hearts — 8 Clubs — 7, 6, 3, 2 Diamonds — 10 Spades — 10
	Hearts — 9, 5 Clubs — J Diamonds — 7, 5 Spades — K, J

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can YZ win all the tricks against any defense? Z should lead the jack of clubs and win the trick in Y's hand with the queen. Y should then lead the nine of clubs on which Z should discard the five of diamonds. A is now up against a discard. If he discards a heart, Y will play the queen of hearts and lead a spade so that Z's nine of hearts will be good. If A discards a diamond, both of Y's diamonds will be good. If A discards a spade, both of Z's spades will be good. Any of the three discards, therefore, will lay A's hand open to a loss of a trick. Suppose he discards a heart, Y plays the queen and then plays the five of spades. Z wins the trick and leads the nine of hearts. What can A now discard but a spade or a diamond? If the former, Z's spade is good; if the latter, Y's diamonds are good so that YZ must win the balance of the tricks.

FLYNN—DORRETY

The wedding of Miss Mildred Louise Dorrety, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dorrety of Newton Centre and Mr. Donald White Flynn of Westbourne road, Newton Centre, took place on the afternoon of October 15th at the Church of the Sacred Heart in Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. T. A. Curtin. The church was decorated with palms, yellow chrysanthemums and oak leaves for the occasion.

The bride wore an imported model of white satin and Duchess combined with Brussels lace. The veil of Brussels point was fashioned with a lace coronet and strands of seed pearls. The orange blossoms which profusely garlanded the veil train and the slipper rosettes were those worn by the bride's mother on her own wedding day. The shower boquet was of lilies of the valley and sweet heart roses. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Flynn, sister of the groom was gowned in powder blue chiffon over flesh toned satin. Her hat of felt matched the gown with draped plumes of same tint. She carried La France roses.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Mary Lane, cousin of the bride of Dorchester, Margaret Galvin of Dorchester, Lillian Bateman of West Newton and Katherine Whelan of New York were in pink chiffon with flared ruffle and scarfings to match. They wore large picture hats of pink felt with orchid satin scarfings and carried arm boquets of pink Killarney roses and orchid sweet peas.

Mr. Flynn had Mr. James Sherman of Jamaica Plain for his best man and the ushers were Messrs. Ernest Lally, Karl Rode, Fred Rice and Philip Newton.

A largely attended reception followed at the home of the bride, 418 Commonwealth avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Flynn being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Dorrety, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Flynn and the bridal party. Mrs. Dorrety was gowned in hydrangea blue crepe romaine and panne velvet with large picture hat of black satin with cut steel and ermine. Mrs. Flynn was in pearl gray canton crepe with panel sash drape caught with platinum clasp and a hat of dove gray velvet.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Flynn will reside in Newton.

D. R.

The regular meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Warren F. Gregory, 377 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Friday afternoon, October 23, 1925.

Miss Emma Coolidge, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee for the day, introduced Mrs. Alice Davis Sproat, who played a harp prelude by Dubez, also a Prelude by Hesselmann, and followed these by a song called "Four Leaf Clover," sung with harp accompaniment.

The Reverend Edward T. Sullivan, D. D., was the speaker of the afternoon. His subject was "The Empire of Womanhood." Dr. Sullivan took for his text the words of President Coolidge upon his acceptance of the Vice-Presidency: "The destiny of America lies around the hearthstone, the home and the family." He again quoted our President's words spoken in his Lincoln Day Proclamation, when he emphasized repeatedly, "Woman behind the man."

Dr. Sullivan said to woman falls the ministry of sustaining the souls of men when their hearts are fainting. In proof of this he reminded us that at the end of that first, terrible winter in Plymouth, some of the men gave up the struggle and returned to England in the Mayflower—but not a single woman left the wilderness to return to safety. Our nation was built on the hearts like those that broke, but bravely carried on. The great deeds of our dauntless pioneers were made possible by these women behind the men.

At the close of the lecture Mrs. Sproat played a Welsh ballad upon the harp and sang a song called "Had you but known," by Rich. In response to hearty applause, Mrs. Sproat sang "Annie Laurie," with harp accompaniment.

The meeting was adjourned after the singing of America, and the members of Sarah Hull Chapter greeted their guests, the Phoebe Foxcroft Philips Chapter of Andover, and all partook of the refreshments provided by the hostesses, Mrs. Warren F. Gregory, Mrs. William F. Bacon, Miss Sheridan Bisbee, Mrs. Alvan H. Clifford, Miss Emma Coolidge, and Mrs. Everett W. Crawford.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP

Concerning the Red Cross membership campaign which begins Armistice Day and continues until Thanksgiving an official statement explaining the different kinds of membership and the disposition that is made of the money will, no doubt, be read with interest. It is as follows:

"There are four types of membership, involving $25, $10, $5 and $1 membership fees. From each membership only fifty cents goes to National Headquarters of the Red Cross to carry on its national and international work. The rest of the money remains in the treasury of the local chapter to finance the work in the community. Therefore, from a $25-membership $24.50 is spent locally, while fifty cents goes into the National Red Cross treasury.

"Similarly, with a $1-membership, fifty cents goes to National Headquarters and fifty cents remains for the local chapter.

"The Red Cross holds no tag days.

"The roll call is its only means of support for either the local activities of Newton Chapter or any other chapter or for the work of the National organization."

Newton's roll call will be conducted by mail, the same as last year.

Derby, formerly of Newport, in the State of Rhode Island, deceased, or their heirs, devisees, or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Ida Grinspoon, of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Marion Street, 112.75 feet; Southerly by land now or formerly of Robert H. MacNee, 109.62 feet; Westerly by land now or formerly of Elizabeth Gowell, 123.64 feet; and Northerly by land now or formerly of said Gowell and Alexander M. Dallas, 70.01 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston in the County of Suffolk, on the thirtieth day of November A. D. 1925, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of October in the year nineteen hundre dand twenty-five.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

best liked and inspiring speakers of last year, will give a lecture on Tuesday, November 3rd, at 2.30 P. M. His subject is "The Cultural Problem of Work."

There will be a food sale under the auspices of the Civics Committee, Mrs. Wm. H. Timbie, Chairman. Tea will be served by the Hospitality Committee, two of whose members are hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. George A. Merritt and Mrs. William M. Burr.

As to classes, several are being formed and the members are urged to sign and return reply cards so that further plans may be made.

A class in candy making will meet at the cooking laboratory of the Junior High School on Thursday, November 12, 19, and December 3, 10, and 17 at 2 P. M.

Miss Ruth Scrivener, a graduate of Teacher's College, Columbia University, who has been in charge of candy classes at Miss Farmer's Boston School of Cooking will give the demonstration lessons.

The class in Hooked Rug-Making under the leadership of Miss Monk of Waban will have three lessons on Mondays, November 16, 23 and 30 from 2 to 5 P. M. in the sewing room of the Junior High School.

The class in Exercises in Posture will start in November. After Christmas there will be formed two classes in Italian Cut-Work, for beginners and for advanced workers.

Members of the Glee Club are reminded of the meeting at the close of the lecture November 3.

Social Science Club

Wednesday morning, November 4th, inaugurates the new season for the Social Science Club, when it will meet in the club rooms of the Hunnewell Club, at 10 o'clock. A business meeting is scheduled, with no program of entertainment or speakers.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Library Week is drawing to a close, but this (Friday) evening and Saturday still remain for the enjoyment and participation of all who are fortunate to have the unoccupied hours to join the festive throng. Children's Town Fair all day Saturday in the Congregational Parish House will be a popular place, and rightly. The tables of food and domestic articles will also be attracting, and especially timely on Saturday afternoon, and for all the time Books, Books and More Books—for is there anywhere a person who does not find enthrallment, and forgetfulness of every woe, fancied or real, in following the romantic adventures of those fortunates whose fate—almost always—is in a happy ending!

The next meeting of the Club will be in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, at 2.30 on the afternoon of November 4th, when the Civics Committee, Mrs. I. W. Wales, its Chairman, will present as speaker Professor Murray Horwood, whose subject will be "Public Health in Newton—Its Excellencies, Shortcomings, and Possibilities."

Tea will be served, ending the afternoon in good cheer.

Newton Community Club

The first of the series of Current Events Lectures will be given on Thursday, November 5th, in the Underwood School Hall at two-thiry o'clock. Mrs. Ida Porter-Boyer is the speaker this year. Tickets may be procured from Miss Margaret H. Aubin.

Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club is to give a Bridge Party on Friday, November 6th, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Mildred Stratton, 15 Lenmore road. The proceeds are to be used in the Philanthropic Fund.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. James Kingman of Fisher Avenue has the honor of being hostess for Guest Day for the Monday Club—November 9th. Ex-Presidents' Day it is to be as well, with music and reminiscences, no doubt, that will be greatly enjoyed by all the members, especially by those who have seen the progress and pleasurable meetings since the formation of the club. "Nothing Great Was Ever Achieved Without Enthusiasm," is the apt proverb in the Year Book, and this may be taken as having at least two meanings—the enthusiasm by which loyal members have builded a successful happy club through the years, and the enthusiasm of this day of celebration and hospitality.

Auburndale Woman's Club

On Tuesday, November 10, the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold a regular meeting in the Auburndale Club. The program will consist of a musicale, Mr. James Houghton, soloist, Mr. Reginald Boardman, pianist, and the Olivette Trio. The afternoon is in charge of the Music Committee, Mrs. Orion A. Mason, chairman.

MASS. PRESS TRIP

Members of the Massachusetts Press Association enjoyed a visit to two of the leading industries of the state, on Monday, October 19th. Leaving Boston about 12.30 the party, numbering about thirty members and guests, a visit was made to the Walter Baker Chocolate Company at Milton Lower Mills. Here the party was conducted through the enormous plant which was established over 150 years ago, and saw the process by which cocoa and chocolate is made.

From the Baker Company the party proceeded to East Braintree where a very interesting trip was made through the entire refinery of the Cities Service Company. This plant, which has been in operation but a few years, is the only complete refinery in the state. The crude oil is brought in by the big seagoing tankers and pumped into the enormous tanks which hold about 55,000 barrels each. From the tanks the oil is put through the refining processes and the various oils such as kerosene, fuel oil, gasoline, naptha, etc., are reclaimed. Paraffin is still another of the products which are extracted from the crude oils.

After the tour of the refinery which covers over 100 acres largely taken up by the enormous steel tanks the party was given a light lunch in the administration building.

SCARED AWAY

The temporarily unoccupied home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hall at 126 Prince street, West Newton was entered by burglars on Tuesday night.

Patrolman David Dalton, when nearing the house, noted a small truck parked outside. As he approached it, a warning signal was sounded, four men dashed out of the Hall house and, dropping a suitcase upon the sidewalk, sped away before he could reach them.

He fired several shots at the speeding car and believes he hit one of the occupants. Hospitals are being watched for the wounded man.

Three fur coats are missing. In the suit case was a fourth fur coat and a dress suit. Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who were at a theatre, were notified and set about checking up their property.

BARKER-PETERSON

The wedding of Miss Muriel Peterson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Peterson of Hibbard road, Newton and Mr. Elliott R. Barker, Jr., of Lincoln, N. H., took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Eldred M. Peterson on Arlington street Newton, where the ceremony was performed at four o'clock by Rev. J. West Thompson, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The bridal gown was of white Chantilly lace, and her tulle veil was caught by a band of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Dorothy Griffin of Newton was the maid of honor and wore golden brown chiffon over yellow satin and carried chrysanthemums.

Miss Patricia Peterson, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and was in yellow chiffon and carried a basket of marguerites.

Mr. Leon Ogilvie of Arlington was the groom's best man and there were no ushers.

A reception followed the ceremony, the house being decorated with autumn foliage and chrysanthemums and the rooms lighted with candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker will make their home in Lincoln, N. H.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

On the first four days of the week commencing Sunday, Thomas Meighan shines in his latest dramatic vehicle, "The Man Who Found Himself," a story that is tense with interest—strong, vital drama with a punch and an appealing theme of love and regeneration on the style of "The City of Silent Men."

The companion picture "The Teaser," with Laura LaPlante and Pat O'Malley, is a bright comedy adaptation of the Wm. A. Brady Broadway success.

The change of program on Thursday brings the Boston Traveler's serial story "Winds of Chance," the film version of the Rex Beach novel, recalling vividly to mind the wild days of the Klondike gold rush. It is one of the most virile and fascinating stories ever told. The cast including 2200, is ably headed by Anna Q. Nilsson, Ben Lyon, Viola Dana, Hobart Bosworth, and laude Gillingwater.

Florence Vidor, Tom Moore, Esther Ralston and Ford Sterling take care of the comedy end of the bill in "The Trouble with Wives," which may truthfully be billed as a "matrimonial mirthquake."

NEWTON GIRL GIVEN SHOWER

On Tuesday evening, Octber 20, a shower was given in honor of Miss Estelle Lefevre by the girls in her office of Bachrach, Inc., at the home of her sister, Mrs. John F. Quigley, at 76 Putnam street, Watertown. Some thirty guests were present and the prospective bride was the recipient of many gifts of linen, cut glass, silver, and kitchenware.

The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the autumn colors of orange and black being the prevailing color scheme.

During the evening the guests were entertained by a mock marriage. Miss Irene McGrath impersonated the bride and Miss Helene Gorman was the groom, while the nuptial knot was tied by "Reverend" Mrs. Catherine Reinhardt.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and dancing was enjoyed.

Miss Lefevre is employed in the office of Bachrach, Inc., Newton, and is to be married on Thanksgiving day to Mr. Edward Butler of Maple street, Newton, Massachusetts.

DEATH OF MRS. RIPLEY

Mrs. Estimate R. E. Ripley, mother of Prof. W. Z. Ripley of the department of economics at Harvard University, and a former resident of Newton, died last Saturday night at the home of Alexander G. Smith, in Needham.

Mrs. Ripley, who was in her 86th year, was the widow of Nathaniel L. Ripley. She was born in Manchester, N. H. She was the last survivor but one of a family of 10 children. Samuel Baldwin of Providence, a younger brother, survives.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Oct. 28.—It is a curious trait of human nature to enjoy the embarrassment of others. Official Washington with all its traditions for dignity is not without a sense of humor. Watching the political by-play behind the scenes frequently brings out amusing situations in our national life. The latest incident was disclosed this week during the tax hearings.

There is a tradition in newspaper offices that a story without a name is not worth the telling. It is currently reported that Congressman Green of Iowa and Congressman Garner of Texas, chairman and minority leader, respectively, of the House Committee on Ways and Means, were placed in embarrassing positions by their constituents. Partisanship is not directly involved because Green is a Republican and Garner a Democrat. Both have been taking their committee jobs seriously. They have attempted, it is said, to write their individual opinions into the revenue laws, even against the advice of the leaders of their political parties.

Those who have watched these two men are unkind enough to say that Green and Garner wanted to emulate Senator Borah and other insurgent characters in Congress. Whether this contention has any foundation in fact is immaterial. They have never approached the Borah standard.

The team of Green and Garner representing different political views were united in opposition to tax plans of the administraton, in particular anything formulated by Secretary Mellon. What tickled the fancy of Washington this week was the spectacle of these two men being whipped into line by imposing delegations from their home districts demanding the adoption of the Mellon proposals on inheritance taxes etc. The two insurgents were forced to introduce these representative taxpayers from their own states and listen to their endorsement of the Mellon proposal, a procedure which meant that Green and Garner must take the back track or invite political extermination. This incident is typical of the growing tendency of the day—for local committees to express their will on legislative matters and have their representatives in Congress carry it out, rather than adhere to personal convictions.

Anticipating open attacks in Congress in regard to their policies in the Western states, the Administration has shown that it believes in preparedness. The annual reports of the Secretary of the Interior will not be available until late in December. With the conservation and reclamation controversies brewing, Secretary Work very cleverly put out an interesting propaganda in the form of a brochure relating to the Department of the Interior's activities for 1925. Western senators and congressmen obeying the requests of small groups of interested parties in their own bailiwicks are planning a scalping party for those responsible for curtailed expenditures for public works in the west.

By issuing a forty-page "pre-view" of the Department's activities, the Department of the Interior has the advantage of the time element in its propaganda. The brochure which came from press this week starts off with the keynote of the present administration: "Efficiency and economy are inseparable." The economy is stressed throughout to explain the wholesale decapitations of office holders, a situation which provoked the western senators more than the curtailment of expenditures on reclamation projects. Patronage is a sacred thing in politics. There is no doubt that the President passed upon the text of the Department's report, for it is, in reality, a defense of the entire administration rather than the policies of one department.

As a general reminder of President Coolidge's wisdom in selecting members of his official family, attention is called to the fact that four members of the Cabinet are from the West. This feature is stressed to show that the President has capable advisors on conservation policies within his own official household. The document is written so that it could be easily utilized for campaign purposes and was sent out under free mail privilege. It gives the "whys and wherefores" of the administration's deeds of commission and omission. It is bound to provide subject for debate in the Congress this winter. Whether this activity, made with the proper insight into political problems, will serve its purpose is something no group of men can foretell.

The President is turning down requests for public addresses until he delivers his annual address to Congress December 8th. He is already formulating certain definite policies which he will recommend to Congress at that time. It is his intention to guard against any premature interpretations which might arise from his state papers between now and the convening of Congress.

DESERVED PROMOTION

Mr. John F. Dunton, for the past four years superintendent of the Newtonville postoffice, has been appointed assistant superintendent of delivery at the Boston postoffice and took up his new duties Wednesday. In his 38 years of service, he has been through practically every phase of postoffice work, beginning as a carrier

He was at Station A, in the South end, for many years and later was on special duty at the central office. At another time, he was superintendent of the Watertown office.

He leaves Newtonville with the good wishes of the entire public served by that postoffice, where his successor will be M. G. Kenney, senior clerk there, who has been upwards of 15 years in the service.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

About a dozen archers were on the range at Newton Centre on Saturday, October 23rd. The cloudy sky made the shooting very pleasant.

The men shot the American round. The National and Eastern champion, Dr. Crouch, was present, and, naturally, took off all the honors. The ladies shot a National round and Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre was the top archer of that event.

—While Eliot Church is looking for a successor to Rev. Henry A. Arnold, its activities are as varied and vigorous as ever under the temporary leadership of Dr. C. H. Beale, whose fifty years in the ministry qualifies him not only to give from the pulpit the ripened fruitage of his study and experience, but to advise and direct in all departments of church work. The Communion Service next Sunday will be an occasion for a full rally of the members of the church. The subject of the address will be "Timothy's First Communion."

—Miss Gertrude Osborne entertained four tables of bridge followed by a luncheon and shower in honor of Miss Mary Esther Pegnam of Boston on Saturday afternoon, October 24th, at her home 117 High street. Miss Pegnam, who has been in charge of the distilled spirits department of internal revenue, becomes the bride on November 14th of Mr. Joseph McCarthy of Haverhill, treasurer of the firm of M. H. McCarthy & Co., Importers and exporters of fancy toilet goods and groceries. The wedding will take place at St. Cecelia's Church, Boston, followed by a reception at the Hotel Somerset.

—Troop XVII of Upper Falls Girl Scouts enjoyed a very spooky "Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. Champion of Chestnut street, who very kindly loaned her house for the occasion. Mr. Champion planned a "spook walk" through the cellar, and so thoroughly was it executed that screams and shrieks were heard in that vicinity. Games and stunts by each girl were next on the program, then of course delicious refreshments. Prize for the most elaborate costume was given to Miss Emily Morse and for the most appropriate costume to Helen Dollof, while Ruth Shaw easily got the prize for the funniest costume.

—A large and enthusiastic audience witnessed the performance of "Ye Deestrict School" under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church last Wednesday evening. The performance was held at Parish Hall, and the crowd was so great it overflowed into the ante room. Unlike many amateur shows, this one began promptly at eight and kept the audience in gales of laughter until after ten. From the dignified Mr. E. Wildman, who portrayed the very elegant Mr. Perkins of the school committee to perfection, to the tiny (?) bad boy known to local people as "Teddy" Lee, each characteristic was "District School" to the life. Many really clever recitations or as the school teacher Herbert Kestle called them "declamations," were given by the scholars. A composition on "Flies" given by Mr. Truax, was so rapid firing that it was difficult to get all the quips. Mrs. Noyes Mean, of Boylston street, whose daintiness made her appear indeed the youngster she portrayed had jolly lines that all enjoyed. Altogehter the performance was voted a great social as well as financial success.

RED CROSS YEAR A RELIEF RECORD

DISASTERS DROP IN 1925

Ranged From Fire to Earthquake and Covered Wide Area at Home and Abroad.

Virtual completion of the largest peace-time project of post-disaster rehabilitation ever known has been accomplished by the American Red Cross in less than a year, as a part of its relief work in the more than 90 disasters in which it served in the past year.

This great program was undertaken following the tornado which struck five mid-western States last spring, killing 796 people, injuring 2,239 more, and causing inestimable property loss. It left a huge area of devastation in its wake, presenting a real problem. The Red Cross, however, went to work on the heels of the storm, caring for the injured, sheltering and feeding whole communities, and helping every individual sufferer from the destruction back to normal.

The magnitude of the problem is indicated by comparison of its huge casualty list with that of the entire preceding year, whose combined losses were 735 dead and not quite 2,000 injured, as a result of the record number of 192 catastrophies.

The story of the Red Cross service in the past year, recounted by the report, ranges from fires heading the list of destructive forces with 29 disasters, to mine explosions, tornadoes, typhoons, floods and earthquakes.

The Santa Barbara earthquake was among the outstanding events recorded in the report. The Red Cross had completed its relief organization on the scene within a few hours of the disaster, and in addition had launched a program designed to permanently restore every person affected by it, to his former status once more.

The Red Cross service in the period following the wreck of the Navy airship "Shenandoah" was typical of its promptness and effectiveness. Service in this instance was afforded by Red Cross chapters in the vicinity of the wreck, and by representatives of the national organization. It demonstrates graphically the value of each of the more than 3,000 chapters of the society which are at work in virtually every part of the country, in the facility they afford the national organization in emergencies.

There were 61 domestic disaster operations reported in which the Red Cross rendered service either through chapter or national staff personnel during the year. In 34 of these the national organization appropriated a total of $3,047,256.49, the greater portion of which was received as direct contributions for the relief of specified disasters. The relief operations following the northern Ohio tornado of June, 1924, were brought to a close in May, 1925, after an arrangement had been made with the Lorain chapter to provide expert services to the families of any tornado sufferers who required such assistance in the next two years. In this single disaster the relief work, as finally accounted, reached a total of $1,019,751.23.

The mid-western tornado of this year, covering a strip of territory 400 miles long involved an expenditure up to June 30 of $774,000, while the total amount turned in to the fund through the agency of the Red Cross was $2,645,000. In addition to this sum specifically collected for the purpose, the Red Cross had expended from its regular reserves $124,000.

In all these disasters, Red Cross workers have been impressed by the spirit of determination and hopefulness shown by the people. Once they recovered from their grief and bewilderment, they began at once to rebuild, materially and otherwise, and always on a better scale where possible. Another significant feature of these occurrences, as noted in the report of the Red Cross, was the promptness with which the local chapters organized emergency relief before help could be received from outside sources. A direct effect of their example has been to stimulate disaster relief preparedness among chapters all over the country.

The services of the American Red Cross are performed invariably in the name of the American people. On the effectiveness of this representation during the past year, it will launch the ninth annual roll call this year on November 11, to continue until Thanksgiving, November 26, during which support through membership will be invited for 1926.

What Becomes of Red Cross Sweaters

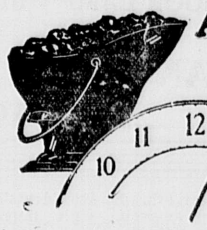

What becomes of the sweaters which the American Red Cross has asked for? In the first place, they are needed for the 30,000 disabled veterans still in hospitals this winter, the garments being in great demand. The surplus left from the war has been exhausted since the Armistice, hence the new call for the sweater-knitters to resume their needles, a call already being met.

The American Red Cross serves in your name; you can make it more effective by adding your name to its membership during the Roll Call, Nov. 11-26.

POLICE COURT

Frank Gorgone of 63 Lexington St., West Newton, whose premises were raided by the Newton police on the night of October 19 and four truck loads of liquors and equipment for the alleged manufacture of whisky seized, was in Court yesterday morning on charge of keeping and exposing intoxicating liquors for sale. He also was charged with illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors and illegal manufacture of the same. He was found guilty on all three charges, fined a total of $750 and sentenced to seven months in the House of Correction. He appealed.

The heaviest sentence was imposed for the illegal manufacture. He was fined $500 on this count and given six months in the House of Correction. He was given a month on the transportation charge and fined $250 for keeping and exposing alleged intoxicating liquors for sale.
